Saturday night, March 9th, Andover will play Olean High School Junior Varsity. This will be the last home game.

The Alumni girls will also play the High School girls.

Three games were played at the gymnasium Saturday night. The first game was between the sixth and seventh grades. The score was in proportion to the players, small—1-0. The seventh grade being the lucky one. Following, the Alfred eighth grade defeated Andover eighth grade by a close margin—16-17. The last game was played between the Almond Reserves and Andover Reserves, the score being 19-38 in our favor.

Frosh: "How did the 'Tidbits' jokes get across?"

Senior: "On the May Flower."

"Where's your girl?"

"Aw, she went off in a huff."

"I never did like them cheap cars."

Assembly of the High School and Seventh and Eighth Grades was held for the first time in the auditorium, last Friday morning. The program was conducted by the Beta Mu, and consisted of several entertaining features carried out by the candidates. These assemblies are for the entertainment of all the students and are supervised each week by a different teacher who plans the program. Each student will be obliged to do his part to make these meetings successful.

Soph.: "When you sleep your noble brow reminds me of a story."

Frosh.: "What story; 'Sleeping Beauty'?"

Soph.: "No, 'Sleepy Hollow'."

The entire school was dismissed at 10:30 Monday morning, and called again at 11:30 in order that the students might hear the Inaugural program which was received in the gymnasium over a radio loaned the school thru the courtesy of Frank Graves.

A Bank For Brokers. No Arsenic, Please, F. R. Usury Unnecessary. Invest, Do Not Gamble.

In response to warnings from the Federal Reserve, banks withdrew on Friday, $25,000,000 of call loans. The idea was "to discourage speculation." That speculation keeps big banks and their gigantic profits alive, but that is another story.

When loans were called, the rate moved from six to nine per cent. Banks calling loans sacrificed six per cent. on $25,000,000 and made an additional three per cent. on about four billions.

Even a child on the farm could understand that systematic usury must be harmful. Even as base a thing as a speculator, buying American securities, should not be robbed too systematically.

It is probable that investigation of the Federal Reserve Banks, and its accidental or intentional promotion of bank profits, thru usury, will follow the latest Federal Reserve action, responsible for a loss, widely scattered, of three or more billions in a few hours.

Why do not Stock Exchange men protect themselves and, their customers from financial tyranny. They could establish a great bank, especially for their own purposes. Compelling brokers to make call loans at that bank, on conservative margins of security, at a fair interest rate, and dividing profits among stock exchange members, they might do something that the Federal Reserve, evidently cannot do.

Controlling a monopoly of call loans, they could sell $1,000,000,000 worth of stock in an hour.

If a father to cure his children of overeating, put arsenic in their food, you would say, "Something wrong with that father."

When a paternal Federal Reserve Board, mistaking itself for the national government, to cure what it considers over-speculation, ruins thousands of investors by forcing usuries interest rates, you say "Something wrong with that Federal Reserve Board."

The board is unnecessarily excited about four or five billion dollars of brokers' loans.

Learned financiers should realize that there is money in this country outside of banks' control.

Mr. Ecker, vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Company, has shown that the income of American wage earners is 60 billions of dollars a year. And they spend 15 billions less than they earn.

These 15 billions are three times the total of brokers' loans. A nation that has every year 15 billions of spending money might borrow a third of its excess annual wealth for investment, or even for speculation, without making criminal usury necessary.

Wall Street went to work last week convinced that the world had not quite come to an end, and even a benevolent regulating Federal Reserve might be endured.

Some for whom this is the beginning of the Spring lamb season, the unhappy wiped-out minority that tried the "faw down, go broke" experience, will know better next time. Others will know better later.

Invest within your means, in America, and you get rich. Gamble here or anywhere, and gambling gets you.

Lady De Bathe died recently at Monte Carlo in her 77th year. As Mrs. Langtry, the Jersey Lily, she was known wherever English is spoken. Her reputation was due largely to her marvelous complexion, pink and white, NATURAL colors. Such complexions have gone out. Even little girls are daubed and plastered.

Up above, the Jersey Lily has doubtless renewed acquaintance with Albert Edward, who admired her when he was Prince of Wales. Will he look natural, flitting about with white wings and a harp? Probably not. And how painful it must be for a sovereign or a famous beauty to be just like everybody else. Perhaps even ranking below Moody and Sankey.

Friendship Man Held

Marshall Rogers, 46 years old, was arrested at his home in Friendship and committed to the county jail under $1,000 bail to await the action of the grand jury for "attempted murder," in the second degree. It is claimed he attacked his wife with a chair and an oil lamp.

Baptism and the Lord's Supper

Matthew 28:19, 20; I. Corinthians 11:23-29

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

The two sacraments in the Christian church are named in the title. The dictionary defines "sacrament" as an outward and visible sign of an inward and spiritual grace, instituted by Jesus Christ." To the Roman soldier the word meant an oath or pledge, that was taken especially when about to go forth for war or on a mission for his country.

The Scripture portions, aside from those named above, for intimate study are Matthew 3:13-17; Acts 2:38-41; Romans 6:1-14. Then it is recommended that you turn to each word in both a general and Bible dictionary.

