THE ANDOVER NEWS.

HAMILTON C. NORRIS, EDITOR

ANDOVER, N. Y., JUNE 24, 1891.

The World's Fair begins to materialize, and the first exhibit is already upon the ground. It is a pine tree 113 feet in length and 52 inches in diameter, from Seattle, Washington.

A remarkable statement comes from the Commissioner of Pensions at Washington, viz., that the aggregate payments for pensions during the present fiscal year will not reach the total appropriation for that purpose by something like $9,800,000. This is the first year since the war in which pension payments have not exceeded the annual appropriation.

The population of the agricultural districts is less than it was ten years, the gains having been made in the towns and cities. But the mortgage indebtedness is increasing at the rate of $8,500,000 per year, and the loss in farm values since 1880 is estimated at $200,000,000, or an average of $7 per acre for the single state of Ohio. There are states where the proportion shows a still worse condition of affairs.

The four strongest Alliance States have good reason to be merry over their crops this year. In South Dakota, Chairman Mitchell has "never seen as good prospects for rousing crops;" in Minnesota, "the outlook is favorable for an immense crops of all kinds; "in Kansas, "the crops are the most promising in the history of the State," and in Nebraska "the grain crops are sure to be unusually heavy." Truly it is a fine thing to be a farmer out West this blooming and bounteous year.

A Circus Clown's Sermon.

The Occident publises the following, as the searching sermon of a circus clown, said to have been delivered at the close of the usual ring performance in a crowded tent in Virginia: "We have taken in $600 here to-day—more than most ministers of the gospel receive for a whole year's service. A large postion of this money was given by church members, and a large portion of this audience is made up of the members of the church. And yet, when your preacher asks you to aid him in suproting the gospel, you are too poor to give anything. But you come here and pay dollars to hear me talk nonsense. I am a fool because I am paid for it; I make my living by it. You profess to be wise yet you support me in my folly. Now, isn't this a pretty place for Christians to be in? Don't you feel ashamed of yourselves? You ought to.

Cheese and Butter Market.

UTICA, June 22.—Transactions on the board of trade to-day were as follows: Cheese—300 boxes at 7¾c; 7,390 boxes at 7⅞c; 1,160 boxes at 8c; 991 boxes at 8⅛c; 2,480 boxes at 8¼c; 480 boxes at 8⅜c; 570 boxes at 8½; 814 boxes on commission. Butter—Seventy packages creamery at 17@20c.

At Little Falls the sales were: Cheese—3,480 boxes at 7¾c; 3,360 boxes at 8c; 185 boxes on private terms; 970 boxes on commission; 815 dairy at 6½@8c; Butter—43 packages dairy at 17@17½c; 21 packages creamery at 16@18c.

Last Sunday's Buffalo Express contained an excellent portrait of ex-Judge Seymour Dexter of Elmira. Accompanying it was the following: "The Hon. Seymour Dexter of Elmira, who has for the past year presided over the destines of the State League of Savings and Building Loan associations, long has been interested in that form of co-operation. He is president of one of the largest loan associations in Elmira and is author of one of the handiest books, a treatice on co-operative savings and loan associations. He has given much time and attention to the work of the State League, and has been connected with it officially since its formation."

The Devil.

It is an old story of the Scotch Presbyterian who said: "That the devil is bad you can tell by his very name; for you take away the d, it is evil, and take away the de it is vile, and take away the dev it is ill, so that he is an ill, vile, evil devil."

INDEPENDENCE NEWS.

Rain, rain, rain! Glorious rain at last, and plenty of it.

There was no meeting at the S. D. B. church here Saturday, as the pastor was absent.

J. D. Jacobs of Whitesville, was a pleasant caller at the home of your reporter Sunday.

Uncle Maxson Stillman of Alfred Centre, who is over ninety years of age, recently visited friends in town.

Elders Kenyon and Clarke went to Alfred last week Wednesday to attend the S. D. B. Association.

Comrade Henry C. Coleman of Alfred Centre, was in town the first of last week.

Mr. John Horton, druggist, of Buffalo, a Whitesville boy, is visiting his mother and other friends in town.

Mrs. A. L. Hazeltine, son Fred and grandson Jesse, of Alfred Centre, are guests of your reporter's family for a few days.

The Alliance pic-nic at Whitesville Saturday, was well attended and a good time is reported. I am informed that Mr. Ralph Beaumont of Washington, D. C., was the speaker, and made a pretty smart speech.

