Get Busy

Just about now the mail order houses of our large cities, with an eye for the spring trade of the smaller cities or towns and of the farmer, are sending out bulky and illusive catalogues by the thousand. To complete them it is up to the home merchants to give careful attention to their advertising and let the people know of the bargains offered by them.

PROSPERITY IS TO RETURN

SAYS THE ELMIRA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, WHEN SENATOR AND ASSEMBLYMAN RETURN HOME.

At the annual meeting of the Elmira, N. Y. Chamber of Commerce, April 13, its President, John M. Connolly, in the course of his address, spoke as follows relative to railroads:

"With the tariff revision bill disposed of; with an early returning home of our State Senators and Assemblymen; with no more fear of unwise and vicious legislation against corporations and corporate interests and especially against the railroads; signs of returning prosperity will appear. We are at last beginning to realize that the railroads are America's greatest asset, the pulse of the commercial world, the pioneers of industry, the greatest employers of labor and the greatest consumers of products. We say to night to our representatives, let them alone. We believe in regulation, but not in persecution and we call a halt. When you strike at their vitals our factory wheels cease to revolve, our men by thousands file into the streets and our children cry for bread. The whole fabric of our industrial world is shattered; our nation distressed; through the land. Let us return to the square deal and see that the deal is the law makers adhere to the golden rule and each do unto the other as they would do unto them.

"When these things have all come to pass the fog will soon lift and the bright sunlight of returning prosperity will cleanse the atmosphere and bring joy to the hordes who labor and earn their bread by the sweat of their brow."

OVERRUN BY GIANT RATS

Senators are Nervous, and Ferrets Will be Brought in to Run Out Pests.

Rats have taken possession of the new Senate Office Building, which was occupied for the first time on March 4. Just why and whence came the great horde is unknown. The restaurant is not yet open and the work of construction is not completed. The rats hold high carnival in the basement and use the mail chutes as elevators to explore the upper floors. It is a favorite amusement for the rats to climb up through the chutes and then slide down, a sort of loop-the-loop.

Cats were brought in to clean out the invaders, but the rats chased the cats into a vacant lot without the loss of a life. More than one dignified Senator has jumped ten feet straight in the air and come down stiff-kneed upon meeting a huge rat in one of the corridors. It is trying for a Senator to reach in his desk for a bottle of ink and have a gaint rat snap at his fingers.

Barclay, the Government expert in rat killing, will take hold April 4th and figure out how many ferrets will require to exterminate the pest.

Club Meeting

An interesting meeting of the Lucy Stone Club was held at the pleasant home, of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Pease, on Elm street, Wednesday evening. Mrs. R. B. Burrows gave a report of the Hearing held before the Legislature at Albany, which in some ways was a disappointment, in others, a victory for the cause. An animated discussion upon the needs of Andover resulted in the appointment of a committee to interview the village Trustees, regarding certain measures. A violin and vocal solo by Arthur Brillion with Miss Roza Hann at the piano were greatly enjoyed.

Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies in charge at the close of the program.

Tried To Please The Teacher

The new Teacher had just taken charge of the school and was learning the names of the pupils. The first one she asked said his name was Jule. The teacher trying to reprove the boy said: "That's not proper. Your name is Julius." The next boy she asked was named Bill, and thinking he could please her said: "My name is Billous."

Bolivar will meet the requirements, that is, an annual appropriation of five hundred dollars a year voted by the town, and suitable site furnished upon which to erect a library building, and thus secure the $5,000 for the building fund given by Andrew Carnegie.

EDWARD GREEN

Death of One of The Oldest Residents of The Town of Alfred

Last Wednesday occured the death of "Uncle Edward Green," as he was familiarly known, one of the oldest residents in the town of Alfred. He was born in 1816, July 5, and died April 14, 1909 being nine two years, nine months and eight days old. He was the son of Paris and Polly Greene and grandson of Judge Edward Green, and the last surviving member of nine children.

On June 19, 1847, he was united in marriage with Miss Tacy Hamilton with whom he lived a happy married life for more than sixty one years. To this union was born an only son, Maxson A. and one daughter, Ella A., who died July 29, 1873.

Rarely is it given to a man to take an active part in the life and history of a community as has been the privilege of Edward Greene. Born on his father's farm in East Valley in the days of homespun he grew up with those simple ways and clean habits which have undoubtedly been the secret of his wonderful vitality and activity during his last days. Being a continuous resident of this community for almost a century he was widely known and respected. In his home he lived the simple life. He was ever devoted to the interests of his family. He was kind, in his treatment of friend and neighbor and was for himself his own law. He believe in regulating a competition and respected of all who knew him. As a citizen he not only took an active interest in local affairs but felt in his privilege and duty upon all occasions to use the right of his franchise. At the last presidential election he was the oldest man in the town using this right.

Although he has been in failing health for some time, not until lately did he give up and take to his bed when he was suffering most excruciating pain. His farewell with th family who he had loved so long was calm and beautiful. The change to him was a welcome one, there was "no cause for fear" The separation Was "only for a time."

He leaves to mourn his loss his aged wife, one son, six grandchildren and two great grand children.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home on Sunday afternoon, April 18, by Rev. E. D. Van Horn, a former pastor, assisted by Pastor Webster, of Andover Seventh Daw Baptist church, and the body was laid to rest in the Alfred Rural cemetery.

Killed By the Cars

Frank King was killed by Erie freight 77, last Saturday morning, at Scio. He attempted to cross the track just ahead of the train and succeeded in getting the horses across the rails but the engine struck the wagon demolishing it and instantly killing the driver. He leaves a wife and five young children.
