The depot at Friendship is undergoing repairs.

Blackberries are selling upon our streets for five cents per quart.

The foundation for Mr. VanSickle's house is fast reaching completion.

Canacas lake, Livingstone county is to be stocked with white-fish and salmon trout.

The fall term of the Friendship academy will commence on Monday, August 29th

If the flies trouble your horse just step into J. M. Goodwin's and buy one of his Shoo Fly nets.

Why is a perspiring person unlike a chiropodist? The one feels the heat, while the other heals the feet.

We are under obligation to Mr J. W. Gilmore for several copies of daily papers published at Salem, Oregon.

ENLARGED.—The Friendship Register has been enlarged and is now published in a quarto form. It looks well and denotes enterprise.

We learn from a gentleman of observation, who has just returned from a trip through the South, that the peach crop is almost an entire failure.

Several of our citizen have business at Buffalo this week, and undoubtedly are sorry that the races happen there at the same time.

PIC-NICK.—The Sabbath Schools of this place have decided to have a basket pic-nick, in Baker's Grove, on Thursday, September.

We learn by the Friendship Register that Mr. D. N. Glenn, a well to do farmer of that place, has become insane from the effect of sunstroke.

A ENEMY.—We are told that a heavy frost visited the villages of Whitesville, carrying off all of their bridges. We are unable to give any further particulars.

The Steuben Courier says that a child was carried by its mother from Bloodfield to Canandagua last week, so closely wrapped in a shawl that it died of the excessive heat.

SUM IN ARITHMETIC.—An Indianapolis grocer has been married three times and divorced twice within a year, and now has the same wife he started with. What are the profits of the year's business?

The census marshal of Forest county states that there is a woman in one of its townships 107 years old. She was chopping wood when he found her. She is not colored nor a servant of G Washington.

We would again call the attention of our readers to the work being canvassed for by A. S. Lovell, entitled, "Ten Years in Wall Street." It is a good work, and should be read by every man, especially the young men.

SOME MORE HORSE STORIES.—On Tuesday night, Mr. John Hawkins had a good horse stabbed in his barn. The horse was stabbed three times in the neck, but the wounds were not sufficient to do the work intended.

ACCIDENT.—Last week as a son of Caleb Barton, of Smith's Mills, a young man about 17 years of age, was handling a pistol, it was accidently discharged, so lacerating his thumb that amputation at the joint near the hand became necessary.

SHEEP KILLED.—On Tuesday morning Mr. J. Thompson had nineteen sheep killed by the morning express. The sheep were in a pasture adjoining the rail road, and in some way got through the fence and upon the track, and were killed.

TWO COWS KILLED.—On Thursday night, to cows belonging to Frank Lee and W. Jones, was killed by the Express West, that passes here at 9:15 P. M., at the crossing near James M. Tighe. Another warning to those who are in the habit of turning their cattle in the streets nights.

Last week a gentleman arrived at Fredonia from Boston at 2 30 p. m. was married at 3 p. m., and his wife was delivered of a boy weighing [illegible] pounds at 5 p. m. The father is well as could be expected, the mother is happy.—Randolph Register.

That's business.

MORE BEES.—Mr Sewell Spaulding of Villanova, wishes us to say that on the 17th day of May, 1870, he had but one swarm of bees, since which time, up to August 1st, inst., they have increased to thirteen swarms—all from the first mentioned swarm. Who can beat this?—Chau. Farmer.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Wednesday of last week, while Mr. Philip Lawrence and wife was driving on the road near Spring Mills, during a heavy rain storm, his horse was struck by lightning and instantly killed. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence were both stunned by the stroke but soon recovered.

AN ARK BAPTIST.—On Saturday af-

The Cattaraugus Republican says: A Mrs Morgan Rank, of Justi, Chautauqua county, recently gave birth to three living children—two girls and one boy. The boy and one of the girls died soon after their birth.

Another week has rolled around and yet nothing has been done in regard to the ditch on Greenwood street, west of Main. We were in hopes that our street commissioner would conclude to do something if no more than come around and look at it after one of our heavy showers, but he has failed to do that even. Thinking perhaps that he had forgotten it we would again call his attention to the fact, and now if he fails to give it due notice, the parties owning property will have to look up some other mode of bringing him to "time rick."

IMPORTANT DECISION.—At the general term of the court, held at Rome on the 2d day of July, the court made a decision which is of considerable importance to the public. An action was brought to recover possession of a cow and steer, taken by the defendant while trespassing upon his premises, under the act of 1867, entitled "An act amending the act to prevent cattle running at large in the public highways." The cattle were found by the defendant trespassing on his lands, upon which they had entered from the highway. The defendant justified the seizure under the act of 1867. The court among other things, decided sec. 2 of chap. 811 of the law of 1867, so far as it permits any person to seize and take into his custody any animal which may be trespassing upon premises owned or occupied by him, to be disposed of and the subsequent provisions of that chapter, to be unconstitutional and void.

Last Friday evening County Deputy Thomas Dobbinson, Jr., assisted by Lodge of Good Templars at the Cattaraugus Indian reservation, the members being composed entirely of the "noble red man" in their regalia and paraphernalia. The lodge starts under favorable circumstances, quite a number of citizens of the village joined with it which express a determination to go no more on the "war path" at night, but to keep company with the supposed to be wigwam, and pursue a course with all varieties of tobacco. The selection of a name for the lodge occasioned considerable difficulty, but finally an antiquated chief of "long" retired old an aged red man of distinction also, some half a century ago, had lived and in his consideration of the use of alcoholic beverages and had indulged, rejoiced in the appellation of "Old Warrior," and the name was suggested that the lodge be named in honor of him, which then was immediately agreed upon and the name first chosen. N. B. Parker, a brother of the notorious Colonel Parker, is the Lodge Deputy.—Randolph Register.

