HALLOWE'EN

For centuries Hallowe'en has been a time set aside for people to enjoy themselves. When our parents were young they had much the same attitude toward this season that we have now. It seems unfortunate that Hallowe'en pranks (?) have developed to such an extent that property is destroyed and people mistreated.

In a great many localities the governing bodies have been forced to pass laws for the punishment of those who carry the fun of Hallowe'en beyond the limit. For many this is not a time for enjoyment but a time and opportunity for venting a malicious spirit.

The people of our community understand fun, but when it comes to the wanton destruction of property they cease to see the joke. Let us do nothing that we would not feel sorry to have done to our own home.

PRINCIPAL ADDRESSES HOME ROOMS

Be courteous to your teachers and to each other, be regular in your attendance, use the proper entrances to the building, were three of the important points stressed by Principal Glenn E. Bretch in talks given before each home room group Tuesday afternoon at 3:30.

Mr. Bretch again complimented students groups as a whole and urged the co-operation of each individual in improving the details mentioned.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Bretch addressed also the grade pupils in each room and stressed the importance of using the proper entrances and of not arriving at the building in the morning or noon before the doors are opened.

He requested each pupil to inform his or her parents that the doors do not open before 8:40 and 12:55 and that the children are not to come to the building before that time. Failure to observe this request will necessitate the closing and locking of all outside doors until the first bell rings.

Pupils coming from the country early are admitted to the basement and lunch rooms.

SENIORS PLAN DANCE

The Seniors are planning another dance for November 10th at the High School Auditorium.

"Jimmy" Gray and his orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing will be from 8 to 12.

The advertising committee consists of Rita Burns, Eleanor Greene and Jennie Dodge, and the decorating committee of Marian Nobles, Doris Howland, Jack Regan and James Lynch.

Everyone's working hard to make this dance a big success. Chaperones will be announced later.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE AWARDS MADE

All pupils in grades one to six who had been neither absent nor tardy for any reason during the month of October were rewarded last Friday afternoon by not being required to attend the afternoon session.

This reward plan was tried only as an experiment and may not be followed in subsequent months. It is hoped to find some desirable reward for excellence of attendance that will stimulate good attendance and yet not seriously interfere with the pupils' school program.

ACROSS THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

The death of any boy or girl brings sorrow into the school and community as well as the home of the bereaved and this is certainly true in the case of Clinton Clair. Unfortunately, the circumstances attending the death of this lad were of such perculiar nature that rumors have run rampant and people have been unjustly criticised and blamed.

A thoro investigation of the circumstances reveals that these rumors and early newspaper reports were not based on facts. May I quote Dr. Leahy's official signed report to the school:

"Cause of death: Tetanus infection from a punctured wound of buttock infected by a splinter of wood ten or twelve days previous."

Dr. Leahy further indicates that there was little connection, if any, between the fall sustained on the school grounds and the boy's death.

The fall was caused by another boy backing into the boy, both pupils falling to the ground in the encounter. After recovering from the immediate effects of the fall, the boy appeared perfectly normal and did his school work for the afternoon, remaining voluntarily to wash blackboards, a task lasting about ten or fifteen minutes. He was not required to do this. The teacher, Miss Beman, cannot be justly accused of fault or poor judgment in this connection.

I wish, also, to clear Elbert Cable, whose name has been linked with this incident. He was in no way connected with it.

ANDOVER vs. ALLEGANY

The Andover High School football team journeyed to Allegany Thursday, Nov. 1, to play the heavy Allegany team.

Altho Andover lost to Wellsville last week, they played the best game they have played this year. Allegany and Andover each won one of the two games they played last year and both teams will be fighting hard to win this game. Not much is known of the Allegany team except that they have a heavy team and outweigh Andover considerably.

With Andover showing the improvement have in the past few games, they should win.

