THIRTIETH ANNUAL CONVENTION

ALLEGANY COUNTY WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION CONVENTION HELD IN ALFRED, JULY 7-8.

The thirtieth Annual Convention of Allegany County Woman's Christian Temperance Union held an interesting session in the Seventh Day Baptist church at Alfred, July 7th and 8th. A goodly number of the faithful ones of the organization were in attendance, the hospitality of the Alfred people unbounded and the weather ideal, hence a most delightful meeting.

The devotional exercises for Wednesday, p. m., were conducted by Mrs Flora Cook of Andover.

After the usual appointment of committees the guests were welcomed on behalf of the entertaining union by Mrs. T. T. Burdick.

Rev. L. C. Randolph, pastor of the church in which the meeting was held, gave a welcome in behalf of his people, in which he paid a handsome tribute to the work of the W. C. T. U. In the course of his remarks he expressed himself in favor of the ballot for women the most effective weapon against the great evil of intemperance. Mrs. Julia Merrill of Rushford responded.

The County Treasurer reported a balance of $155.05 in the treasury.

One minute report of state of the Unions of the County was an interesting feature of the afternoon. Twenty-one W.'s and one Y. union reported showing faithful effort and increasing interest on the part of the different unions.

The President's Message by Miss Emma Ross was full of encouragement and good cheer. Among other good things she said "8000 members left the Bartender's Union during the past year, mostly because the bar over which they dispensed liquors was closed up.

"In ten months' time five entire states banished their saloons.

"17,000,000 less liquor revenue in 1908 than in 1907.

"Whereas ten years ago six million persons in this country lived in no-license territory, now over forty million live in no-saloon districts."

The evening service was opened by an organ voluntary, followed by devotionals led by Mrs. W G. Cartwright, of Friendship.

A fine vocal solo was rendered by Mrs. Carl Rosebush, also a violin solo by Miss Lela Hood.

The address of the evening was given by Mrs. Effie Lambert of Seneca Castle, State secretary of Young Woman's Branch and Organizer. Her topic was "The Call of Deborah" and was as in the days of the Prophetess, a call to service. While great victories are being gained by the temperance forces still the great apathy and indifference evinced by so many of our people must give place to interest and enlistment in this army, if the stronghold of this mighty evil is to be captured.

A vocal solo was pleasingly rendered by Miss Neva Place of Alfred.

After the collection Rev. Randolph pronounced the benediction.

The principal features of Thursday were the reports of Supts. of departments, Question Box, and election of officers. Thirteen departments were reported.

Many questions relating to the work of the organization were answered by Mrs. Lambert. The election of officers resulted in choosing Miss Emma Ross, president, Mrs. Hannah W. Waterbury vice-pretistic Society. Miss Mary Bowler cor. sec., Mrs. E. B. Fries Rec. Sec., Mrs. Helen A. Richardson treasurer. Mrs. Evangeline Davis of Belmont was elected alternate to the delegate to the State Convention.

Mrs. Frank Baker of Angelica read an interesting paper, entitled, "The W. C. T. U. as a Patriotic Society."

"God be with you 'till we meet again" was sung and after the Aaronic benediction the meeting stood adjourned.

E. B Fries, Rec. Sec.

The Day of The Child

It has come at last. While we have been pondering, in this country, the evils which affect child life, our mother, the ever-aggressive England, has taken a step. While here one devoted band of enthusiasts has been fighting for child-labor restrictions, and another for child hygiene and a third for child rescue, our great mother nation across the sea has been formulating and has now passed a drastic act, revolutionary in its provisions which must bring joy and heartfelt relief to all those who have long since realized the import of proper legislation in regard to the child. To quote the newspaper reports of this great forward step:

"It provides for the stricter prevention of cruelty to children and the better safeguarding of infant life, institutes children's courts, arranges for the segregation of juvenile offenders and undertakes a wider parental control of the morals of children."

Pawnbrokers may not accept articles in pawn from children under fourteen years of age. Innkeepers may not allow them in their barrooms. Tobacconists cannot sell cigarettes to boys apparently under sixteen, and constables must confiscate cigarettes or tobacco in their possessioon.

Much along this line has already been done in the United States, but surely here for the first time is the children's charter, and this is truly the day of the child. While we in this country have been fighting to arouse the American sense to the fact that there is a problem which concerns the child, England has solved it. She has blazed the way. We will come along some day with a "Children's Secretary." there will be a "bureau" to gather data concerning the child. We will have uniform State child-labor laws and child hygiene laws and child-rescue laws, and when we do we will have great cause for rejoicing. But meanwhile England has preceded us, and in the matter of sound forward legislation on this all-important topic we are only beginning. England has given us the Magna Charta of the child.—Editorial in The Delineator for July.