Baptism is introduced by John the Baptizer during his preaching in the wilderness. He taught that people who became penitent because of their sins and purposed to live a different life should give public testimony thereto as they received the rite of Baptism, which would signify this inward working of grace. The Old Testament has many references to the use of water in symbolic cleansing. Jesus, coming from Nazareth, sought this Baptism, not that He had committed any sin, but that he might thus formally take our place before Jehovah.

When 'The Risen Lord gave His commission He instructed the apostles, and their followers, to go everywhere, proclaim repentance from sin thru the Crucified One and then direct the converts to register the consciousness of the change of heart and their purpose after new obedience in this rite of Baptism.

The Lord's Supper was instituted Jewish Passover in the upper room just after the observance of the in Jerusalem. Unleavened bread was used as a symbol and also the cup, concerning which He said in invitation, "Drink ye all of it." The rich meaning is set forth by Paul in the passage from I. Corinthians. This Scripture is used by every Christian minister as he celebrates this Sacrament. The symbolism brings to mind the body and blood of Jesus Christ, which were given in sacrifice on the cross. The minister will break a piece of the bread and pour the grape juice during the service. Prayer is offered repeatedly, and particularly in setting these elements apart for this holy use. A very helpful book to give to any first communicant is "Coming to the Communion," by Rev. Charles R. Erdman, D.D.

This Memorial Supper has also a promise and links between the Ascension and the Second Advent, which is a truth to be believed by all Christians and not only by those who especially emphasize the Return of our Lord. Another name for this Supper is Eucharist. This means "Giving of thanks." Solemnity of course inheres in such a memorial and pledge, but it should also be rich with joy because of the blessings that have been made possible. In the service the believer accepts what has been done for him and likewise pledges renewed and full obedience to his Saviour.

Bolivar Man Killed

Charles Mansfield of Bolivar met instant death, Monday, when 400 quarts of nitro-glycerine on a truck which he was driving to Bolivar from Emporium exploded. Three pounds of flesh was all that could be found of the body. The truck was demolished and a large hole torn in the macadam road.

The explosion occurred about three miles from Emporium. The cause is unknown, but is supposed to have been either the jolt from the rough road or a leakage in the glycerine containers.

Mansfield was 38 years old and was in partnership with A. W. Shaner in the Bolivar Glycerine Corporation. He had been hauling the explosive from the manufacturing plant at Emporium to the oil fields where the company shot wells, for the past three years. The remains were taken to Montpelier, Indiana, his former home, for burial. He leaves a widow.

W. R. C. Enjoy Party

Mrs. Mary Applebee entertained the members of Edward Seaman Relief Corps, at their March birthday party, Tuesday afternoon. A very pleasant social time with entertainment and a delicious supper was enjoyed.

W. W. Scott

W. W. Scott one of Silver Springs' leading and influential business men, died there Monday, after an illness of several months duration, with throat trouble.

Mr. Scott was widely known in Buffalo and thruout Western New York. He was a promoter of sports in his younger days. For the past ten years or more he has been in business in Silver Springs. He is survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Eve Frisbee, of Ellinton, N. Y., two daughters, Mrs. Ray Metcalf of Fillmore, N. Y., and Miss Elizabeth Scott of Buffaalo, and a step-son, Clinton Ayres of Buffalo.

Pushing Their Claim

The Friendship Baptist church in Allegany County, N. Y., will receive the approval of the president as the birthplace of the present Republican party, if Representative Daniel A. Reed of Dunkirk, N. Y., is successful in his attempt to interest the president in the claims of his constituents.

Representative Reed intends discussing the matter with him and he will also insert the documentary evidence to support the contention in the Congressional Record, in order to give official recognition to the claim.

Moore's Pure Linseed Oil House Paint is a most economical and durable outside paint.

It will cover 350 square feet, two coats, to the gallon—has a heavy body and should be thinned with pure linseed oil. It is made with proper proportion of pigments and ground so fine that it spreads and covers perfectly; giving years of protection. We guarantee every can.

Pure Molasses Kisses, they have the flavor. Saturday only, six ounces for a nickel, or a full pound for 10c. The last barrel this season—stock up now.

How many times have you had a large window glass break with no apparent reason. Lots of them have broken this way and it is both annoying and expensive.

The old way of blowing glass in a cylinder and then cutting down one side and letting the glass flatten out produced a light that was slightly curved and if pressure was applied at the wrong point it cracked easily.

Some glass you are offered is still made that way, but the glass we sell you is Libbey Owens, made perfectly flat with no wrong side; can be put in either side out and will touch the sash with equal weight on all sides.

This glass does not disappoint—it is clear, tough and satisfactory.

Every Atlantic Sanitary Dairy Pail is made from tin manufactured by the old charcoal process. No other dairy pails made from this high quality tin are sold at as low a price as we offer you Atlantic Pails.

Coke tin may be as heavy and look as well when new but it soon gets shabby in appearance—develops pin holes in its steel base and in the long run will not give you more than one-half the service of the better article.

Be a good buyer. Learn quality, and get your money's worth.