The starting line-up:

Andover	Allegany
L. End, J. McAndrew	left tackle, F. Brewster
L. Tackle, F. Brewster	left guard, R. Briggs
L. Guard, R. Briggs	center, J. Cannon
Center, J. Cannon	right guard, M. Briggs
R. Guard, M. Briggs	right tackle, C. Burdick
R. Tackle, C. Burdick	right end, E. Kemp
R. End, E. Kemp	quarterback, D. Clarke
Q. Back, D. Clarke	right halfback, R. McGill
L. Halfback, R. McGill	left halfback, E. Alderson
R. Halfback, E. Alderson	fullback, D. Brundage

MR. SHINN VISITS SCHOOL

Howard Shinn of Wellsville, a representative of the Y. M. C. A., met the boys and girls of Andover High School Monday after school for the purpose of organizing a boys and girls Hi-Y Clubs.

These clubs seek to create, maintain and extend thruout the school and community, a high standard of living. The club meets at the homes of the club members with their leader, who plans a program with the help of an advisory leader of the Y. M. C. A. They discuss topics of interest in the world at present and how the topics affect them.

Membership in this club is restricted and new members can only be admitted by the vote of the whole club. There is only one thing that one can work for in this club, and that is the Hi-Y key. To obtain this one must excell in school and in athletics.

The Y. M. C. A. will bring in speakers who will discuss colleges for those who intend to go on to school after graduating.

As a whole, the Hi-Y club deals with social life, educational life, religious life and life in general.

About 50 students turned out to this meeting.

POSTER AWARDS MADE

Delores Farwell was awarded the first prize of one dollar, offered by the local Eastern Star for the best poster advertising the Eastern Star Fair.

Upon receipt of the posters submitted, the committee, under the direction of Mrs. Mulconery, agreed to give four additional prizes, due to the excellence of the work. A second prize of 50 cents was given to Clyde Briggs and three prizes of 25 cents each were awarded to Mary Theresa Burns, Leo Nobles, and Donald Oakes.

Other pupils submitting posters were Richard Pero, Quentin West, Pearl Goodridge, Billy Dugan, Vergiline Nobles, Bernadine Briggs, Betty Greene, Richard Clair, Mary Lynch, Emily Green, Eleanor Northrup, Dorothy Schoonover, Ruth Clair, Inez Kemp, Vera Milligan.

WELLSVILLE OVERCOMES ANDOVER 20 TO 0

Wellsville High School, undefeated, had a close call when they met and defeated the smaller Andover team by a score of 20-0 on the Andover field Saturday, October 27th.

Wellsville kicked off to Andover and McGill received but was downed in his tracks. On the first play Andover completed a pass for seven yards, then Wellsville blocked a punt and recovered. Wellsville could not gain thru Andover's fighting line and Andover took the ball on its own 20-yard line. Failing to make this yardage Andover punted to midfield.

The first down was made by Wellsville carrying the ball back to the midfield strip. After two plays were smothered, Walt Gardner took the ball, started around right end, cut back thru tackle and hoofed his way across Andover's goal line for the first touchdown. DeBarbiere placekicked the extra point. For the rest of the quarter, play was in midfield. In the middle of the second quarter, Andover got going and advanced the ball to midfield before the half ended.

Andover kicked off to start the second half, but McCarty, who received for Wellsville was downed before he took a step. Wellsville now completed their only pass and McCarty was tackled on Andover's nine yard line. Trying to buck the line they were repulsed and took to the air, but again their passes were knocked down and Andover took possession of the ball on their own eleven yard line. Andover punted and in the rest of the quarter play was in midfield.

In the last quarter Wellsville received the ball on Andover's 28-yard line as a result of a punt, which due to the wet condition of the ball, slipped from Brundage's foot. Three plays later Magner took the ball from the eleven yard line on a reverse. A punt for point failed.

The third touchdown was made when after the Wellsville kick-off the ball went on Andover's goal line and Wagner fell on it. DeBarbieri made the conversion for the run around end.

The game ended with Andover in possession of the Wellsville 20 yard line.

