The Tomato as a Food

Many years ago tomatoes were popularly known as "love apples" or "Jerusalem apples." The predjudice against them and the belief that they would, if eaten, cause sickness and even death, seems to have been fixed in the minds of the multitude.

Botanists say that the old-time ideas about tomatoes being harmful probably arose from the fact that the plant belongs to the nightshade family. But outside of the poisonous qualities charged, a whole lot of silly superstitions have been saddled on it by the weak and credulous. As a single proof of the persistence of this evil ignorance, we may cite the fact that within twelve months the New York newspaper published a long article on tomatoes as a provocative of the dread disease in question.

An illustration of the absurdity of this mischievous belief is given by the Hon. W. Russell, the English medical authority and author, in his well-known work on "Diet and its Relation to disease." In the book he treats at length on cancer, gives statistics regarding it from localities all over the world, and appends a list of diets by which the disease may be prevented, checked, or cured, and in the majority of these diets he gives a prominent place to tomatoes as a curative.—From September Physical Culture.

REV. DANIEL REDMOND TELLS HOW LICENSE WORKED IN AVOCA, AT THE M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHT.

Rev. Daniel Redmond of Avoca, spoke at a union service at the M. E. Church, Sunday evening to a good audience. His subject, "License or no license" He gave a very interesting description of the way the licensing of hotels in Avoca affected the business and moral interests of his place among other things he said:

In 1907 the town of Avoca went for license for the first time in twelve years. Previous to that time the liquor men of the village closed the principal hotel of the place and made a great hue and cry about the "dark corner." By the negligence of the temperance people in getting out to vote, and the activity of the liquor men the town was carried for license. The result so far has been three deaths of men from the result of drink. One took poison in a drug of which, in drunkenness he took four times as much as he should Another became so intoxicated that he lay on sidewalks part of the afternoon and evening. The officer would not arrest him because it would disgrace his family. In the night his dead body was found on the D. & L. railroad tracks.

The young people have become demoralized. In fact it is said that in the whole village there are but two young men, who are not addicted in more or less degree to the use of intoxicating beverages.

The license was to reduce the taxes. This is the way it did it. In less than 12 months we have sent 8 men to the Monroe County Penitentiary at a cost of board to the town of 25c. per day, or 390.00. Milage of constable to take each convict there $12.00 or $96. Constable fees in town more than four times greater than in 1906, when we had no license. Justices fees more than double. We received from license from the five places. $750.00. Town gets one half, or $375.00. Where is the profit?

One liquor dealer said that the least he had taken in in one day was $17, the most $47. and said the other places were doing as well or better than his own. Making an estimate revenue to the liquor dealers from $30,000 to $37,000.

There has been much said in local papers about people patronizing mail order houses, to the injury of local merchants. What does the town get for the $30,000 to 37,000 paid to liquor dealers? does that injure the business of local merchants?

At times since we have had license the assertion has been made that if the matter were then up it would not get fifty votes. At present no one is working for license except the liquor dealers. The town seems to have discovered that it is not good business policy. The town gets $375. for the privilege of being "soaked" $30,000 to $37,000; constable fees more than 4 times greater; Justices fees more than double; have to pay Monroe County Penitentiary $390; Milage $96. and an increased poor fund and general moral degeneration of the town. Where is the benefit?

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED HIS OWN BROTHER

A NINE YEAR OLD CLARKSVILLE BOY SHOT AND KILLED HIS THIRTEEN YEAR OLD BROTHER.

Erwin Councilman, aged 13, died at two o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 12th, from a gunshot wound inflicted by his brother, John Councilman, aged nine. The boys are sons of J. A. Councilman, a farmer living in Clarksville. Monday evening they were swinging in the barn. The father was outside. In the corner of the barn stood a shot gun that the father had taken out there to kill hawks with. He cautioned the boys not to touch the gun. Neither of them knew it was loaded.

After swinging a few minutes Erwin said to John, "Play I am a hawk and shoot me." John picked up the pitchfork and aimed it at his brother, in fun, as though it was a gun. "If you are going to shoot, why don't you aim the gun," Erwin said, laughingly and tauntingly as he swung back and forth. John picked up the gun from the corner, aimed it at his brother and fired. There was a deafening report in the quiet barn, a whirl of smoke and Erwin's left arm was almost torn off by the charge of shot, many of the leaden missilles burying themselves in his shoulder.

The boy was removed to the house and Dr. W. O. Condgon of Cuba hurriedly summoned. He called Dr. G. H. Leader in consultation but there was no hopes of saving the boy's life. The lad lingered until Tuesday afternoon when death came. No blame is attached to slayer of the boys in the sad tragedy. It was purely a case of carlessness and needlessness on the part of both.

