OPEN ALL BALLOT BOXES

Court orders Investigation into Denver Election.

TO BE MADE THOROUGH.

Alva Adams, Democratic Candidate for Governor, who appeared to have been Elected, Refused the Office on Account of Alleged Frauds.

Denver.—Stretching its hand so as to cast a shadow over every man and woman implicated in election frauds of the city and county of Denver on or before or after November 8, the Supreme Court ordered an investigation so sweeping in its scope that everyphase of the election may be scrutinized and everything that bears in any way upon it may be made known by judicial inquiry.

Alva Adams, Democratic candidate for Governor, who appeared from the returns to have been elected, but who has declared that he does not want the office tainted with fraud, asked the court to open every Denver ballot box, but the order of the court goes beyond the mere examination of the ballots, and provides for an investigation of the registration lists, the campaign expenditures, and, in brief, all election matters.

As there are 204 ballot boxes, it is evident that several months will be consumed in the examination of their contents by two handwriting experts to be appointed for this work.

It is expected that the Supreme Court will be asked to make an order placing special watchers at the court house to guard the registration books until such time as the investigation is made.

It was announced that the Republican plan to unseat Democratic senators had been modified, and that possibly only Senators Born and Healy, who were seated by the Democratic majority on contests two years ago, would be turned out.

It also was reported that on the advice of influential Republicans a proposition to memorialize the United States Senate to unseat Senator Teller, on account of frauds in his election, would be abandoned.

HINTS THAT ARE HINTS.

We want to join this procession of health hinters with a few remarks born of long experience.

When you feel real mean and dopey pare your finger nails. The trimming of the tree ought always to be the whole system. The matrix of the nail is one of the most sensitive parts of the human body. Stick a splinter in it and see. When the nail is allowed to grow too long it loses its intelligence, balks the nerves and disturbs the equilibrium.

When your head bothers you part the hair on the other side. It will enable you to strike a balance.

When your jugular vein thumps annoyingly you want to go to sleep for a long time. It means your vitality is exhausted.

When hot in the back of the neck soak your feet in water and washing soda at 110 degrees.

When your tongue is like a stick take an emetic. There's an enemy in your stomach.

When your eyes are lachrymose and their whites are yellow take calomel.

When teeth and gums hurt you chew a rattle.

When your circulation is bad scrape the soles of your feet.

TAXPAYING PLEASURES.

The reason that taxpaying is an agreeable duty, a pronounced pleasure, is that it is, at best, but a meager compensation for innumerable general and special advantages. The man who finds taxpaying uncongenial has hardly the state of mind or soul to appreciate his possessions, even when they are greater than his neighbor's. There should be a law that, if a person grumble about taxes, his property should be confiscated to the citizen who would be most gratified to give a percentage of his profits to the government. This law would be the better if it would contain a provision that a taxpayer should not depart for a foreign home after issuing his taxpayment check, without incurring a penalty, say, of disfranchisement.

A CURIOUS RACE.

Gen. Gordon, a British officer who has written a book on the Sikhs, the celebrated fighters of India, says that the signs by which you may know a Sikh are these: He never cuts his hair, but wears his beard looped up over his ears; he never smokes nor touches tobacco, because that is the privilege of the Mohammedan, but he is allowed to drink spirits and is a great consumer of opium. Finally, he must have about his person the five K's, which Gen. Gordon thus enumerates: Kes (long hair of the head), as the Sikh must never cut his hair or beard; kangi (comb), to secure the hair tied up in a knot on top of the head; kaceh (breeches reaching to the knee); kard (knife), and Kirpan (sword).

ABOUT STAGE EFFECTS.

Not a few playgoers, it is safe to say, will be glad to learn that one of the foremost American actors and producers has decided to abandon the practice of making lavish scenic displays a chief feature of attraction. Henry Miller, who produces Pinero's "Mid-Channel," is said to have reached the conclusion that scenic ostentation must be restrained if it is not to lead to the entire subversion of the actor's art. Hence it will be his effort to avoid a dazzling parade of theatrical properties and select his stage fittings with an eye to their true artistic value.

A similar policy on the part of many other American managers might be appreciated by no inconsiderable proportion of the playgoing public.

BENEFITS OF OUTDOOR SPORTS.

Not so very long ago we were a nation of dyspeptics, humorously called so by our eaters, bolters of food, lovers of indoor life in superheated rooms in winter—our men as a rule void of adequate muscle and healthy digestion, our women physically frail specimens of hothouse beauty at twenty, who speedily collapsed when one of the bedrooms became a nursery.

A great change has been worked in the last decade or so. Nowadays almost "everybody and his neighbor" go in for outdoor sports, and the result in the bettered health of the people, women as well as men, is apparent on every side and rejoiced in by all except the family doctor and the drug compounder at the corner.