Line-up:

Andover	Wellsville
J. McAndrew, le	Magner, le

Second Graders Write Poems

Two poems and a story were written by second graders about the Indians. They follow:

Indian Poems

The Indian had a canoe,
It was colored a bright blue.

By the whole grade

Indians

There was an Indian sitting by his tent,
He was very old and a little bent;
He watched the sun all day and the moon at night,
He wore feathers in his hat and a blanket tight.
A papoose baby was in its bed on its mother's back,
While she did all the work and let Indian Joe sit back.

—Barbara Childs.

Indian Story

I am a little Indian girl. I am seven years old. I play with my doll. I have a little sister. I have a little brother. I live in a wigwam.

—Wilma Goodridge

The first grade is having a Hallowe'en party Wednesday afternoon, October 31.

The third graders have been making a freize of farm pictures along with their geography study.

The fourth graders are making rubber trees and booklets to correspond with their study of the Amazon valley.

The seventh grade is doing construction work on the study of the Colonies.

SUPPOSIN' THAT YOU—

Boys held the doors for the girls. Girls thank them for their kindness.

Say please when asking a request.

Boys let the girls and teachers pass from the room first.

Don't let the doors slam in people's faces.

Beg pardon after running into someone.

Walk as quietly as possible when walking around the class room.

THE SPOTLIGHT ! !

Here's your ole pal back again with lots of news. I've sure had my eyes open this week.

It seems that old A. H. S. still holds her popularity, for three of the '34 class have recently come back to check up on our behavior.

Altho we had a fast game with Wellsville, she got the best of us. Yet it could have been worse—and your old Spotlight was yelling like fun for our team. I got a big kick out of the number of the substitutions the Milesmen had. If I were them, I shouldn't feel very proud of such a victory. However, there was a large crowd out and here's hoping that as large a one will go to Allegany, Thursday and yell for the boys.

June Babcock, who is continually finding mistakes in Nyberg's geometry, is writing a new edition of her own. Joe McAndrew and John Cannon have contributed some "bright ideas" to this book.

Well the Freshmen had a party Monday evening. In connection with this party, Jimmie Lynch was heard to exclaim: "Was my face red when I was asked to attend the Freshmen party?" Jimmie explains this redness to the fact that a Freshman should ask a dignified Senior to a party!

My! My! Lots of fun! Plenty of eats. Georgie Joyce got the prize for being "dressed up" the funniest. He was dressed as a girl.

There were some eighth graders at the Freshmen Party. Doris Honegger invited Clyde Briggs. Donald Hardy invited Marion Burgett and Charles Burgett invited Edna Honegger. What do you think of that?

You know, I have an idea that "Jackie" Regan is trying to make a hit with Crandall. You've got to be a football hero, Jack. That's why Joyce was successful.

Harold Allen, when asked who he thought was the best looking girl said "Marion Swartz." You surely haven't been making eyes at him, have you Marion?

Hi-Y Clubs are being organized for both girls and boys this week. I hope these organizations will be successful in our school.

I wonder what the faculty will do in Rochester at the Convention convene?

I'll be with you again next week and if you do not want your name to appear in this column, be careful what you do for I know all and hear all!

Your pal,

FRESHMEN CELEBRATE HALLOWE'EN

The members of the Freshmen Class and their guests celebrated Hallowe'en at a party in the gym Monday evening, October 29. Many of the guests arrived in costume.

The evening was spent in playing various games. After the refreshments sandwiches, doughnuts, cake and cider were served and the party came to an end. Mr. Bretch, Mr. McGee and Mr. Host, the class advisor, were present.

PEP MEETING HELD FRIDAY

Friday afternoon, October 26th, before the second home game of this season, a pep meeting was held in the gymnasium at 3:15. Short pep talks were given by Miss Clifford, Mr. Host and Coach McGee. All pupils were urged to attend the football game with Wellsville Saturday and to cheer as loud for Andover as possible. Several cheers were given and the meeting closed with the singing of the Andover school song.

FACULTY FACTS

Miss Mary Jo Russ went to Chicago to attend the fair. Altho she had but a very short time there she reports that she saw a great deal of interest to her.

