THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, - EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., AUG. 20, 1890.

The new silver law went into effect last Wednesday. Nineteen millions of dollars in the new notes have been prepared. They are all of a large denomination. The smaller notes will follow rapidly.

The Buffalo Express wants the Republicans of Western New York to "get together" and name a candidate for U. S. Senator from this territory. It mentions the names of several available candidates—all from Buffalo.

The Constitution Commission which has been in session in Albany for two weeks past, recommends that the office of Justice of Sessions be abolished. Hon. Hamilton Ward of this county is a member of the Commission.

Commissioner D. D. Dickson of the Northern School Commissioner's District will have no opposition for renomination. Neither will "Uncle Dan" Gardiner for County Treasurer, an office he has held for 33 consecutive years.

The Hartford Courant says: "While law and order people are so hard at work trying to find the pleasantest and least painful way to kill murderers, we find no corresponding movement on the part of murderers to find the pleasantest and least painful way for their victims to be murdered."

People who flocked into Oklahoma a year or so ago, running over each other in their haste to reach a land of milk and honey, are now appealing to the government for aid. They want something to eat and the aforesaid land is loth to yield it to them. The poor people should be helped to keep them from starvation and their experience should be borne in mind hereafter by those who are tempted to believe the seductive tales of land and railroad boomers.

It seems to be a settled fact that Senator Fassett is in the field as a candidate for the office of U. S. Senator to succeed Mr. Evarts, notwithstanding the fact that the constitution of New York state prohibits a member of the state legislature from serving as United States Senator during the term for which he was elected to the legislature. Leading papers are divided in opinion as to whether the New York Constitution has power to prescribe qualifications for U. S. Senators. If Senator Fasset is elected to the office, the matter may have to go to the courts for decision.

Discussions on the Tariff question will be one of the principal features at many of the county fairs in this state this fall. Among the fairs thus far included in the arrangement are the Elmira inter-state fair, and the county fairs of Delaware, Tioga, Otsego, Franklin, Erie, Orleans, Schoharie and Ontario. The speakers are all Congressmen, and among those selected for the above counties are Messrs. Gear of Iowa, La Follette of Wisconsin, Mc Comas of Maryland, Henderson of Iowa, Payson of Illinois, Payne of New York, Dolliver of Iowa, Goff of West Virginia, Kennedy and Grosvenor of Ohio, all Republicans, while the democratic side of the question will be championed by Mills of Texas, Breckenridge of Kentucky, Russell of Massachusetts, Bynum of Indiana, and others.

In consequence of the fierce persecution of the Church, which is the policy of Crispi, the Pope will soon issue a manifesto to the Roman Catholics throughout the world, giving his intention of leaving Rome, together with his courts and all his adherents. From a practical point of view this means ruin to Rome, for with the Pontiff will go the Cardinals, the prelates, and a vast number of persons who annually come to Rome as pilgrims. In fact commercial ruin stares inn keepers and shop keepers in the face. Still it is impossible for any earnest Christian even now to live in Rome, which is fast becoming the headquarters of atheism and free thought. The shop windows are full of shocking caricatures of the Diety, licence is allowed for blasphemy, and its indecency has never been surpassed in history, even during the French year of 1793.

The Cheese Market.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The transactions on the cheese board to-day were: 1,500 boxes at 7c; 5,820 boxes at 7⅛c; 2,160 boxes at 7¼c; 1,560 boxes at 7⅜; 1,425 boxes at 7½c; 200 boxes at 7⅞c; 80 boxes on private terms; 1,230 boxes on commission. 75 packages creamery butter at 22a24c. Market was little stronger on conclusion of the strike.

At Little Falls the transactions were: 1,698 boxes at 7c; 2,868 boxes at 7¼c; 3,643 boxes at 7⅛c; 1,137 boxes at 7¾c, 740 boxes on commission; 1,275 boxes of farm dairy at 7½a8¼, the bulk at 8c. Sales of 36 packages of creamery butter at 19a20c.

The Village of Austin Destroyed.

Austin, Potter Co., Pa. was visited by a disasterous fire last Wednesday night which destroyed 42 business places and entailed a loss of $200,000. Almost the entire business part of the thriving town was laid in ashes.

The fire originated in a livery barn in the rear of Hedwig's drug store on Turner St, and was well under way when discovered. The citizens made a valiant fight to save the property, but to no avail, their efforts being fruitless and 42 of the principal business places were reduced to ashes. The fire took an eastward course, running along the east side of Main street to the railroad, turning on the west side to the Buffalo Hardware Co's large store, which was consumed, taking an eastward course again to the part where it originated and describing a complete circle. So sudden, fierce and terrible were the flames that many barely made their escape with their lives.

Attempt to Wreck a House.

On Monday morning the attention of Samuel Green, who lives on Beach Hill, town of Willing, was called by his wife to a peculiar looking article which she observed lying by the side of the house. He picked it up and discovered it was a dynamite cartridge filled with three pounds of the fearful explosive. The fuse attached had been burned and the cap exploded, but for some unexplained reason the cartridge had failed to explode. If the explosion had taken place the position of the cartridge was such that the destruction of the house and its inmates would have been pretty sure, and their escape is almost miraculous.

