ERIE GIVES LABOR WHO WANTS WORK, WHO OTHERWISE HAVE BEEN WITHOUT WORK AND DESTITUTE.

Thousands Given Work Because Spring Lift All Attachments Included.

Without any intention of confirming the statement made by officers of the Erie Railroad as to the amount of improvement work is being done by that company, the State Labor Commissioner of New York, in accounting for the falling off in the demand for labor for the year 1908 as compared with former years, says that if it had not been for the thousands of men employed by the Erie Railroad Company last year in making improvements in this State and in New Jersey there would have been much suffering among that class of laborers who depend for a living upon railroad construction. Thus from an unexpected source, the Erie road gets confirmation of the fact that while the Up-state Public Service Commission was considering whether or not it should permit the company to issue $30,000,000 worth of new bonds for redemption and improvements, the company was going right along and making the betterments anyhow, confident that in due time the commission would see the wisdom of permitting the company to capitalize its necessary work of expansion. When the Erie has completed its general plan of improvements in the way of cut-offs and easier grades it is estimated that the matter of hauling freight and thereby increasing both its gross and net returns from an enlarged freight business, not to mention the increased passenger business that will naturally follow. —New York Evening Sun.

NOTICE

There is an ice famine all over the state, as everyone knows—a condition which never existed before—and owing to the fact that so many have put up their own ice, and also the thinness of the ice that won't stand the sun in a wagon, I have decided not to run an ice wagon this season, but will have a supply constantly on hand at the small ice house back of Peterson's Barber shop for all my old customers and new ones. I regret this step very much, but the weather conditions have forced me to it.

ERIE AT THE HEAD

In The Month of March Was in The Lead in Punctuality of Train Service.

The Public Service Commission, Second District, State of New York, which requires the railroad companies operating within the state to furnish detailed information relative to detention of trains, has issued its report for March, 1909, and the Erie Railroad leads all other lines for punctuality with a percentage of 86. The Company operated 7393 trains, of which 327 were late at terminals, giving the average minutes late per train run of nine-tenths of a minute.

In addition to this record, the Company's own statistics show that within the last four and one-half years the company has operated 475,000 passenger trains without a single fatality to a passenger, a record that probably has never been equalled by a line of similar size. The Erie carries an average of 25,000,000 people a year.

THE G. A. R. BOYS MARCH ONCE MORE

THE LINE OF G. A. R. GROWING SMALLER BUT THE BOYS IN BLUE DECORATE COMRADES GRAVES.

At noon Monday the streets began to fill with people and by the time the line of march was formed at 1:15 a crowd had collected and they were well repaid for their tribute to the heroes of the nation for the parade was one of the best that had been seen here in many years.

There was some few cheers but generally the crowd was undemonstrative it was hard to cheer. At the sight of the thin line of blue, gallant old men marching alone—a bit unsteady—to the music that fired them with valor when the hills and valleys sprang to life with armed foemen in the days of '61. But about 20 veterans marched.

Promptly at 1:30 the parade moved from G. A. R. hall, headed by Excelsior band and about 200 school children, and followed by the members of the civic organizations and citizens to the Hillside Cemetery, where the ritualistic ceremonies were performed and the graves of all comrades there buried, were decorated by their comrades.

The line was then reformed and marched to the auditorium, where the following was given.

| | |
|---|---|
| Selection, | Cannons' Orchestra |
| Prayer, | Rev. A. L. Boynton |

Mr. Dickson made an eloquent address much out of the usual stereotyped form which was well received by a large audience.

M., of Elmira, with which fraternity he affiliated in 1872.

He Corrected It

The following story is going the rounds: "A grade teacher, after having a medical examination in her room recently wrote the following note to the parents of a certain little boy:

"Your little boy, Charles, shows signs of astigmatism. Will you please investigate and take steps to correct it," to which she received a note in reply, saying: "I don't understand exactly what Charles has been doing, but I have wholloped him to-night and you can whallop him tomorrow, and that ought to help some."

Turn the Wheel Forward

Every individual is a unit as well as a spoke in the wheel. If some individuals want to turn one way and others want to turn the other ways, how is the wheel going to move? Think of your community as a wheel and turn with it—forward, not backward. If the wheel is now turning backward, face about all your spokes and change the direction.

BOY FALLS ON PICKET FENCE

WHILE PLAYING TAG WITH COMPANIONS, VIVIAN BULLOCK OF CANISTEO RECEIVES TERRIBLE INJURY.

Vivian Bullock, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bullock of No. 217 Canisteo street, met with a terrible accident, last week.

With his brother and some other lads he was playing on Grand street. The lads were having a lively game of tag and Vivian was in "it." How the accident occurred the other boys hardly know. It was growing dark so the boys could not see distinctly. They heard a cry and saw Vivian lunge into a fence along the street.

He fell in such a manner that the picket struck him on the right side of the neck, just under the jaw bone. It passed downward, tearing flesh, arteries, and finally came through the body just under the shoulder blade on the left side. The picket was broken off by the fall and the fragment, more than six inches long, remained in the child's body.

The boy showed remarkable pluck. "I am hurt and I want mamma," he cried, as he staggered to his feet, blood streaming from the jagged hole in his neck from which the stick was protruding. The boy ran all the way to his home on Canisteo street.

His father Charles Bullock, who is a butcher employed in Totten's meat market at Canisteo, was just coming home. Doctors were summoned and saw the serious condition of the lad. The stick was still in his body and he was bleeding profusely. He was taken in his father's arms and an automobile was pressed into service and the boy taken to St. James Mercy hospital. He was conscious all the time and displayed the same heroism after he reached the hospital.

It was a critical operation the surgeons were obliged to perform to remove the board from the lad's neck.

In commenting on the case Dr. Parkhill said that in all his years practice he had never met with a similar one. One of the splinters which the doctors removed from the lad's neck is about seven inches long and very sharp at one end. This largest splinter missed the main artery in the neck by the smallest fraction of an inch. Had this artery been severed the boy would have died at once.

At first little hopes were entertained by the physicians that the boy could live but so far he has shown remarkable vitality and it is believed he may recover.
