Jumped Down a Fall River Liner.

New York, April 17.—Theodore S. Cox, died in Bellevue yesterday from injuries received in the Fall River. He here is said to have committed suicide. Saturday night he jumped from the Fall River liner Puritan. He was last seen alone on the boat at 11:15 o'clock Saturday night. The next morning his hats, overcoat, eyeglasses, some money and a letter addressed to his son, Howard S. Cox of Fall River, were found in his stateroom. Howard Cox said he was certain his father committed suicide, as the letter said he intended to jump into the sound.

The Best Laxative for Children.

Parents should see to it that their children have natural, easy movement of the bowels each day. Do not dose the child with salts or griping pills, as they are too powerful in effect, and literally tear the little insides to pieces, leaving the bowels weakened and less able to act naturally than before. Syrup Fig-Iron-ox Tablets tone and strengthen the bowels, and produce a thorough but gentle laxative effect. Chocolate coated tablets, easy to take. Infant size or mamma size, 25c and $1.00.

Secretary Taft in Porto Rico.

Caguas, Porto Rico, April 17.—Secretary Taft and his party stopped here on their way from San Juan to Ponce. The city was decorated with American and Spanish flags and a large crowd of people from the surrounding country gave the secretary a cordial reception. The alcalde in his address of welcome did not refer to the citizenship question. Mr. Taft felicitated the people on the prosperous condition of the country and praised Governor Winthrop's administration. Caguas is the most important inland city and its inhabitants have been most persistent in their demand for American citizenship. Mr. Taft did not mention the question at this place, where President Roosevelt spoke strongly in favor of it. A steel bridge at the entrance of the city, which has just been completed, was christened Winthrop bridge by Miss Marjorie Ide of Mr. Taft's party, who broke a bottle of champagne on the structure.

SALES ARE ENORMOUS

Cooper Preparations Leading Topic in Cincinnati—Callers at Young Men's Headquarters Interviewed

Cincinnati, O., April 19—The most interesting feature of the enormous sale of the cooper preparations now going on in this city is what the medicines are actually accomplishing among the people of Cincinnati.

At the commencement of his visit here Mr. Cooper prophesied that during the later part of his stay he would receive hundreds of callers daily who came simply to thank him for what the preparations had done. He also stated that stomach trouble is the foundation for a great many diseases and that his New Discovery, as it is called, would prove very effective in all cases of rheumatism simply by getting the stomach in working order. That this prophecy has been fulfilled cannot be doubted after a half-hour spent at the young men's headquarters listening to what his callers have to say.

A reporter who watched to ascertain, if possible, some light on the reason for the immensity of Cooper's success interviewed about twenty of his callers yesterday afternoon. The statements made by those seen indicate that physicians who claim that Cooper is merely a fad, have not looked into the facts.

Some of these statements were as follows: Miss Sallie Middleton living at 1957 Central Ave. upon being questioned said:

"I have been troubled with general weakness, dizziness, headache, sleeplessness and stomach disorders for a number of years, suffering all the time with my kidneys and back. I had tried a number of medicines and visited several doctors but none helped me. I heard on all sides of these Cooper remedies and decided to try them. Any one who says that they are not a Materia medicine, does not know what they are talking about. After I had used the first bottle I noticed a decided improvement. I have taken three bottles of the New Discovery and I now feel as well as I ever have in my life. I sleep and eat as I have not done for years and I am happier than I have been for a long time. I have come here to thank Mr. Cooper for what he has done for me."

The statement of Mrs. M. E. Emerson living at 630 W. Court St., was as follows:

"I have suffered with stomach trouble and constipation for a year or so. When I ate I would have frightful spells, sour stomach, fermentation, bad taste in my mouth. In the morning I was as tired as when I went to bed. I had a dull pain in the lower part of my back. I have taken almost one bottle of the New Discovery and I am wonderfully improved that I have come down here to thank Mr. Cooper in person and obtain more of the medicine."

Another statement was made by Mr. E. Luken living at 1006 Gest St., who said: "I have been a sufferer with rheumatism for several years. I could not walk or stand on my feet when Mr. Cooper came to Cincinnati. Nothing helped me in any way and I despaired of finding relief. I was in a run down condition also and had some stomach trouble. Hearing of his wonderful work my father consulted him regarding my case and purchased a bottle of his New Discovery. After I had finished that one bottle I was able to walk down town and see him myself."

I have continued to take this wonderful medicine and I am now without a sign of rheumatism. My general health is also greatly improved and I have not felt so well for years. I would not have believed that there was a medicine on earth that would do what this has done for me. I am so much happier that I am very grateful to the man that has made it possible for me to regain my health. He has the most wonderful medicine that I know anything about."

Other statements taken from those who had previously used the medicines seem to prove that Mr. Cooper's success has come by merit alone and not because of any boom in his favor.

Writing in the Cornhill Magazine, an American literary professor tells the English people that their countryman Lincoln, is still more widely popular today than any other man, living or dead, among people of all parts of the world.

The Only Way.

"I am writing an article," he said, on "The Way to Manage a Woman."

"I suppose it will be a long one," she replied in a slightly scornful tone.

