THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, - EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., JAN. 7, 1891.

WHAT IS A COUNTY SEAT?

The Andover NEWS in speaking editorially of the resolution of the Board of Supervisors requesting our Senator and Assemblyman to secure a repeal of the law of 1860, says: "But we make the prediction that the county seat will never be consolidated in that manner. The Constitution of the State of New York provides that the Legislature shall not pass a bill changing or locating a county site," and goes on to quote the opinion of Leslie W. Russell when Attorney General on the question, etc. The opinion of Attorney General Russell if candidly given, was entitled to just the same weight as that of any other equally good lawyer, and no more. There are, however, circumstances connected with the rendering of that opinion with which the people are not fully conversant.

Again, the Legislature will not be asked to pass a bill "changing or locating a county site." The matter was fully attended to in 1858 by joint action of the County and Legislature, in making Belmont, the county seat of the county, which action has never been changed. The act of 1860 simply divided the county into two jury districts, and provided for alternate terms of court to be held in Belmont and Angelica. The county site was not changed or divided, but remained at Belmont.—Cuba Patriot.

The only point of difference between the Patriot and the NEWS is as to whether Angelica was made a County Seat or Half-Shire by the Act of 1860.

If not, then the NEWS will admit that the repeal of that law will accomplish the desired end. But if, by the said act, Angelica was made a Half Shire, then the only way to effect a consolidation is by a two-thirds vote of the people and the Supervisors.

It is not necessary for an apple to bear the label, "this is an apple," to enable a man to discover the difference between that fruit and an orange; nor need the law necessarily say "Angelica is a Half-Shire," in order to make it so. Webster defines the matter as follows:

"County Seat, a county town. County Town, the chief town of a county, where the county business is transacted; a Shire-Town.

Thus it seems to us that the act of 1860 did make Angelica a Half Shire when it provided for the transaction of county business at that place.

The Patriot says, "The act of 1860 simply divided the county into two jury districts, and provided for alternate terms of court to be held in Belmont and Angelica. The county site was not changed or divided, but remained at Belmont." Now let us carry the Patriot's theory a little further and see what the result would be. Suppose the Legislature should pass a law designating Cuba as the place where the courts should be held, and providing that the Clerk's, Surrogate's and Sheriff's offices should be located at that place. According to the Patriot's reasoning such an act would be proper, and Belmont, although remaining the "County Seat," would be as void of honor or benefit in the matter as Andover is. We do not believe the Patriot or anybody else really believes such a course would be right. It would be contrary to the spirit, intent and letter of the Constitution. If such action would be legal, any county in the state could take advantage of the loop-hole, and the constitution might as well never have been written. If the change in this county is brought about in this way, we believe Angelica would carry the matter to the last court if necessary, and she would come out victorious in the end.

The Patriot's statement that "if the repeal of this law is unconstitutional, the only deduction is that the law itself must be unconstitutional, and hence all courts at Angelica held under it are illegal," is an error, from the fact that the Constitution was amended in this respect November 3, 1874, fourteen years after the act of 1860 was passed. The amendment was made for the sole purpose of enabling the people of each county to say where the courts should be held and where the county business should be transacted, and since the date above mentioned the Legislature has been prohibited from passing any act that should seek to change existing conditions in this respect. We believe that any able disinterested lawyer would endorse this view of the situation.

The Albany Argus declares that "an enumeration bill will be one of the first acts passed by the Assembly."

Senator Laughlin proposes to introduce a bill providing for the publication of school books by the state, the books to be sold to the pupils at cost.

In the Senate Monday Mr. Stewart moved to lay aside the Election bill and take up the financial bill. The Republicans were taken by surprise and the motion prevailed—34 to 29. This is thought to be practically the end of the election bill.

In the Albany Evening Journal's obituary record for the year 1890, printed last week, the remarkable showing is made of nearly a score of centennarians, residents of the different states, the oldest of whom died at the age of 150 years. Twelve of these persons were women. Their combined years reached 1,933, and the average age was 107 years.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

Dr. Davie of Angelica has been in New York to investigate the merits of Dr. Koch's new consumption cure.

Mr. H. C. Wilcox and Mr. Jones of Friendship, killed a 250-pound black bear while hunting in the Pennsylvania wilds recently.

The Farmers' Alliance in Steuben county has had a most remarkable growth. There is not a village or four corners but what has its Alliance, and the names of one-half the farmers of the county are enrolled upon its books. At the present rate of growth it will not be many months before the same can be said of Allegany county.

The Wellsville Fair Association has elected the following officers for 1891: D. C. Ackerman, president; Dr. H. H. Nye, vice president; William A. Baldwin, treasurer; Charles T. Earley, secretary; A. J. Applebee, O. S. Thorne, H. K. Lewis, I. N. Fassett, Jacob Rauber, C. H. Fisher, J. D. Rathbone, snd Grant Duke, directors.

