Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.

Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself, although we may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. This remedy is also used by physicians in the treatment of pneumonia with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing it in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by O. E. Vars & Son, Andover, N. E. Coston's, Greenwood.

Former U. S. Senator Edward O Wolcott is dead in Italy. He was a typical figure of the progressive spirit and push of the West, lived in Denver and as an orator, astute politician and statesman had an enviable reputation throughout the country. He was a lineal descendant of the early New England colonists.

The organization of a commission for judicially condemning lands needed for the Panama Canal marks the beginning of a rational era in that undertaking. In the old days the Colombian authorities gave some fearful and wonderful awards when Frenchmen wanted land for canal purposes. Any bit of swamp or hill that lay in the path of the canal was better than a gold mine to its happy possessor. Now there is a prospect of fair dealing, with no "graft."

"See Paris and die" is a saying that needs revision. It appears that it is very costly to die in Paris, owing to the high price of official red tape of various kinds, and hence the American consul general in Paris has sent the following advice to his fellow countrymen: "Whatever else you attempt in Paris, never try to die here."

A writer in a current medical journal asserts that persons who sleep with their mouths closed enjoy better health than others. But why limit the practice to our sleeping hours?

7 KILLED AND 40 INJURED.

Two Inauguration Trains Meet in Rear End Collision.

Pittsburg, Pa.—On their way to Washington to join in the inauguration of President Roosevelt, 7 persons were killed and about 40 injured in a rear end collision between two sections of a special passenger train from Cleveland on the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Clifton Station, eight miles west of this city.

The wreck occurred at 7 o'clock on Friday night on the bank of the Ohio River. Most of the passengers were at the windows enjoying the scenery, when there was a heavy bump, which seemed to lift both trains off the track. Passengers were hurled from their seats and both trains came to a sudden halt.

Soon after the crash three of the cars of the first train took fire. As most of the injured were under the first and second cars, their suffering must have been terrible. Men with crushed limbs were begging piteously to be saved from the flames, and many of them were mortally burned before they were rescued.

As most of the victims of the wreck were members of the Royal Battalion Engineers, the grief among their fellow members was pitiable. Two hundred strong, they had started out at 1 o'clock to enjoy what they expected would be the time of their lives. They were to have taken part in the parade, and some of them also intended to be at the inauguration ball. Then came the terrible crash, and the joy of a moment before was changed to the most poignant grief.

Only one man of the entire battalion of engineers was uninjured. He was Captain Charles E. Pope, and he will be in charge of those who are able to go back to Cleveland. The roll call of the Tippecanoe Club showed that two members were missing. The members of this club continued on their way to Washington.

The engineer of the second train said that the block signals showed a green light and that his train was going at the rate of fifty miles an hour when the impact came. The engine plowed its way through the rear Pullman, in which most of the officers of the battalion were.

Not Paul Jones' Coffin.

Paris.—The coffin discovered in the old Protestant cemetery, which, it was hoped, contained the remains of Paul Jones, search for which is being made under the auspices of General Porter, the American Ambassador, turned out to contain the remains of an English pastor, buried two years before the death of Paul Jones. The fact was ascertained when the almost illegible name-plate on the coffin was deciphered by an expert of the Louvre Museum.

Cordova to Plead Guilty.

New Brunswick, N. J.—The Rev. J F. Cordova, formly pastor of a church at South River, who is in jail here because of his second elopement with Julia Bowne, his organist, sent word to Prosecutor Berdine that he would plead guilty to any charge made against him. The young woman remains in jail, although her father at two conferences pleaded with her to accept bail and return home. She insists that she will not forsake the clergyman.

Offers Farm to Uncle Sam.

Indianapolis.—Henry Wallace, son of the late Gen. Lew Wallace, has written Representative Charles Landis on behalf of himself and his mother, offering "Water Bubble," Gen. Wallace's country place, to the U. S. Government for a fish hatchery. The farm contains several large artificial lakes, a keeper's lodge and hatchery equipment.

The Good Old Way.

A severe cold or attack of la grippe is like a fire, the sooner you combat it the better your chances are to overpower it. But few mothers in this age are willing to do the nece sary work required to give a good old-fashioned reliable treatment such as would be administered by their grandmothers, backed by Boschee's German Syrup, which was always liberally used in connection with the home treatment of colds and is still in greater household favor than any known remedy. But even without the application of the old-fashioned aids German Syrup will cure a severe cold in quick time. It will cure colds in children or grown people. It relieves the congested organs, allays the irritation, and effectively stops the cough. Any child will take it. It is invaluable in a household of children. Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

We will send you a sample free.
Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
