FRIENDSHIP INVADES ANDOVER JAN. 19th

The next home basketball game for the locals will be played on Friday, January 19th, when the Friendship High School teams come to Andover. The main event of the evening is of course the varsity game. This year Friendship has beaten Wellsville and lost to Bolivar by two points. This shows that Friendship has a very formidable team and as a result of this season's record they stand as the favorites over the purple and white.

In the preliminary game the Portville High School girls' team will play the local girls. This game will start at 7:30.

AROUND THE A. H. S. SPORT WORLD

By Conrad F. Church
Hi Herald Sports Editor

Bolivar's zone defense is the best we have seen this season. Canisteo also has a good zone defense, but the Bolivar bunch is better. Even on the huge floor at Bolivar the purple could not advance through it, and had to resort to long shots to score.

Andover only used two men in that defense, however, one in each corner, whereas against Canisteo, three men were placed in it, the two men in the corners and another on the mid line with two men working the ball down. With this added offenseive strength the purple scored most of their field goals from under the basket.

The girl's games with Bolivar and Canisteo were regular football games. It seems that every school in Allegany county has different girl's rules. Whenever a team plays another, one of the two must play under different regulations than they are accustomed to. That was the fix Andover found itself in at Bolivar.

It seems that it would be possible for every school in the county to adopt the same rules, and another year authorities from this school will try to have this done. A good suggestion on what rules to use—"Why not use regulation girls' basketball rules?"

Remember that protest with Whitesville last year? The rules governing the time outs have not been changed this year. Several news writers of this section last year commented on the Andover protest, and said that the rule should be changed so that a field goal made when the ball is in play immediately following a time out by the opposing team should be counted. No action has been taken, however, and there probably never will be.

We are picking Bolivar to win Class A this year after last Friday night's showing against the purple. Cheski, a former Hornell High School player, will be eligible after January. Cheski is a natural and starred with Hornell for two seasons. Wellsville may have DeSaberi back, but he cannot equal Cheski.

Cuba or Friendship should win Class B and Angelica Class C. Alfred has put up the best showing of any of the teams from this part of the county, but is way down in the standings. Almond and Whitesville are having a fight for last place. We pick Whitesville for that doubtful honor.

We were talking to Tony Perrone from Alfred, who is coaching that team. "Tony" did not seem to be very enthused over his boys' team, but spoke of his girls' team in glowing terms. And well he might, for Alfred has one of the best, if not the best, girls' teams in the county. We should like to see them meet Bolivar.

Not that we expect to see Fillmore beat Andover. On the contrary Andover should win by five points. However, Fillmore has the reputation of being a hard place to win and Andover might lose this game. It seems hard to believe that Andover can beat Cuba away or Friendship.

The frosh should win without any trouble. The next home game will be with Friendship here a week from this Friday. A tough game there. Our eighth grade team will soon be seen in action. Basketball is again flourishing in all grades above the fourth, under the directions of the teaches, Huffcut and McLaughlin.

CANISTEO GIRLS DEFEAT ANDOVER

Andover Holds Opponents Scoreless in Second Quarter, Canisteo Team Faster—Score 31-17.

The Andover girls' varsity went down to defeat at Canisteo's hands in a fast and exciting game on the local floor last Tuesday night, Jan. 9.

Canisteo started the game off when Ridgeway, Canisteo's star forward, staged a scoring spree in the first quarter, bringing her team's score up to 15. Dean sank two foul shots and Slocum made a basket in the first quarter.

In the second quarter of the game Andover held Canisteo scoreless while picking up six points for the home team. This was the only period of the game when Andover outplayed Canisteo. The score at the end of the first half was 15-10 in Canisteo's favor.

All during the last half of the game, Canisteo outplayed Andover. The game ended with a score of 31-17.

BOLIVAR BEATS ANDOVER

Have Little Difficulty in Trimming Purple—Potter and Wood Stand Out for Blue and White.

Bolivar High School had little difficulty in beating the purple of Andover on their home court last Friday night, to the tune of 26-14.

The first half was a rout, Bolivar scoring 15 of their total points during this period, and at the same time held the purple to two points, both scored by Canon from the foul line.

Brewster of Andover was ejected from the game early in the fourth quarter to stop a rally started by the Andover team, but the purple still outscored Bolivar in the last half. However, the lead was too great, and the game ended with Bolivar leading 26-14.

Altho this was rated as a league game, it does not count in the final standings of teams in Class B, of which Andover is a member. Bolivar is a Class A team, and thus Andover was left with exactly the same rating as they had before, one loss and no wins.

Andover could not seem to be able to get started in the first half, but played on equal terms with their more experienced opponents on the huge Bolivar floor during the last half.

Guild handled the game well on the large floor, his refereeing being the best of any of the league officials.

Potter and Wood were outstanding for Bolivar, the latter scoring 12 points and playing an outstanding floor game. Bolivar presented a zone defense that was impossible to break thru, and most of Andover's field goals came from long shots.

Andover's next league game will be with Fillmore this Friday night.

ANDOVER LOSES TO CANISTEO

Drop Third Straight Game 38-29.—Wickham Stars.

Canisteo invaded the local court last Tuesday night and went home on the long end of a 38-29 count, in an exciting game thruout, altho Canisteo had little difficulty at any time.

Wickham and Buckley went on scoring sprees, dropping them in from every angle with clocklike precision. Wickham scored eight times from the geld and once from the foul line.