Cheek is a necessary qualification, but we never heard of a person trying to get in a Masonic lodge with the Good Templar's pass word before. The Masons had a special meeting Friday evening, and one of the Good Templars, seeing the hall lighted up, thought his Lodge was in session, and went to the door, knocked in the regulation manner and gave the Good Templars pass word to the Mason who responded. The goat was on the war path that evening, but the Templar didn't see him. —Rushford Spectator.

Sullivan County is without a treasurer. Chas. Ennis was elected to that position last November. The Board of Supervisors require a bond of $100,000. Ennis reported that he could not furnish so large an amount from among his friends, nor would the companies furnishing bonds issue one to the county treasurer, as an uncertainty existed as to whether the liability did not run after the expiration of the term. The Supervisors then reduced the sum required to $50,000. This Ennis was unable to secure. Hence the vacancy. At last accounts no one was found willing to accept the office; nor can Richard Gildersleeve, the retiring treasurer, hold over, having been elected county clerk.

The person who took G. W. Kemp's lantern and blanket from Hale Davis' barn Christmas eve is requested to return the same to the owner and save further trouble and expense.

At a meeting of the Hawthorne Circle Jan. 5th, the following officers were elected; Mrs. J. L. Cunningham, President; Mrs. F. S. Clark, Vice President; Mrs. Chas. Cochrane, Secretary.

A panel of one hundred extra jurors were drawn at the County Clerk's office yesterday for the Smith murder trial, which begins next Monday at Belmont.

Sunday evening Sarah Green slipped and fell, injuring her to such an extent that she has been confined to the bed ever since. No bones were broken, and it is thought she will be about again in a short time.

A donation for the benefit of Rev. G. M. Janes will be held at Prest's Opera House Wednesday evening, Jan. 21. Everybody is invited to attend, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. Remember the date.

The entertainment at the Baptist church Friday evening was excellent. Miss Dayton is a charming elocutionist, and although the attendance was not large, the audience was well pleased with the program presented.

Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss A. Lavinia Lanphier, daughter of W. J. Lanphier of Hornellsville, to Geo. H. Beebe of Andover. The marriage will occur at the home of the bride's parents, No. 2 Riverside, Hornellsville, Sunday evening Jan. 25.

Ice is being cut in large quantities and the ice houses are rapidly being filled. Geo. E. Brown has reserved the right to sell ice to Andover parties from that part of the pond east of the Erie railway. A fine quality of ice is also being taken from a pond on Michael Dean's farm.

Prangen Bros. of Hornellsville, who are putting up the large ice house at the pond above this village, expect to begin cutting ice this week. They employ extensive machinery for cutting and hoisting ice, and the NEWS will soon give an extended description of the operation.

Jas. W. Patterson died at his home in Ithaca, Tuesday, Dec. 30, 1890, aged 72 years. Mr. Patterson was well known in Andover, having visited this place many times as a traveling salesman. The funeral was held Saturday. J. B. Martindale of this place, was a brother-in-law to Mr. Patterson, and went to Ithaca last week to attend the funeral.

A meeting of the County Farmers' Alliance was held at Belmont yesterday. Over 300 delegates were present and the meeting is said to have been very enthusiastic. Addresses were made by Messrs. Allen of Allentown and Kellogg of Alfred Centre. The delegates from Andover were as follows: John Casey, Chas. A. Robinson, Wm. C. Kaple, Daniel Boyd, Emery Cook, E. B. Rollins, John Deming, Josiah Warfield, A. W. Coon, Uriah Davis.

At the election of officers of the Allegany County Agricultural Society, at the Court House last week, Hon. A. B. Cottrell was elected President; W. J. Garwood, vice-President; A. J. Hibbard, Treasurer; J. H. Rutherford, Secretary. The selection of Mr. Cottrell was a very wise one, for he will interest the people in the other part of the county, and greatly aid in making the Fair a success. The fair will be held Sept. 8, 9, 10 and 11, 1891.—Angelica Every Week.

Bulwer's drama of Richelieu was rendered at Chapel Hall, Alfred Centre, Monday evening, by University and home talent. The following persons were present from Andover: J. E. Cannon, Will Wood, Will Cannon, Ziba Cook, Floyd Richardson, Jesse Phillips, Jason Beebe, Earl Richardson, Misses Lottie Porter, Mary Richardson, Helen Brainard, Minnie Freeborn, Roxie Bundy. The character of Adrian de Mauprat was taken by Burdette B. Brown, and that of Huguet by Arthur B. Burrows, both of Andover.

