Comments.

We must confess that we never attended a County Convention where so much interest seemed to be manifested in the nomination of Member of Assembly, and things so generally mixed. There were no less than eight candidates in the field, and all of them were men who would do honor to the county as their representative. But to have nominated them all would have been an impossibility, so the contest promises to be hot in this direction, as will be seen in the report of the proceedings of the Convention. The informal ballot was pretty well divided on the candidates in the northern part of the County, while in the southern Crandall and Coates were nearly equally divided, Crandall taking the lead. The Member was claimed by the northern towns, and most of the southern towns seemed willing to concede it to them, if they would unite upon some good man. After the fourth ballot they all seemed to swing toward Flenagin of Hume, and this being the case, Dr. W. W. Crandall withdrew his name, and the delegates then supported the man they had settled upon, and Mr. Flenagin received the nomination on the sixth ballot, we think, to the perfect satisfaction of the whole Convention.

Mr. Flenagin has long been known as a true Republican, and with all a man well calculated to fill the position with honor to the county and credit to himself and we are glad to be able to place his name at the head of our columns.

Dr. Gardiner was unanimously nominated County Treasurer, there being no other candidate in the field. It is useless for us to undertake to make any comments on Mr. Gardiner, he is known throughout the county as a man of integrity, and fully capable of the position he has so long been called upon to fill, and his renomination is the best evidence that the people throughout the county have the utmost confidence in him.

We can but congratulate the Southern School District on the choice of R. L. Andrus for School Commissioner. Mr. Andrus has filled this ardouous position with perfect satisfaction to his district and honor to himself.

Mr. Tremain of Canterville was renominated in the Northern District. They could not have done better, for but a few men are better calculated to fill this position than Mr. T.

Washington Moses received the renomination for Justice of Sessions. Mr. Moses has long been identified as a worker in the Republican Party, and a man capable of filling any local office in the gift of the party.

Selah Root was renominated as a candidate to the lucrative office of Coroner.

The quaterly meeting of the Allegany Baptist Association was held at the Baptist Church in this village on Tuesday and Wednesday last.

The exercises commenced on Tuesday at two p. m. Sermon by Eld. Storrs of Richburg. In the evening we listened to a good practical discourse by Eld. Spoor of Wellsville. Wednesday at nine o'clock, had a Prayer and Conference meeting, at half-past ten. Listened to a discourse by Eld. H. B. Carylier of Friendship. After which Eld Seely of Cuba gave a sketch of a sermon from the words, "To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts," which sketch was criticised by the several ministers present. This discussion was quite interesting, and was participated in by Rev. B. Russel, A. N. Fillmore, Carvier, Coleman, Storrs, Spoor, Sherer and Seeley. As several brethern had to leave on the mail train, there were no services in the afternoon. Eld. Coleman of Clarksville gave us a practical discourse in the evening. The children attended in the evening, and added to the interest of the meeting by their soul stiring songs of praise.

The meeting was not as well attended as it should have been. Yet it was an interesting Session to those who did attend, and we felt the Divine presence in our midst.

We Dr is evidently striving to make Ulysses a large and populous town, we wish him well in his undertaking.

DIED.

BUNDY.—At the residence of his Father in East Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 17th, Cassius M. only son of Jefferson F. Bundy, aged 21 years.

Deceased was born in Andover, N. Y., October 19th, 1848. When but ten days old, he was deprived by death of the maternal care of a kind, loving mother. The first six months of his life was passed in Otsego County, N. Y., after which he came to live with his Uncle and Aunt, Mr. Albro Bundy and wife, of this place, where he was nurtured and reared as one of their own children, Mrs. B. becoming a "mother to the motherless one." He resided with them for about ten years. At that time he went to live with his Father. For several years he was a faithful attendant of the Baptist Sunday School.

About nine years ago he removed with his Father to East Saginaw, Mich. After attending school at that place for a short period, the climate not agreeing with his feeble constitution, he came to this place and attended the Alfred University for several terms, and by his good behaviour and studiousness gained the aprobation of his teachers and especially Professor Kenyon, who remarked that he was one of the kindest and brightest scholars he had ever had under his instruction.

After leaving the University he went back to Saginaw, and entered as clerk the store of Livingston & Tappan. After remaining there a short time, not liking the selling of tape behind the counter, he entered the office of Mr. Ketchum, where he remained until about eighteen months ago he entered the steam saw mill of Bundy and Buchanan's as Superintendent which position he ever held until his last sickness. By his lively disposition and unbounded kindness he gained the good will of all the mill hands.

About two weeks ago he was taken suddenly ill, the physicians pronouncing it a clear case of Asiatic Cholera. He lingered on in great agony, his disease having assumed a typhoid form, until Saturday noon, Sept. 18th, when he was relieved from his sufferings. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Tillinghurst, of East Saginaw according to the beautiful ritual of the Episcopal Church.

Cut down in youthful manhood, he leaves many friends both here and in Saginaw, to mourn his loss. He was a lively disposition, and was always greeted with pleasure by the society of the young.

May this sudden and unexpected bereavement be a warning to us all. "For in such an hour as we think not the Son of Man cometh."

Passing Away.

It is written on the rose
In its glory's full array
Read what those lovely lines disclose
"Passing Away."

It is written on the sky
Of the soft blue or stormy dye.
It is traced in vapor's play
"Passing Away."

It is written on the trees
As their spring leaves spread their canopies
And in autumn's altered hues display
"Passing Away."

It is written in the brow
Where the spirit's ardent ray
Lives, burns, and triumphs now
"Passing Away."

It is written on the heart
Ah! then there deeply
Should we look from love's quick start
"Passing Away."

Friends, friends!—oh! shall we part
In a fearful, parting day
Where lovely things and sweet
Pass not Away.

Shall we know each other's eyes,
And the looks that in them lay,
When we mingled sympathies
"Passing Away."

Oh! if this may be so,
Speed, speed thou closing day!
How blest, from earth's vain show
To Pass Away.
