YOU CAN CITE A NUMBER OF INSTANCES IN your experience where a merchant, starting on a small scale, became a marked success in a few years.

He started within his means, each year he kept adding a little to his stock until finally he had the largest and best store in town.

A bank account grows in the same way. You can start with a small amount, add to it from time to time, just what you can spare, (it's a good plan to deposit regularly,) and you will find that your account will grow more than you had expected.

Money to Loan on Approved Collateral.
Interest Paid on Special Certificates of Deposit.

WHITE RIBBON OF THE W. C. T. U.

A Paper Written and Read By Mrs. E. S. Bradley Before the Local Union

Perhaps some of you will think, "I wonder if she is going to bring up that hackneyed theme again." Well, "line upon line, precept upon precept" are often necessary and until every Christian woman falls into line and realizes that she is a department of Christian work, as much so as the missionary society to the church and all who belong learn what our badge signifies, the influence it exerts and the moral obligation of loyalty to our principles, this "line upon line" will be needed.

Very graphically Miss Margaret Winslow has told of the adoption of our badge. We will let her tell here in her own words. She says, "At our National convention held in Chicago in October, 1877 a whole afternoon was taken up in the discussion of a suitable badge. Various suggestions were made and considered. Red, the badge of a temperance evangelist was suggested; also blue, the color chosen by Francis Murphy for his converts. Miss Willard thought red, white and blue would enlist the sympathies of all patriotic Americans for us and our cause. Purple and violet were also proposed. I longed to put an end to so much useless talk, and as the memory of a scene recently witnessed came over me, I rose and told how I had stood with 10,000 people who were holding a surf meeting at Ocean Grove. On the beach above us arose flag staff from which fluttered a white pennant bearing in golden letters the words, "Holiness to the Lord". As we stood there a great steamer passed so near that we could see the men on board and between us was a great shoal of frightened fish, radient in the sunlight and making for the shore. And I thought, this is a symbol of the persecuted, the sinful and suffering of earth taking refuge at the feet of the church of God. Just then the men on the ship cheered us on the shore and instead of cheering we broke into the grand old hymn, 'Crown Him Lord of all.' 'Now then' I said, 'let us choose white, which besides the convenience of its attainment, always represents purity and is the union of all colors. Let us stamp upon it in letters of gold, symbolizing holiness and divinity our cabalistic letters, 'W. C. T. U.'"

This is only the history of its adoption but who dares attempt to tell the unwritten history of all it has accomplished in its journey around the world? Protecting from insult, opening hospitable homes, reclaiming young men and women by reminding them of a mother who wore it and from whose presence and teachings they had sadly wandered and in many cases the restraining influence upon those even engaged in the deadly traffic. Little wonder that our leaders try to impress us with the importance of showing our colors. Hear what our State President says in her last letter in July's Womans Temperance work. "Vacation days are almost here and with the heated season we are prone to forget that the enemy is as active then as during the year. We drop our burdens and responsibilities as we do our heavy clothing but I urge wherever we go or whatever we do, we shall not fail in the constant wearing of our badge and in standing true to the principles involved in the wearing it." Let us not be forgetful of this request of our peerless leader who stands at the front of the battle and does such valian service.

"Wear your white ribbon wherever you go,
Wear your white ribbon, you never may know
What a light you may shed in this desert of woe;
Like a beacon of hope it may strengthen to-day
A soul that is drifting in weakness away."
