A. Miner Wellman, Chairman,
A. B. Burrows, Secretary.

WILL YOU DO IT?

The summer days will soon be past and for some folks the grind of business will press hard again. Men and women will get into the harness with greater zeal and interest in the task at hand because of the rest days of summer. School bells will be ringing before long calling the young folks back to studies which will fit them for life's battles. Play days out in the open will be over for the season and without doubt many a boy and girl who quit school at the end of the last term all tired out and discouraged will take hold again of the work with new zest and determination. Scarcely will the snow fly, however, until marks of the work will begin to show itself upon the studious and from that moment will the work drag instead of being a pleasure. What is the reason? Close confinement and application. Not physical exercise enough to make the blood tingle. What is the remedy? There are several. One, GET A GYMNASIUM. Provide a place where the boys and girls can get the necessary exercis that will help them. You may say let them get out of doors. I say the same, but why not have a "gymn" where systematic exercise can be taken and a place provided for the boys, young men and young women whereby they can be kept from doing other things that are hurtful. At the risk of being assaulted, bombarded, criticised or anything else, I will say that there are fellows today who are running down the grade into physical ruin, chasing the cup, who if they had had some place beside the bar or the billard and pool room to stay in might have been kept from temptation and their lives saved for good. Save the boy of today. Give him a place where he can go and have a time, pure, clean, wholesome time, that will make a man of him. Fit him for the battles for after all, life is a stand up, knock down, retreat, get-away and come back to try it over again battle. Ifyou help make the fellow "fit", he will get after it in a manly shape.

Many a mother today is heart-broken over her boy and saying, "How did it happen?" Simply this way. No place was provided for the boy in the long winter days where he could go. Never told mother and the folks never realized what it was until one day they brought him home. What then, tears? Yes! But wouldn't it have been better to have provided a place for the boy? Surely it would. Then do it. Next winter a score or more of boys will be looking for something to do, and because some old fogies are so strictly orthodox that they wouldn't open the available rooms in the meeting house, boys will go down to some forbidden places and lose their manhood. The places of evil are open all the year round while the churches are closed six days in the week, and then take a vacation in the summer, for fear, I suppose, that folks will get weary going to church.

There is a boy full of life and spirits and his folks insist that he learn music. They put their money into it. There he sits, thumping a piano. Do, Re, Mi, Do you hear it? That boy has no more ear for music than a Chinaman. He couldn't sing anywhere except at a Chinese funeral without danger of arrest for disturbing the peace. His musical training will never be of any benefit to him. What that boy needs is to exercise his muscles. So get the place for him. Parents might better put their money into the physical life of the boy than to spend it on accomplishments that will never be of benefit. That boy would rather sit by and listen to "canned music" from a spring wind hand organ, otherwise known as a phonograph, or be out swinging in the trapeze than fingering a fingerboard, every moment of which is torture. Get your thinking cap on and you will come to the same conclusion that the writer has. Some one says. It's to small a village. All the more reason why the "Gymn" should be a reality. There are no places for the boys and girls to go to as in the cities. Now, will you do it? Put up a good "Gymn" and don't be meagerly in doing it. Put in a swimming pool and shower baths that will inculcate the idea of cleanliness and you will have better boys and girls.

It would be better to circulate a paper for funds to save the boys and girls than to set in comfortable chairs telling at a mother's meeting how it ought to be done. WILL YOU DO IT.

IT WILL COME.

If ever the country, or rather the citizens of a country, were disgusted it is the thinking American people of to-day who are.

Did you ever see so much monkey business by a lot of men who are supposed to at least assent to the will of the people as has been going on down at Washington during the past few months by the tariff tinkerers? The people want revision downward, the President was elected on that platform and wishes according to all evidences to carry out the wish of the people. But oh, those Senators, they seemingly are afraid of offending the "DEAR INTERESTS". That's the upshot of it all boiled down in a few words, and they are trying to make the people blind or satisfied by taxing corporations. See the game, do you? Like a farce isn't it? Well that's the way it looks to the lay mind. Just as though they were saying, "We will raise the tariff, protect the interests for five per cent, and then have them pay back, 1 per cent. Good business proposition isn't it? But what about the consumer? There was a gentleman(?) who was once asked the question when a certain issue was brought up, what about the public? Ancient history, (guess thats the way to put it) says that he said, "Oh the public be D—." It isn't recorded that he used a big D—. But the public must have thought so by the BIG fuss they made. They are not saying that down in Washington, never will, but there are men down there who are digging political graves not only for themselves but for others. From this side of the street, it looks as though by their actions and there open devotion to the "INTERESTS," they are hastening the day when the people will demand the election of United States Senators by popular vote. It is coming. We are not prophets or the son of a prophet neither are we openly advocating the idea, but its coming and when it comes, who will be the blame?

