In Saving Money, the Start is a Very Important Part

When the habit of saving money is once firmly rooted, the results of saving will manifest themselves. Many persons say it is no use to start an account at the bank, because they can save so little. Because they can save so little, you ought to be the more anxious to save. By persevering you will presently be surprised at the amount of your savings.

A bank account is a great help to the saver. It puts system into his saving.

Small Fire Saturday

For the first time in many a day the alarm of fire was given Saturday afternoon and Citizen's Hose Co., lost no time in reaching it even tho unaccustomed to the work. The fire was in the tenement house on the lane just off of Third Street, owned by Mrs. Laverty. It was practically under control before the department arrived by the use of the Stamping Co's Chemical extinguisher. The run to the fire, of nearly a mile, was a hard one for many of the company.

I.O.O.F. AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Union Service Sunday Evening. Odd Fellows and Rebekah's Attend in Bodies.

A congregation that filled the seating capacity and necessitated the bringing in of chairs, greeted the pastors of the churches in the union meeting at the Baptist church last Sunday evening. It was Odd Fellows night and Andover lodges of Odd Fellows and Rebekah's were present in large numbers. The choir rendered the selections with usual merrit and the duet by Mrs. Maud Prest and Miss Minnie Clair elicited much favorable comment. Rev. Gaylord H. Patterson of the M. E. church read the scripture lesson from 1 Sam. 20:11-23 and Rev. H. D. Bacon of the Presbyterian church offered the prayer. The discourse by the pastor of the church, Rev. Chas. H. Harrington, was practical and helpful and retained the closest attention of the large audience. It was delivered with characteristic earnestness and the descriptions were presented in usual graphic style. Mr. Harrington, after words of greeting to the organizations, took his text from Mark, 8:18-20—"Whatsoever thing from without entereth into a man, it cannot defile him.... That which cometh out of a man, that defileth the man." He said in part. "I have a picture in my mind. It's from the time of my boyhood days. I fancy I can see the room and the broad old-fashioned mahogany frame which contained the certificate of membership of my grandfather in an Odd Fellows' lodge. There is the bed. Upon it a man lying surrounded by his loved ones evidently saying good-bye, being administered to by a brother. That's my idea of Odd Fellowship, that great benevolent organization founded in Manchester, England in 1812—this country in 1810 knew first of Odd Fellowship and in 1819 Baltimore, Maryland grand lodge was organized and the order quickly grew into the great fraternity it now is, whose object is "Visit the sick, relieve the distressed, bury the dead and educate the orphan." Grips and passwords may unite in the brotherhood but no organization is greater than it's individual members therefore" said he, "I wish to speak to you as individuals. We sometimes speak as if sheer altruism was only law to be obeyed. We make the law read, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor and not thyself, while the divine law reads, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself" and human progress depends much in a preservation of a balance between self-love and social love.

I. Each soul is a centre of it's own world. Scientists tell us each eye is a centre of its own horizon—every soul sees it's own world. The child from his standpoint, the man from his. Saul, Jonnathan, and David, from the lesson read, each saw the world from a different standpoint and individualism is strongly noted in the Bible. The great teacher said, (I wish I could say it as He said it. I wonder how He spoke. I wish I had heard the sound of His voice. I think I can picture Him when He said) "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" The whole world is your world. Are you a student? Perhaps literature

SUFFRAGE CONTEST

Miss Lizzie Horan and Miss Bertha Barney Awarded Prizes

The second annual Anthony Woman's Suffrage contest held Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Lucy Stone Club drew a large audience at the Baptist church Wednesday evening.

Six members of Andover High school participated in the contest each having excellent papers. The judges informed the News that it was with difficulty that their decision was reached. After a thoro review of the papers upon the merrits of the arguments advanced, each being given full credit for every point clearly made they found a difference of but three counts in favor of any contestant and to choose a second prize winner required much study on the part of the judges. The prizes were awarded as follows;

First Prize Miss Lizzie Horan,

Second Prize Miss Bertha Barney.

The reading of the essays was interspersed with vocal and instrumental music, making a very interesting entertainment. Next week the News will publish Miss Horan's paper.

CALL FOR CONVENTION

The Allegany County Political Equality Association Will Hold its 13th Annual Convention May 2, 1907, in Scio, New York.

The friends of equal rights feel that the present time shows much actual accomplishment in the field of their endeavor, and is also rich in the promise of a greater future. This is indicated by the formation of Suffrage Associations in Russia, Italy and Hungary; the granting of full suffrage to the women of Finland, thus giving the ballot to over 2,000,000 women. It is also indicated by the position taken by our leading magazines and papers, which is in marked contrast to that fo former years. The leading Clubs, Societies and Lodges organized for the good of humanity also unanimously indorse the sentiment of equality.

We rejoice in these proofs of a growing sense of justice, expressive of an expanding intelligence which recognizes the fact that a "square deal" is necessary to the well-being of ALL; that an oppressor's wrong re-acts upon himself.

We invite all who are interested in this world wide movement to uplift humanity, and who believe with us, that woman, as half of this humanity, has her equal share in this work, to meet with us to devise plans to make our Association increasingly active and effective in the cause of equal rights.

"MY MOTHER-IN-LAW"

Is the title of Mr. Fred R. Wren's latest comedy which is to be given at the Andover Opera house in Andover on Friday evening of this week. The plot of the play tells of the troubles of a New York dry goods Merchant who, dining at a restaurant during the absence of his wife and mother-in-law, loans money to a young lady who he forgotten her pocket book. The poor man is fascinated and all sorts of complications follow. Mr. Wren himself appears in the leading comedy part and is supported by a company of ten people all of whom introduce the latest musical numbers—songs, dances and vaudeville features. This play has been touring the country all the season which is proof that it is one of the laughing hits of the season. Prices are 25-35-50 cents. Don't miss it.
