DISH FOR THIS WEEK

For a change from buttered or browned parsnips, try these light, tender-crusted parsnip cakes, suggests the New York State College of Home Economics:

Parsnip Cakes:

12 parsnips 1 egg
1½ teaspoons of salt
2 tablespoons melted butter
¾ cup of flour.

Wash and scrape the parsnips, and boil them for 30 to 60 minutes, depending on size, or until they are tender. Drain them, cut them in squares and force them thru a ricer. Add one well-beaten egg, and beat all together until the mixture is light. Add 1½ teaspoons of salt, 2 tablespoons of melted butter and ¼ cup of flour, mixing them all. Drop the mixture by spoonfuls on a greased hot griddle and brown the cakes on both sides. This gives about six portions.

For dinner, the college suggests: Stuffed shoulder of lamb, parsnip cakes, buttered beets, celery and carrot sticks, frozen prune pudding, coffee if desired, and milk at least for the children.

"Snow White" at Babcock In Wellsville Saturday

Walt Disney's first full-length animated feature, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," comes to the screen of the Babcock Theatre in Wellsville this Saturday noon, April 2nd, the start of a four day engagement. The picture millions have been waiting for, a milestone in screen history, it comes as one of the most important and amazing entertainments in motion picture history. "Snow White" is a "must" for every movie-goer. Ranking in importance with the advent of sound and color, it is decidedly now under the cinematic sun and a thrill for every man, woman and child.

"Snow White" comes to the screen with all the elements of smash film fare—pathos, comedy, romance, excitement—all blended into 90 minutes of magnificent fun which will lift you right out of your seat. Daringly imbued with the Disney touch which has appealed to millions thruout the world, "Snow White" is the result of three years work during which Walt Disney guided 100 technicians and animators in the preparation and selection and editing of more than two and one quarter million illustrations.

For one of the most enjoyable times you ever spent in the theatre, you cannot afford to miss "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" during its four-day engagement at the Babcock theatre starting at noon this Saturday. For the benefit of out of town school groups performances will be continuous on Monday and Tuesday as well as Saturday and Sunday.

Children Liabel For the Seeds They Peddle

State Seed Law Provides That Immediate Vendor May Be Held Accountable For Statements on Packets.

Selling seeds to earn money for themselves or to win prizes for their schools makes children "seed vendors" under the terms of New York State's seed law and renders them liable for the accuracy of all statements appearing on the packets of seeds they offer for sale, says Prof. M. T. Munn, head of the seed testing laboratory at the Experiment Station at Geneva, in a warning to parents and teachers on their responsibility under the law.

"Some seed companies will stand back of the seed packets they put up, while others apparently will not do so and thus the responsibility falls squarely upon the child.

"Tests of packets which were actually purchased this month by seed inspectors show plainly that some of these packets do not meet the requirements as to germination as guaranteed upon the packet. In other instances the variety of seed in the packet was not properly stated, if stated at all. Some one can and will be held responsible for these discrepancies. It really behooves everyone interested to give this matter very careful attention because of the legal as well as the civic responsibility involved."

Love is a disease that makes everybody sick but its victim.

AROUND OUR HOUSE

Some persons don't mind eating baked beans days after day, but for others who like to change the form of a "left-over," the New York State College of Home Economics suggests some tempting variations.

Cream of bean soup is tasty and filling for lunch or supper on a cold day. In the top of a double boiler, heat 2½ cups of milk and two slices of onion. Add one tablespoon of fat, a dash of pepper, ½ teaspoon of salt and ½ cup of strained baked beans. If desired, add one piece of sliced celery, one cup of strained tomato, one teaspoon minced parsley, and one tablespoon of tomato catsup. Cook it slowly for 30 minutes.

For a quick, hot meal, bean rabbit is just the dish. Melt two tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add one cup of mashed baked beans, and stir this over the fire for five minutes. Add one cup of grated cheese, a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce, ½ cup of hot milk and a dash of pepper. Cook until the cheese is almost melted, stirring it constantly. Serve at once on hot buttered toast. This recipe will serve six.

Croquettes, a frequent solution to the left-over problem, are extra good when made with baked beans. To two cups of mashed baked beans, add two tablespoons of melted butter, fine-chopped onion, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper to taste. Shape them, roll them in cracker crumbs, dip in beaten egg and fry them in deep fat at 390 degrees Fahrenheit until delicately brown. This recipe makes about nine croquettes.

Towels will last longer if washed before the dirt and grime become so ground into them that harsh rubbing is necessary to get them clean.

Dairymen's League To Have a Big Pay Day

Will Distribute $3,100,000. Cash Certificates of Two Series; Yearly Saving of $150,000 In Interest Costs.

New York, N. Y.—Approximately $3,100,000 in cash will be distributed to members of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association and other holders of the association's certificates of indebtedness during the next few weeks. This announcement is made by J. L. Coulter of Watertown, N. Y., treasurer of the association following recent action taken by the League board of directors.