Miss Margaret Kelley visited her brother at St. Bonaventure, Saturday.

Miss McLaughlin, Miss Beman and Miss Trenkle visited at their homes during the week-end.

DO YOU KNOW THAT?

By Francis R. Mead

1—Whales frequently live to be more than 100 years old.

2—Most plants require for their normal growth a quantity of water three to six hundred times the weight of the plants after they are dry.

3 — Between 5,000 and 6,000 school children in Washington are being furnished free hot lunches by the Government.

4—Chicago is sending traffic violators to night traffic school instead of to jail as in the autumn.

5—In Omaha, Neb., a son is suing his father for a college education.

6—The snakes you see in the movies have been brightened up with shiny paint.

7—The average American eats his weight in meat each year.

8—British soldiers once held a mock Congress in the House of Representives chamber in the capitol at Washington.

9—Cows are still led over the 100 year-old cow path in the heart of Chicago's loop.

10—It costs New York City about $750,000 to remove one day's snow.

TEACHERS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

The members of the school faculty will attend the annual state conference of teachers of the Central Western Zone in Rochester, November 2 and 3. The conference program includes a general meeting with David Cushman Coyle, noted author and lecturer, and Dr. Hughes Mearns, Professor of Education at New York University as the principal speakers. The rest of the meeting time is given over to sectional meetings.

FIRE DRILL HELD THURSDAY

A fire drill was held Thursday of last week, during the middle of the afternoon. Principal Bretch made a favorable comment on the speed and quietness which characterized the exit from the building.

State law requires a certain number of fire drills a year. At intervals these drills will be held, so that at all times pupils must be prepared to make their exit at the given signal.

HUMOR

Mrs. Joyce: "When do the leaves turn, Joe?"

Leo Fulkerson (thinking hard): "The night before exams."

"Say, John, did you know Joe McAndrew is hurt quite badly?" asked Phil Lynch.

"No, how-zat?" replied John Cannon.

Phil L.: "He heard someone say that you could get your pants pressed by a steam roller."

J. Cannon: "Then what?"

P. Lynch: "He went to get his pressed, but forgot to take 'em off."

Country Correspondence

South Hill

(Mrs. Margaret Dean, Reporter)

Nov. 1.—Hallowe'en, but no South Hill disburbance is noted.

The storm that prevailed since Saturday was not a taste of the coming winter, but a large mouthful. The elements surely enjoyed the surprise visit they gave us.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Dean were Hornell shoppers one day last week.

South Hill has been represented by Messrs. Ed. and Guss Lynch, Con Casey and Louis Dean for some days at the Century of Progress fair. Lynch Bros. came back Monday and the others are now expected.

Cleveland parties trucked potatoes Saturday from Dean Bros. and Leo Horan to that city. Others from the same city, loaded more on Monday and Tuesday, despite the bad weather.

Peter Lynch of Hornell has had charge of affairs on the Lynch farm for the brothers and Jim Dean of Andover is in the same capacity at Louis Dean's.

South Hill members of the Blessed Sacrament church, Andover, have been attending the annual Forty Hours Devotion services at that church since Sunday.

Early chore boys of the hill heard the guns of the still earlier hunters Monday morning.

Clarence Cronk and a friend of Knapps Creek were in quest of South Hill game, Monday.

Ed. McAndrew has taken rooms at the farm house since the storm.

Voorhees Hill

(Mrs. Raymond Church, Reporter)

Oct. 31.—The Misses Koneta Perkins and Thelma Lewis attended a teachers' conference at Railroad Valley, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. R. B. Church and daughter, Muriel, were shopping in Hornell, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNetton of Valois, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. John Strong of Alpine, N. Y., visited Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Simkin, Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Adams visited friends at Buffalo and Hilton from Friday until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Simkin are entertaining the rest of this week Pastor and Mrs. L. G. Mookerjee of Calcutta, India, who are in America on furlough. Mrs. Mookerjee and Mrs. Simkin were girlhood friends in Kettering, England. Pastor Mookerjee was a High Caste Brahmin or priest caste, but is now a Christian, being a great grandson of the first Brahmin convert of the missionary, William Carey, who went to India from England in 1793. Pastor Mookerjee will speak at the Seventh Day Adventist chapel in Orchard Place, Wellsville, Saturday, November 3rd at 11:45 a. m. The public is cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy VanSchaick and baby son were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hawks of Independence, Tuesday.

