"LET'S DO OUR PART"

Anyone who is interested in the Hi Herald, who would like to become a reporter for the next semester is earnestly requested to see Mary Monica Lynch, the new editor-in-chief, as soon as possible.

We are going to reorganize our school paper, therefore it is necessary that more students turn out at the first meeting which is Monday morning, January 29th at 8:30 a. m., in the library. Freshmen, Sophs and Juniors are especially encouraged to become eligible for reporters. It seems that all the work of the first semester has been done by the Seniors and Post Graduates.

Let's be members of the NRA and live up to its theory; therefore let's have a large turnout of all students interested in the promotion of the Hi Herald.

"Let's do our part!"

NOTICE TO THOSE INTERESTED IN JOINING THE HI HERALD STAFF

Students wishing to become affiliated with the Hi Herald staff under Mary Monica Lynch, new editor-in-chief, see her some time this week.

There will be new requirements for reporters. They must have printed in the Hi Herald at least three of their articles—news items, social interests, sport news, humor or human interest stories before they receive title of reporter. There is a chance for Freshmen, Sophs, and Juniors to become editor-in-chief in their Senior years.

The main idea is to start now. Let the present editor see your face and your articles often! She will pass the good word on to the next editor, and opportunities for that high position can be yours. See Mary Monica Lynch some time this week and be sure to turn out for the first staff meeting which is on January 29th at 8:30 a. m., in the library.

THE NIGHT BEFORE THE MORNING AFTER

It was the night before Exams,
And all thru my head,
Not a brain cell was working;
How I longed for my bed!
I saw Washington cross the Delaware,
And the Napoleonic fight,
And hideous decimal figures
All thru the night.
It was dawn before I knew it,
And I'd studied—all in vain,
Because on those test papers,
I failed just the same!
The moral of my story,
Tho it's been told galore,
Is to study all year long—
But NOT the night before!

—A-H-S—

FOR BRAINY PEOPLE ONLY!

1. How much does Toledo, O?
2. How much does Harrisburg, Pa.?
3. How many eggs did New Orleans, La.?
4. Whose grass did Springfield, Mo.?
5. What made Chicago, Ill.?
6. Can you call Minneapolis, Minn.?
7. So why not Annapolis, Ann.?
8. If you can't figure these out—We'll bet Topeka, Kan.

RAMBLING 'ROUND NEW YORK with HUGH KENNY

The final weeks of December and the first of January are gala weeks for the Casino in Central Park, the St. Regis Sanglades, the Pierre Roof, the various fashionable clubs such as Colony, Court and River Club, and of course, the Ritz Carlton. For dozens of debuts are the orders of the season. And dozens of young bachelors receive dozens of invitations from people they never met. For, you see, the lists of "the right people" are compiled by people who make a business of society, and sold to the debutante's papa and mama at prices that range from one hundred to five hundred dollars, according to the ranking of the lists in family and financial prestige . . . One young man, son of a father of standing, is reported as receiving no less than 19 dance invitations from people he had never met—some he had never heard of.

Just a few days before taking office, Mayor La Guardia, elected on a fusion of parties ticket said that in a good mayor he would refuse to be a "good fellow." "I have many friends who worked hard for me," he said, "whom I cannot appoint to the offices they seek, because they are not fitted to hold them."—That's political news.

While there has been much in the news about cargoes of wines and liquors arriving at our shores, repeal has been a blow to the short cruises of passenger liners that had become so much the rage in the last two or three years of prohibition. Many cruises have started with a mere handful of passengers recently while some have been cancelled entirely.

After New York had more snow than any time in more than a decade, it proved that it hadn't forgotten the days of fine teams and sleighs—with two at the last hansom cab stand in town, in front of the Plaza Hotel at the downtown end of Central Park. The rental charge is very different, however, from the days of yore—ten dollars an hour. And it takes about that long to go clear around Central Park.

Work starts soon on the seventy-five million dollar Midtown Hudson Tunnel to connect Manhatan with New Jersey at a point on the Jersey shore opposite the Empire State Building. The tunnel is necessary because the Holland Tunnel two and a half miles south of the new site, will soon be inadequate to meet the traffic needs although it now carries an annual traffic of 12,000,000 cars.