This large amount of money which will be distributed to thousands of dairy farmers in every section of the New York milk shed, represents full payment on one series of certificates three years ahead of due date and payment of approximately half of another series five years before due date. It also includes $600,000 for May 1 interest coupons on all outstanding series of league certificates. This interest payment six weeks ahead of time was announced by the association two weeks ago.

The action taken by the League's directors calls for payment at par with interest to May 1st on all "series 1941" certificates and all of "series 1942" certificates whose numbers end with the numerals 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5. The outstanding "41's" which are not due for three years total about $1,400,000. The total outstanding of "43's" due in five years is about $2,250,000.

"This present action of the board of directors," said Mr. Coulter, "will give members of the association some ready cash at the season of the year when farmers need money for their spring purchases. It will also mean a yearly saving of about $150,000 in interest costs."

Members of the League or others holding any such certificates on May 1st interest coupons are requested to forward them promptly to the New York office of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, Inc., for payment.

The busiest and most popular place in Andover on Tuesday mornings is the welfare office on Greenwood street.

The Home Bureau will meet with Mrs. H. E. Robinson, Thursday, April 7th. The first lesson on "Home Lighting" will be given.

Miss Roberta Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Church of this village, was honored by being elected captain of the Geneseo varsity basketball team.

At the amateur show given in Alfred as part of the "St. Pat" festival a second prize was awarded to the senior quartette of which Wisner Cook of Andover is a member.

The residence on Greenwood street, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingraham, has recently been wired for electricity by Arthur Hoening of Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Johnston of Richburg celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. E. R. Cady. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have spent all but one year of their married life in Allegany county.

The Board of Education of Bath High School plans to adopt a new system in employment of teachers the coming year. No contracts will be offered. Instead teachers will be advised of their appointment to teach.

The O. E. S. Circle met at the home of Mrs. Harry Smith Friday. Mr. C. S. Rennells, chairman of the work committee, gave out work to be done by the members. Mrs. David Sloeum gave two fine readings on the program. Refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Mrs. Charles Hammond and Mrs. Ernest Theetge.

Floyd Cartwright of East Valley is improving from a long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ruger have rented the Mrs. J. L. Williams house on Dyke street.

Supervisor E. A. Mullen received word of the serious illness of his brother, Archie Mullen in Canisteo this week.

When the underwear begins to itch so early in the year, it is going to be pretty hard to keep it on until the first of May.

The new million dollar hospital at the Veterans Facility in Bath opened its doors March 21st. The new hospital has beds for 409 patients.

The Belfast Chamber of Commerce has asked each housewife to demand a card signed by the committee before buying or subscribing from any agent.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Claus of Rushford were very pleasantly surprised when 50 neighbors and relatives entertained them in honor of their 55th wedding anniversary on March 21st.

Reports from Washington reveal that Secretary Ickes has blocked the shipment of helium gas to Germany despite the fact that tank ships from Germany are docked in the Gulf of Mexico to take away the supply.

While the columnist that writes "Wandering Willie" to our knowledge never worked on the railroad in the days of the old hand car, he has been getting a little of that training on an automobile pump of late.

Congress has asked the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government of which Frank E. Gannett is chairman, to release all written records of every kind to be audited. Perhaps this is the cause of so much upheaval in Washington.

Attica's veteran prognosticator "Uncle" Henry Hiller, for over 40 years, states he "does not expect any more heavy snow, only short showers with plenty of warm sunshine following and an extremely dry period from now till July 4th. Hay making grass and forest fires a real hazard."

A surprise party was given little Janet Lang Saturday in honor of her first birthday by the following: Mrs. Hattie Eggleston, Mrs. Martin Heyer with Mrs. Charles Reynolds of Franklinville and Mrs. Sam Kagle of Buffalo. The little lady received many nice gifts and a birthday cake.

Bolivar's municipally owned water department, after nearly two years of successful operation by that village, is providing the finest water system the town has ever had. Technical experts declare the Bolivar water system is superior to that of any similarly sized town in Western New York.

Those not attending the O. E. S. birthday party held at the hall Tuesday night missed a rare treat, both in regard to the 12 beautiful cakes representing the months of the year and the artistic ability shown in decorating the card tables to correspond. The guests enjoyed a musical program in the singing of old songs.

Mrs. Orville Kupp entertained the Gay Luncheon club at her home Wednesday.

Justice Frank A. James has contributed $500 towards the library furnishing and equipment in the Rushford Central School.

Mrs. John Quigg and Mrs. Max Richardson will be hostesses for the card party which will be held Tuesday, April 19th at Blessed Sacrament hall.

Commissioner Rennells and his gang of workmen have removed the large poplar trees on South Main street, giving the street a broad clear view but a nude appearance. Poplar trees planted on or near any street grow to be a nuisance as the roots buckle the sidewalks and in other ways do damage.

