THE REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

ASSEMBLYMAN JESSE S. PHILLIPS UNANIMOUSLY RE-NOMINATED FOR THE TENTH TIME.—HANCOCK FOR SHERIFF.

(Concluded from First page.)

rency. We also congratulate the citizenship of the 37th Congressional District upon the wise policy of retaining him in his present position for a period of years which has made possible such great perfgrment.

We rejoice greatly that after an interval of more than a quarter of a century, Allegany County once more enjoys the privilege of seeing a favorite son seated in the State Senate. We congratulate the Honorable Geo. H Witter upon his election to that distinguished body and upon the very creditable record made during his first year in the service of the 44th Senatorial District.

Fortunately for the County of Allegany some years ago we adopted the same wise course which has obtained in the Congressional District, of re-electing, for term after term, an honest, capable and efficient legislative representative. As a result of this beneficent policy, the Honorable Jesse S. Phillips, by his long and faithful service in the Assembly, has been able to achieve a position of marked distinction and influence and is now regarded throughout the state as one of the strongest and most influential members of that body. His course, at all times, has been such as to commend itself to his constituents and we desire to assure him our full and hearty approval of his every action as the member of assembly from Allegany county.

County Treasurer D. S. Burdick moved that the two delegate to the 8th, district judicial convention be Frank Sullivan Smith, of Angelica, and John C. Leggett, of Cuba.

On motion of A. O. Renwick, of Cuba, the following resolutions endorsing Justices Spring and McLaughlin were adopted:

Resolutions by A. O. Renwick.

Whereas, the terms of office of Justices Spring and Laughlin expire on the 31st day of December next, therefore be it.

Resolved, that the Republican party of the County of Allegany, in Convention assembled, hereby endorse their renomination and commend them for the strong, clear, able and fearless manner in which they have always discharged their duties. And be it further.

Resolved, that the delegates of the County of Allegany to the coming judicial convention be and are hereby instructed to use all honorable effort to secure their re-nomination.

The convention was now ready for nominations, and Hon. Frank S. Smith took the floor to present the name of Jesse S. Phillips for Assemblyman for the 10th consecutive term. In the same room nine years before Mr. Phillips had been first nominated, and in calling attention to the fact Mr. Smith told the story of how years ago when something was said at Albany about the "member from Allegany," the famous Roscoe Conklin remarked, "What has Allegany County a member in the Assembly?" Smith added Mr. Smith, "for the past nine years that question has not been asked in Albany." Continuing a merited eulogy of the services and career of Assemblyman Phillips, Mr. Smith spoke earnestly of the honors extended by Speaker Wadsworth to our member; how he has grown steadily in his work, becoming known as the hardest worker in the house, fearless and honest in his judgment, if he differs with the opinion of others. Mr. Phillips is never afraid to state his position and is always willing to cross swords with his opponents. Sound in wisdom, able in judgment, it would be a great mistake, said the speaker, not to return for the tenth time, so Allany,as the representative of the Grand Old Party in this Grand Old County, our present member, Jesse S. Phillips.

On motion of Mr. Smith the convention unanimously directed the secretary to cast the vote of the delegates for Mr. Phillips.

Speech of Hon. J. S. Phillips.

Gentlemen of the Convention:—It is unnecessary for me to say that I am deeply grateful to receive at the hand of the Republican Convention a tenth nomination for Member of Assembly. To be ten times nominated unanimously by a convention of representative Republicans of Grand Old Allegany is an honor of which any person may well feel proud, and do I want you to understand that I am as appreciative of the honor which you have just conferred as I was with the first nomination which I received in this same hall nine years ago. I thank you for the resolution which you have unanimously adopted today approving my course in the legislature during the past nine years. The fact that for nine times the people have ratified at the polls the action of the Republican Convention makes me believe that my record in some small decree at least has met with their approval. This renewed assurance today of your confidence and support is exceedingly pleasing and reminds me with greater force of the obligations and duties which I owe to you and the people whom I represent. Your Chairman has well said that it is an honor to preside over an assemblage of Republicans. I want to say to you that it is an honor to be the nominee of the Assembly of the Republican party and a still greater honor to be the nominee of that party in this grand old county where the Republican party had its birth. It is a pleasure to represent in the legislature a constituency such as this; there is no district within the confines of the state where the people are more intelligent,more alert to the best interests of good government or to whose citizenship is of a higher standard.