Mr. Green and his wife were at church Sunday night, and recalled that after their return home, they had heard a slight explosion, which from the developments of Monday morning, they believe was from the cap.

This dastardly deed has created much excitement in the neighborhood. Officers have taken the matter in hand and there are circumstances in the case which it is hoped and expected will lead to the discovery of the villians who made the attempt.—Wellsville Democrat.

An Auburn spiritualist has announced that Kemmler has been heard from since his taking off, and that he declares that his death was painless, he having no sensation whatever. His spirit, he says, was released by the first shock, and it was present in the execution room in a disembodied state when the burning occurred, and when the doctors were crying out for a second and third current, under the idea that he was not yet dead. Kemmler is all right. There's nothing the matter with him.

wastes or gives away during the year more or less kitchen grease, each pound of which can in a few minutes be converted into two pounds of the PUREST SOAP, far better than can be found on sale. The only expense for making ten pounds of this soap, with five and one-half pounds of grease or oil, is the trifling cost of one can of BANNER LYE, to be found at nearly every grocery store.

Dissolve the contents of one can of Banner Lye in three and one-half pints of cold water, and pour slowly into five and one-half pounds of lukewarm grease, stirring from the start, until it thickens into a mushy condition; then pour into any kind of mould to harden—a child can make it, and full directions are to be found back of each label.

A can of Banner Lye will do the work of twenty-one pounds of washing soda, and besides its value for scrubbing purposes, the cleansing and disinfecting of Sinks, Closets and Waste Pipes, destroying the Filth and Disease arising therefrom, makes its systematic use one of the greatest boons the housekeeper has fallen heir to.

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

School begins soon.

Harvest Home to-morrow.

John H. Crandall has been appointed postmaster at Bolivar.

The Gas Co. have placed a light in front of the Prest block.

The Erie is building a break-water near the depot in this place.

Train 3 is usually late these days—and so are most of the other trains.

Bring your job printing to the NEWS office. You can't find better work than we do.

Last week Erie westbound trains were crowded—excursionists returning from Boston.

A game of ball between the Wellsville and Bath clubs is to be played at Wellsville this afternoon.

Mr. L. C. Allen of Whitesville has gone to New York, where he will enter the employ of the Beers Map Publishing Company.

We object to the Fillmore Observer calling the NEWS a "little" paper. We are just as big as you are, neighbor, and hope we'll always be as good.

James Cadwell of Hornellsville, employed at the gravel pit in Wellsville dropped dead at his boarding house door Tuesday evening of heart failure.

The Farmers' League of Rushford is considering the feasibility of erecting a town hall. The seminary hall was not large enough to accommodate the people who attended their last meeting.

The Hornellsville Fair begins Aug. 25 and lasts five days. It will be as great an attraction for the people of this vicinity as ever, and the towns along the western division will be nearly depopulated.

Willie, aged 10, and Jimmie, aged 6, were playing together. One of them was minutely examining a fly. "I wonder how God made him!" he exclaimed. "God don't make flies as carpenters make things," observed the other boy. "God says, let there be flies, and there is flies."

Mrs. James Cooney died at her home in Andover, on Thursday, Aug. 14, aged 59 years. The deceased was a native of Ireland and had lived in Andover 27 years. The funeral services were held Saturday at the Catholic church in this village, and were attended by a very large number of friends and neighbors of the deceased.

An effort was made to secure Hon. Hamilton Ward as one of the speakers at the annual Harvest Home of the Presbyterian church, which occurs to-morrow, but Mr. Ward is absent at Albany. L. C. Van Fleet of Andover, and Rev. James A. Miller of Angelica, will entertain the audience, and thus two good speeches are assured.

Apropos of the coming "birthday party" to be given in honor of Mrs. Thankful Spaulding's one hundredth birthday, the NEWS challenges any town of its size to show as many centenarians as Andover boasts of. Of course the number is not large but we can show two—Mrs. Spaulding and Aldora Holloway. Look up your old Bibles last report.

Enthusiastic J. C. Green is the owner of a picture that would be of inestimable interest to all veterans, could they see it, and which Mr. Green prizes as one of his most valuable possessions. It is a picture of Andersonville prison, and shows plainly all points of interest and depicts many scenes of cruelty that were enacted within the 35 acres comprising the noted southern prison-pen. Mr. Green says the picture is accurate, as he ought to know. It is 40x60 inches in size and Mr. Green has had it placed in a handsome gilt frame. It is well worth seeing and will give an observer a much better idea of the place than he ever had unless he was unfortunately enough to be an "inhabitant" of it during the war.

Dance to-morrow evening.

The plasterers are at work on F. S. Clark's new house.

The NEWS subscription list is booming—that is to say, it is growing rapidly.

Dr. Brainard counted 78 stacks of hay between the Independence line and Dyke Creek bridge near E. H. Rollins' residence.