"No," he answered, "it will be quite short. In fact, it will consist of only two words—'Don't try!'"—Birmingham Post.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.)

Work has been begun on the restoration of the United States capitol building. The word "restoration" exactly fits the case, as Superintendent Elliott Woods and Mr. Simon Quinlan, Mr. Lynn, working under authority of an appropriation made by congress at the last session, are endeavoring to restore the building to the state, even as to details, originally intended. Every vestige of the paint now on the walls of Statuary hall in imitation of Italian marble will be scraped off, and they will be left in their natural sandstone finish. More than this, two of the old stairways which run from Statuary hall—which until 1859 was the hall of the house of representatives—to what were formerly the men's gallery and the women's gallery have been rediscovered and opened, and the men's gallery will be restored to its original condition.

Restoring the Capitol.

One reason why this work has been undertaken was that the restoring of the walls of the rotunda to their natural sandstone finish seems to have met with universal approval from senators, representatives and visitors to the capitol building. It is agreed on all sides that the rotunda is a very much more beautiful and artistic place than was the case when the rose tinted sandstone was covered with half a dozen layers of paint.

The plans for the restoration of the capitol also include the removal of the paint from the crypt and the pillars within it.

Purely Grecian In Design.

Statuary hall, when used as the chamber of the house of representatives, was generally conceded to be the most beautiful legislative hall in the world. It is purely Grecian in its design and decorations, the outline of the plan being a semicircle of ninety-six feet chord elongated in its vertical diameter line by a parallelogram 72 feet long by 25 feet wide. The height to the top of the entablature blocking is thirty-five feet and the apex of the dome ceiling fifty-seven feet. So far as can be determined by sounding and testing, the entire wall space is of sandstone similar to that in the rotunda.

Marble Polished by Slaves.

The circular colonnade is made up of fourteen columns and two antes of the richest Corinthian proportions. The shafts are composed of a remarkably beautiful species of variegated marble called Brocatel, in solid blocks, obtained from the banks of the Potomac, a hundred miles or so above the city. This marble is of a very remarkable formation, and the blocks, being of a nature which made it impossible to have them turned on a lathe, as is ordinarily the case, were polished by hand by slave labor. The capitals are of white Italian marble, sculptured after a specimen taken from the temple of Jupiter Stator at Rome, the most admired specimen of capitals of this delicate, beautiful order. The entablature is after the proportions of that in the same temple, ornamented with dentils and medallions, enriched between and underneath with leaves and roses. Over the colonnades springs the magnificent painted panelled dome.

Uncle Sam's Printing Bill.

The government printing bill, which amounted to a little over $7,500,000 last year, will drop to almost $5,500,000 this year and this in spite of the fact that a number of new bureaus have been established and several new laws, including the immigration law, the pure food law and the railroad rate law, which entailed an enormous amount of printing, have come into operation. The congressional printing commission is working out plans for a still further reduction of the printing bill. This commission will sit here from time to time during the summer and fall and when congress meets again will be prepared to recommend additional reform legislation.

Public Buildings.

About $6,000,000 is to be expended within the District during the coming fiscal year in the erection of public buildings and the continuance of the work on such structures now under way. Such is the amount of money provided for those purposes by the appropriation bill which will become effective the 1st of July next.

It is a striking illustration of the development of the city that this immense sum of money to be spent in brick and stone in order to provide additional housing for the various activities of the government is in large part to be used in continuing the construction of buildings already begun.

Some Great Structures.

In the list of the appropriations for the coming year for buildings in this city there are three instances of amounts aggregating about $1,000,000 each which are merely intended to complete three structures which are now in progress. This is a good deal of money for such a purpose, and it enables one to form some conception of the size and importance of the buildings referred to—the National museum, the senate office building and the house office building.

The Agricultural Building.

Another extensive structure, the cost of which is represented not by six figures preceded by the numeral 1, but numerals 2 and 3, is the one that is being built for the department of agriculture.

Such progress has been made in the erection of that building as to require at this time only a comparatively small amount of money. The additions to the group of buildings about the capitol which are now being made by the section of the senate and the house office buildings has led congress to provide a heating plant which could supply all the buildings with the necessary heat and light and power.

RESPONSIBILITY IS ON MAKER

Serial Number and Guaranty Are Used by Some Manufacturers as an Advertisement — Secretary Says the Pure Food and Drug Law Is to Be Administered Fairly.

Washington, April 17.—"If this outrageous misrepresentation does not cease the department will publish a list bearing the names of manufacturers who are indulging in this campaign of deception."

This remark was uttered by Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture in an authorized statement and was brought forth by the fact that there had come to his knowledge information that a number of manufacturers of foods and drugs were now advertising that the United States government was guaranteeing their products.

The secretary said that the serial number and guaranty required by the pure food and drug act to be placed on food and drug products were being used by these manufacturers for this purpose.

"The serial number," said Secretary Wilson, "is assigned to fix the responsibility where it belongs—upon the manufacturer—and to protect innocent dealers who have a right under the law to this guaranty. It is the guaranty of the manufacturer, not the guaranty of the government."