It is reported that tramps broke into the unoccupied house belonging to Mr. Henry Coleman early last week, and that Comrade Coleman offers $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of the offenders.

Geraldine, wife of Mr. Asa Graves of Whitesville, died of apoplexy last week Monday, and the funeral was held Wednesday. She leaves her mother, one sister, Mrs. S. G. Crandall, a devoted husband and a daughter five or six years old, and besides hosts of friends and relatives, to mourn her sudden taking off. SOME GUMPTION.

WHITESVILLE NEWS.

We are in receipt of a beautiful rain, for which we are very thankful.

The Alliance mass meeting Saturday was well attended, considering that it looked like rain in the forenoon. The speaking was very good. Ralph Beaumont, the union labor organizer, and lawyer B. C. White, of Whitesville, were the speakers.

The funeral of Mrs. A. M. Graves was held at the M. E. church last Wednesday.

The Ladies Hive of the K. O. T. M was organized here a short time ago with 22 charter members.

Mrs. A. D. Howe leaves to-day for a few weeks visit among friends in Mansfield, Pa.

Among the many things that Whitesville wants is a railroad and, last but not least, we want natural gas for fuel and light. We think it might pay some company to interest themselves in these matters. We have one of the best systems of water works in the state, which is well patronized. Give us gas and we will do likewise.

The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church will serve ice cream and strawberries at the M. E. parsonage on July 4.

Alliance Pic-Nic.

The West Greenwood Farmers' Alliance will hold a pic-nic in R. A. Pease's grove, about four miles from Andover on the Greenwood road, on Friday afternoon of this week. J. F. Murray, the county lecturer of Steuben county, is expected to be present. Those who attend will be sure of an enjoyable and profitable time.

There cannot be a better daily newspaper than the Buffalo Express in this age of the world, for the simple but sufficient reason that the Express has control of every news facility there is. It is a member of all the news collecting associations, and it has special correspondents everywhere. While it is a physical impossibility for any one newspaper to print all the news, the Buffalo Express contains as much news as any paper in the world.

Painting the town red means headache in the morning. Simmons' Liver Regulator prevents it.

We saw a postal card the other day upon which a one-cent stamp had been carefully stuck. The card was addressed to The Educator, Buffalo, N. Y.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Written from Andover—Strong Testimonial for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

ANDOVER, N. Y., May 2, 1891.

DR. KILMER:

Dear Sir: I thought I would write you a few lines and tell you how much we think of your remedies. About three years ago my husband commenced to fail very rapidly with kidney trouble. He lost his appetite and became so weak that the least exertion would cause him to lie down. He could scarcely walk. He doctored with all the local physicians here, but without getting any relief. He gave up and said that he could not live three months. One day we received one of your "Guides to Health" through the mail, and I persuaded him to get a bottle of your Swamp Root and try it. Before he had taken the whole of the first bottle we could see a change for the better. He kept up the treatment for some time, until he was able to do considerable work, and to-day he is so much improved that it is not necessary for him to take the medicine all the time, and he can walk a mile and a half to the village and back.

We have also tried your Indian Cough Cure, and never found anything that could beat it. I noticed in our "Guide to Health" that you would send six beautiful cards and a picture of yourself. We would be very glad to get your picture, as we are certain he would have been in his grave, if it had not been for your Swamp Root. We recommend your medicines everychance we get.

MRS. D. B. LEE.

THE ANDOVER NEWS.

The Methodists of Wellsville will erect a new house of worship at a cost of $10,000.

The Equitable Life Assurance company wrote upwards of $80,000,000 of new insurance during the first three months of 1891.

E. O. Rogers, proprietor of the "only great" Pacific shows, was arrested in Sherman the other day for carrying on a gambling business. He settled.

The man who went to the opera house last Friday night to attend the band entertainment doesn't take the NEWS. If he did he would have known the entertainment had been declared off.

At its recent commencement on June 11th, the University of the city of New York conferred the degree of Doctor of Philosophy upon Rev. James a Miller, pastor-elect of the Angelica Presbyterian church.

O. M. Rogers, assistant inspector of G. A. R. Posts, of Alfred Centre, inspected Seaman Post of this place last Saturday evening. Mr. Rogers is a member of B. F. Maxson Post of Alfred Centre, and was accompanied by J. F. Langworthy, commander of the latter named post.

Mr. Daniel Redmon is the new President of the Canisteo Academy Alumni. He is a graduate of the class of '84. In 1889 he graduated from Westminster College, and next May graduates from the Union Theological Seminary. He is at present assistant pastor of Dewitt Memorial church in New York City, a position created for him.

