GRATITUDE

I thank you for these gifts dear
God,
Upon Thanksgiving Day
For love and laughter and the faith
That makes me kneel to pray
For life that lends me happiness
And sleep that gives me ease
There are little hearts that long for heart
So we wish [illegible]
For laughter, faith and love
[illegible]
We [illegible]
[illegible]
There are certain [illegible]
[illegible] gratitude [illegible]
you [illegible] who [illegible] park of life
[illegible] There are certain funds mental [illegible]
which [illegible]
young. [illegible]
friends [illegible]
lines. [illegible]
tal reasons are the truth and the light and the solution of those of us who dwell perhaps precariously in this chaotic changing world. They keep us sane, sweet, tolerant, gentle and kindly. They give us the ability to hope, and something [illegible] for which we pray.

HAVE YOU TACT?

It seems to be the rage in the 20th century to give out questionaires. Leading magazines head articles with such questions as "Have you personality?" Now I want to ask you what seems to be a more important question and that is "Have you tact?" First I shall have to explain that tact is that quick appreciation that some people have of what is fitting to do and say in a given situation. To find out if you have this very desirable character, I shall ask you to answer the following questions truthfully:

1—Can you sense that a given moment is the wrong one in which to talk to a person?

2—Can you realize that sometimes in being too frank, you are hurting some one?

3—Can you remember that other people have pride as well as yourself?

4—Can you remember to think before you talk?

5—Can you sense whether your friends are interested in your discussion?

6—Can you realize that your friends would like to be heard?

Perhaps if countries, as well as people would use more tact there would be fewer wars. The following seems to be a nation's sense of what is tactful to say.

"We could beat you anytime because we have more equipment!"

The result of such lack of tact is war. The result of individual lacks of tact is friction in friendships. Can't we help each other develop tact while we are yet in school?

Teacher: "Paul, can you tell me what a hypocrite is?"

Paul Ryan: "Yes, sir. It is a boy that comes to school with a smile on his face."

Mr. McGee (in physics class): "What is the reaction of walking?"

Bud Dolan: "Sore feet."

Basketball Opens With Jasper

The purple and white basketball squad makes it debut Tuesday evening November 29 against the Steuben county class C champions, Jasper.

Last year in a practice game the Jasper team defeated Andover by a small margin of three points. The strength of the opposing team is unknown but a good game is almost certain due to the fact that Jasper has been a threatening contender in Steuben for many years. The local boys will be waiting for Jasper, all ready to start the season with a victory.

The starting line-up has not yet been announced but it is almost certain to contain Joyce, high scorer last year, as a forward. The other forward position will be filled by either Briggs, Dolan or Fulkerson. The contenders for the guard postions are Greene, Hardy, Dugan and Oakes. The center may be either Saunders or Oakes.

Plan to be present when the local high school basketball teams enter the court.

Know Your Team

This column has been set aside to introduce to the public some of the members of this year's basketball squad.

Donald Oakes is a last year letterman and a member of the senior class. Because of Don's highth and ability to retrieve the ball off the backboard he is a good asset to the team at center. He [illegible] all the games last year.

Clyde Briggs is another last year letterman and a senior. Last year Clyde saw service as a forward but this year he is expected to be the pivot man. His good [illegible] and his habit of also [illegible] a good [illegible] make him a valuable member of the team.

Monroe Greene is a member of the senior class and a letterman. His highth and ability to knock down enemy passes is a help to the team. Monroe's ability will be centered around the back court playing guard.

Donald Hardy is a member of the F. G. class and a last year letterman. Don't height is against him but his ability to make set shots and passing offsets this handicap. He will be found putting forth his abilities at a guard position.

"Bill" Dugan is a member of the junior class and a letterman. "Bill" is another member limited in height but his build offsets this. Last year he spent his time between forward and guard, and will be found there this year too. "Bill" is good under the basket and also at passing.

Gerald Dolan is a last year letterman and a senior. "Bud" is medium highth, fast and has a grand eye for the basket. He is one of the forwards on the team.

Jack Saunders is the tallest man on the team because of this he is used at center and under the basket. He will be a good asset to the team because in past years the team has lacked a tall man. He is a letterman from last year and also a member of the senior class.

Leo Nobles is the only member of this group not a last year letterman. Leo is tall and is allequate at making baskets. He has not seen as much first team service as the rest of the members but is improving greatly. Leo is another one of our seniors.

George Joyce, the sharp-eyed high scorer on the team is a postgraduate. He is the main offensive spark plug of the team. George is also good on defense and he is a cool player. He is tall and a good passer.

More Vacation?

Yes, it really is vacation time again. This time it is the Thanksgiving vacation and it began today at noon (Wednesday), Nov. 23.

School will be resumed on next Monday.

The students and faculty are looking forward to having a bountiful feast with all the fixings.

It is interesting to note that the first week of the last three weeks there were four days of school, the second week there were three days and this week two and a half days.

"George in a Jam" Is a Financial Success

The Junior play "George in a Jam" which was their first money making venture is now of the past. Due to the co-operation of the faculty, students and cast, the play was a success. The people of Andover also helped to make it as success by buying tickets either regular or reserved.

