Assemblyman Phillips

(From the Olean Daily Times)

Hon. Jesse S. Phillips of Allegany County has been in the Assembly seven years. He has reached a very prominent position in that body, being a close personal friend of speaker Wadsworth and also of speaker Nixon. For the past four years he has been chairman of the Codes Committee. This is one of the most important committees in the Assembly. Mr. Phillips was also a member of the Ways and Means Committee which passes on all expenditures made by the State. Mr. Phillips has introduced some important bills in the Assembly, among them a bill limiting the amount of money any candidate can expend for election to office; a bill prohibiting the name of a candidate appearing on the ballot more than once, and a bill to facilitate the colection of franchise taxes. Mr. Phillips was also a member of the Conference Committe of the Legislature consisting of five assemblymen and three senators. He was also chairman of the Republican Caucus which considered all purely party measures. Many of the bills introduced by Assemblyman Phillips were suggested by Governor Hughes' annual message to the legislature. Mr. Phillips has been prominently mentioned for Collector of Internal Revenues for Western New York in place of Archie Saunders, resigned. But as he always has been nominated by acclamation he will undoubtedly be honored by such a nomination again.

Fully $100,000 has been spent by the lightning companies of this State on the travelling and legal expenses required to appear against the "strike" bills that have been introduced in Albany this winter. Carleton Macy, vice-president of the Empire State Gas and Electric Association, made this statement to-day and figures were complied by C. H. B. Chapin, secretary of the association, showing that twenty-five of these bills have been introduced thus far this year by interested politicians. It was also stated that these legitimate expenses amounted to more than five times the sum for which the legislative "strikers" might have been bought off in every case.

In these figures the lightning men of the State believe they have a very material argument for the commission idea as against general legislative supervision and for the public utilities bill, which their association has publicly declared itself as favoring. For several years the members of the association, which is composed of the principal lightning companies outside New York City, have made it their policy to fight in the open every attempt of local politicians to be bought off in the cases of hundreds of purely "strike" bills with which they have threatened the companies at Albany. An open fight before the legislature means the repeated attendance of high officials and lawyers. This year many single companies declared that these expenses have totalled over a thousand dollars to each of them.

"For my company alone to appear at Albany against the half a dozen "strike" bills in this single session has cost about $1,000" said Mr. Macy to-day "this represents simply what we pay the conductor, the hotel man and the lawyer going to Albany. The loss through temporary calls from business and general inconvenience can be estimated far above that figure. It has cost the lightning companies of the State much over $50,000 and I should say about $100,000 to be present and fight the legislative "strikers" in the open before committee. This is a big item but we would rather pay it than put one dollar in the pockets of the designing politicians who want to hold us up."

The attention of Governor Hughes, Senator Page, Assemblyman Merritt and others interested in the public utilities bill has been called to the matter of "strike" legislation. The sponsors for the bill have already given the assurance that the measure, should it become law, will act to curtail the possibilities of such hold-ups and leave the regulation of the companies along proper lines to the commission.

Andover Woman Honored

Mrs. Proper, district deputy grand matron of the eighteenth Masonic district, favored the local branch of the Order of Eastern Star with an official visit Thursday evening. Mrs. Proper was presented with a handsome hand-painted sugar bowl and cream pitcher, the presentation speech being made by E. C. Smith. Mrs. Proper evidenced much emotion and responded in words eloquent of feeling. The guests were then ushered into the banquet hall where a banquet was served by the ladies of the order. Mrs. Proper spoke in support of the fraternity that is growing world-wide in scope and counted as members some of the best and most generous women and men in the world. One candidate received the initiatory degree.—Addison correspondent, Telegram.

Womans Missionary Circle

Mrs. R. B. Burrows entertained the Womans Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church Wednesday evening. It was a most enjoyable and enthusiastic gathering. Surprises were in order and from the beginning of the program to the serving of refreshments every member was a surprise for its uniqueness and novelty of manner. Perhaps no meeting of the ladies has excelled this. There was a large number present and all united in expressions of satisfaction over the time spent.

Beginning Friday, June 7th, I will be at the Swink House, Tuesday and Friday of each week where I will be pleased to meet those who are afflicted. If your case has resisted other methods of treatment you are just the one I want to see.

A word about our treatment:—

Osteopathy treatment is scientific, requiring no faith, no drugs, no surgical operations. It involves no secrecy or anything supernatural. It is merely a study of mechanism and function together with a system of scientific manipulations so adapted as to remove all obstructions from natural channels so that nature can carry out the many and varied processes of human life unimpeded. Our object is to find the cause and then remove it. We make no charge for examinations and consultation.
