THE COMING MAN.

The coming man is neither the Napoleon of Finance, the Master of Railroads, or the Discoverer of the South Pole. He is the tiller of the soil. Did you ever hear the cry back to earth? Well if you never have you will. The man who is to make the most of his time and a comfortable living is the man who is willing to leave the allurements of the city and village and take up some one of the abandoned farms, work it scientifically and get results that will astonish him. No less an authority than, Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture has been making a tour of New York State, for the purpose of getting at the facts concerning the problem of the unproductive farm in this state, and making a close study of existing conditions.

His belief is that trouble is not with the farm, but the farmer, and he then states what we have stated in these columns not more than three months past. That the farms can be made productive and furnish a fine living for any man who is willing to work, and to work intelligently, the soil.

He, Secretary Wilson, cannot understand why men will seek western land at a high price per acre, when right in New York State for $10 per acre land can be bought that with scientific methods can be made to produce as much as some of the high priced Western land. Some of the poorest soil that the secretary saw was in Tompkins County at an altitude of about 2000 feet, and yet that soil was producing this very season anywhere from 100 to 400 bushels of potatoes per acre.

We have often wondered why men will stay in the cities cluttred up, living from hand to mouth, working for a pittance when for the same amount of energy they could be independent.

But, and it is a big BUT, the difficulty is the country does not have its moving pictures to run in to see every evening, its amusement halls, its lights along the streets, the gay whirl and all that. Its the lure of the city. But, the coming man will pull himself away from the lure and get out where he can be independent, and in a way his own master. The women no longer have to do the old fashioned kind of work the former methods compelled. No Sir, it is all different. Wonder why some of the people so much interested in a plan of helping men to help themselves, do not start a moving picture plan showing the methods of modern farm work. and the possibilities they have still in New York soil.

IS IT WRONG TO DANCE?

There is no intention on the part of the writer in starting a discussion on the question indicated above, for the reason that it would be as prolonged and as debatable as the question, Did or did not Cook discover the North pole, or did Dr. Cook fake the story of the climb up to Mt. McKinley's peak.

There is at least one woman in the wide world it would be difficult to convince that it is wrong to dance, it is Mrs. Rosie Zapowa, of East Madison, Ill. a blushing Polish bride. It is the custom among the Poles to give the bride "favors" She dances as often as she can, because every dance brings her husband a silver dollar. And a Polish wedding ceremony lasts as long as the energy of the bride and her male guests when everyone is too exhausted to dance longer the bride and groom retire from the hall with the dollars the bride has earned by dancing.

Mrs. Zapowa was married Wednesday morning at 9, o'clock and the celebration began immediately, it was the intention to close it at 3, p. m. Friday, but at 7, P. m. Thursday all the men were played out and fell on beds or the floor utterly exhausted. Mrs. Zapowa gathered up her silver amounting to $350, and went home with her hubbie, after dancing 34 hours. That is quite a record although not an unusual one among the Polish women, as at St. Louis woman holds the record of having dances at a wedding celebration for three days and nights.

Now think of this ye fair ones when next you turn the heel in one of functions that some people enjoy so well, it has been determined by the use of an automatic scale that a woman weighing 145 pounds lifts eight pounds of weight with every step of the waltz, so then lifting eight pounds with every waltz step, 40 to the minute, she is lifting 320 pounds a minute with combined force of every muscle of her body. In the 34 hours celebration above referred to Mrs. Zapowa, danced about 20 hours and rested 14 hours so in lifting eight pounds with each step she lifted 19,200 pounds of dead weight each hour, and in the 20 hours of dancing lifted the stupendous weight of 384,000 pounds, or the equal of almost 12 horse power.

Now what do you think of that? We are not going into the details of the amount of nerve tissue used up in a feat of that kind neither are we going to try and demonstrate the amount of calorics expended.

When you read this, you go into the details of the question and analyze the whole problem and after you have arrived at definite conclusion, Do what you think the right thing for there are moral and physical reasons on both sides of the problem.

Perhaps some young lady, may find in the above facts a reasonable excuse to give to her mother some morning after a dance why she should be permitted to lie in bed until noon.

STRANGE BED-FELLOWS.

You would hardly think it possible, yet the old saw, "That politics make strange bed-fellows." is getting a clincher in the Mayoraity campaign in New York City. Ivins, the republican candidate for four years ago and who had as an opponent Hearst, is stumping for Hearst and out-doing the yellow journalist at his own trade of flinging the "yellow".

It seems to an outsider that forthis time at least Mr. Hearst is sincere and from his recent utterances one can gather the fact that he does not desire the office of Mayor but he is out to "BEAT" Tammany. The course followed by the republican candidate is one of dignified business like preceeding, and each day he is adding to the good opinion already formed. He evidently is a vote getter, and it would not surprise the writer if beofre the campaign closes that the real fight will be between, Mr. Bannard and Mr. Hearst, and that Mr. Gaynor the much heralded and every-eye-upon-him-reformer would be out of the running. That would be strange, wouldn't it? They have just erected a statue in Times square New York City Called "Purity" and it was meant to represent the fair qualities of the Metropolis, if the mud-slinging of the last few days continues, we suggest they put the statue on a cart and send it around with Ivins, and the campaign spell binders.

Advertising is like "Bread cast upon the waters, it comes back after many days."

By blowing your own horn in print, you are letting folks know you are ready for business. Don't wait for the sheriff to do it for you. He will advertise if youdon't See?

You Cannot Depend Absolutely Upon Your Memory

The chances are that four or five months after you pay a bill, you forget about it. Suppose that same bill should be presented to you---possibly you could remember about paying it; but nine out of every dozen bills you pay, you forget about in six months. Some you could not recall after six weeks.

There is one sure way, however, and the only proper way to pay your bills---PAY ALL BILLS BY CHECK---file your checks. Six years afterward you can turn to the checks if necessary, and produce indisputable evidence of every bill paid

Remember we pay 3 per cent on our special interest accounts, It's a good place for your idle funds.
