The Story of Ezekiel

Ezekiel 3:4-11; 24:15-18

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Three lessons are given to the book of Ezekiel and plans should be made now to read the 48 chapters within that time. Visions and symbols abound. Much will be found to stimulate thinking which cannot be explained. You will be lifted, as was the author, into realms of the spiritual and come to an even greater conception of the reality of the Almighty.

Ezekiel had been carried to Babylon from Jerusalem in the deportation during the reign of Jehoiachin, in 597 B. C. Daniel was already there by a still earlier transfer of captivity. Keep in mind that the overthrow of Jerusalem was 586 B. C. Our author, prophet and pastor began his work at the age of 30, which was the usual time to enter the priestly office, and such his father Buzi held. The very day is indicated when his ministry began, and it translates into our June 26. The place is Tel-aviv, located on a canal in Babylonia. Indicated passages for special research are Ezekiel 1:1-3; 2:1-3:27; 8:1-4; 11:22-25; 24:15-24; 33:30-33.

The deported Israelites were establishing themselves in new homes and were taking up local industries; tho they still had hopes of an early return to Jerusalem. Their human nature and tendencies were unchanged by the forced change of residence. God still had His purpose in them, and Ezekiel was commissioned to speak His word to them. Amid all the imagery and transport of visions Ezekiel understood his work as a messenger. Knowing Jehovah's purpose he could say that the roll "was in my mouth as honey for sweetness."

"My words" was the burden of the message to be delivered. Ezekiel was a home missionary, tho in a foreign land, and he had the advantage in knowing the language.

The task would be hard, indeed, for as yet the people did not have a mind to listen. They were styled "impudent and hardhearted." Evangelizing is rarely easy. Tho the greatest good is freely offered multitudes are wholly indifferent to God's gift of love. For such an attitude Ezekiel was prepared in advance. Rebuffs and open insults have usually been part of the experiences of missionaries, but they could always know that the greatest insult was thrown in the face of Jehovah, whose representative they were. "Adament, harder than flint" was the attacking and withstanding power of Ezekiel's "forehead." Their indifference or even rebellion was not to make him afraid.

For seven years the ambassador sat in silence as men looked on and wondered. Then they were told of the depravity he had to report from Jerusalem, where baseet iniquities were still being practiced openly. When Jerusalem fell under the attack of Nebuchadnezzar a few years later and their brothers were also brought to Babylonia, profound respect was paid to Ezekiel because events had occurred to his pronouncements as a messenger of the Lord.

The King's business often calls for a total disregard of all self interests. When "the desire of thine eyes," Ezekiel's wife, was taken away, the prophet was commanded not to display any of the usual evidences of mourning but to renew his public appeals to repentance even on that very day.

Hoover's Common Sense.
When to Marry.
Teaching How to Think.
Crime Never Pays.

The House, rejecting the debenture plan, depriving middlemen of a comfortable profit on farm exports.

Intelligent farmers know that it wouldn't have given them much if anything.

The President is supported in his common sense attitude.

Thirty-five, for men, is a good age to marry, altho 45 is a better ago.

Thirty-five for women, 45 to 55 for men, would be the best from the eugenist's point of view.

So at least said the Greek philosopher. Modern commonsense says the best time to marry is when you fall in love, that when you marry young you keep out of mischief, if you stay away from Reno and Paris.

Why should men marry after 40 and women after 30? Because children get intellect and health from the mother. They should be born when the mother's health and intellect have reached highest development and before either begin to fail.

Children inherit intelligence chiefly from their fathers, when the fathers HAVE it. In men that develop fully, about one in 1,000, full intelligence is not developed until 45 or 50.

Dean Hutchins, soon to be head of the University of Chicago and youngest president of any big college in the United States, says the teachers' real work is teaching students to THINK.

"A university is not made to reform or amuse young men, but to teach them to think, to think straight if possible, but to think always for themselves."

No educator ever said anything more important or expressed more accurately the purpose of education.

But how can you teach men TO THINK? That is the question. You must take them young. Professor Hutchins says, "It is sad but true that at 18 or 19 it is too late to take a boy and make a man of him and interest him in his studies. He is solidified too often in more ways than one."

* * *

Dr. Cowley, Chicago University's specialist in psychology, testing 40 gangsteers and racketeers for mental speed, found them pitifully slow.

That might have been expected.

The criminals tested could not even answer quickly questions as to what they would do in an emergency while committing a crime.

Because their minds are slow they are criminals.

If they were not slow they would know that crime never pays.

Lindbergh broke half of the young female hearts marrying. Now the Prince of Wales, it is said, will marry Princess Ingrid, of Sweden. Nothing left for the dreams of young ladies.

Speaking of picnicking, we have anticipated your wants with such a variety of Heart's Delight food products that preparing for the eats need not be a matter of any uncertainty. The Olives, Mayonnaise Dressing, Peanut Butter, Pickles, Sliced Beef, Coffee, should, of course, all be Heart's Delight brand; and we will guarantee a jolly supper.

Heart to Heart

By Dr. John Joseph Haines

Faith of Our Fathers

We hear a great deal about the illustrious framers of our Constitution—all of it to their credit, by the way.

They must have been good men. I cannot believe they were ignorant, tricky or designing; the destiny of a great nation depended on their integrity of purpose—their wisdom of action. They lived at a time when, "an appeal to arms, and to the Lord of hosts," was all that was left for them.

One of their permanent creations was metallic money—a highly essential medium in any sort of commercial transaction. These men caused to be stamped deep into the precious metal, "In God We Trust." I do not doubt the absolute sincerity of the declaration. I believe they were right, not wrong.

We are supposed to be living today in a stage of great enlightenment—in a day of superman. We are drifting rapidly from the old ways. In this particular and highly important declaration of our forefathers, some of us rush into print with the assertion that it is a mere fabrication, based on superstition and ignorance! If that be true, then, why not do away with the rest of the historic document?

To trust in a supreme being does not fit into the ideas of some of our people. They can't bear to admit their dependence on any higher power. Listen, now: They will, in time, come to a defiance of all law; if we can't trust in a just God, as our forefathers did, shall we put our trust in Man? Men who today "swear by" the sacred Constitution—who preach adherence to the sacred document, peddle the propaganda of the very people who seek to overthrow it!

To proclaim a trust in God when we don't do anything of the kind—if not hypocricy it's just plain lying!

Fortunately for our beloved country, the people who live in the "Faith of Our Fathers," are in the majority. I can't help shuddering at the growth and publicity of the tribe who don't believe in anything but themselves.
