SENATOR.

Gen. James A. Wood, our for State Senator, ranks as one of the, most successful lawyers in the VII-Judicial District. Through his ener ies the 136 Regiment of New York Volunteers were raised and put into the field, which he commanded with credit until the close of the war. He was with Sherman in his march through to Atlanta and to the sea. As a true Re publican no man can question him. He s a man of ability and will perform the rduous duties of Senator with credi to himself and honor to his constituents. He received the entire vote in Living to immest aux many or the constituents. He received the entire vote in Livingston and this county.

Read what the Rochester Chronicle says of him:

"General James Wood, of Genesco, was yesterday nominated for State Senster, by the Republican Convention of the 20th District, comprising the counties of Livingston, Wyoning and Allegany. The nomination was an excellent one. Gen. Wood is known as one of the most successful lawyers in Western New York, and of his shiftly and honesty noisoly entertains a doubt. But he is not only a good lawyer. He won a brilliant reputation during the southern rehellion by his services, first in raising, and then commanding in the field, the 136th Regiment, N. Y. Vols, with which he remained until the last, Gen. Wood will be triumphantly elected.

Our New Constitution.

The Reformed Constitution of the State of New York is to be ratified or rejected by the votes of the people at our coming election. Its enemies have succeeded in having it quarted for such vote, hoping thus to defeat it by disgusting the people with the labor and annoyance of so voting. Let no friends of Reform be thus deterred from voting for the Amended Constitution wall. annoyance is so voting. Let micros of Reform be thus deterred from voting joined with his firm adherance to Re for the Amended Constitution and against the Property Qualification for Celored men. As to the two remaining particles are considered as the District Senstorial Conjugate or the constitution of t ing propositions we are less tenacious.

The following named gentlemen were but we are inclined to vote for the Ju-selected as the District Senatorial Comdicing article and the uniform rule for mittee. accently article and the unitorm rule for the assessment and transition of Real and Personal property. Why not? But, whatever you may decide as to these questions, do not fail to vote for the Amended Constitution and organist the Property Qualification for Colored Section 2. voters. And we appeal to Republican Committees to see that the ballots are provided, and to lovers of liberty and good feeling prevailed.

Do not say, 'it will do no good'—

If Impartial Suffrage should be voted down, every vote in its favor will yet do great good. It is true that, if the Democratic managers choose to poll the full vote of their party against Impar tial Suffrage, they can rote it down.—
But will they do it? Can they afford te? They want to elect a President in 1872, and to do so they must carry
States which not only allow Blacks to vote but run Blacks for high office on "Conservative" tickets. It will prove a detriment and an embarrassment to the Democratic leaders if they now put forth their party strength against Im-partial Suffrage; wherefore we conclude