The total receipts of the play were $73.55, the expenses were approximately $12.00 leaving a net profit of about $61.55. Of the total receipts, $59. came from the evening performances for which about 200 tickets were sold.

The cast of the play wishes to thank everyone for his part in the success of the play.

Basketball Season Tickets on Sale

The season tickets for the basketball season are on sale now. This season promises to be one of the most successful ones on record for the Purple and White. That is the reason why every student should buy a ticket so that they won't miss any of these good games. Every single game promises to be a thrilling one as every team to oppose the Andover team will be gifted with almost as many veteran players as Andover.

Tickets may be purchased at the office or at the homerooms. The price of the season tickets is 75c. The ticket is good for all the home games which total eight. This is a little over nine cents a game compared with fifteen cents each if you were to pay separately at each game. The tickets may be paid for, all at once, or by paying 25c at the first three games.

Junior Play Cast Enjoys Supper

"Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow—" The members of the Junior cast as well as director Miss Cappuccilli, prompter Jean Kornrup, stage director Richard Clair and Miss Wood did justice to that statement Wednesday afternoon after the matinee performance. The hour of 5 o'clock found them assembled around the table in the homemaking house, not at all bashful, but doing away with Spanish rice, vegetables, salad, rolls, pickles, chocolate cake and coffee. There were times when the eating ceased and they laughed at some witty remark or else they got Billy Dugan a glass of water. He drank so many glasses threats were made to put soda in it.

After the evening meal an hour was spent improving the "high spots" of the play.

How About the Turkey?

Thanksgiving's great,
(At least for us)
But how about the turkey?
With axes sharp,
And wood block ready,
He can't feel very perky!
With drooping feather,
And mournful strut
He blinks a tearful; eye
But after all, with what's ahead,
Who blames him?
You bet, not I!

16 High School Pupils Make Honor Roll

In order to make the first honors, a pupil must have had an average of 90 in three major subjects with none below 85. These standards were maintained during the last five weeks by Thelma Ahrens, Doris Honegger, Pearl Goodridge, Betty Jo Ludden, Audrey Glover, Stanley Ruger and Wendell Vars.

Pupils who have an average of 85 in three major subjects with none below 80 are eligible for the second honors. The following were successful in maintaining these averages: Charlotte Coryell, Koliopy Karcanes, Eleanor Northrup, Lyle Ordway, Nancy Snyder, Wanda Dolan, Arthur Oakes, Jean Rogers, Leo Nobles.

Anna Hardy made a good article for the English 11 class [illegible] Tuesday.

I should think "Lena" would be all black and blue from falling down eighteen times for the grade pupils during skits. "Imagine"!

A girl went up to Veronica Lynch after the matinee and said, "I'm not afraid of you like I was this morning when you were in my grade." Veronica was dressed as a colored lady.

I'll bet that every member of the play cast had his eyes shut when he had his picture taken Friday night. Dick Clair almost forgot to turn off the footlights.

The flowers from the Junior play cast went to Mrs. Cappuccilli instead of Miss Cappuccille but I guess everyone knew who was meant.

Don't forget the first basketball game of the year next Tuesday.

I found out that there are over a thousand books in the high school library and that there are a great many in the grade rooms.

The chemistry class is having a hard time to understand and learn valence of elements.

Vacations are all right but they have a terrible effect on the Hi Herald staff when they have to get out two papers during one week.

If anyone has ever wondered how some of the radio stars look, he should look over the pictures in the radio book that is in the library.

Who knew that so many high school girls collect pictures of the Dionne "quins"? Betty Greene has collected over 100 pictures. Imagine!

Why don't they paint the flower pots in Room E like they did in the library?

I shouldn't say anything, but where is the Armistice Day bulletin board that we were supposed to put up?

Whereas it took only about ten minutes to make up Odessa, it took at least an hour to get the make-up off her. "Imagine."

It's two bad the ship in the library can't sail once in a while.

It's a wonder that the Junior class made any money if "Lena" broke all the cups that "she" seemed to.

Richard Baker, Louis Dodge, Carol Walton and Barbara Temple had birthdays the last week.

The English IV class would like to argue about whether it would rather be electricuted or put in prison for life. "Bet your tootin'."

Most of the boys seem to be envious of Louis Fulkerson's new blue sweater. It is nice.

New Books and New Worlds

May I call your attention to the most novel and fascinating display this reporter has ever seen! The seventh grade again leads the Andover High School in something new for Book Week. An ancient galley using as its sails red, white and blue covers of books. Congratulations to Miss Baker and the seventh graders. Keep up the good work!

The second, fifth and sixth grades are featuring the greatest of all real, homemade American days by the annual repitition of the story we all love to hear, "Pilgrims and the Plymouth Rock." To illustrate their ideas they are making booklets, posters, silhouettes and friezes of Pilgrims and turkeys.

Leave it to the "up and coming" fourth graders to not only try, but to do, the impossible! Yes, the impossible. They are actually writing in hieroglyphics, the ancient hand of our old Egyptians. Also, this grade, in celebration of books, made hornbooks, like the sons and daughters of pioneers used. Secretly one little girl told the reporter "quite a bit" of what they didn't know so much as we did" and the reporter almost agreed with her.

