Bulls vs. Horses.

Ellis's History of New England says that horses were once scarce in New England.

"It was a country for cattle rather than horses, and it seems to have been a not uncommon thing to ride on bulls. When John Alden went to Cape Cod to marry Priscilla Mullins, he covered his bull with broadcloth, and rode on its back; when he returned he placed the wife there, and led the bull home by the ring in his nose. It is told that Alden at first went to ask the hand of Priscilla for his friend Miles Standish. The father referred him to the daughter, who listened with attention; but fixing her eyes on Alden's handsome face, she said, "Priscilla, John, why do you not speak for yourself?" The consequence was, that some time after Priscilla rode home upon John's Bull."