During the storm of last week Tuesday, which extended pretty generally over Allegany county, the Methodist church at Angelica was struck by lightning. The spire was badly wrecked and the windows broken, while inside the church the plaster was stripped from the walls and much of the furniture injured. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars. At Friendship the Baptist church was struck and damage amounting to four or five hundred dollars was done to the spire. The interior of the edifice was not materially injured.

Mr. W. C. Phillips of Jamestown, N. Y., has opened a large steam feather renovator in Clair & Son's house on Dyke street. Anyone wishing any beds or pillows renovated are invited to call or drop him a line. W. C. Phillips, Andover.

COMMENCEMENT.

Interesting Exercises Tuesday at the Opera House.

It is seldom that Prest's opera house is not large enough to contain the people who desire to attend any public entertainment that may be held there, with plenty of room to spare. The exceptions are usually upon the occasions of holding the Commencement and Graduating exercises of Andover Union school, and yesterday was one of those occasions. The large hall was so closely packed that many found the jam uncomfortable. But this was soon forgotten in the interest taken in the exercises.

At ten minutes after two o'clock yesterday afternoon the largest graduating class in the history of this school took seats upon the stage, which was handsomely decorated with flowers and evergreens, and at the front of which was hung in large white letters the class motto, "Loyal in Everything." The opening song, Where the Sparkling Waters Play, was sung by the school, after which Rev. G. W. Gibson invoked the divine blessing. The following program was then rendered:

Song—The Mosquito.....B Primary
Declamation—A Boy's Relief...Clifford Vars
Song.....Samuel and Edward Joyce
Drill.....Intermediate
Song—The Summer Day sare Coming..School
Recitation—Our Lost Tommy...Elsie Green
Song—Like the Lark..... { Anna Parshal / Sylvia Hardy
Recitation—A Little Dot.....Ethel Proper
Play of the Seasons.....A Primary
Chorus—Moonlight on the Lake.

The little ones all deserve special mention for the almost perfect manner in which they took their parts. Those which perhaps received most favorable comment were Elsie Green in her recitation of "Our Lost Tommy," describing how her little brother was lost and found; Clifford Vars, in his declamation "A Boy's Relief," telling why he didn't think his grandfather was right in saying that boy's younger days were the happiest; and Ethel Proper in her recitation, "A Little Dot," informing her dolly of all she would have to pass through before she could be a "great big girl" like herself. Sammy and Eddie Joyce are always pleasing in their songs, and this time they had to sing the second time. The other portions of the program were deserving of and received much praise.

Next came the original efforts of the members of the graduating class.

MISS JENNIE L. COMSTOCK delivered the salutatory, in which she welcomed the parents, friends, and all present to the graduating exercises, in a manner most pleasing. She also read an essay entitled "The Voyage of Life," which gave evidence of careful preparation and which was pronounced an admirable paper.

TIMOTHY J. REGAN delivered an oration, taking for his subject the life and work of Wm. T. Sherman. He paid a just tribute to the deeds of the great general, and delivered his oration in a style that was highly creditable to himself and greatly pleasing to the audience.

DANIEL S. MCGINTY took "Round by Round" for the subject of his oration, and it is no discredit to the other members of the class to say that his was the most practical address of the day. It contained the lesson which all must learn sooner or later, that no one can reach the top round of the ladder at a single step, but must work patiently and diligently, ascending round by round until the top is reached.

MISS MARGUERITE MCANDREW read an essay upon the "Necessity of Self Government," which was full of excellent thoughts expressed in a pleasing manner.

Miss Jennie Comstock then sang a solo entitled "Welcome, Primrose Flower," which was well rendered and highly pleasing.

JOHN N. BOYD delivered an oration upon "Justice to the Indians," in which he made a plea for better treatment of the red men, giving facts to prove that they had not been fairly dealt with at any time since the discovery of America.

MISS MINNIE B. HALL read an essay upon "What Constitutes Success." Her essay was practical, well written and well read, and contained many suggestions of value to all.

MISS MARY SNYDER took "Stepping Stones" for the subject of her essay, making a comparison between crossing a small stream of water by making use of the stones lying at the bottom and the journey of life, showing the necessity of choosing the broad solid stones of honesty, virtue and loyalty instead of the loose rolling stones always to be found along the pathway. Her essay was well composed and appropriate.

FREDERICK S. POTTER spoke of "National Growth," and his oration was a review of the great prosperity and growth of America during the last century, citing a few of the many things accomplished by men of brains and ambition. His effort was instructive and interesting.

