The one hundredth anniversary of a wedding was celebrated in Hungary recently with both contracting parties present. Not a shadow of doubt now but the secret of "how to be happy though married" has been solved by one couple.

Not much harm in worrying beforehand when the 13th of the month falls on Friday, provided there is no cause to worry after the incidentals passes.

Some men think they are getting their share of the country's prosperity if their wives succeed in getting a steady job.

In spreading a panic they also serve who stand and wait—for their money.

The American National Banking System.

By C. H. TREAT, Treasurer of the United States.

ON the passage of the currency act of 1900 it was believed by many farseeing statesmen and financiers that no very important legislation probably would be required for one or more decades, but five years only had elapsed when the benefits from the amendments to the currency were found to be inadequate to the nation's needs. It was plainly manifest that, while facilities for increasing the volume of currency were ample, yet there was a radical defect in that IT COULD NOT BE MADE ELASTIC TO SUCH AN EXTENT AS TO MEET BUSINESS REQUIREMENTS.

The Aldrich law was of much benefit, but important banking reforms still remain to be made. The national banks should be allowed to issue 50 per cent of their circulating notes on the basis of other securities than United States bonds deposited with the secretary of the treasury, such notes to be retired in four, six and eight months from Sept. 1 of each year. This plan would provide the expansion of circulation that is needed EVERY FALL to move crops.

These amendments to the national banking laws are suggested to me by the foremost of the greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton—the late Secretary Chase—who saw clearly the situation that confronts us today and who declared that for the extension and perpetuation of the national banking system there should be securities OTHER THAN GOVERNMENT BONDS acceptable to the treasury for the issue of bank circulation and who made the suggestion in a message to congress that "such currency should be issued as a loan to bankers on deposit of coin or pledge of securities, or in some other way. But these considerations may be deferred to another generation."

The maturity of this prophecy confronts us.

There is much discussion regarding the national banking system on the part of pessimistic writers, who extol to an extravagant degree the banking systems of foreign countries. I would beg to remind them that there is no banking system in any foreign country that is not subject to home criticism in that it does not altogether meet their business requirements. If such be the case, why should any attempt be made to engraft it upon our system? As a matter of fact, I know of no system that IN ALL RESPECTS FOR THE INTERESTS OF THE WHOLE COUNTRY, as well as the banking community more generally, meets the requirements than our own national banks. I think it would be far more creditable and beneficial to the country if more thought were given to the manner in which the banking system could be MODIFIED AND PERFECTED rather than to attempt any revolutionary scheme such as "credit currency."

I BELIEVE OUR PRESENT SYSTEM CONTAINS ELEMENTS THAT CAN BE DEVELOPED TO MEET EVERY REASONABLE EXIGENCY IN OUR BUSINESS LIFE.

The World Will Some Day Be Using Wings.

By Dr. ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL, Inventor of the Telephone.

MY expectation is that an airship will be perfected capable of making 150 TO 200 MILES AN HOUR. My opinion, however, is that the next step in aerial flight will take the form of such improvements as will make possible the creation of AERIAL BATTLESHIPS. The actual problem of the navigation of the air has already been solved by the Wright brothers. Naturally, there will be development along commercial lines.

MY BELIEF IS THAT AMERICA WILL BE THE FIRST COUNTRY TO PERFECT AERIAL BATTLESHIPS.

I hope to be able to add much to what is known of aerial flight by experiments at Cape Breton island this summer. My problem this year will be to propel my kites with a specially constructed engine of fifteen horsepower, weighing 120 pounds. I hope to get a machine of the HEAVIER THAN AIR variety that will support a man and the necessary equipment to operate it at low rather than high velocity. Last December I constructed a vehicle that supported itself and a man in a ten mile breeze. I now want to fly a machine carrying an engine at ten or fifteen miles an hour.

I am confident that it will not be long before FLYING MACHINES WILL BE EVERYWHERE. The developments of the next few months will be unprecedented, but the most interesting point is that only few know HOW NEAR America is right now to solving a question which will revolutionize warfare throughout the world—I mean the construction of a PRACTICAL aerial battleship.

The Home Life of America.

By Baron D'ESTOURNELLES DE CONSTANT, Member of the French Senate.

THE American home life is the most charming of any country in the world.

From the little child to the wife it is harmony and happiness. This is not so in France. This prevalent condition here is due to the AMERICAN WIFE, her influence over her husband and mankind in general, to her rights as she understands them, to her FEMININE SUPERIORITY. She inspires husband, father, brother, cousin with this idea and indeed every man. She does not do it in a high handed, dictatorial manner, nor does she wield it with a club, but with winsome ways, SWEETNESS and TACT.

Men are what women make them. That is to say, their esteem and regard toward their sex, their attitude toward them. This American women are taught from infancy.

THOUGH IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO TEACH IT TO THEM, THEY ARE BORN WITH AN INTUITIVE KNOWLEDGE OF HOW TO MAKE HUSBANDS AND ALL MEN RESPECTFUL AND INDULGENT.
