OFFICIAL FACTS AND FIGURES.

During the past five years, 5,429,986 aliens have entered, and 2,219,52 aliens have left the United States, according to page 228 of the 1908 Annual Report of the Commissioner General of Immigration. Total alien arrivals for April, 1908, 138,382—i. e. at the rate of 1660,584 per year,or 122,115 more than for 1907—the banner year in our immigration history (1,285,469 aliens)—demonstrating that last year's slump (924,695) was merely the warning ebb of a still greater flood tide.

Four-fifths of last year's influx came from southeast Europe and western Asia (less than one-twentieth of whom had ever been here before); two-thirds were single male adults: one-forth of the adults could not read or write; and three-fourths settled in the overcrowded labor centers of six northeastern states, owing largely to their instinctive social fondness for congested city districts.

"The very large sums of money annually sent to Europe from the United States (according to last year's reports $50,000,000 were thus sent to Austria and Hungary alone) have had a magnetic effect on some European governments, and has awakened in them the desire to multiply these shipments to the greatest extent possible. They have enacted laws with the ostensible intention of restricting immigration, but, I was priviledged to get emigrants in direct and open violation of their own laws. It was at this time that I learned of the agreement between the Hungarian Government and the Cunard Line, by the terms of which "said Government guarantees" 30,000 steerage passengers per year." (Pages 3, 5, House Document No. 384, Official Report of Speccial Immigrant Inspector, Marcus Braun, (still in the U. S. Government service) 59th Congress, 1st session.)

"Mr. Adolfo Rssi, Royal Commisioner of Emigration of Italy, is reported by Mr. Herbert F. Sherwood, special correspondent of the Liberal Immigration League, who accompanied the Immigration Commission on its trip abroad years ago, to have said, in speaking of the recent emigration from Italy to the United States: "This large Emigration has provided a good market for land and made it more valuable (here in Italy) because many of the returning emigrants buy parcels for themselves. Many emigrants come back with $2,000 or $3,000, and buy land.

Farther on in his report to the Liberal League—a propogandist society of New York City—Mr. Sherwood says: "From what I can gather Austria is passive in her attitude toward emigration, in view of a yearly influx of $10,000,000, from America Because of it. On the contrary, Hungary is looking upon it with some alarm,notwithstanding an annual augmentation of her capital by more than $20,000,000 due to it." But still further on, Mr Sherwood says: "For instance, one man who ought to know, says that at present the Hungarian Government has no specific agreement with the Cunard Line. Another, who ought to be equally well informed, declared that it has. However that may be, it is evident that the authorities have a definite understanding of some sort with the English company." (Page 1495, Congressional Record, April 26, 1909.)

Steerage rates are from $10 to $65 less to the United States than to Canada, Cape Colony, Siberia, Austrilia, and South America, making us the cheapest country to get to, and accounting for our being the only country in the world wih a mentionable not foreign immigration—in truth the worlds' dumping ground.

The untaxed, foreign-owned, operated and controlled steamship lines are making handsome profits as is evidenced by their continually constructing larger and faster ocean flyers, and successfully froming a close combine or pool for charging the traffic all it will bear, and as result of which steerage rates were doubled. (Report of Industrial Commission. Vol. XV, pages 102, 117,)

The 1909 Annual Report of the Superintendent of Immigration shows that during twelve months ending March 31st, 159,832 United States citizens settled in Canada, taking with them money and effects valued at $60,000,000. Crowded out, not up.

Recently in an elaborate address before the St. Paul commercial Club, James J. Hill said: "Our public domain is exhausted. Last year over a million people came from across the Atlantic to the United States, and the natural increase certainly is a million and a half more. What is to become of these people? They are to be driven into the factories and workshops. They can go or crowd us over into Canadian Northwest, as many have been crowded. But that country will be populated to its comfortable extent very soon , much sooner than you think. It has not an unlimited area."

CONFIDENCE NOT DISTRUST.

A medical man who should announce to his patient that he had no faith in materia medica, and regarded all the discoveries of medical scienece as of little value, that he himself did not know what the effect of his prescription would be, probably would be told to go about his business. A physician may not know all the mysteries of the science he practices, but he does not make a parade of his ignorance. He emphasizes what he does know, and seeks to inspire the confidence and not the distrust of his patient.

Now think it over for yourself and see if you cannot widen out the idea into the practical everyday life and conditions in which you are living. Give a man confidence in the person, or matter of business that he may at the moment not be interested in, and as the folks on the street say you have him coming .

Put the same idea into the life of a village, give the people outside who are looking for a home the idea that your school is the best school, the business places the best places, men honest, and all that, and you will have your village coming. That's what is needed expressions of confidence in the man and business enterprises in your own home town. You may not be able to see why they are running their concerns the way they are. You may not be able to explain all the whys and wherefores but you can put in a word that will give cconfidence in the enterprises and once confidence is secured, thereat is easy.