OUR MEMBER

Andover People Owe it to Themselves to Show Their Appreciation Of Hon. J. S. Phillips.

We sometimes wonder if Andover people fully realize the honor to the town and the material benefit to Andover, regardless of politics, that we have enjoyed the past nine years by having a Member of Assembly from this town, in the state legislature. Not only has it been a benefit in a material way, but it has been a great honor to us, because our Member of Assembly, Hon. J. S. Phillips, has made good at Albany. Allegany county in all its history never has a Member of the Assembly, who forged to the front and became one of the leaders as has our own Assemblyman. For this reason, if for no other, Andover people should turn out en mass and support Mr. Phillips. He is a gentleman, who has an opinion on all the legislation under consideration, and is not afraid to come out and advocate his principals and belief, even when, at times, he could undoubtedly have made more friends by taking the opposite course as has been quite evident with his position on the much discussed Hinman-Green Bill, and which now nearly every one will concede was a bill deserving the opposition Assemblyman Phillips gave it. Get out election day and show your appreciation for what Assemblyman Phillips has done for you and Andover.

Card of Thanks.

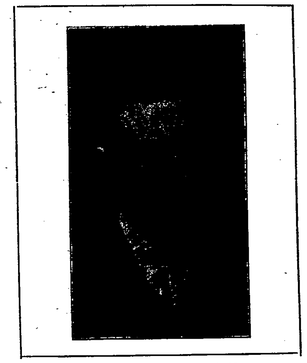
We are grateful to the many friends who manifested such helpful and substantial sympathy in our recent bereavement.

Mrs. J. W. Richardson,
And family.

J. Wallace Richardson

A deep sorrow fell on Andover early Monday morning, when it became known that J. Wallace Richardson had died that morning. Mr Richardson had been a great sufferer for many months and even though his familiar face will be much missed by all Andover people and especially to the members of the Town Board, of which he was a member, being Justice of the Peace of the town of Andover, at the time of his death, none can wish him back to his hours of suffering.

J. Wallace Richardson was one of Andover's esteemed and respected citizens. He was born in Richburg, N. Y., May 14th, 1846, and come to Andover March 1882, locating on the farm situated southwest of the village on the road to Wellsville, the corporation line of the village of Andover running between his house and barn. Last September, owing to poor health, he sold his farm and moved to his home on Greenwood street, where he passed to his reward early last Monday morning. He was married to Miss Mary E. Lewis, daughter of Hon. A. A. Lewis, Aug. 10, 1868 To them were born five children, Floyd A. and Earl A. Richardson, of Andover, Mrs. Mary R Wilson, of Prattsburg, N. Y., Clark B. of Cleearfield, Pa., and Mrs. Celia Cummings, of this village.



J. WALLACE RICHARDSON.

Besides his wife and children Mr. Richardson is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Marion Davis of Friendship, N. Y., and Mrs. Crandall Lester of Richburg, N. Y, and two brothers, W. J. Richardson, of Wellsville, N. Y., and W. G. Richardson, of Richburg, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at his late reesidence on Greenwood St., Wednesday afternoon, Rev. H. D. Bacon assisted by Rev. A. L. Boynton, officiating. The remains were carried to their last resting place by his sons and brothers, who acted as pall bearers. The interment was in Valley Brook cemetery.

Those from out of town in attendance upon the funeral were—Jesse Swink of Springville, N. Y., Rev. Ira Lee Cottrell, Miss Luella Potter, of Alfred Station, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Fay, Harry Bradley and the Misses Lena and Florence Bradley of Wellsville, N. Y., Edgar Cowles, Mrs. Milton Jordon, Andrew Jordon, Lewis Gray, of Bolivar, Mrs. Alice Ford, Mrs. Gennett Pierce, Herbert Lester, Paul Lester, and Mrs. Audley Thomas of Richburg, N. Y., Mrs. Collins, of Olean, Miss Bessie House, Miss Dott Mitchell, of Hornell, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cummings, Eldred, Pa., Mr and Mrs Merritt Wiseman, Walter Wiseman, Mrs. James Brainard, Gainsville, N. Y., Mrs. Peter Smith of Castile, N. Y., Miss Eleanor Richardson, of Castile.

Billy, The Kid."

The star attraction offered by Chas. H. Wuerz, of New York this season, is the successful melodrama of the plains, "Billy, the Kid" with Nolan Gane in the title role and a cast and production second to none.

"Billy, the Kid" will be spen here this season is the same as originally staged by Chas. H. Wuerz, and every detail and property will be carried complete.

The story is one of fascinating interest and is the master work of its authors, Walter Woods and Joseph Stanley.

"Billy, The Kid" will be seen here at the Auditorium, Friday, Oct. 29th. Price 25, 35, and 50 cents.