Stand for half an hour in Grand Central Station most any time and you're bound to see a bit of human interest. Last night it was a woman with streaming, long, bobbed red hair taking manly strides across the main concourse. She wore no stockings and her rouged heels and highly manicured toe-nails, also rouged, showed vividly from the real, primitive sandals without heels. As she disappeared down the steps to the lower concourse, four people actually ran to catch up with her for another look! She took the train bound for Stamford, Connecticut.

During 1933, 4-H Club members in New York State planted more than 1,000,000,000 forest trees, prepared and served 50,000 meals, canned 40,000 jars of fruits, vegetables, and meats, and made or repaired 150,000 articles of clothing.

During 1933, the public requested from the New York State colleges of agriculture and home economics approximately the same number of publications that it asked for in the previous year, altho 1933 shows a slight gain. The figures are: 1,289,481 publications in 1932, and 1,324,589 in 1933. The difference was 35,109, or approximately 100 more publications each day.

WHOLESOME FACTS

Can you pardon my taking pride in these reports, of treatment in our most serious diseases? Remember cancer is the only ailment that, left to itself, invariably kills!

Dr Mason of Rochester reports: "Out of 3,444 (cancer) patients, 1,776 obtained five-year cures."

Dr Redpath, Birmingham, England:

Dr Jackson, Philadelphia:

"About 80 per cent of cancer of the larynx can be cured and by a relatively simple operation."

Dr. Bellhorn, New York:

"Sixty four cases show five-year cures, in 11.3 per cent."

A marvelous report for the medical profession to make. None of our most outstanding cults have done anything like it. In fact they have done nothing! Just blow-hards—wind bags.

The war on cancer has been waged with x-ray, radium and surgery. These are the only agencies known that have any value in cancer; and they must be applied early.

If possible malignant cases would only be examined at the very first suspicion—yes, even earlier than that—the mortality from cancer would be reduced to less than half in the next year! Isn't that worth paying attention to? Don't apply to a cultist; go to your PHYSICIAN and make inquiry about the little spot.

Don't wait till you are positive it's cancer; be safe. It will pay you. I know what I'm talking about. The war is on!

All crops grown in the United States each year remove about six billion pounds of plant food from the soil. Erosion or soil washing takes away 21 times as much.

The supply of seed oats in New York State is short.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS MOTHER, MRS. JAMES ROOSEVELT

When the President becomes 52 years old on Jan. 30 every community in the nation will give a ball in his honor to help raise an endowment for extension of the work of Warm Springs Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The President's mother bought the first box sold for the great society ball to be held in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York, saying: "After all, it is my son's birthday and I am extremely interested in the splendid work of Warm Springs Foundation."

Tax Sale in March

It is now expected that Allegany county sale of real estate on which taxes have been unpaid will be held some time in March, tho no date has as yet been set for the event by County Treasurer Claude L. Cummings, who has been making every effort to get in as much of the delinquent payments as possible before arranging for the bidding for properties which he proposes to hold annually hereafter.

Pepping Up the Wardrobe

"Pepping up the Wardrobe," is the title of a leader's training school for 4-H Club workers of the county to be conducted by Miss Emma Dodson, state clothing specialist at Belmont, Tuesday, January 30th. Suggestions will be adaptable to both girls' and boys' club work.

The gathering will be the first to be held in the new conference room in the remodeled Farm, Home and 4-H Club office building.

Buffalo News 1934 Almanac

Filled from cover to cover with information valuable to every resident of Western New York, the Buffalo Evening News Almanac and 1934 Yearbook has just been published. This year's almanac is larger than the 1933 edition and has been entirely re-arranged to make it more convenient for the reader.

Western New Yorkers will be particularly interested in the complete listing of county, town, village and city officials contained in the 1934 News Almanac. In no other book published in this area is such material available. All elected and most appointive county officials as well as town clerks, highway superintendents and justices of the peace are included.

Western New York schools and colleges, the complete personnel of the State Legislature and administrative offices, and a more up-to-date listing of United States government officials than any other almanac also are to be found in the volume.

There are more than 135 pictures, maps and charts in the 1934 Almanac and an innovation is a section devoted to first aid which has been placed in the last eight pages—a position where it can be found instantly in case of an emergency.

The 1934 Almanac marks the second year in which the Buffalo Evening News has published a handbook designed particularly to fit the needs of Western New York.