Andover put up a good fight in the first and final quarter, altho outscored and in the third quarter took matters entirely in hand.

Brewster was the outstanding man for the purple, working under the basket with great effectiveness. McAndrew also looked good at times. Alderson sank several long shots in the last half to take scoring honors.

This was the first game Canisteo has won on a foreign court this year and avenges the lacing handed to them last year after they had won 12 straight games. Canisteo's line-up was made up of several of last year's men.

A. H. S. ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO BENEFIT

Remember—Saturday, 8:15 P. M. at the High School Auditorium

"The Yellow Shadow," a mystery play in three acts, under direction of Miss Clifford is being presented in the High School Auditorium Saturday, January 13th at 8:15 p. m. The proceeds are for the benefit of the Athletic Association.

The scene opens in the dark living room of a house untenanted for years. The fireplace casts a weird glow across the body of a murdered man!

The atmosphere of mystery is sustained by yellow hands coming from nowhere, pictures moving and falling, and lights flashing on and off. Each moment in the play holds a new thrill. The unexpected always happens.

And at the end of the second act, no matter whom you think is the villain, we'll wager five to one that your guess is wrong!

The High School orchestra, under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Russ will open and close the entertainment.

Admission will be 15c for students and 25c for adults.

DON'T MISS IT!

BOLIVAR GIRLS DEFEAT ANDOVER

Locals Are Held Scoreless in First Half—Score 20-7.

After being held scoreless in the first half of a basketball game at Bolivar High School, the Andover girls' varsity picked up seven points and lost by a score of 20-7 to their strongest, altho not any faster, opponents.

Perkins of Bolivar and Slocum of Andover led the scoring for their respective teams. The passwork of the Bolivar team was better than Andover's thruout the game. The local misses played as good basketball after they got started as the opposing team.

TELL ME AN INDIAN STORY

Dr. E. A. Bates, Cornell
(Copyright 1933)

I LIKE SEEDS

The breath of the North Wind turned cold early in the hunting moon; trails thru the woods had to be broken because of the heavy snowfall.

The Indians in the village heaped dirt around the base of their long, barked cabins to keep out the cold wind and snow. The thick hides of old Mr. Bear had been carefully sewed together and made into a door to protect the lodgers, and it was the season when children nestled close to mother in the eventide to listen to tales of wonder and wisdom.

After the evening meal of hot baked squashes, the family looked to the story teller:

"Many, many moons ago," she said, "when the Indians first began to live along the river and creek bottoms of old New York, all the birds would start their sky trail to the warm southland as soon as the first snowfall came.

"In the village, many old people were friendly with the birds and wanted their companionship during the long winter moons. So, one of these old women, who had lost all her family, thought and thought how she could keep the birds all winter.

"When the autumn came and the corn was taken in from the field, the birds flew about and began to flock around the cribs in the village for a chance kernel of corn or other morsel of food.

"All that this old woman had to feed the birds was seeds that she gathered in the woods; yet most of the birds did not like raspberry seeds and the like, which were all the old lady had. So the robins, the blue birds, and most of the other birds flew away.

"One bird did like raspberry seeds and even thru the coldest winter you can still hear him sing, 'I like seeds.' The bird still sings these words in the Indian tongue, but the paleface does not understand it, and says the friendly little bird sings 'chick-a-dee'."

A four-page newspaper is published in New York with a vocabulary of only 900 words. It is published by the Language Research Committee affiliated with the New York University and is used to aid foreign-born adults in learning English and adjusting themselves to the American environment. The average American-born adult has a vocabulary of 25,000 words, yet the 900 word newspaper is very readable, quite complete.

On 39th Street, just off Broadway: a man sitting on the top of a motor truck. His legs reach all the way to the ground. He's the sandwich man who walks on stilts and occasionally holds conversations with workers in second story windows.

In response to my telephoned inquiry for an out-of-town guest came this prompt answer from Radio City's Music Hall, "For equipment for the hard of hearing, speak to one of the ushers, deposit $2. The usher will show you to a seat in the Reception Room of the orchestra, be wired for the purpose, and connect the instrument. Return the instrument on leaving the theater and your deposit will be returned in full."

Ohio has swallowed a whale! Or at least that's the story of a sick whale's owner here who shipped his 55 ton whale on a 65 foot truck recently, bound for New York. He says that not only is a whale worth $25,000, but that he loves it and its loss affected him deeply. He has appealed to Lincoln Highway police to help him locate the whale, the truck and the driver. The whale, stuffed, was to be put on exhibition here in New York.

There's a new racket in town. The so-called cut price clothing shops of the lower east side have posted "snipers" on Fifth Avenue. When a shopper stops to look in a Fifth Avenue window, the sniper—usually a plainly dressed woman—stops to look too. "My, but prices are high," says she to the shopper. "Why prices are much lower on Division Street. Why there are coats just like that one at such and such a store at half the price." It's a refinement of the old trick: a man sitting on the top of a stepladder, dressing-down his prospective "hot" prospect, obviously interested in the merchandise on display.

The Chairman of the Board of an immense corporation has a separate office in the tower of a building in the Grand Central zone. No desks there. Just divans, club chairs, fireplaces and kitchen. Executives from Wall Street and other districts drop in for a drink after the market" has closed. Advance plans and the low-down on the financial district are swapped over the glasses.