The Cattaraugus Republican is responsible for the following:

On Thursday night last the steamer Chautauqua was caught in a fearful storm on the lake of the same name, and for a time the passengers were greatly concerned for their safety. While the storm was raging the flagpost, one of the under chains broke and the steamer became unmanageable. The consternation became intense, and had not the danger been so imminent the scenes would have been ludicrous in the extreme. It is reported that a certain financial gentleman wanted to pay Capt. Murray $5,000 to put him ashore safely. Many others, who had forgotten to pray for years, sought refuge in imploring Divine protection. One man tried to repeat the Lord's Prayer, but began with "We hold these truths to be self evident." &c. Another, who had been a staunch Democrat, convicted of the error of his ways, and on bended knees, promised that if saved from the impending danger, he would "lead a different life," that he would "hic-drink no more whisky-hic-and would vote-hic-the Republican ticket" the remainder of his life. Whether all the solemn promises made on that occasion will be kept time can only determine.

It is proper to state that the steamer finally reached Mayville in safety.

A DIRTY, COWARDLY ACT.—On Sunday night last, some miserable persons, (we say persons because we do not believe any one person could have done the work), went to the grove and cut down a swing that had been placed there by a number of our citizens at quite a little cost, and very much to the displeasure of some of the old heads who had forgotten that they once enjoyed amusements, and a few others that were born into this world tired and have not as yet recovered, who thought the innocent amusement of a "swing" was terrible, and declared that it ought not to be tolerated in no way; but nevertheless the swing was placed in the grove on Thursday, and on Saturday Mr. Mage's little daughter fell from the swing and was hurt, and then the howl was resumed by these would be tyrants for grown persons, they ought to be accompanied by their parents or some other person capable of taking care of them. And so person that was anybody would stoop so low as to go and cut down a swing that had been placed there for amusement, and at a good deal of trouble and cost.

A DOG ATTACKS A MAN.—Our village were startled last Friday to hear that a mad dog had attacked and "chewed up" one of our citizens. The facts in the case are simply these:—On the afternoon in question Mr. Jas. Tucker of the firm of Tucker & Walker, ordered his dog at the livery barn to go up stairs, and the dog not obeying he took a whip to him. The animal showed fight, and upon the command and lashing being repeated, sprang at his master through Mr. Tucker, jumping quick as a flash, changed ends with his whip and knocked the brute down. This was repeated several times, Mr. Tucker not taking the matter seriously and thinking he could easily conquer him, until in an unguarded moment the savage beast fiercely seized him by the leg, inflicting a severe wound just above the knee. Mr. Tuckers partner, Walter, then joined in the battle and struck at the dog with a club just as the animal seized Tuckers left arm, the weapon descending upon the arm and dog and severely bruising the arm. The animal was finally driven out and the wounds dressed by a surgeon. The dog is an English terrier, medium size and has never been regarded as dangerous. Mr. Tucker was rather amused at first and pleased at his exhibition of pluck. He says the dog was not excited throughout the conflict, but went coolly to work to repel and punish the assault upon him. Towards night he came sneaking back to his master and upon being ordered up stairs again obeyed for awhile and did not come down until noon of the next day.—Nunda Democrat.

DROWNED.—For the third time within as many months we are now called to chronicle the death of a little boy by drowning in this town.

On Tuesday last at about six p. m. the body of Albert, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Gardiner, aged about seven years, was taken from an old uncovered cistern, in rear of the new building now building erected by Mr Benton, on the corner lot opposite the Times office.

A few minutes previously he had been at play with some other boys about the new building and yard. The last account of him in life that we are able to obtain is that about the time the 6 o'clock whistle blew he left his playmates at the fence, rear of the building residence of M. A. Blakeley, saying, "I am going home." The boys tried to persuade him to remain and play a little longer, but he declined and started away and was not noticed again by the boys or any one else.

A few minutes later the other boys also started away, and in passing the cistern, which lay pretty directly in a line from where the boys were playing to the street, the crown of a hat was discovered floating on the water. One of the boys took a stick and lifted the hat from the water, when it was recognized as that belonging to Allie Gardiner. The boy immediately carried the hat to Mr. Gardiner, at his residence some twenty or thirty rods distant, stating where they had found it. Mr. G immediately hurried to the spot expressing his fears to workmen there, that his boy might be in the cistern. In a moment's time, a nail was driven into a pole and the next moment the lifeless body of the almost idolized child, was taken from the fatal pool before the horror struck and agonized parent.

Immediately physicians were summoned, and all possible means made use of to restore vitality, but in vain.

Thus early and suddenly was extinguished the brightest lamp of the fondest parents hopes. The last words of their dear one, so strikingly prophetic and so fearfully true, "I am going home," have also as much of consolation for the stricken parents, as it is possible for words to convey. It is needless to add that the sorrowing friends have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community.—Olean Times.

BELMONT CORRESPONDENCE.

BELMONT, Aug. 9, 1870.

Although at the time of writing our last letter, there was every indication of a dry time, we have since had frequent showers to cool the air and wet the hay and grain. But still it grows hotter and hotter; the air seems thick and when one breathes it's like drawing in wads of cotton into the lungs.—There is every indication of a sickly season. At least one-third of the people are complaining of being unwell, and several cases of severe sickness are reported.

Several persons have started for the races at Buffalo from here, among them our station agent, Mr. Demmer.

Mr. P. S. Lockwood has resigned his position as agent at Belvidere station to wait and clerk in a "Short mail line." Paint dirt cheap for sale by [illegible] L. C. Stewart & Co., Cook [illegible] Pittsburgh.