February 12 to 17 is farm and home week at Cornell University.

TELL ME AN INDIAN STORY
Dr. E. A. Bates, Cornell
(Copyright 1933)

A WINTER RAINBOW

The winter sun was bright, and the Indian children had a merry time snowballing in front of the bark lodge. After a time, the children built a fire to dry their hands; they began to question why all things were white in winter and finally one little girl said she missed the pretty rainbows during snow moons.

Close to the children's ears during their play was old Mr. North Wind; he had become rather bored just blowing and blowing the snow flakes around, and when he heard the wishes of the children for a rainbow, he counselled with the bright sun and together they decided to amuse the children.

So the bright old sun sent his warmest rays right down on the little snowflakes sleeping quietly on the roof of the lodge. Soon the flakes lost their lacy coats and turned into drops of water and began to run off the roof.

Just as the drops of water were about to leap off the roof, old Mr. Wind blew his coldest breath. Soon the melted snowflakes shivered and held tight to one another, so that they formed long, clear icicles hanging from the roof.

The cold wind tingled the children's ears so they decided to go back into the lodge; and, looking up before they entered they found rainbows in the hanging icicles. They laughed for joy and broke a long one off, for sure enough, they now had a rainbow in winter, thanks to the north wind and the sun playing a prank with the little snowflakes who tried to sleep all day as well as all night on the roof of the bark lodge.

Way To Industrial Peace Seen In Councils Of Workers

WALTER C. TEAGLE

MUCH conflict between workers and employers in industry can be eliminated through the works council system of employee representation, according to a report of Walter C. Teagle, chairman of the industrial relations committee of the Business and Advisory Planning Council, created by Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper. Mr. Teagle is president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, which for many years has had in operation a plan of employee representation through which workers and management get together to settle disputes and consider working conditions.

Pointing out that the National Recovery Act gives the works council a legal status equal to that of the labor union for collective bargaining, Mr. Teagle in his report asserts that the organization of workers by plants to include all workers has many advantages over the organization of workers by crafts into unions. "The experience of companies which have operated successfully under employee representation for many years indicates that such a plan encourages the early settlement of disputes in the shop or the department in which they originate," he says. "Differences that cannot be adjusted in this way are taken up in joint conference of employees and representatives of management. For the protection of an employee or group not satisfied with the decision of a joint conference or of the company executives, appeal may be had to the president or the board of directors. In addition to appeals within the organization, many plans provide for final settlement by arbitration.

"A certain percentage of labor troubles has been due to disagreements between unions themselves as to the classification of work properly belonging to each. Plainly, any such disputes are beyond the decision of company management yet they frequently result in strikes and loss of wages to employes in other departments even though the management is entirely innocent either of provoking the trouble or championing either side after it has arisen.

"Herein lies one of the advantages of employee representation, in that while it insures representation of all employees by their own associates who understand their local craft problems, it avoids jurisdictional disputes between two crafts in the same organization.

"Unity of action in all departments is assured through conferences at which every employee is represented. There is no record of any case where representation by employees has been made use of by racketeers at the expense either of the employees or the employer."

Dog Owners' Notice

Dog licenses for 1933 expired on December 31, 1933. The 1934 license fee is due January 1st. Licenses so issued will cover the period from January 1 to December 31, 1934. Every dog must wear a tag of the current dog license year. A dog without such a tag is not protected by law and no action can be maintained for his injury or destruction.

An unlicensed dog may be seized and killed and the fact that a dog is without a tag is presumptive evidence that the dog is unlicensed.

Dog licenses must be obtained from the clerk of the city or town where the dog is harbored or kept.

License fees: Male dog $2.25; female dog $5.75; spayed female dog, $2.25. These amounts include clerk's fees.

No license can be issued for less than the full license year.

The owner of a dog who fails or refuses to obtain a license for the dog as required by law incurs a penalty of $10.00 and costs.

The enumerators of towns and the police departments of cities are required to prepare in January of this year a list of dog owners. The omission of the name of an owner from the enumerator's or police list will not excuse the owner from obtaining a license.

If you owned a dog last year and do not own one now, so advise the clerk of your town or city.

Dog licenses in the town of Andover are issued by A. L. BLOSS, Clerk, P. O. Address, Andover, N. Y.