The secretary declared that every effort would be made by the department to stop these statements. "I will do a little advertising myself," he said, "in the nature of the report. I am growing tired of seeing these untruthful statements on the advertising packages, in the magazines, the walls of the New York subway and the advertising space of the street cars of the principal cities. Manufacturers who will deceive the public about the guaranty will lie about the quality of their products."

He added that the law was to be administered fairly and that no honest manufacturer need fear that the department will take "snap judgment" on him or harrass him in any way.

INDIANS SHOOT ON STREET.

Bloody Conflict Between Two Warring Tribes Creates Panic on Broadway.

New York, April 17.—The spectacle of Sioux Indians in full warpaint and war bonnets has been a sight to death if interference had not been created almost a panic in crowded Broadway. Willie Big Charger and Ban Wolf, the offenders, are under arrest, the former charged with carrying concealed weapons and discharging them in the street, and the latter with interfering with an officer and attempting to conceal the weapon which had sent hundreds of shoppers scurrying for safety.

Before the two Indians had been subdued Charger had fired two shots. One of the bullets crashed through a theater window and the other imbedded itself in the woodwork of a passing street car. No one was injured.

Charger and Wolf were walking down Broadway together in all the splendor of their paint and feathers when they got into an argument over Charger's wife, now dead. The men appeared to become angry and suddenly Charger drew a revolver and pointing it at Wolf's head, fired twice.

Both bullets went wild and as the crowd in the street scattered the men prepared to continue the fight, but a policeman and a bystander sprang upon Charger and wrenched the revolver from his hands before he could fire again.

In an instant Wolf sprang to his erstwhile enemy's aid and attempted to free him from his captors. He was not successful, however, and soon both Indians were locked up.

MINER MURDER TRIAL.

Witnesses Say They Saw Accused Near Tobey's House With a Gun.

Binghamton, April 17.—At the trial of Frank Miner on the charge of murdering James A. Tobey, Edgar S. Lane swore that about 7 o'clock on the night of the murder, as he drove past the Tobey house, he saw a man in the road with something resembling a gun over his arm. The man was tall and broadshouldered, answering Miner's description, but it was so dark that Mr. Lane could not swear positively who it was.

Ray Lillie, brother of Mrs. Tobey, testified that on the same evening he passed the Tobey house just after Lane did and that he saw Frank Miner, with a gun over his arm, walking up and down the road near the Miner house. He drove close to him so that he was certain it was Miner. Two hours later, at 9 o'clock, Lillie says, that he returned the same way on his bicycle, and when near the Tobey house he again passed Miner in the road, the gun still "carried over his arm."

Several of Tobey's neighbors testified that the day after his house was burned they found a pool of blood a few feet from the house, a trail of blood leading from it to where the door of the house had been, the pool and trail being freshly covered with sawdust.

Several more of Mrs. Tobey's letters to Miner were read. In one of them she wrote that she could not sleep from worry because she had been told that Miner threatened to kill Tobey if she did not leave her husband and come and live with Miner.

Mrs. Kate Randall, an invalid neighbor of Mrs. Tobey, testified that on the night of the murder, about 11 o'clock she heard a gun fired, the sound coming from the direction of Tobey's house.

STABLE TO GO UNDER HAMMER.

C. K. G. Billings to Retire From the Harness Horse Circuit.

Cleveland, April 17.—The trotting world will be surprised to learn that C. K. G. Billings has decided to dispose of his entire stable at the Pasig-ton auction sale to be held in Cleveland the week of May 12. A telegram from an authentic source from New York states positively that such an arrangement has been definitely closed.

The Billings consignment will include every light harness horse owned by that well-known horseman, excepting the world's champion trotter, Lou Dillon (1:58¾), and her recent foal by John A. McKerron (2:04¾).

Among the famous equines that will pass under the hammer at the Glenville sale mart in May will be the champion trotting gelding, Major Delmar (1:59¾), wagon record 2:03¾, one of the most celebrated trotters ever seen in public. The pacing stallion Blacklock (2:07¾), whose mile record of 2:03¾ makes him the champion pacing stallion to wagon, will also go to the highest bidder, and as he worked a mile in 2:00 at Glenville last season, he will be in great demand for the many rich pacing stakes down the grand circuit.

Robbing Yourself

That is just what you are doing when you fail to get regular and sufficient sleep. Your body requires this unconscious period for repair work; without it your nerve energy becomes exhausted, and you are tired, worn-out, nervous, excitable; have headache, neuralgia, indigestion, poor appetite, or other ailments caused by a lack of nerve force. Make it your business to sleep. If you are restless, take Dr. Miles' Nervine; it soothes and strengthens the nerves, and brings sweet, refreshing, life-giving sleep, and gives the organs power to work naturally. Try it to-day.

"I had a severe spell of fever, which left me in a very weak condition and very nervous. I had severe spells of headache and neuralgia, and could sleep but very little. Every effort that was made to recover my strength was of no avail until I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. After I commenced to take the Nervine my sleep was profound and restful, and the pains in my head, as well as the neuralgia pains, left me to a certain extent and I grew gradually better."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.