The people of this County under a Republican form of government have always expressed the wise beliefs and policies through the instrumentality of political parties and I apprehend that they always will. I believe in the party government and party responsibility, in responsible party leadership and in the responsibility of candidates to the principles of their party. It should be the aim and I believe it is the aim of the people of every political party and of all party leaders,by whatever name they may be known, to do honestly what they believe to be the best interests of the government. While I believe in the principles of the Republican party and through it firmly believe the best results of government may be obtained, I desire to state however, that while I owe the party allegiance, still it is to me, to the people I am the representative of the whole people. The only pledge which I have to make is that I shall endeavor to the best of my ability to vote for such measures and take such action I believe to be for the best interests, not only of my constituents, but of the people of the whole State. The advice of any constituent of mine is always freely sought and I trust that it will be freely given but it must be borne in mind that it is the duty of a representative to represent and the people have a right and should demand of me that I give them my best service, I also know that they expect me to exercise my best judgement upon all public questions free from domination and unbiased by public clamor. During the period of time which I have represented you in the legislature, I have always endeavored to do my own thinking, and have never regarded it as a part of my duty to surrender to any person or persons my honest convictions upon any legislative question. That right I yield to no man, not even to the Executive of the State. I have personally the highest regard for the Governor of this state, I have the greatest confidence in his ability and integrity. In my judgment, Governor Hughes has done more to raise public service to a higher standard than any executive of the state in recent years. And because I think he was right, he has had my hearty support in nearly every important measure advocated by him I regret, however, that I could not agree with him on the Hinman-Green bill. I believed at the time and still believe, that the Governor was wrong upon that proposition and my action was the result of my honest convictions and belief that I best served my constituency and the people of the state. It is not my intention to enter into any discussion upon this question, I simply desire to state that if the system for the nomination of candidates for public office, of it is to eliminate the delegate and convention system which has been in vogue in this state for over eighty years, if it is to adopt a new and untried scheme, I maintain that the people of this state before its legislature adopts such a policy, have a right to demand a fair,full and impartial investigation of the operations of the system which is proposed to be adopted. As a member of the legislature, I am a member of a committee now making such investigation and my action upon that subject in the future will be largely controlled by the results obtained through that investigation.

Gentlemen, again I thank you for this nomination and give you my word that if elected, I will to the best of my ability serve the people of my district and the people of the state.

Mr. J. L. Grantier, of Wellsville, then presented the name of John Tunstead, of Alma, as a candidate for sheriff, and called attention briefly to the sterling, manly qualities of the aspirant, and the fact that never before in its history had Alma presented a candidate for sheriff. Mr. Tunstead's nomination was seconded by Dawson D. Dickson, of Angelica.

Attorney Edward Rutherford, of Belfast, spoke earnestly of the qualifications of David M. Hancock, formerly sheriff of this county, and now seeking again the nomination. Mr. Hancock's nomination was seconded and according to Republican precedents a roll call was ordered, and the chairman of each delegation announced the vote of his town. The result showed 64 votes for Mr. Hancock and 37 for Mr. Tunstead.

The towns that supported Hancock were: Alfred, Allen, Almond, Amity, Andover, Belfast, Birdsall, Burns, Centerville, Clarksville, Cuba Friendship, Granger, Grove, Hume, New Hudson, Rushford, Ward, West Almond (1) a total of 64.

The towns that supported Tunstead were: Alma,Angelica, Bolivar, Caneadea, Genesee, Independence, Scio, Wellsville, West Almond, (2), Willing Wirt, a total of 37.

There was only one candidate for county clerk, the present incumbent and able incumbent, Clarence Ricker, and his re-nomination was eloquently advocated by Dawson D. Dickson, of Angelica. The convention promptly instructed the Secretary to cast the unanimous vote for Mr. Ricker.

As long as Uncle Dan Grunder will continue in charge of the County Home there will be no one to dispute his claim to the county superintendency. J. J. Merill, of Alfred, spoke earnestly in placing Mr. Grunder in nomination, and in hearty response the convention renominated, with a unanimous renomination, Mr. Merrill said in part:

Speech of J. J. Merill.

For several years we have had a superintendent of the poor in this county who has labored diligently in the interests of our people. He has brought the county farm to a high state of efficiency in production. Only a few weeks ago I had the pleasure to visit the farm and I can assure you that the buildings were well cared for, many needed improvements had been made, the stock was in splendid condition and well bred. In fact, the finances of the institution are almost faultless.