Sister Mary Gerald, stationed at Wellsville, has been elected Mother Superior of the Sisters of Mercy in the province of the Batavia Mother-house.

Willard R. Pyle, a student of the University of Michigan, exhibited Edison's phonograph at the Presbyterian church Saturday and Monday evenings for the benefit of the Y. P. S. C. E.

Mrs. Wm. Bines wishes to express her thanks to the friends who so kindly assisted during the recent illness and death of her husband, and also to those neighbors who assisted in finishing her haying. Their kindness will never be forgotten.

Don't forget the Farmer's League picnic at Belmont Friday of this week. It will be a big affair, and every member of the League, and as many others as can find it convenient, should attend. The trains run so as to accommodate the people of this section for an occasion of this kind.

Wm. H. King of Bolivar has made arrangements with the Hornell Iron Works of Hornellsville to manufacture his recently-patented postage-stamp licker. The device resembles the "nickle-in-the-slot" style of automatic machines and will furnish a stamp and affix it to a letter by placing pennies in the slot.

E. W. Chappel's new residence on Elm street is nearing completion, the outside work being done except finishing the gables and verandas, and the inside is plastered and nearly ready for the painters. The house was built by John Prest and sons, and is handsome in appearance and conveniently arranged inside. Mr. Chappel expects to occupy it early next month.

Phoebe A. Dildine, mother of Israel Dildine of this place, died at her home in Wellsville on Wednesday, Aug. 13, 1890, aged 76 years. Her death was not unexpected, as she had been in poor health for several months, and had been confined to her bed a number of weeks. She was a highly respected member of the Wellsville M. E. church, and leaves a husband and two children. The funeral services were held at Wellsville Saturday, and the remains were brought to Andover for burial.

Last Sunday John Welch went to R. McAndrew's farm to help McAndrew with his haying. While at work the men had some difficulty which resulted in Welch being knocked down and badly bruised about the head. Mc Andrew's version of the affair is that he struck Welch in self defense. Welch was compelled to lie in bed a couple of days, but is all right again now. The report that he was dead, which was current on the streets yesterday morning, was proved to be without foundation by the appearance of the man himself in the village in the afternoon.

L. C. Gonter Married.

Killed by the Cars.

A special from Ceres to the Wellsville Reporter says:

James O'Boyle, a young man aged about 25 years, was run over and horribly mangled by the cars on the L. & P. road just below Ceres last Saturday evening. He boarded the train to steal a ride down a couple of miles where he worked and is supposed to have fallen between the cars. His body was dragged under the cars nearly half a mile and literally minced. The train hands knew nothing of it. Ceres citizens found his remains early Sunday morning and gathered them up and removed them to the L. & P. depot to await the arrival of the coronor. Deceased was about Ceres all Saturday afternoon and very drunk. A broken pint bottle was found with his remains. He has worked near here for several months and claimed to have a sister in Wellsville.

Terrible Cyclone at Wilkes-Barre.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 20.—At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon the most terrible cyclone that was ever experienced in this locality struck this city. It came up the river. From what point it originated is not known. The suddenness of its coming was one of its most awful features. The heavens were as black as night and the wind blew with frightful velocity. Hundreds of houses were unroofed, partially blown down or completely demolished, and worse than all, the visitation of death was sent upon a number of people.

Forty persons are known to have been killed in this place and vicinity.

Large districts in several sections of the city are in absolute ruin and the women and children are in the streets wringing their hands in absolute dismay. The damage will reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Passenger trains and locomotives at the depot were blown over and every wire in the city, electric, telephone and telegraph, is down.

The devastation is to be compared with nothing in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Serious Wreck near Boston.

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—A serious accident happened to the Cape Cod and Woods Holl train on the Old Colony railroad at Quincy at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The train jumped the track 100 feet on the other side of President's bridge. The first passenger car fell on the engine, the latter having toppled over. The engine set fire to the train. The fireman was instantly killed and the engineer fatally hurt.

As far as learned eight passengers were killed and about twenty injured. The latter were for the greater part injured by escaping steam, having been frightfully scalded. The Quincy fire department was called to the scene as quickly as possible, and shortly afterward the fire was subdued. The dead and injured were removed from the scene the latter being taken to private houses and to the Quincy hospital.

The Strike.

The strike on the New York Central road has within the past few days assumed a different aspect from what was expected, and at midnight last night the indications were that a strike far reaching in its lines will be inaugurated upon all the railroads in the great Vanderbilt system. The few labor leaders in conference with the executive committee of the Knights of Labor are members of the Supreme Council of the Federation of Railway Employes. The general demeanor of the members of the conference was that of men engaged in heavy task. They positively refuse to say in what way their deliberation has resulted, beyond the statement that no conclusion was reached. The police department has taken extra precautions.

Orders have been issued to have the reserves on duty to-morrow along the lines of the Central Hudson track in New York, and extra details are made for the freight yards. All possible precaution has geen taken to prevent rioting.