Slate Creek

(Mrs. Raymond Stewart, Reporter)

Oct. 30.—Old man winter is sure doing his stuff. We saw honest-to-goodness snowbanks on Greenwood and Call Hill.

Ed. Dixon was in Buffalo, Tuesday.

Mrs. Thomas Mullen and Mrs. Arthur Stewart visited at our school Friday.

Little Eloise Mullen is ill at her home. She is being attended by Dr. Crossman of Canisteo. She was reported much better yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Orvis of Andover visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stephens of Call Hill, Wednesday.

William Mullen's condition remains about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart and little son attended the funeral of George Conley in Andover last Thursday.

The pupils of our school are planning a Hallowe'en entertainment next Thursday evening, followed by a box social.

Charlotte Stewart spent Saturday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mullen.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stewart visited his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stewart of Purdy Creek, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stewart of Hornell called on Mr. and Mrs. William Mullen, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart and two children visited his father, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stewart of Purdy Creek, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Converse of Canisteo called on Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale, Sunday.

Lou Flohr and daughter, Clarabelle and Mrs. Sarah Clarkson of Canisteo called on Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mullen Monday.

Little Joyce Ann Cummings is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale for several days.

Davis Hill

(Mrs. Floyd Slocum, Reporter)

Mr. and Mrs. Leeman Davis and son of Andover visited Mr. and Mrs. Lou Davis, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ordiway and family and Frank Halsey were Wellsville visitors, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Slocum visited their son, Clyde Slocum and family at Trumansburg from Sunday until Wednesday.

Miss Genevieve Clark, teacher in our school, had a fortunate escape from serious injury Monday, when a gas explosion occurred. Miss Clark had her eyes burned, but not seriously.

The roads on the hill have been blocked with snow the past week, so that several cars had to be pulled out of the drifts. How's that for October?

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Slocum called on T. J. Gilbert at the I. O. O. F. home in Ithaca, Tuesday. They found him in usual health, and convey his regards to Andover friends. They also met Miss Mae Dean, R.N., formerly of Andover on the street of the city and had a pleasant visit with her.

Whitesville

(Mrs. Ella Millspaugh, Reporter)

Oct. 30.—Hallowe'en time.

Walter Ainsworth was a business visitor in Corey, Pa., Friday and Saturday of last week.

The remains of Mrs. James Burnette, a former resident of Whitesville, were brought here Sunday and buried in the family lot beside her husband. She had been living with her daughter somewhere in Potter county, Pa.

A rainstorm arrived in Whitesville Saturday afternoon which changed into snow and a regular blizzard developed Sunday and kept it up Monday and Tuesday. We hope winter has not set in in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Deck have had as guests the past several days Dr. and Mrs. John Carman, missionaries, who have spent several years in India. They spoke in the M. E. church Sunday evening to a good-sized audience, considering the weather and gave a very interesting description of their work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Lewis have bought the former Arthur Wilson property on Genesee street and will move there soon.

D. C. Chapin has bought the late G. H. McGee house and lot damaged by fire last winter and is repairing the house which will be made into a bungalow.

Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Crossley, Mrs. C. L. Crittenden, Mrs. Floyd Hurlbert and Mrs. Ella Millspaugh attended the Hornell District, W. F. M. S. meeting, held in the First M. E. church, Corning, last Friday, where Mrs. Millspaugh gave her report of the Branch meeting held in Utica, Oct. 2-4, which she attended as delegate from the Hornell district.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anderson of Easton, Pa., came Saturday night to visit her parents, Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Crossley at the M. E. parsonage. They are remaining for the week.

