As the time approaches for the fall caucus of the political parties there is some speculation and perhaps wire pulling to determine who shall be the nominees for the town offices. There is need that very great care be exercised in the choice of men, for while it may seem of little moment, strength in the town nominations will add much strength to the county ticket and there are many evidences that there is need of just that strength. A strong man, one who has been prominent in party work, would undoubtedly be accepted ble to all the people. A man placed in position for office, not as a reward for party service, but because in every particular he is the best fitted and the best available for the position. A man who will have a determined mind and who will do the thing right and the right thing without orders from any men or set of men This is not to be taken as against organizations, for organized politics is a product of our political system and has been proven again and again to be the better for party and for people, but no organization can be, or has a right to seek to be conscience or dictator for the people. Thus, it strength and confidence is to be maintained such men as outlined above should under all circumstances have the first consideration and given preferences above all others. So then at the caucus, there should be, as there undoubtedly will be, a free expression and if the voters will they may be above all of the "You tickle me and I'll tickle you policy" that is apt often to control actions and even votes. There is, we have said, much need for just such action because the hand placed on the public pulse tells of the feverish condition of the patient and a strong tonic of action is often necessary for the patient's recovery. So there will undoubtedly be freedom but there should also be men free and fit for the best service to the town constituency nominated, and they will not only bring credit to themselves and their party but also to wise and astute leaders.

Fall; Things Political.

The Mormon Octupus

Strange as it may seem the most bitter foe and strongest agitator against the Mormon hierarchy is a daily paper published in Salt Lake City and owned we think, if not controlled, by men of the Mormon church. Not only have they assailed the principles and teachings of the church, but they have accused the head of the church of deceit and dishonesty. The latest, according to the Democrat and Chronicle, effusion of Joseph F. Smith, president of the church of the Latter Day Saints, follows:

"The members of the Protestant Ministerial Association of Salt Lake City, a little clique of un-Christian ministers, who spend one day in seven preaching the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule, and the remaining six in bearing false witness against their neighbor and stirring up strife and hatred against them."

The Salt Lake Tribune takes up this statement and stands by the pure minded, self sacrificing men and then further declares:

"The men who preach Christianity from the Protestant and Catholic pulpits of Salt Lake receive less pay from their churches than do the members of the Mormon hierarchy. They live more abstemious lives. They live the law of God with regard to women more closely than do the members of the Mormon hierarchy. They practice more nearly what they preach than do the members of the Mormon hierarchy. Tell any one of them where he has borne false witness and he will at once attempt to right the wrong. Instead of stirring up strife they all seek to make peace among mankind."

The question arises how long are the pure people of the United States going to allow such defamation of the Christian church to continue. The same article declares that eleven children have been borne to Smith by five wives since he solemly pledged himself to abandon polygamy. That's the kind of a man that charges the Christian church with falsehood and by his side as right hand man is another person elected to the United States Senate, who if he does not practice polygamy countenances it, and has openly said that he would support the church as against the United States. Isn't it time that question was settled? What has become of the question? Will all the testimony taken in the Smoot case go for naught? Is Mormonism so strongly intrenched politically that it cannot be remove? Utah, and not only Utah but adjoining states, should be protected from the growth of that vile and treasonable system that calls itself a religion. Congress has a duty to perform and if the demand is made strong enough the next session of Congress will see action taken to free this country from the terrible blight and curse of Mormonism.

The 6ist of It All.

A large number of people have been surprised at the steady increase in the growth of Andover's industries and the consequent benefits that have come to Andover therefrom and have asked how it all came about. Well the gist of the whole matter is that there were and are public spirited men who were not tinctured with the spirit of fear but willingly gave time and money that brought things to pass. On the other hand they carefully investigated and did business with men capable and upright who brought to Andover in their business not only those qualities but also business sagacity and prudence. The result is industries in Andover that not only give employment and create business but also furnish investment for a limited amount of capital at a fair return. Two years have proven the fact that those men are capable and now when they are contemplating the increase of their business there should be no hesitancy in providing the capital so long as the investment looks as safe as it does now. There is another word that might be written, i. e. No other industry should be encouraged to locate here that will require a large outlay of capital until those that are here have had every opportunity offered them in the way of advancement. In a few years under present conditions both of the industries promise to be doing double, if not more, than they are doing at present and certainly will mean much to our village. And thru other mediums Andover is receiving advertising benefits that will count much in her future growth. So that, while we are looking for investment, the best will be to invest funds individually and otherwise in beautifying our village, extending the good sidewalks, giving plenty of good lights on our streets, pave Main street with a brick pavement. Can't be done, you say, too expensive, we'll not think of this. It might cost $50,000 but what if it did? The interest and cost in a few years would be repaid for it costs now $600 a year to keep the streets in repair. The gist of the whole matter is that, when these things are done Andover will be an attractive place and permanent residents will be of that class which are valuable to any community.

NEW REGULATION.

Rural Delivery Boxes Are Hereafter to be Designated by Numbers.

A new feature is to be introduced for public convenience and to facilitate a more accurate handling of mail on the rural delivery routes. The order has just been received by the postmaster, which decides that each rural mail box in use on a route, which under the regulations of the department, is entitled to service, shall be designated by number instead of name and the delivery by rural carriers of ordinary mail matter of all classes addressed to such boxes by number alone is authorized as long as improper and unlawful business is not conducted thereby.