But gentlemen, there are other things to be considered in selecting a candidate for this position. To my mind one of these are other duties which are not able to care for and protect themselves. It may or may not be their fault that they are inmates of the institution. Misfortune, sickness, age—these and many other causes bring men and women with their burdens, as Will Carlton said, as well expressed "Over the Hill to the Poor House."

It may be your luck—it may be mine—to take our burdens over those same hills to the County Home. In such a case it would indeed be a pleasure to find such people in charge as the splendid man and his wife who now preside there.

Those unfortunate inmates demand and are entitled to our tenderest care and consideration. While it is important that it should be given with the least possible cost to the tax-payer, it is equally important that the hand of kindness lead the unfortunate along the shadowy way that trends along the ebbing stream of life.

We have among us such a man His capacity, his honesty can not be questioned. To the taxpayer he is a friend, to the taxpayer a financier. It is a pleasure and an honor to be permitted to present the name of Daniel C. Grunder, and whether there be other nominations or not I move that his name be placed in nomination for the position of County Superintendent of Poor by acclamation.

Dr. A. T. Bacon, of Burns, was renominated for coroner, as was also Dr. Wm. S. Todd, of Belfast, and this completed the ticket.

On motion of Charles Stillman the county executive committee was given the power of substitution and to fill any vacancies that might occur in the interval between the present and after the calling of the roll of towns and the naming of the county committee for 1910 the convention adjourned.

Everybody Talking About It

Everybody is talking about the great free offer of Dr. Greene's, who discovered that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and all who accept his offer are astonished at the marvelous success of this method. His office is at 9 West 14th St., New York City, where he receives and carefully examines every letter sent to him. After thoroughly studying each case he answers the letter, explaining the case of each symptom and telling a sure way to get well and all this is entirely free of charge. They save the expense of a trip to the city, have no fee to pay, and have the benefit of the best medical advice. Here is an opportunity for you to get well, reader; you can either accept or reject it. Which will you do?

HOTEL ON WHEELS.

Unique Train to Carry Visitors to "Portola" Festival at San Francisco.

A hotel on wheels for the managers of the principal hostelries of America and Europe is one of the unique schemes of the promoters of the "Portola," the festival at which San Francisco expects to show the world what she has done

James Woods, manager of the Hotel St. Frances, San Francisco, commissioned by the mayor of San Francisco and the governor of California as one of the managers, was at the Congress hotel in Chicago recently on the way to New York to arrange for a special train for hotel men from coast to coast. This train is to be manned throughout by hotel men.

The "Portola" festival, which is named from Gaspar de Portola, the discoverer of San Francisco bay, is scheduled to be held during the week of Oct. 19. President Taft has accepted an invitation to attend on the opening day. Nations touching on the Pacific ocean have been invited to send one battleship each to San Francisco for the occasion.

No matter how long you have suffered, Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. Mrs. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Remedy. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely." It will cure you.

At the said General Election there will be submitted to the people for the purpose of voting thereon, the following proposed amendments to the Constitution.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

Amending Section twelve of Article six of the Constitution so that it shall read as follows:

Section 12. No person shall hold the office of judge or justice of any court longer than until and including the first day of December next after he shall be seventy years of age. Each justice of the supreme court shall receive from the state the sum of ten thousand dollars per year. Those assigned to the appellate divisions in the third and fourth departments shall each receive in addition the sum of two thousand dollars, and the presiding justices thereof the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars per year. Those justices elected in the first and second judicial departments shall continue to receive from their respective cities, counties or districts, as now provided by law, such additions to compensation as will make their aggregate compensation what they are now receiving. Those justices elected in any judicial department other than the first or second, and assigned to the appellate divisions of the first or second departments shall while so assigned, receive from those departments respectively, as now provided by law, such additional sum as is said to the justices of those departments. A justice elected in the third or fourth department as aforesaid, to the appellate division, designated by the governor to hold a trial or special term in a judicial district other than that in which he is elected shall receive in addition ten dollars per day for expenses while actually so engaged in holding such term, which shall be paid by the state and charged upon the judicial district where the service is rendered. The compensation hereby provided shall be in lieu of all other compensation and allowance to said justices for expenses of every kind and nature whatsoever. The provisions of this section shall apply to the judges and justices now in office and to those hereafter elected.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO

Amending Section four of Article seven of the Constitution so that it shall read as follows:

Section 4. Except the debts specified in sections two and three of this article, no debts shall be hereafter contracted by or in behalf of this state, unless such debt shall be authorized by law, for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein; and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay and sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, and charge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof. No such law shall take effect until it shall, at a general election, have been submitted to the people and have received a majority of the votes cast for and against it at such election. On the final passage of such bill in either house of the legislature the vote by ayes and noes, to be duly entered on the journals thereof, and shall be entitled this bill, shall be submitted to the people" The legislature may at any time after the approval of the law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may at any time, by law, forbid the contracting of any further debt or liability under such law; but the tax imposed by such act, in proportion to the debt and liability which may have been contracted in pursuance of such law, shall remain in force and be uncreasable, and be annually collected until the proceeds thereof shall have made the provision hereinbefore specified to pay and discharge the interest and principal of such debt and liability. The money arising from any loan or stock created by such act, shall be applied to the work or object specified in the act authorizing such debt or liability, or for the payment of such debt or liability, and for no other purpose whatever. No such law shall be submitted to the people, nor be acted upon, nor any debt shall be contracted under it, until the same shall have been voted for or against at a general election when any other law, or any bill shall be submitted to the people for their approval. The legislature may provide for the issue of bonds of the state to run for a period not exceeding fifty years in anticipation of the revenue authorized but not issued and shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay the interest on the same as hereinbefore required. When any sinking fund created under this section shall equal in amount the debt for which it was created, no further direct tax shall be levied on account of said sinking fund, and the legislature shall reduce the tax to an amount equal to the accruing interest on such debt. The legislature may from time to time apply any surplus of interest to be paid upon any state debt, which has been or may be authorized under the provisions of this section, or upon any part of such debt, provided, however, that the rate of interest upon such debt shall not be reduced, or shall be created or issued before such alteration, or shall cause the legislature to increase the rate of interest upon any such debt, or part thereof, or shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax to pay and sufficient to pay the increased or altered interest on such debt as so altered, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt within fifty years from the time of the contracting thereof, and shall appropriate annually to the sinking fund moneys in amount sufficient to pay such interest and pay and discharge the principal of such debt when it shall become due and payable.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE

Amending Section twenty-seven of article three of the Constitution so that it shall read as follows:

Section 27. The legislature shall, by general laws, confer upon the boards of supervisors of the several counties of the state such further powers of local legislation and administration as the legislature may from time to time, deem expedient, and in counties which now have, or may hereafter have county auditors or other fiscal officers, authorized to audit bills, accounts,charges,claims,or demands against the county,the legislature may confer such powers upon said auditors, or fiscal officers, as the legislature may, from time to time deem expedient.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR

Amending Section ten of article eight of the Constitution so that it shall read as follows:

Section 10. No county, city, town or village, shall hereafter give any money or property,or loan its money or credit to or in aid of any individual, association or corporation, or become directly or indirectly the owner of stocks in, or bonds of any association or corporation; nor shall any such county, city, town or village be allowed to incur any indebtedness except for county, city, town or village purposes. This section shall not prevent such county, city, town or village from making such provision for the aid or support of its poor as may be authorized by law. No county or city shall be allowed to become indebted for any purpose or in any manner to an amount which including existing indebtedness, shall exceed ten per centum of the assessed valuation of the real estate of such county or city subject to taxation, as it appeared by the assessment rolls of said county or city on the last assessment for state or county taxes prior to the incurring of such indebtedness; and such indebtedness in excess of such limitation, except such as now may exist, shall be absolutely void, except as herein provided, nor shall any county or city whose present indebtedness exceeds ten per centum of the assessed valuation of its real estate subject to taxation,shall be allowed to become indebted in any further amount, until such indebtedness shall be reduced within said limit. This section shall not be construed to prevent the issuing of certificates of indebtedness or revenue bonds issued in anticipation of the collection of taxes for amounts actually contained or to be contained in the taxes for the year when such certificates or revenue bonds are issued and payable out of such taxes; nor to prevent the City of New York from issuing bonds to be redeemed out of the tax levey for the year next succeeding the year of their issue, provided that the aggregate of such bonds which may be issued in any one year in excess of the limitations herein contained shall not exceed one-tenth of one per

WELLSVILLE FAIR MANAGEMENT WILL PROVIDE A WEEK OF VALUABLE INSTRUCTION AND EXPERIMENT TO FARMERS AND OTHERS VISITING THE FAIR THIS YEAR.

