Mrs. Anson Pickette.

From the Potter Enterprise we copy the following story of the death of Mrs. Anson Pickette,

Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Nellie B. Pickett, wife of A. D. Pickett, the well known news dealer of Port Allegany, died of trichinosis. The disease was caused by eating pork infected with trichina—a minute worm. She died in terrible agony after having suffered with convulsions caused by the poison. The death is one of more than ordinary sadness. Mrs. Pickett's maiden name was Ward and she was born 31 years ago in Livonia, N. Y., Physicians say that there is always more or less trouble from this disease and that if consumers of pork would always see that it was thoroughly cooked the disease would be practically illiminated.

The funeral of Mrs. Pickett was held Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Eastern Star.

Mr. Pickett is the eldest son of the late Rev. S. D. Pickett, who lived in Andover some years, serving the M. E. church as pastor.

"The Holy City."

The several Masonic bodies of Corning are arranging to build a new Masonic Temple in that city in the near future. One of the means which has been adopted is to give a series of entertainments, of quality the best, and the proceeds to be given to that fund. Arrangements are already perfected for the first of these, and they have secured, "The Holy City," for January 19th, 20th and 21st. Any one may procure tickets for this entertainment by calling at this office. This play is one of national and international reputation, and any person who has not seen it will miss the opportunity of a life time if they do not go to Corning and see it. It will undoubtedly never come so near Andover again.

Must Destroy Cheese.

The state health department has notified the authorities at Troupsburg that 21 of the cheese that mya contain milk from the cow in the daily of S. N. Savage, must be destroyed. The cow in question had a running sore on its head. It was sold to a Troupsburg butcher and was slaughtered, but before the meat had been offered for sale the town authorities took up the matter and prevented the meat being sold. The head of the animal, which had been buried, was taken by a state inspector and sent to a state laboratory for bacterlological examination. The fact that the state authorities have condemned the cheese would seem to indicate an unfavorable report on the examination.

It is claimed that Savage had been warned not to send milk from the cow to the cheese factory, and that the loss of the cheese will fall upon him.
