The Ohio Convention.
Columbus, July 7.—The Democratic state convention met at 2 o'clock this afternoon and organized with P. Van Trump as president. The following ticket was nominated: For governor, Gen. W. S. Rosecrans (on second ballot); for lieutenant-governor, F. G. Godfrey; for judge of the supreme court, W. G. Gilmore; for treasurer of the state, Stephen Dasher; for attorney general, Col. J. M. Connell. A series of resolutions was adopted. The first denounces exemption from tax of $2,500,000 of government bonds as unjust to the people, and opposes any appropriation for the payment of interest on the public bonds until they are made subject to taxation. The second denounces the idea that bonds bought with greenbacks, and the principal of which is by law payable in currency, should nevertheless be paid in gold; if persisted in this will force on the people the question of repudiation. The third denounces a high protective tariff as designed only in the interests of New England manufacturers and oppressive to the people, and demands its repeal and the substitution of another based upon revenue principles upon the closest possible approximation to absolute free trade. The fourth favors a limited number of hours of labor in manufacturing and liberal grants of land from the public domain to actual settlers, and opposes the donation of them to swindling rail road corporations, and pledges the Democratic party if restored to power, to reduce to practice the system of measures advocated by labor and industrial congresses. The fifth declares the attacks of Governor Hays and Lieutenant Governor Lee upon the late general assembly are false in fact, unjust in spirit and unworthy their positions. The sixth defends the general assembly in detail from the charges of extravagance. The seventh thanks the general assembly for their economical expenditure and their refusal of wholesale frauds in the erection of state buildings, whereby the people were swindled out of half a million by the negligence of Republican state officials and the dishonesty of other Republicans; declares it the right of each state to decide for itself who shall possess the elective franchise within it, and that the attempt to regulate suffrage in Ohio by the fifteenth amendment is subversive to the principles of the federal constitution. The eighth declares that the policy of the radical party tends to destroy the reserved rights of the states and convert the republic into a consolidated despotism; such despotism, whether exercised by emperor, president or congress, results fatally to liberty and good government, that such consolidation means absolute dominion of monopoly and capital. The ninth denounces the national banking system. The tenth denounces the trial of civilians in Texas by military commissions. The eleventh denounces the numerous palpable and high-handed usurpations of the party in power, their many public and private acts of tyranny, showing them to be part of despotism. The twelfth recognizes as brethren in a common cause all who will unite in rescuing the government from its present hands and pledging the support of the 250,000 Democrats in Ohio to the ticket nominated.—Each Chronicle.

The New Atlantic Cable.
The Capital Stock of the French Atlantic Cable is $6,000,000, divided into 60,000 shares. A careful survey has been made, and the enterprise, at last accounts, was attended with the most gratifying success. The cable will be landed at Duxbury Mass. It starts from Brest, France, under the Atlantic to the southern edge of "Grand Bank"; thence to the French Island of St. Pierre, off the south coast of Newfoundland, and thence down past Cape Breton Island and Nova Scotia to Boston. The length of the cable from Brest to St. Pierre will be 2,325 miles; from St. Pierre to Boston, about 722. The line will then have a length of 3,407 miles from end to end, nearly 1,200 more than the length of the Anglo-American cable.

The company that manufactured the cable also agreed to lay it down. With such an arrangement, it will be almost sure to succeed. Mistakes may occur but skill and capital will overcome them. The Great Eastern started on the 21st. Some eighteen days will be occupied by the Great Eastern on the voyage from Brest to St. Pierre. In the meantime the old steamer William Corry proceeded, early in the present month to St. Pierre to lay the shore end there, and await the Great Eastern's arrival. When the latter vessel reaches St. Pierre, she will return to England forthwith. Sir Samuel Canning, changing ships, will embark on the Scandavia, which will lay 450 miles more cable on the way to Boston. The Chiltern and her cargo will be called into requisition next, and another splice will be made. The 152 miles added will carry the cable direct into Duxbury, and the line will thus be made complete between that place and Brest.

The cable is divided into six sections, as follows:
A.—Shore end at Brest.
B.—Deep Sea Cable to Coast of St. Pierre.
C.—Western Shore end at St. Pierre.
D.—Eastern Shore end at St. Pierre.
E.—Cable to Duxbury.
The Shore ends of the cable are of course much larger and stronger than those parts which descend into deep soundings.

The cable will be spliced five times between Brest and Duxbury, exclusive of the land splices at St. Pierre.—Chat. Democrat.