Many people have formed an idea that the average Fair is principally devoted to horse racing, but such is not the case with Wellsville Fair and this year an entirely new innovation will be introduced in the way of an educational course of lectures and instruction by some of the leading professors in the great agricultural schools of the state. A large tent with a seating capacity of several hundred, and which will be cool and airy, will be located near the main building, and a corps of instructors will be present during the entire week of the Fair to discuss with farmers the modern ways of farming, fruit growing and domestic science. In connection with these daily talks there will be an interesting exhibit from the famous college of agriculture at Cornell, which cannot fail to be of value to every one engaged in agriculture in all its branches. The Fair management has gone to great expense this year to secure these exhibits,and speakers both from Cornell and from the State College of Agriculture at Alfred,it is hoped that every farmer in this section will avail himself of the opportunity of free instruction, and that all will come and help make things interesting.

There will not be any long, dry speeches, but short, crisp, entertaining and instructive talks, or perhaps just questions and answers. These lectures will be delivered upon the village by and benefit of the farmers of Allegany County, and no better time could be selected than the Wellsville Fair, where will be on exhibition the best and highest types of farm animals, sheep and poultry, and the choicest products of farm and vegetables. The plan is to make the meetings both entertaining and instructive, and the farmers will only co-operate, the meetings will help but prove of value to all. If you have been having trouble raising crops, or in breeding stock, and you want to know what is the most profitable kind of stock to have on your farm, come and talk with these men who have made a life study of this work, and they will freely and gladly help you.

It is expected that Miss Wood, teacher of domestic science of the Alfred School of Agriculture,will also be present and many talks will be of especial interest to the women. Miss Wood is worth hearing and will talk on Modern Kitchen Conveniences and Cooking in the Farm House and other topics.

These meetings will be held both morning and afternoon, and as the subjects vary from day to day, the best plan is to arrange to come on Tuesday and stay through the week. Don't miss a single meeting. Get a season ticket and take advantage of this modern school of agriculture which is brought conveniently to your home and learn the best and most profitable way of carrying on your farm work.

Tuneful Notes From Andover.

The toothpick figure has much appearance at the moment, and she seems like the last straw. The new bathing suits for women are distinctly on the directoire effect. These bathes have been worn by women who have braved the surf in the cool temperature of the early morning, but there is nothing beyond fashion. It might be expected that in a bathing suit nature would have its way, but not a bit of it. Figures that a year ago were in and out, up and down, in and around, this year and that way, at present offer a passable imitation of a bean pole, which means that the elongated corset is a necessary addition to the attire of the bathing suit. To bathe in a corset is about as comfortable as to eat ice cream through a veil, but women are fashion's ready slaves!

Castles in the Air.

Once when our castles rose in air
With hearts new-forged and hopes
We thought the world had never known
So fair a type before.
We always saw a strange small
With roses round the door.

And then when life became more tense
We quite outgrew all that,
And fancy built another home,
Rejoicing much thereat,
For then it was our dreams upreared
A cozy little flat.

But nowadays that, too, is changed
With fashion's ebb and flow,
Modern architecture
Our fickle tastes will show,
We'll crowd our servants to live
Within a bungalow.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. S. Nucbam, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took several medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar. It quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success."

Recent Medical Consciousness Upon New Anaesthetic.

A discovery which will bring great satisfaction to the timid who fear to be put in a condition where their consciousness is reported in a telegram to the state department at Washington by the consul general at Bucharest, Roumania.

This is an anaesthetic, a combination of strychnine and storain, discovered by a surgeon of Bucharest and from the application of which the patient does not lose mental consciousness. It is injected in the spine for operations below the waist and in the neck for operations above. Dr. Bannyryall, the consul general reports, has taken some of the anaesthetic to London.

People with chronic bronchitis, asthma and lung trouble, will find great relief and comfort in Foley's Honey and Tar, and can avoid suffering by commencing to take it at once.

MIKADO'S BOWL FOR VASSAR.

Baroness Uriu Gave to Her Alma Mater Gift Received From Emperor.

Baroness Uriu and her husband, Vice Admiral Uriu of the Japanese navy, were the stars at Vassar college commencement exercises in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the other day, and at the luncheon the baroness presented upon the college, her alma mater, a silver bowl given to her by the emperor of Japan, who, when he learned that the baroness was to visit the United states, let it be known that the bowl was to be an imperial gift to her American college.

The bowl is made of solid silver as thick as a silver dollar. It is about twenty inches in diameter and stands two inches high. The bowl is decorated in enamel and hammered relief work representing in color the flowers of Japan—the wistaria and chrysanthemum—also the national bird of that country and the official mark of the royal house. The bowl is valued at $1,000. It is a fine specimen of Japanese handiwork.