Take it on the line of village improvements. There is Main street a disgrace. Dust thick everytime you ride over it, you wish that something could be done to improve it. Can it be? Yes sir, if every tax payer would get after it, let the village officials know you have confidence in their business integrity, let them know what you want, it will be done, and Andover will haveat least one street that will be a step to giving people outside confidence in the progressive, go-ahead spirit of our villagers.

There comes up at once the oldbug bear too much taxes. Of course it will raise taxes, but not to an extent that any one will feel. You have heard that same old cry ever since improvements were first started to make Andover what it should be. When the school building was built, you heard it but, who is a penny poorer for it to-day, Who ever went without a meal,, a single thing of comfort or pleasure for that? NOT ONE, and there stands the building a pride to the community and for every dollar invested returns have come. How? Families have come here to live because of the school privileges. It increased the value of every foot of real estate in the village. It gave the spirit of pride until the exterior of homes were improved, and inspirited men and women with the idea that things could be done. It gave confidence. Men built new residences, A new era came, Now what? Get after Main Street make it what you wish it was. It will be a long step to inspiring confidence in the ability of the citizens to do things. Put your distrust that it CAN'T BE DONE, in your pocket and have enough confidence in your own people to tell them to go ahead and you will push. CONFIDENCE and not DISTRUST, will make it go. Nothing in this world succeeds like SUCCESS.

ONLY.

Stoop shouldered with his head bent to the ground he passed along the strret, wasn't much style to the cut of his old clothes, in fact they were a littel worse for wear, and his unshaven face, and unkempt hair told a louder story than any words he might speak. Two boys, just common everyday boys were passing along and the look of disgust upon the face of one told what was passing through his mind. Carelessly he threw a stick toward the old gentleman, and the other boy said, "Don't do that," "Why not?" the boy asked, "he is ONLY an OLD MAN." ONLY AN OLD MAN. The writer had a train of thought, come like the flash of light that you sometimes see from the trolley wheel. It brought one of those mental pictures better than a bijou dream at five cents per. It was a picture of a young man answering the call of his country enlistment and then the three solid years of history making in which he had a part, some of the months of the years he spent in Libby, and as the picture moved on, home, business mighty undertakings for those days, the successful business man. happy home, boy sent out to fight battles the father couldn't fight in the commercail world. One day, a black Friday, all the earnings of a life time were swept away, and the man went out to try it over again. Failed. but he had played his part. He was true as husband and father,and he was the one, that we boy called ONLY an OLD MAN. He made his mark. No don't put it that way again, true age may have caused the stoop, the vigor of youth won't come back again. but, he's worth more than that "only". He's a man, a father, yes and its the like of him to whom we are indebted for what we have. Be kind to the old folks, give them the best you have, they have seen the storms and the clouds and now while the path leads to the setting of the sun, treat them as ONLY kindness can do it. ONLY a kind word but how it will count up, make smiles keep life from being dark and the next time you see that old gentleman, go up and thank him, put a new glint in his eye by telling him that the young folks haven't forgotten him.

That's what will help you to get the sunshine out of life. Better than putting roses on a man's grave after he is dead. "Oh," say you, "that will make a sensation if I should do that." Well, let it. Sensation is a thousand times better than a stagnation. The cemetery is the "ONLY" place where they can't have sensation, the folks up there are dead. See the reason?

The fellow who is always borrowing never has anything to lend.

JUST THINK THIS OVER!

We don't confine ourselves to Drugs these days. Since we have added our new store which gives us one of the largest etores in the county, we are constantly adding new lines and just because you don't see a thing displayed in our store is no sign we do not keep the article. Everyone knows about our Drug Stock, the most complete in Allegany County, but there may be some who do not know we carry the largest line of Blank Books and Stationery in this county. Such is a fact and if you want anything in this line we can supply you. This fall we have added to our line of School Supplies until we will be able to show everything needed for school work. In draughtmans supplies and artists materials we are well stocked and if there is anything you want for either Drawing, Oil or China Painting we have it.

Just a word as to prices in closing. We are not afraid to quote prices for the reason that all we ask is a fair profit. We have lowered the prices on many staple articles during the past year, among them, Paris Green 5c lb. Cholgates Preparations from 10 to 25 per cent. Fer Oxids of Hydrogon we cut practically in two, now selling 1 pt. bottles for 25c. These are but a few of the cute we have made. We can't advertise every item in our store with the price, it costs too much. Did it ever occur to you that a store which you KNOW has reduced the price on many articles would be LIABLE to sell other items a little cheaper than their competitors.