That tarriff banquet may be like Belshazzar's feast with the HAND WRITING ON THE WALL.

There are other ominous signs that indicate the people will not have their will thwarted, what they want they will have, and if men who play the political game will get their eyes open they will get under the cover. There is always a day of reckoning. It will come.

For instance, in a certain state a party of men went off on a self appointed junketing trip, at the expense of the dear people, to investigate(? But the people at home are doing the thinking and it will not be long before they will speak out their thoughts, and it will not be gentle summer zephyr of a breeze either.

To go back to the main point (as the spell binders say) There can be only one outcome to the farcicial proceedings down in Washington and that will be as indicated the demand of the people for a say in the election of the men who shall be Senators. There is one redeeming feature in the whole thing and that is. The President has always stood by the people and it is safe to say that if the tariff changes are not in accord with the downward revision idea, he will veto the bill.

GRASSHOPPER IMMIGRANTS.

America is the land of opportunity and as well the land of hospitality. The illimitable adantages of a representative and popular government, joined with an attitude of arms wide stretched in welcome to the world, have sprinkled thick with the native American the foreign emigrant in every state of the Union, and in a half dozen States and in more than twenty cities have given a clear majority to the outsider.

Nor has it been any half-hearted hospitality nor any restricted citizenship to which this republic of the free has bidden the peoples of the Old World. The best that we have has always been as free to the newcomer as to our own, in proportion to perseverence in pursuit and the capacity to possess. The records of New York are written thick with official signatures rich in suggestion of other lands. Chicago and the great cities of the West and South have been more than fair in racial division of official honors, while State after State has spelled in its chief executive the impress which Germany and Ireland, and the Scandinavian races have made upon our national confidence and respect.

But the time has come, or appears to be at hand, when historic hospitality must draw and know its limitations.

When hospitality is abused it must also be abridged—and the blood of many races mingled in one whole, (especially such as are not worthy and the ungrateful who seek our shores for selfish aims) and a swift exit with quick action gains.

From the testimony of experts before the Industrial Commission some startling facts have just been stated upon the floor of the National Congress.

It is certainly true that comparatively few European immigrants go to South America, Africa, Canada or Australia, but that under existing laws America is becoming the drumping ground for the surplus population of every foreign land.

It is stated that within the past ten years passing immigrants to this country have carried back to the countries from which they came nearly one thousand million dollars!

It is stated from the records that, during the last year of panic and depression, when money was scarcer than hen's teeth and everybody was blue as indigo, there left the country 764,000 aliens, taking with them an enormous sum of money estimated at from $200,000,000 to $500,000,000.

There is neither genius nor generosity in perpetuating or premitting an immigration like that. Men and women who come here to play a man's part or a woman's part in our national life, to enrich our industries with honest thrift and our civic life with enduring citizenship—should be welcome to the end of time.

But the wisdom, justice and firmness of our American statesmanship should be equal to some legislation to discourage or discontinue these tramp immigrants who come like a grasshopper and the locust to eat up our green fields of glorious opportunity, and then in the first and reason to skip away with full bellies to some far country from which they came, carrying our previleges as spoils to enrich some land that knows neither reciprocity nor exchange.

It is unjust to American workmen born under our flag or pledged to its fortunes. It is an injustice to our industries to entertain these passing and irresponsible competitors with the solid and enduring body of our own industrial life.

We protect our honest toilers with a tariff that is supposed to guard their interests against unequal conditions on the other side.

But what is the consistency in a tariff for the sake of American industry if the peripatetic tramps of all conutries can come without let or hindrance or tax to prosper upon our marvelous opportunities, and then scamper away in a single panic year with half enough American money in their wallets to pay the national debt?
