TOO MANY HOLIDAYS A YEAR.

Crusade Begun By Oaxaca (Mex.) Business Men For More Work.

In the state of Oaxaca, Mexico, a crusade by the business men has been started against the observance of so many fiestas, or holidays. While in the capital, City of Mexico, there are 123 feast days in the year, in Oaxaca there are 148, and business men there find a great deal of difficulty in having work done.

In the City of Mexico the invasion of so many American, British, French and German merchants has caused a revolution in the matter of holidays, and the number has been cut down, but still there are more than 100 days in a year which are observed and on which all business houses are closed at least part of the day.

SANG AT THE POOR HOUSE.

And a Listener Dropped Dead—Another Threw a Fit

Never again will the inmates of the Mercer County Poor Farm be entertained with anthems rendered by a choir. The experiment was tried Sunday afternoon with fatal results. One of the leading choirs of the town was transported to the Poor Farm to sing at the monthly church services held there, which was also largely attended by farmers of the locality. They had three numbers prepared, of which only two were given.

During the rendition of the first number one of the inmates fell to the floor and was pronounced dead within two minutes. During the second one of the inmates was taken with an epileptic fit just as the tenor soloist took high B flat on the first chord, and another old lady, prone to fits, was visibly affected.

One number remained, which for obvious reasons, it was decided to dispense with. It is reported that an offer has been made the choir to sing a few selections at the county jail.—Exchange.

Narrowly Escaped Being Drowned

While riding on the pond Thursday evening, a party of four, consisting of the Misses Anastasia FitzGerald and Edith Baldwin and Phillip Bartot and Robert Dean, narrowly escaped being drowned. The boat was upset, but by aid of some boats near by reached shore safely. All received water enough to keep them alive.

GONE TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. Thompson Richardson, After Many Years of Suffering is Gathered Home.

Mrs. Almina C. Richadson passed to her reward in the Great Beyond, last Thursday afternoon, after a severe illness of about six weeks, although for years she had been an invalid much of the time. Funeral services were conducted from the home Saturday afternoon, Rev. James Herrick officiating and interment was made in Rural cemetery.

Almina Clark Richardson was born March 30,1849, at Independence. She became the wife of Thompson Richardson when a young lady and the husband and wife have passed their lives at this place. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs Belle Bloss, of Andover, and Mrs. Cora Richmond, of this place. There are also two sisters, Mrs. Rose Longwell, of Rutland, Pa., and Mrs. Vine Longwell, of Orange, Pa.

Mrs. Richardson was a womanly woman, a loving mother and faithful wife, and there is a host of friends besides the family to mourn her demise.—Whitsville News.

PRODUCTION A SPLENDID ONE

Big Crowd at Canisteo Turned Out To See The Alumni Benefit Play Last Evening.

It was an unusually large crowd that gathered last evening in Academy Hall when "A Country Boy" a strong comedy drama was given by home talent for the benefit of the Alumni Association. To say that it was the best thing of its sort ever given here is to put it mildly. The performance last evening would have done credit to many traveling organizations and the performers all showed the careful training they had received at the hands of J. Sidney Macy, who has been directing the play.

The cast included Mrs. Seeley Taylor, Miss Helen A. Berton, Miss Pauline A. Stewart, Miss Polly B. Crary, Clarence S. Burnham, Frank O. Lathrop, Dr. Harry J. Stewart, Louis F. Laine, Harry B. Newman Baldwin Tillotson, and Milton Rice. Every one of them handled their part to perfection last evening. Mr. Macy had developed all of the strong parts of the play and to him belongs great credit for the sucessful production.

The close of the first act brought down the house when Baldwin Tillotson as the country fiddler played for the barn dance. A clever bit of monologue was given by George Kathlum Malone, the well known negro impersonator who has appeared here several and has met with much favor. Mr. Malone is soon to engage in vaudeville and his many friends predict success for him.

The play will be given again this evening and the attendance will no doubt equal that of last evening. Many of those who attended last evenmg are going again tonight and the hall ought to be packed. it is certainly a performance that no one should miss.—Hornell Tribune.

Potter—Fuller

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos Comstock Wednesday evening, May 12th. The parties being their daughter, Miss Grace E. Fuller, of this place, and Mr Linford Potter, of Independence. After the ceremony, a nice luncheon was served by Mrs. David Bullard and Mrs. Burrel Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Potter left Thursday morning for Independence, their future home.

Lucky Accident

A traction engine and a wagon load of saw mill fixtures went through a bridge near Angelica, last week, falling about ten feet pulling Peter Slisbees in the wreckage with his head just above water, after some difficulty he was rescued from his perillous position and while badly bruised no bones were broken.

Broughton Held For Grand Jury

John Broughton was arrested, Thursday morning for the illegal sale of liquor. He pleaded not guilty, but in his evidence admitted dividing his private stock with others for money. He was held for Grand Jury. This makes two Andover citizens in Belmont awaiting trial. Who will be the next?

One Hundred Two Years Old.

Mrs. Betsey Miller, the oldest person in Yates county, passed her 102d birthday, last Friday.

She with her two sons live three miles south of Rushville. Although stooped and crippled, her face does not show her extreme age, but little of her hair is gray. She takes an active interest in her work; her chickens and her flowers, and is able to get about the neighborhood. Two sons, the older one of whom is 80 and the younger one over sixty, are to her only "boys," to whom she continually refers.

The public is invited on the above dates to attend a free demonstration given by a lady demonstrator.