CURING COLDS.

If a cold is not caught "Bagram's desire" and thrusted at once within forty-eight hours of its inception it must run its course. The osteopaths are curing mindelless cases by the simple manipulation of the throat and neck, adhering "nothing else." Most men are taking whisky and quinine. Dio Lewis believed in the cold water cure. "Eat no supper," he said. "At bedtime drink two pints of cold water. In the morning two pints more. Eat a bank of dry bread for breakfast. Bitts for dinner. In lieu a peripatetic in the afternoon and fill up on water. Eat no supper and fill up on water. At bedtime drink as much cold water as you can hold." There are a 203 other remedies.

JAPAN'S NAVAL INSTRUCTION.

Japan has for the instruction and training of her naval officers, two large schools, one of which is situated in Tokio, and the other at Yetajima. The Tokio school, however, is not, strictly speaking, a naval academy, inasmuch as it is devoted exclusively to tactics, strategy, and the higher branches of naval education, and is a place of instruction for officers, who, after graduating from Yetajima, have had several years of sea duty. It corresponds therefore, in a general way, with our war college at Newport, while the Yetajima institution gives substantially the same kind of training that our naval cadets get at Annapolis.—The Outlook.

"Like a Snake in the Grass."

In the part of the world in which we live the much-misunderstood snake is rarely a dangerous reptile. There are, of course, the dangerous rattlesnakes of some parts of our country. But do they slide like a snake in the grass? No, indeed! They give you the warning rattle of their presence.

The snakes that any of our young readers are likely to meet in their country rambles are the common blind, spake, the little green garden snake—none of which do the slightest harm. These are the only easy snakes in the states of the United States. They are not deceitful, wicked creatures, ready to "bite your mamma," or lying habit in the grass to wait your footsteps.

The snake in the grass is one of the harmless sort, that is to say, to human beings. Instead of looking on these snakes as our foes you should know that they help us by destroying many of the would be destroyers of the crops. A snake in the grass is a friend to man. Its parts are to be spared accordingly. — Our Animal Friends.

WHAT MAKES A TRAMP.

The great cause to which we can attribute the existence of the hobo lies in an early lack of proper home training. It is a sad fact, but, never the less, a most painfully true one, that multitudes of parents imagine when they have fed and clothed a child properly that there their duty to him, themselves and society is completed. Of course, they send him to school to be educated; but he is left free to select his own standard of what is worthy and right. He is never taught that success is solely dependent upon faithful, consistent effort properly applied and concentrated. He isn't urged to early discover his own talents and capabilities; nor to choose that branch of the world's work for which he is adapted.—Pilgrim.

who became the hero of the hair in Japan by his successful storming of the Keekwan works.

Action Against Paper Trust.

Washington.—Attorney-Gen. Moody's action against the so-called Paper Trust of the Northwest has attracted more attention and is considered more important in administration circles than any other case of this character since the Northern Securities suit.

"If the Government wins its point in this case," said a member of the Cabinet, "it will be the longest step in the matter of government supervision of interstate commerce that has yet been taken."

The case against the Beef Trust attracted great attention among interstate carriers and others doing interstate business. It is admitted in administration circles that the products of the Beef Trust entered more clearly into interstate commerce than those of the General Paper Company.

Senor Avellaneda, son of a former President of Argentina, a special cable despatch from Paris says, was seized to a month in prison and $20 damages for unceremoniously kissing a woman by driving over her in his auto in Seine.

THE COMMON MAN.

Will not the common man be the gauge of our age? On the distinction which he has made we are certain. It is the greatest fact of all history. However rapid it may be of our progress in other directions we can not doubt that the common man will carry much his wonted share of the possession of the sunn.

Whatever the person is were designed to be, they are, in general, the best of the time and place, and have made the most of their days, as a man lives with the blood into which it flows.

We could not have it in 1000 years and it would not be with Abel as it is for this one thing, the common man, one for man. It is have been enough for an European King, but between bearing peasants and bearing men most of us would rather live in an age distinguished for the latter.

Reward will be paid to any person who can find one atom of opium, chloral, morphine, cocaine, ether or chloroform in any form in any of Dr. Miles' Remedies.

This reward is offered because certain unscrupulous persons make false statements about these remedies. It is understood that this reward applies only to goods purchased in the open market, which have not been tampered with in any way.

Dr. Miles' remedies cure by their soothing, nourishing, strengthening and invigorating effects upon the nervous system, and not by paralyzing and weakening the nerves as would be the case if these drugs were used.

