

WELLSVILLE CORRESPONDENCE

WELLSVILLE, July 12, 1869.
Mr. Editor.—It seems that my letter of June the 26th has produced a sensation; I trust that its influence will be for the good that I desired.

PARDEE, Kansas, June 30.
Mr. Editor.—After sojourning in this State for eleven months, allow me to give the readers of The Advertiser a sketch of the country.

The soil on the uplands or mounds is alluvial, and varies from one to two feet in depth, and is adapted to raising wheat and growing fruit.

In about an hour's ride south by rail we arrive at Kansas City, in Missouri. It is situated on a high rocky bluff, and so built as to give it a very picturesque appearance.

Fort Scott is but a small town, but its locality makes it the Mecca of the Southwest to the great emigrating class of that country.

Stouven county.
The good temples of Bath cleared about $180 by their festival on the 4th. They intend to fit up a new hall—so says the Advocate.

There is a case of varicoid in Fredonia.
A boot manufactory has been established in Dunkirk.
Elder Wheelock of Fredonia has had a cancer safely removed from his face.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The Advertiser, having been restored to health in a few weeks by a very simple remedy, after having suffered several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease, Consumption is anxious to make known to his fellow-sufferers the means of cure.

Mr. Editor.—After sojourning in this State for eleven months, allow me to give the readers of The Advertiser a sketch of the country.

Errors of Youth.
A gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature Decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple remedy by the advertiser's experience, can do nothing to his credit, as it will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing.