Carborundum POCKET HONES
What is more provoking than using a dull knife?
The Carborundum Company has solved the problem by offering you a pocket size hone—just right to carry in any pocket, and always ready to sharpen that dull knife in a jiffy. Price 20c.

COCOA MATS
In front of outside doors, keep the mud and dirt out, and save your rugs and floors from the unnecessary tracking which they are otherwise bound to get in the spring of the year. Price $1.00.

REMEMBER THAT
A Radiant Gas Heater will give you all the heat required for these in-between-season days—and will incidently save on the fuel bill.—Priced as low as $7.50.

DECAL TRANSFERS
Dress up those plain painted walls as well as adding a decided decorative note to your painted furniture. Include them on your list of paint supplies.

VIGORO
You may have a place on your lawn that you cannot get seeding to catch and grow. If so, it is quite likely that you need to correct the condition of the soil, for it is probably lacking in some essential of fertility.
VIGORO, the complete soil builder, will work wonders in filling those thin spots with a perfect growth; the soil is now open and if you will seed and apply Vigoro we can almost positively promise you that before the season is over, those troublesome spots will be as beautiful as the rest of your lawn.
You may purchase Vigoro in any regular sized quantities, beginning with 10c size.

SPRING RAINS
We are sure to have them, so keep watch for wet spots, they mean a leak, a place for decay or a spot on your wall paper.
A pail of Plastic Cement is like a stitch in time. Keep it handy—it will pay large returns in material, comfort and money.

MENDETS
Are still at the job of plugging leaks in all sorts of metal ware the quick and easy way; no tools or experience required—10c a card.

FOR COOKIE MAKERS
More of those new cookie sheets that require no greasing and sell for only 20c.

WAFTINGS from "Wandering Willie"

MANY, lurid and loud were the cuss-words around Main street last week when the limb of a tree hooked on one of the electric lines and put a part of the burg out of commission. We were probably the winners in the cussing contest, as we were just going to press when out they went. When the village boys have any more trees to lower we hope they find some place where there are no electric wires, or pick a spot so far away it won't bother us. But all is forgiven "Cy."

THE Wellsville Democrat "Grief" column has been having a lot of fun lately running bits of poetry etc., sent in by folks feeling sorry for the author and who help him out in filling his column, so we will copy after his style and run the following which was handed us the other day and which we thought pretty keen:

"Compendium"

I haven't read Anthony Adverse;
I haven't read Gone With the Wind;
By these awful omissions I know that
Against Lit'rature I have sinned.
The sociological novel's
Deep search in the problems we face,
To me is exposed much more plainly
In a volume of breath-taking space.
This book that I find so absorbing,
That puts them all back on the rack,
Is the fat and the factual opus:
The annual World Almanac!

Its pages abound in statistics;
It rattles off figures galore;
It's loaded with items and data
And wonders I long to explore.
For instance, do you know the name of
The peaks of the French and Swiss Alps?
Or which the Comanches liked better
The blond or the red-headed scalps?
How much is a Chilean peso?
And what is the worth of a franc?
Is a Siamese second lieutenant
Above a grimalkin in rank?
Did Delaware raise any onions?
What is the corn crop of Maine?
Where is the Paleozoic?
What is the weight of your brain?
I set out in search of the author,
To herald this modern-day sage.
I found him secluded but happy,
And we talked thru the bars of his cage.

IT'S wonderful the opportunities that are offered us each week by Andover folks to tell something on somebody, advertise something, give somebody merry heck and oh dozens of things.

This week we're supposed to help keep the agents, peddlers, meter readers, collectors and other public agents or representatives from coming in the front doors, walking all over the nice new house-cleaned polished floors of the Andover ladies and leaving a trail of the good old terra firma all over the place. All we can suggest is go to the back door if they have one.

OH, YES, the Giddings-Lang case. You'd never guess! Yep, another postponement. Several of the boys, ourselves included, had a couple cases of Coco-Cola bet on the outcome of the fray, but some of them are getting mighty dry waiting for the actors to act.

THAT doggone "weiner" business popped up again this week when Ernie Andrus ran across the word spelled with an "ie" from a packing house in Buffalo. We wish some one would come to our rescue and tell us just how the blamed thing is spelled in American. The dictionary doesn't give it, and all the newspapers and magazines spell it with an "ei". Fifty thousand printers can't be wrong so we'll still say "ei" regardless of what the Buffalo packing house has to say.

SOME of the folks around town wonder every time the fire siren cuts loose how "Bus" gets into those white milk-plant pants of his so quick. The siren just nicely gets under way good when about mid-way down Main street up pops those white pants and comet-like, streak for the fire hall. Just how do you do it, "Bus?" We have often wondered too.

The ladies of the S. D. Baptist church invite you to a 25 cent supper, Tuesday, April 5th.
