"Graustark" or A Love Behind a Throne, to be presented at the Auditorium, Oct. 22, proved to be a record breaker in outselling all other romantic novels of the same period. And according to all reports it is also proving a record breaker as a play, capacity audiences seeming to be the rule wherever the play is produced.

Will Play At The Auditorium, Friday Evening.

"Graustark" is entitled to rank high among the romantic dramas of the present day stage. It is replete with strong human interest, is full of life and spirit and the comedy element is much and enjoyably in evidence. The hero of the play, "Grafall Lorry," is a rich young American who pursues a mysterious "Miss Guggenslocker" across two continents to her home in the little country of "Graustark," where the attractive young lady is a reigning princess. The princess is about to marry a man for whom she has a natural antipathy, in order to free her country from a burdensome and oppressive debt. The rich American, however, after having saved the life of the young ruler, comes to the rescue and saves the nation from bankruptcy and insolvency by paying the debt. As a matter of course the accomodating American is enabled to induce the princess to banish all ancestral prejudices and to become his wife.

The company presenting this romantic play has been engaged by Messrs. Baker & Castle from the ranks of the very best people in the profession, and the scenery and equipment has been acknowledged by press and public, to be the best ever seen in the theatres the entire season.
