For these complaints take Simmons Liver Regulator. It keeps the stomach clear and prevents any of the above poisons from getting in the system, or, if there already it will drive them out, no matter how strongly rooted or long-standing, and you will again have good health and be happy.

Have you a pain in the side, back or under the shoulder-blade? It is not rheumatism but dyspepsia. Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

Does your heart throb violently after unusual exertion or excitement? It is not heart disease, but indigestion.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator.

"As a matter of conceited duty to humanity I wish to bear my testimony to the unfailing virtues of Simmons Liver Regulator. If people could only know what a splendid medicine it is, there would be many a physician without a patient and many an interminable doctor's bill saved. I consider it infallible in malarial infection. I had, for many years, been a perfect physical wreck from a combination of complaints, all the outgrowth of malaria in my system, and, even under the skillful hands of Dr. J. P. Jones, of this city, I had despaired of ever being a well woman again. Simmons Liver Regulator was recommended to me. I tried it; it helped me, and it is the only thing that ever did me any good. I persevered in its use and I am now in perfect health. I know your medicine cured me and I always keep it a reliable 'stand by' in my family."—Mrs. Kay Camden, Ala.

More Dresses for Less Money.

Dressmaking at home is one of the "social nuisances," but a stylish wardrobe at half the cost is one of its compensations. Besides, you have an opportunity of working out your own ideas, which the modiste either can't or won't do. The great fatigue has deterred many ladies from making their own dresses, but with Hall's Bazar Form this objection is entirely removed. It is adjustable, and can be made to fit NEARLY EVERY size. When covered with a waist and arranged to fit your own proportions, the Form becomes an exact model of yourself.

Price of Complete Form, $6.50; Price of Skirt Form, $3.50; Price of Arm Skirt Form, Wood Standard, $3.00. Sent to any address on receipt of price.

All the fashion publishers—Butterick, McCall, Taylor, Demarest, Harper's Bazar, and others—unite in saying that Hall's Bazar Form is the only perfect dress-form made. When not in use can be folded and put away like an umbrella.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

A Week's Record of Events at the National Capital.

[From the News' Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, June 29, 1891.

Mr. Harrison has been quite busy since his return to the White House Tuesday, and Friday he presided over a lengthy cabinet meeting, at which financial matters were the principal subject of consideration. Very little has so far leaked out, but it is probable that the course of the administration during the fiscal year beginning July 1, was mapped out, and a sort of general agreement made as to ways and means of making both ends meet and making as creditable a financial showing as possible in the Presidential year. Neither Mr. Harrison nor his advisers are idiots, therefore the democrats who think their party can get an issue out of the condition of the U. S. Treasury next year are doomed to disappointment. Mr. Harrison is a far shrewder politician than many of his opponents, both in and out of his party, give him credit for being; some of them have already found this out, and more will do so before November of next year; and there are few if any abler political managers than Secretary Foster, to say nothing of Secretaries Blaine and Tracy. These men know that a bankrupt treasury would make Republican defeat a certainty next year, and they will see that there is no bankrupt treasury. See if they don't.

* * *

The newspaper men here are all agog to find out what Col. Robt G. Ingersoll and Bonanza J. W. Macay paid a mysterious visit to the White House for; but as yet no one has succeeded.

* * *

It is more or less amusing, to those who have no personal interest in the outcome, to see how closely the candidates for speaker of the House watch each other, particularly when in Washington. Mr. Springer first came here, a few weeks ago, and proceeded to get a little advertising for his boom by means of interviews with Washington correspondents; then Mr. Mills came on, ostensibly to engage in literary work, and got some advertising by refusing to be interviewed and by pronouncing all recently published interviews with him to have been fraudulent; next Mr. Bynum dropped in, "just to look after a little department business for my constituents" as he puts it. Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, who, while not an avowed candidate, is regarded as one of the numerous "dark horses," is also favoring Washington with a visit, and it is stated that it is here he will write the tariff reform editorials for which the St. Louis Republic has agreed to pay him $4,000 a year. Mr. Wilson has gotten considerable advertising by means of his statements that the rank and file of his party in the Northwestern states, through which he has recently travelled, are for Cleveland. The last speakership candidate to arrive is Mr. McMillin, who is now credited with being backed by Mr. Cleveland. He says he is here simply for recreation. To believe what these gentlemen say, not one is here for the purpose of obtaining votes for themselves. Of course they ought to know better than other people why they are here, but it nevertheless seems a little queer that they should have all happened to come here at this season.

* * *

Representative Oates, of Alabama, has the Farmers' Alliance nightmare very bad. It stays by him sleeping or waking. He wants his party to fight the Alliance in the South, as he has been doing in his district. Alliance men conversant with affairs in his district say that Mr. Oates will never again be elected to Congress, and that he knows it, and that is why he is so rabidly opposed to the Alliance. His ideas have not been openly endorsed by any Democrat of prominence. Southern Democrats, as a rule, would much prefer joining hands with the Alliance to fighting it.

* * *

The self-launched Presidential boom of Senator Cullom is not seriously regarded here. His record in the Senate, while clean and on the whole creditable, has never even approached brilliance. One gentleman said in speaking of him: "If Cullom resembled Abraham Lincoln as much inside his head as he does in his face, he might stand a chance of being nominated for President."

* * *

The local Federation of Labor is not satisfied with the answer made by the commandant of the Washington Navy Yard to its charge that he had employed two Swedes as machinists in violation of the alien contract labor law, and it has requested Secretary Foster to order an investigation.

* * *

At the Farmers' Alliance head quarters in this city they will give no official information as to what the Alliance is doing or proposes to do in the Ohio campaign; but it seems to be the general opinion that it will make a fight against the re-election of Senator Sherman, whether it takes any part in the gubernational campaign or not. There are hints that it may put up a full state ticket.

Your Mother.

[Written for the News and addressed to an Andover boy.]

When a few more days are ended
Her work will all be done:
The hands will lie close-folded.
The smiling lips be dumb.
No more on loving errands
The willing feet will speed.
And to your frowns or smiling
She will pay, for once, no heed.

Now stop a moment, listen—
And tell me honest true,
The tears she shed this morning.
Were they shed, my boy, for you?
Was it yours, the frowning forehead,
The snapping, churlish word.
Was that the morning greeting
The loving mother heard?

If so, my boy, remember,
The days cannot be long
Before the dear old mother
Forever will be gone.
And sometime in your life, my boy,
Will come days dark and drear,
When with the deepest anguish
You will wish that she were near.

That for one little moment
You in her arms could rest,
Ah, then, you will know, truly
That mother's love is best.
You may be grown to manhood
Even bowed with many years,
But somewhere in life's pathway
Will be place for grief and tears.

Then you will think of mother,
Her tender love and care,
And the harsh words you have spoken
Will seem more than you can bear.
Then, oh, my boy, remember,
Her work is almost done:
Ere long she will be summoned
Before the great white throne.
Let her take with her the knowledge
That you are good and true;
That her life was not a failure:
That she did all she could do.

—Lu.