The annual agitation against the social custom which requires gentlemen to lift their hats to ladies on the street has again started, and the argument about the danger of taking cold is rehashed. He must be a man with very weak blood in his viens who would take cold by momentarily uncovering his head in the street. Colds are more commonly contracted by exposing the feet to dampness. If social customs required a man to take off his shoes and socks every time he met a lady of his acquaintance on the street, there might be ground for complaint.

Carried Powder Through a Fire.

The hero of the hour in Jamestown is Chas. Fitch, a clerk in the store of Clark & Co., which burned one night last week. The explosion of a number of cartridges in the rear of the store recalled to Charlie's mind that a keg containing 30 pounds of gunpowder was in close proximity to the fire. Had this exploded it would have blown out the First-street side of the building, involving the firemen and spectators. Charlie cooly went into the store when the bullets from cartridges were flying in all directions, took the keg in his arms and bore it almost through the flames to a place of safety. He undoubtedly took his life in his hands as the store was all ablaze at the time, and, had his purpose been known, an effort would have been made to stop him.

The Seventh Day Baptists of Independence held their annual church meeting Sunday afternoon.

On his return from New York and New Jersey, Comrade Jackson O'Dell brought a copy of the Ulster County Gazette, published at Kingston, Ulster county, N. Y., by Samuel Freer & Son. The paper bears the date of Jan. 4, 1800, and is dressed in mourning on the inside, on account of the death of ex-President George Washington. It is a 4 page paper, 4 colums to the page, and is 17x12 inches in size. It is quite a curiosity in these enlightened days, as at that time "f" stood for "s". Mr. O'Dell's grandfather was a subscriber, and the paper has been handed down from father to son all these years, but bears evidence of having been carefully preserved. Comrade Jack says he would not take $50 for it.

Mrs. A. J. Brown started on train 3 Monday morning, Dec. 29, for Grand Rapids, Mich., to visit her parents and other friends. Al. looked forward to a lonesome New Years, but about 10 a. m. was surprised by the appearance of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Clark and two daughters, Mary and Hattie, and Mrs. O. G. Clark and daughter Carrie, followed by another sleigh load consisting of Mr. O. G. Clark, Mr. C. E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Plaisted and son, of Penn Yan, Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Briggs, and "Happy New Year!" was echoed on all sides. Next came Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Babcock of Dansville, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bloss, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brown and daughter, Ora, 24 in all, bent on having a "high old time," and they had it. Al. was out of frosted cakes, but they had plenty of good things to eat, and a jollier crowd would be hard to find. Mr. Brown wishes them all a Happy New Year and hopes they will call again and bring their friends along and enliven his gloomy "bachelor den." He also wishes to extend his thanks to the ladies for leaving the house in perfect order.

Elder J. Kenyon was visiting in Bolivar and Friendship several days last week, but returned home Friday.

Murder Trial at Elmira.

The trial of Herbert Warren, a 16-year-old boy, for the murder of his father, J. Frank Warren, was held at Elmira last week.

J. Frank Warren was a traveling man and was home but little. He brought his family from Michigan, and then took long trips away himself. Mrs. Warren is an invalid. Warren was engaged in intrigues with women in Connecticut, it is alleged, and his wife learned of it. June 12 he came home and had a quarrel with his wife. At 2 o'clock in the morning Warren was shot down by his son Herbert, who claimed his father was assaulting his mother, and that she called on him for assistance. The boy admitted the shooting, but claimed it was necessary to protect his mother from bodily harm. The jury went out Saturday evening, and after remaining out three hours brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

Trusts and Mistrusts.

We are often asked to put our trust in things above; sometimes customers ask for "trust," and the pleasant grocery clerk "trusts" all your family are well. Then there are sugar trusts, pork and grain trusts and other trusts, including mistrusts. But we trust you will at once try Tulip Soap for you can safely trust to its efficacy. Then it is so lasting, you know, and economical.

Bounty on Maple Sugar.

Deputy Internal Revenue Collector Jones of Jamestown, has been asked by Collector Fitch to make an estimate of the number of persons in Allegany, Cattaraugus and Chautauqua counties who will probably make 500 pounds or more of maple sugar during the coming season. A bounty is paid all producers of 500 pounds or more of maple sugar and as these counties are famous for their annual output of maple sugar, the matter of this canvas is one of great importance, and all informed on the subject will aid producers and collector by promptly furnishing Collector Jones with names and addresses.

PILES! PILES! ITCHING PILES!

S. B. Bedding, Myrtle Avenue, Albany, N. Y., writes, Nov. 27, 1888: I have suffered for twelve years from itching and bleeding piles, was treated by specialists and tried every sort of remedy. Allen's New Discovery for piles cured me, and I say with confidence after it cured a case as bad as mine it will cure any case. I wish all could know of Allen's New Discovery and use it sooner than I did. Sold by all druggists. Price 50 cents.
