Tad is Dead. The Debenture Plan. Wanted, Another Edison. A "Want Ad."

"Tad" Dorgan is dead. Millions knew him. He analyzed human nature in pictures, as well as Dickens did in words.

Stricken by heart disease, knowing that he might die at any moment, he continued working cheerfully and died in his sleep.

He worked as a boy, in a mill, to support his mother and younger children. When his right hand was mutilated, in an accident, he drew pictures with his left hand.

A Hearst editor asked him to come from San Francisco to New York for double the salary he was paid. Tad replied, "I have my mother and six kid brothers and sisters. I wouldn't leave them."

Invited to bring them all East at Mr. Hearst's expense, he came and established a reputation thruout the whole country.

Prize fight enthusiasts, with half an inch of forehead, or Charles Dana Gibson, with a brow like the dome of St. Peter's will tell you "Tad was a great man."

The Senate may put thru the "farm relief" debenture plan in spite of the President's protests. That is good news for middlemen. They would buy farm products, export them and get a bonus on exported products.

The farmer would get the bonus IF he could ship wheat or cotton direct to Liverpool. But he cannot do that.

It is "hoped that giving a bonus to exporting middlemen will "automatically" increase prices paid the farmer.

Silly hope. Paying the middleman 20 cents a quart for milk does not increase the four or five cents a quart paid the farmer.

However, the debenture bonus would put money in circulation, even if it did the farmer no direct good. Also it would add to the rich man's taxes and make that resourceful gentleman say to himself, "I must think up a way to solve that farm problem."

Expensive labor compels production of new machinery. Expensive farm cure-alls will make financial intelligence interest itself in the farmer.

Governors of various states are co-operating with Thomas A. Edison seeking among boys of today, "Edison's successor." That boy, when he is found, will find himself.

To develop Edison, one among hundreds of millions, many ingredients, including poverty and necessity, were necessary.

The next Edison is somewhere, on a farm, or in the city.

There is no way to identify him now.

It pays to get a good job and attend to it. And it pays to advertise. Twenty-two years ago, D. A. Crawford, very young, answered a "want ad." and got a job as stenographer with Mr. Carry, late president of the Pullman Company.

Yesterday, the Pullman Company directors, intelligently promoting one of their own men, chose Mr. Crawford to succeed Mr. Carry, as president.

Don't stay in the wrong place. But don't be in a hurry to decide that you are right and the job is wrong.

MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

Units of National Strength

America's strength rests upon her home, her business enterprises and her banks.

All three are knit closely together with one absolutely depending upon the others.

With this in mind the Federal Reserve System was formed—to broaden the bank's sphere of usefulness in this scheme of things—and we are glad of the privilege of being a Member Bank of this great System, with all its wonderful Resources behind us.

Heart to Heart Talks

By Dr. John Joseph Haines

HOUSES

As a small boy, one of the most amazing passages I found in the New Testament, and one that taxed my credulity most, was the one containing assurance of "houses not made with hands." Had I not believed in God's word, I would have branded it a glaring falsehood.

Young manhood came, and with it — broader perceptive powers. Rambling thru a wooded pasture, I saw a snail creeping by the side of a fallen tree-trunk; he was occupying his house, which hands had no part in building. It was a real home, too; one that filled every requirement of its owner.

You and I live in houses not made with hands—these wonderful bodies of ours. They have been called temples, where the spirit of God dwells. Whether they are so, I must let the builder of the universe judge. I know that such a spirit may dwell here—if the temple be kept clean and fit for such a tenant. The spirit of God, it seems to me, has but little room in a temple dedicated to moral leprosy.

We may own a hundred hand-built houses; may go in and out of them as we please; we may regard them as the last word in architecture, beauty and comfort; we may lease them to others; but, this houre not made with hands is different; it requires our first and best care. Even the most trifling neglect may destroy it forever, and, when we once forsake it, we cross its threshold no more.

It is my house not made with hands that gives me the most concern; it is worth inestimably more thrn any habitation that I myself might create. Therefore I will keep it clean inside and out, and be vigilant to protect it from dangerous and destructive influences. I want it to last at least a hundred years, if possible.

Tests show that Grimm alfalfa is more winter-hardy than the best common alfalfa and produces, on an average, three-quarters of a ton an acre each year more than common alfalfa.

BAKERS' STORE NEWS
Published by Baker Bros. Hardware, Andover, N. Y.

The following was heard in the leafy darkness of a secluded part of the park:

"I thought you were going to kiss me when you puckered up your lips just now."

"No—er—that is—it was only a piece of grit in my mouth."

"Then for goodness' sake swallow it—you need it."

Ten cents' worth of CARBONA will do $5.00 worth of cleaning on that fine piece of silk goods.

If you want to practice Waterless Cooking we will furnish you a complete cooker and book of instructions for $1.00. Then when you decide to own a real Mirro Vapo Seal Cooker we will take back the $1.00 outfit and allow you the full purchase price in exchange.

Peas, beans, spinach, cabbage and carrots are more reasonable in price and good quality. Don't spoil the taste and reduce the food value by cooking the old water way.

If you don't like to board woodchucks you may quit any time you like. Cyanogas will clear them out like magic.

For ordinary premises a one pound can will do the job and costs only 65c.

Don't overlook the fact that we are car-load buyers and can give you lowest prices on all kinds of prepared roofing, and roof coatings.

We offer good quality heavy smooth surface Roll Roofing at $1.75 per square and four in one Strip Shingles at $4.75. Special prices for ten squares or more. Bring us your roofing problems.

Gardens are so late you can't afford to take chances on seeds. Leonard Bulk Seeds have never failed. They will produce more and better crop and the selections will suit you.

Beans, corn, peas, onions and the small vegetables. Buy in bulk, get double the amount for less money. Standard package seeds five cents.

Tractors and weeders and cultivators have largely taken the place of hand tools but "The man with a hoe" is still very much a factor in the scheme of things.

The other day there was a big warehouse fire in Buffalo and a lot of first quality HOES were close enough to get their wrappers scorched and discolor the blades, but their usefulness is as great as ever.

They sell regularly at $1.00, this lot will go on sale Friday at 75c. So this is a splendid opportunity to replace the worn out implement.

We have a few genuine high grade Casting Rods, with double cork covered grips and large red agate guides. A beautiful fishing rod and strong enough to land a 20-pounder.

These rods have usually been sold at retail for $5.00, but we found a fellow with an overstock and so have a few to offer at $3.39. You will enjoy owning and using one of these fine fishing rods.

See the Renown Combination Range with the direct action oven, heat control and one-half more top surface than the usual table top cooking stove.

Just the stove for the cook who likes plenty of room.