The boxes will be reviewed by the carriers at once, and when lists of boxes eligible to numbering have been prepared, each box owner will be informed of the official number and requested at once to have the number legibly and durably inscribed in a conspicuous place on the outside of the box. The numbers will be assigned to boxes commencing with No. 1 on each route, which shall pertain to the first rural box reached by carrier after leaving the office, and so on in sequence to the end of the route.

The new order also provides that non-approved boxes erected prior to October 1902, and approved boxes, both of which classes when found to be safe, weather proof and fit receptacles for mail are entitled to numbers. Boxes not conforming to the above requirements will have to be replaced with approved boxes before numbers can be assigned.

SMITH & CHEESMAN

Driver Wept at the Motorman's Criticism.

Weeping bitterly because a street-car collided with a bakery wagon he was driving, A. Bader was asked this afternoon by Acting Police Captain Speyer what was the matter.

"That motorman said I don't know anything about driving," he sobbed.

Bader insisted that he was "senseless, clean out and didn't know anything and couldn't say a word." Overcome by the ridiculous part of the affair, the officer began to laugh, with the result that Bader's grief became so poignant as to throw him into convulsions, which it took him some time to soothe.

Motorman L. H. Thompson reversed the power but could not avoid the collision as the car slipped along the track. Several windows of the car were smashed and two spokes in the wagon wheel were broken by the collision.—Portland Journal.

Most Popular of All.

On Sunday, October 1st, the New York & Pennsylvania Ry. will run one more of their popular excursions to Riverhurst, Olean, Rock City and Bradford.

Bought Too Much.

Burt N. Y. has had it's paint experience.

Mr. D. Brookins, contractor, bought 18 gallons Devoe for 3 houses; returned 6 gallons.

That shows what it's worth, so far as covering goes: a half more than common paint. About half the houses in Burt are painted Devoe; the other half will be, as soon as they need paint.

SOUTH HILL.

The August Oil Co. shot their No. 1 on the V. G. Graves farm last Monday. The well responded to the shot in fine shape and is showing for a good well.

Atwood & McEwen are rigging up on the Mingus farm for their No. 2 gas well.

Among those from a distance who witnessed the shooting of the well on the V. G. Graves farm Monday were Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Lanphear of Tip Top, Mr. and Mrs. Colton of Adams Centre, N. Y., C. F. Smith of Wellsville and his three sisters of Owego, N. Y.

J. B. Phillips of Warren, Pa., was on the Hill one day last week and located his No. 10 on the Hunt lease.

The Mutual Gas Co. has a fishing job at their No. 1 on the C. S. Clark lease.

The August Oil Co. have made a location for their No. 5 on the V. G. Graves farm.

The Andover Oil Co. has made the location for their No. 3 on the E. M. Livermore farm and are putting lumber and timber on the ground for the rig.

The E. G. & F. Co. of Wellsville are delayed by a fishing job at their No. 5 on the Wm. Briggs farm.

Fornese Bros. of Allegany, N. Y., are putting another string of tools in this field as they are not able to keep up with their contracts with one string of tools.

The recent advance of 19c in the oil market is making the producers smile and will have the effect of causing much drilling to be done here this fall.

Fornese Bros. are drilling a well for Atwood & Co. on the M. Sheilds farm in the Indian Creek district.

J. C. McAndrew is moving the rig on the No. 10, Hunt lease. We understand he has contracts for 3 other rigs to be built as soon as possible in different parts of the field.

THE LUCY STONE CLUB.

First Meeting of the Year at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cannon.—Over 100 Members.

Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Cannon welcomed the members of the Lucy Stone Club to their pleasant home on Greenwood street, the occasion being the Annual Club Tea, which was served later in the parlors of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The Club have a membership of over one hundred this year, and it was a pretty sight as, lead by the president, Mrs. H. B. Burrows, they entered the dining room, where after singing the doxology they were seated at the tables and nicely served a dainty supper by the young ladies.

The Young Peoples Orchestra, lead by Fay Bloss, furnished excellent music throughout the serving of refreshments, which added much to the enjoyment of the company.

After tea, the guests returned to the house, which was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, and a delightful evening passed. First came the initiatory ceremonies to the new members who, after having passed through these mysterious rights must surely prove loyal to the cause. A word forming contest was one of the features of the evening, also a musical program which brought forward some surprising gifts in that art among the members.

The year books giving the program and work for 1905-6 were distributed, and announcement made of the result of the membership contest and a prize of the Woman's Journal for the year was given Mrs. Edith Synder, the captain securing the larger number, by the president, Mrs. Burrows.

At the close of the evening the company dispersed, each and all voting, Mr. and Mrs. Cannon as proving themselves ideal host and hostess and the first meeting of the Lucy Stone Club for the year a complete success.

Mrs. D. L. Langworthy was visiting Mrs. B. S. Baker last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Lanphear and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Colton, were visiting Mrs. A. Z. Langworthy last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs N. M. Lanphear attended church at Alfred Saturday.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Lanphear, accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Colton of Jefferson Co., drove to the farm of V. G. Graves in Fulmer Valley where they were nicely entertained with music etc., while waiting to witness the shooting of well No. 4 on said farm. They report the sight very instructive and enjoyable. Before returning, thru the kindness of Mrs. A. M. Mingus they were served refreshments in her pleasant home. People of Owego, Wellsville and the surrounding country witnessed the shooting.