4,000 Miles in 105 Days

Edward Payson Weston completed his walk from New York to San Francisco, July 15. The distance walked was about 4,000 miles and was made in 105 days. Weston is 71 years of age. He had stipulated to walk the distance in one hundred days, and thinks he would have made it had it not been for unfavorable weather he encountered in Wyoming.

CAPT W R PRENTICE.

A Foremost Educator Solves The Great Problem.

Capt. W. R. Prentice, a well known and highly respected gentleman who gave nearly his entire life to the instruction of the young, and to whom many of the best and most active business men in Western New York are today indebted for the care and painstaking tutoring of this prominent educator, died at Attica, N. Y., Wednesday of last week, and was buried at Alfred, Saturday.

Capt. Prentice was born in Jasper, Steuben county in 1837. He went to school at Alfred, from where he graduated in 1862. The same year he was married to Miss Lee Myra Marson of Alfred and the same year enlisted in Co. H. 161st Vol. and went to the war. He served as Captain of this company in the department of the Gulf for three and one half years and was in many of the best known engagements of the war. At the close of the war he returned to Greenwood, where he engaged in business. Later he taught in Alfred and then went to Horseheads to teach and then back to Alfred again. Four children were born, the only one of which survives is Frank M. Prentice of Hornell. In 1879 his wife died and in 1884 he was married to Miss Jennie Bloomer a teacher at Alfred who died only a few years since. In 1887 Capt. Prentice went to Hornell as superintendent of the City Schools and remained there until 1898. During this time he had in the schools some of the most prominent people in the city today. He was a good disciplinarian, a man of high principles, a brilliant scholar and a friend of both teachers and pupils. He was an ardent advocate of higher education and during his regime an unusually large number of his graduates went to higher institutions of learning. After leaving Hornell Capt. Prentice taught in Lodi and then went to Attica. Some time ago he lost his sight and for the past three years he has been in poor health. Capt. Prentice always took a prominent part in the Presbyterian church and Rev. Mr. Leffler, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Attica accompanied the remains.

MR. PHILLIPS IS RIGHT.

We Take The Following Editorial From Tuesday's Buffalo News.

Assemblyman Jesse S. Phillips is vice-chairman of the state Commission engaged officially in a study of the workings of the direct primary plan in States in which it is in operation or has been tried. He declines to enter into joint debate on the subject before the grange at Batavia, to attack the idea, while Senator Davenport defends it.

The inclination to chaff Mr. Phillips over his position, and to sneer politely at its reflects only his critics and on himself. Senator Davenport was originally appointed to the Commission, but declined to act on the ground that he knew all about the subject without bothering further and on the ground, also, that he was going to stump around the State talking for the Hinman-Green, misnamed, direct primary scheme and it would not be proper for him to act when he was of that mind.

It would surely be no less improper for the vice-chairman of the Commission to engage in controversy at this time than for Senator Davenport to stay on the Commission with his mind made up in advance. But he who imagines that Mr. Phillips is afraid to meet any man on any subject that he has studied and understands labors under grievous error. There is no more courageous or outspoken man in public life in the State than he, on direct primary, falsely so-called, or any other subject to which he addresses himself. Time will prove the truth of this statement.

Mrs. Isaac Smith.

Died in Andover on Tuesday, July 20th., 1909. Marlette, wife of Isaac Smith, in the seventy-third year of her age. Deceased had been in poor health for some time but was confined to the bed only four days previous to her death.

Mrs. Smith was endowed by nature, with a pleasant disposition and was esteemed by all her associates as a devoted wife and mother. She is survived by her husband and three daughters, Mrs. Belle Cochrane of Wayland, Mrs. Bessie Mosher, Wellsville, and Miss Zadie Smith, who is at home, Six Grandchildren, one sister, Miss Ann Hartrum, of Greenwood and one brother George Hartrum, of Andover. Two brothers and a sister, Wm. Hartrum ,John Hartrum and Mrs. J D Russell, having passed beyond within the past two years.

Funeral service was held at the family residence on the Greenwood road, July 22nd., Rev. J. W Wright Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of this village, of which Mrs. Smith was a member, officiating. The beautiful floral offerings sent by friends attesting to the sympathy felt for the family in the time of their bereavement.

Lime Cement

We have an ample stock of Lump Lime and Portland Cement—goods of the best quality, bought to insure lowest prices.

The present low figure on Portland Cement is a strong argument in favor of immediately doing concrete work of any kind. Cellars, stables, floors or sidewalks, as well as walls, etc., may be very cheaply built now. No one knows when prices may advance.