Misses Jennie C Comstock and Mary Cannon then sang "Murmuring Sea" in a manner which did not fail to please the large audience.

MISS NANCY B. RAPLEE read an essay entitled "A Noble Life," in which she paid tribute to the high achievements and noble qualities of Benjamin Franklin. Her essay was good, and contained much that was of interest concerning the great benefactor of those who live after him.

RAYMOND E. SMITH delivered an oration upon "Public Opinion," showing that there is an element stronger than legislation in governing individuals, and which cannot be overridden or thrust aside. He showed that public opinion is only the concentrated opinion of many individuals, and made a plea for raising the standard of the former by the efforts and deeds of the individual. His oration was a success and received deserved commendation.

MISS MARY T. CANNON took the class motto, "Loyal in Everything," for the subject of her essay, and read a well prepared paper upon the benefits derived by ourselves and others by being loyal to whatever we undertake and in whatever position we may be placed. She compared the loyalty of Washington to the treachery of Benedict Arnold, showing the result of both. Her essay was admirable in thought and expression.

JESSE S. PHILLIPS delivered an oration upon "Educational Progress." He compared the educational facilities of the present with those of the past and made a showing most favorable relative to the progress made, and advantages secured by pupils of the present day. His oration was a masterly production, and its delivery was almost faultless. It is safe to say that no graduate of Andover Union School has ever made a more commendable effort on Commencement Day than did Jesse S. Phillips. He was also accorded the distinction of being elected valedictorian of the class, and his remarks to the audience, to his teachers and classmates showed that the honor had been worthily bestowed, and the duties of the position well performed.

Before closing his remarks he presented to Prof. Mitchell, in behalf of the higher department of the school, a large, handsome engraving, elegantly framed. The Professer thanked the donors in a few words, feelingly spoken, after which he presented the graduates with their diplomas. The class song entitled "Adieu" was then sung, and the audience dismissed.

The Alumni Banquet.

The Alumni Association of the Andover Union School held their banquet at Prest's opera house Tuesday evening. Upwards of fifty persons were present, consisting of the resident members of the Association, including the graduates of '91, and a few friends. The first thing to demand attention was the election of officers for the next year, which resulted in the choice of the following: President, Mrs. F. S. Clark; Vice President, Edward Hardy; Secretary, Helen Brainard; Treasurer, Raymond Smith. After this had been disposed of the members and the guests were seated at the tables and were served to a most bounteous and well-prepared repast, which was partaken of with great zest and accompanied with most pleasant conversation and general good humor. After the good things had been disposed of the toastmistress, Mrs. F. E. Comstock, took the floor and announced that instead of assigning a different subject for each speaker, it had been decided that the same subject should be used for all the toasts, and they should consist of as much information concerning the absent members of the Alumni as could be conveniently obtained. Each year's class was to be represented by a member of the same, who would endeavor to present facts and incidents relative to his or her classmates. The result proved that a better plan could not have been devised for the entertainment of the company. Beginning with the class of '75 the toast-mistress called upon the representatives of each class in turn down to the class of '91, and the responses not only showed that the work was placed in good hands, but it tended also to unite the members in bonds of fraternal love and turned back memory's page to those happy scenes which come not again forever. A small number of the classes had no representative, and while many members of the Alumni had drifted far from their alma mater, it was announced that so far as is known death had broken the circle only in one instance.

The toasts were interspersed with fine music, vocal and instrumental.

It was late when the banquet hall was deserted, and the occasion was one which cannot be forgotten, and will be remembered as one of the most enjoyable affairs of the kind ever attended by those present.

McTighe-Hubertus.

Mr. Michal McTighe of Andover and Miss Flora Hubertus of Dansville were married at the latter named place Tuesday morning, June 23, 1891, by Rev. Father Day of Dansville. Mr. J. E. Cannon of this place was best man, Miss Lizzie Hubertus was maid of honor, and Miss Fischer of Rochester was bridesmaid. After the ceremony the newly married pair left for a trip to New York, Albany, Washington and points in Connecticut. They expect to be absent about three weeks, when they will return to Andover, where they will make their future home. The presents are reported as being very numerous and fine, among them being a parlor suite and piano. The bride is one of Dansville's most popular young ladies, the daughter of Mr. H. Hubertus of that place. Mr. McTighe is one of Andover's most respected and successful business men, being a member of the firm of T. and M. McTighe. When the happy couple return to Andover they will be welcomed with open hearts, and will receive the best wishes of all for their future happiness.