Guess Who

This is a teacher in Andover High
Who every day flashes a pretty blue eye,
Her hair is wavy and rather light,
She usually smiles on your sight.
She doesn't walk far to school each day,
A couple of blocks is the shortest way,
If yet you do not know her name,
History teaching brought her fame.

How Many Words?

The typists of Andover high who are divided into two classes, had their second speed test Thursday of last week. The test consisted of a short paragraph containing all the letters of the alphabet. It lasted for five minutes. Donald Hardy and Jean Dunham led the race in the first class with 21 words, 8 errors and 17 words, 2 errors respectively.

Dorolee Farwell, with 26 words, 6 errors, and Lucille Joyce with 16 words, 3 errors led the second class in their speed contest. On the last speed test, Nov. 18, Donald Hardy and Dolores Farwell were again the leading typists; John Ahrens and Mary Mesler ranked second in respective classes.

Movie and Radio Guide

Four Daughters—Here This Week

This week one of the most rare and perfect movies ever put forth by Warner Bros. will be presented at the Andover theatre as a special Thanksgiving treat. Wednesday and Thursday "Four Daughters" will be at our local theatre. Warner Bros. have made other great pictures such as "Robin Hood," "Anthony Adverse" and the "Life of Emile Zola" but this is entirely different. A simple story of today and of people close to you is presented in an intimate story of four young girls in love.

"Once in a blue moon" comes a picture when everything seems to click just right. "Four Daughters" is such a picture.

Action, story and direction blend as if under kindly smiles of the gods, into a natural masterpiece. The three Lane sisters, (Lola, Rosemary and Priscilla) and Gale Page are the four daughters and two new personalities are introduced. Famous from the New York stage comes John Garfield and the other new dashing personality is Jeffry Lynn, who brings the gay, romantic glamour that wins all hearts. These six stars are also supported by Dick Foran, Claude Rains, May Robson and Frank McHugh.

Friday and Saturday, "The Texans" will be at the theatre. This picture was advertised for the Andover theatre before, but it was impossible to present it at that time.

Sunday and Monday, "Stolen Heaven" a very enjoyable musical crook drama will be presented. Gene Raymond, Olympe Bradna, Lewis Stone, Glenda Farrell and Douglas Dumbrille will cmopose the cast.

Radio—

Phil Baker continues to come on at 7:30 p.m. on Sundays over WABC and now carries on the traditions with his haunter, Beette, whose name is withheld as he is more interesting than an unsolved mystery. Harry McNaughton and Agnes Moorhead are the other principals of the cast which is supported by Hal Kemp's orchestra and the 7 G's.

No matter how it is done, Lux Radio Theatre has always managed to get outstanding stars, a good script and a thoroughly entertaining show. Cecil B. DeMille is the producer and master of ceremonies of the broadcast. Everyone ought to enjoy this type of program. It also keeps you tuned in on the most current movie productions.

Just the End of Another Day

The quiet, firm hand of the law he had come to know so well these last few years, was now laying on his shoulder. Dennis turned a face that tried to be calm and cool toward the officer. A faint smile tinged his lips and faded. Today, day of all days, Thanksgiving. They could not wait even for a day, one day. His shoulders rose and fell in a shrug.

"We'd better be moving, fellow," the arm of the law said.

Dennis faced the crowd witn seeming indifference. Altho his white frame shook with resentment and anger, nothing broke the passive outline of his cheek.

"Why should they be allowed to stand and stare at me? I was once as good as they. Let them sneer and sniff. They're like vultures, flocking to see fellowmen in trouble. But—" He stalked on.

It was nearing the end now. He could hear the hushedness that fell over the crowd as the last moments drew closer. His breath grew hot and labored; his eyes seldom saw clearly. Then a steady, untroubled voice rang out over the multitude. Silence—still and nerve-racking—gathered about him. Only the "klump-klump" of his heavy feet could be heard. Dennis halted and raised his head. He would not go on! Let them try and make him! A gasp split the air as his rebellious eyes glanced up. A subdued murmur trickled thru the crowd, growing now more calm, now more excited. Dennis felt a knot of hate swelling larger and larger within him. It rose quickly, flashed to his lips and . . . .

Bill Dennis, king of Hobo Land, remarked placidly to the officer behind him: "Darn it, I don't see why you don't watch the turkey raffle too."

NAGGING BACKACHE
May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action. Don't Neglect It!

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking, exposure, contagion, alcohol, keeps doctors and hospitals busy. The after effects are disturbing to the kidneys and oftentimes people suffer without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and similar ills there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and fail to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

Symptoms of disturbed kidney function may be nagging backache, persistent headache, dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes — a feeling of nervous anxiety and lack of strength and energy. Other signs of kidney or bladder disturbance may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

In such cases people have found Doan's Pills a grateful remedy. Tell others! Doan's have helped many friends. Ask your neighbor!

THE REASON DOAN'S ARE FAMOUS
All over the country people tell grateful friends and neighbors! Be sure to get Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