For this reason Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are universally considered the best pain remedy ever made and for 25 years with success. Last year I sold everything I had to buy Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I succeed as long as I live in doing with small capital. Last year I doubled my business with Anti-Pain Pills now my trade is from 10 to 20 minutes. I do not have to go. Send me my money. I wish you would publish this so that other suffrers may find relief."

Mrs. Chadwick Dupe Insane.

Oberlin, O.—President C. T. Beckwith fell to the floor in the Citizens' National Bank, and for a time his life was despaired of. The prompt attention of physicians, however, saved him, and they attributed his spell to heart disease. The aged man is on the verge of nervous collapse, and his friends believe that his mind has been affected through brooding over his losses caused by Mrs. Chadwick. It is likely that insanity will be advanced as a defence when he is arraigned before the State court.

Shoe Factory Fails.

Calais, Me.—The St. Croix Shoe Co has assigned for the benefit of creditors to R. C. King, of the U. S. Leather Co., Boston, and Geo. H. Eaton and Geo. A. Curran, of Calais. The liabilities exceed $150,000 and the actual assets are not known. The reasons given for the assignment are losses and an unsatisfactory condition of business. The company employed 400 persons in its factory.

Saves Twenty-six at Sea.

Los Angeles, Cal. — Captain F. K. Fall, of the British ship Lonsdale, from Newcastle on Tyne, just arrived at Port Angeles, tells of picking up twenty-six castaways at sea, who had been drifting about near Cape Horn for more than a week. They had abandoned the British collier Divion, which had burned at sea.

Iowa Bank Fails.

Des Moines, Iowa.—The State Bank of Bedford, Iowa, was placed in the hands of a receiver on the order of State Auditor Carroll, and an effort will be made to liquidate its affairs, which are badly involved through an alleged $15,500 shortage. Efforts are being made to secure a settlement with the defaulting officer. The bank is expected ultimately to pay its depositors in full.

Assistant of Czolgosz Captured.

St. Louis.—Edward Saftig, an escaped workhouse prisoner, has been arrested on his return to St. Louis more than two years after his conviction on a charge of petit larceny. Saftig was first arrested in St. Louis soon after the assassination of President McKinley, as he stated that he was a friend of Czolgosz, who killed the President.

He declared that he placed the pistol in Czolgosz' hand and showed him how to commit the deed. He could not be connected with the assassination and was released.

RELIC RESTORES SPEECH

Trenton, N. J., Girl Attributes Cure to Priest.

HIS PRAYERS ANSWERED

Supplication to Relic of St. Maron Effective—Telephones News of the "Cure to all her Friends—Had been Treated by Several Physicians.—Re-enters Society.

Trenton, N. J.—Practically without power of speech since early last August, Miss Mary Dickson, daughter Mr. and Mrs. William Dickson, of South Warren Street, this city, is now talking and singing and laughing as well as ever, her recovery being attributed to the prayers and intercession of an Assyrian priest in Philadelphia.

The girl had previously failed of relief, although she had been treated by several Trenton physicians. The medical men said she was suffering from acute nervous disorders and that it might be years before she could be cured.

A neighbor, Officer Patrick O'Hara, of the Second District police squad, told the girl how he had been cured of rheumatism by Father S. Corkemas, of 10th, Ellsworth Streets, Philadelphia, and finally prevailed upon her to visit the priest, although she is not a Roman Catholic and had never been a believer in such cures.

Accompanied by her sister-in-law Mrs. George Dickson, and by O'Hara, Miss Dickson went to Philadelphia a few days ago and placed her case in the hands of Father Corkemas.

He prayed for her and made application of the relic of St. Maron, after which the girl returned home, where, later, she said she could talk as well as ever, and demonstrated the fact by addressing the members of her family and then by calling on the telephone to her friends in different parts of the city. She had become almost a recluse as a result of her affliction, but now she has resumed her usual social duties in the circle of her acquaintances, where her beauty and her accomplishments make her a favorite with young and old alike.

During her affliction the girl was unable to talk at all in the presence of strangers, and even under the most favorable circumstances could not talk above a whisper.

Wireless System on Living Trees.

San Francisco, Cal.—Major George O. Squier, of the Signal Corps, United States Army, has, by a series of experiments, reached a conclusion to the effect that living vegetable organisms may be used as part of a circuit for electrical oscillations or Hertzian waves, which in turn suggests the possibility of using living trees as substitutes for masts and towers in the operation of wireless telegraphy.

Niagara's Big Turbines.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—The Canadian Niagara Falls Power Co., the ally of the Niagara Falls Power Co. on the American side of the river, set in motion two of its ten thousand horse power turbines and dynamos.

These are the largest turbines and dynamos so far installed in the world, and their successful operation marks an important era in electrical development.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a symptom of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructs the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For sale by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, and N. E. Coston, Greenwood.