A sub-district meeting of the Dairymen's League was held at the M. E. church on Monday evening with dinner at 6:30 p. m. There were over 200 present, regardless of the stormy weather and a good program was given. The Whitesville Cheese Brothers quartette sang several numbers and were warmly cheered.

The October meeting of the W. F. M. S. auxiliary is being held today (Tuesday) with Mrs. Lynn Richmond.

The M. E. Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Wm. Slack Thursday afternoon to quilt and business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon French of Brookfield, Pa., were guests Sunday of her sister, Mrs. C. L. Crittenden and family.

The grapefruit, supposedly got its name because the fruit grows in grapelike clusters.

Elm Valley

(Mrs. Charley Cole, Reporter)

The Elm Valley Community Club will meet with Mrs. Alice Downer 105 Scott avenue, Wellsville, Wednesday of next week, Nov. 7th. Come prepared to tie a quilt. A tureen dinner will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sutor of Elm Valley are the parents of a six pound baby girl, born in the maternity hospital at Wellsville Saturday forenoon, Oct. 27th.

Mrs. Eugene Hand returned to her home Sunday from St. James Mercy hospital, Hornell, where she had been a patient several weeks. She is recovering nicely. Her sister, Mrs. Patty Wood and daughter, Miss Margaret of Andover are caring for her.

GENEVA STATION LISTS NEW FALL PUBLICATIONS

Many Bulletins and Circulars on Wide Variety of Subjevts Now Available—List Will be Supplied.

As outside work lets up a bit with the coming of the fall and winter months, there is a marked increase in the call for publications of the State Experiment Station at Geneva declares station officials. To aid those who would keep posted on new station bulletins, they have prepared a list of all available bulletins and circulars. A copy of this list will be supplied upon request and the several publications on the list may be obtained as long as the supply lasts.

Reflecting the major lines of work under way at the Experiment Station, the publications may be grouped in three general classes, namely, dairying, fruit growing and vegetable growing. Several new contributions to each of these groups have been made within the past few months and those whose special interests lie in one of these fields will doubtless find these new publications helpful.

For the dairy farmer, there is a new circular on mastitis with particular reference to methods for detecting the disease. Also, Bulletin No. 645 gives an account of the breeding history of the Station's herd of Jerseys with very practical suggestions on applying the lessons learned from this herd to the farm herd.

The vegetable grower will find a long list of bulletins and circulars dealing with various phases of his industry, with three new circulars which have just come from the printer on the growing of cucumbers, muskmelons, and cauliflower and broccoli. Then, too, the 53rd annual report of the Director, covering the entire work of the Station for the fiscal year that ended on June 30 will soon be available. The Station is also announcing the publication of a quarterly paper entitled "Farm Research," which it is sending to all farmers on the mailing list. Those who wish may have their names added to the list to receive this quarterly paper which will keep them informed on the work of the Station.

Chemicals to be Used Against Forest Fires

Chemical compounds may be used in the future for extinguishing forest fires. The opportunity for the employment of chemicals in this field may become much broader than has ever been possible in combatting other types of fires, says the New York State College of Forestry, Syracuse, N. Y.

While no definite determinations have been arrived at in the application of chemical compounds to forest fires, enough is known by those who have been experimenting with this problem to indicate that a method of extinguishing forest fires by the use of dust-chemical combinations from the air eventually may be developed.

We know that efficient dust mixtures have been developed which can be applied from an airplane and that these dust combinations can be produced in commercial quantities at fairly reasonable prices. Moreover, these materials can be stored at convenient points available for use on short notice.

It is believed that thru these chemical compounds, it will be possible to put an end to major forest conflagrations, particularly if the compounds are applied from the air. In fact, it may be that a new era is at hand in which the burning of millions upon millions of acres of forest land each year will become a thing of the past. This would be one of the most important advances in forestry as fire generally is considered to be the greatest menace to our forest resources.