BOLD THIEF.—A bold and unmitigated thief, a few nights since, in the early part of the evening, entered the residence of Mrs. Duncan S. Magee, and coolly demanded her money. Mrs. Magee, not suspecting his demand, but thinking him only a mere beggar, needing temporary relief, replied that if he wanted food or clothing he could have all he wanted. He replied that he wanted nothing of the kind, and demanded all the money she had. At once started by such a bold and unexpected operation, Mrs. Magee sent one of the family to the door, and a policeman, very fortunately passing at the time, came to the rescue, and promptly took the fellow to the lock-up. He should be sent to Auburn for the longest term possible. Thieves are getting pretty bold at Watkins, and the authorities of that village should see to it that they are promptly arrested and harshly dealt with.—Havana Republican.

Andrew Johnson, in his speech at Gallatin, Tenn., June 8, said that "both races must be enfranchised before there can be peace, security and freedom." He declared that he was not seeking for peace or enrollment, and "only asked the boon of his fellow countrymen's respect and confidence. He felt assured that the honest historian in summing up the events of the past, would do him justice."

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY.
Secretary Boutwell has taken measures to prevent all fractional currency frauds. The new issues are to be printed by the leading bank firms of New York. The American Company is to prepare the dies, engrave the plates, and print the faces of the new ten cent and fifty cent notes, and the backs of the twenty-five and fifteen cent issues. The National will do the same by the faces of the fifteen and twenty-five cent notes, and the backs of the ten cent and fifty cent notes. Each Company thus agrees as a check upon the other. The notes are then to be sent to the Treasury department and stamped. The faces of the new ten cent notes will bear a vignette of the Goddess of Liberty. The fifties are to be ornamented with Carpenter's portrait of Lincoln. The workmanship of these notes will be unsurpassed. When the bills are fairly about, we may reasonably expect that they will soon crowd out the existing fractional currency now in circulation.

The match game of base ball between the Athletics, of Brooklyn, and the Athletics, of Philadelphia, on Monday last, resulted in favor of the Athletics, 36 to 21.
A quarrelsome couple in Jersey threw their children at each other's heads until that ammunition was exhausted, when the wife booted the husband with a coffee-pot.
The Chinese in California are very skillful in counterfeiting gold dust, and succeeded in selling a good deal of the bogus article. This was once tried in Australia, but lynching stopped it.
A convict at Sing Sing Prison named Mathews was taken into the agent's house on Monday last to do some cooking, when he managed to make his escape. He has not been recaptured yet.
James Sherman, brakeman on the Hudson River Railroad, while riding on the top of a freight car, came in contact with a bridge near Monticore station and was instantly killed, his neck being broken.

The abundance of the wheat crop in Virginia has already brought down the price of flour in that State, and it is thought that the best brands of flour will be sold at from $5 to $6 per barrel.
The lager-beer dealers of Boston have formed a permanent organization, for vigorous political action, to repeal the Liquor Law, and the Germans throughout Massachusetts are invited to form local societies for the same object.
It seems to be the general impression that the Hon. Joseph E. Segas, who has been elected Congressman at large for Virginia, will not be admitted to his seat, for the reason that there is no law making provision for such election.
The Dominion Rifle Association match will take place at Toronto on the 6th of September. Over $4,000 in money are to be given in prizes. Fifteen hundred competitors are expected. The Governor-General will be present, and open the shooting.
A Troy sexton could not ring his bell, the other day. Ascending to the belfry, he discovered that all the bolts holding the bell, save one, had given way, and another turn of the bell, which weighed 4,500 pounds, would have brought it down upon him.
While the Good Templar procession was moving in Philadelphia, a ragged boy came running out of an alley, yelling at the top of his voice: "Come quick Jimmy! Here comes the rogues! Jimmy, another ragged little fellow, rushed out to the street and said: "Sogers, be—! Them is all gin'ral!"
The work still to be done on the Chenango canal extension between Binghamton and Oswego will be let this week at Syracuse. It includes all the bridge, more than thirty in number; the dam across the Susquehanna, near Binghamton; four locks and a lock-keeper's house. The top-part section at Binghamton is also to be finished next week.

Michigan features can hardly hold out long against the enormous drafts made upon them every winter. There is one man in a river, of the State, and its branch, sixty-two miles long. The lower end is in the Titabawassee river; but no one could have expected that logs should get through a river with such a crooked name without sticking.
A party of Buffalo ladies and gentlemen took a trip on the Niagara river, on the 5th of July, and were having a pleasant time when their tug struck a rock and thereafter took fire. They were obliged to land on the Canada side and come home by rail, but this inconvenience was scarcely thought of, in gratitude that they had escaped, though very narrowly, a horrible death.
There is a rock in Jacksonville, Alabama, discovered two years ago, that has plain cyphers of 1870 in large figures upon its face, and the cyphers are evidently formed there by the same hand that formed the rock; for it is plain that it is no device of man. And, equally mysterious, the discoverer was directed to it by a voice from a person that he could not see, and the voices said the cyphers were a living witness of a new era in the world's history, and of the terrible day spoken of, soon to come.
