of the business of this country is done with checks or other evidences of credit. There must be reason for this, else why would so much business be done this way.

There are very many good reasons why every one should have a checking account. If you are not already in the 90 per cent. class come in and let us show you why you ought to be.

INTER—SCHOLASTIC LEAGUE

Second Commissioner's District School Organize Athletic League—Prin. R. A. Bartlett of Andover President.

At a meeting of the principals, of the Cuba, Bolivar, Friendship, Wellsville, Richburg, Allentown, Whitesville, Andover and Alfred held at Belmont Oct. 22, 1909, an athletic league comprising all the schools in the second commissioner's district of Allegany was formed.

The officers elected were:—

PRESIDENT—
Prin. Richard A. Bartlett, Andover.
VICE-PRESIDENT.—
Prin. Fredrick V. Webster, Friendship
SECRETARY—
Prin. George M. Ellis, Alfred.
TREASURER.
Prin. E. L. Campbell, Belmont.

Following are the constitution and by-laws adopted by the organization.

Constitution

Art. I. Name. The name of this organization shall be the Interscholastic Athletic League of the Second Commissioner's District of Allegany County.

Art. II. Purpose. The purpose shall be to promote, organize and regulate the athletics in the schools of the league.

Art. III. Officers. The officers shall be a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, all of which officers shall be chosen from the school faculties and shall serve for the calendar year. The duties of such officers shall be such as are prescribed in Robert's Rules of Order

Art. IV. Executive Committee. The executive committee shall consist of the officers and the school commissioner. The chairman shall call meetings of the committee at such times as is deemed advisable.

By Laws.

Art. I. Any public high or graded school in the district may be admitted into the league by agreeing to the constitution and bylaws and by compliance with the mandates of the executive committee.

Art. II. For violation of rules any school may be suspended by a majority vote of the executive committee. A re-enstatement of such school may be made by a majority vote of such committee.

Art. III In order to represent any school any player must have scholarship satisfactory to the faculty of that school. He must be a regular under-graduate student pursuing regularly at least thirteen recitations per week, and must have attended school for at least six weeks prior to the first game in any line of sport excepting football. Certified lists of eligible players shall be exchanged by the principals of the competing schools.

Art. IV. The schedules of games and events shall be arranged by a committee nominated by the president and ratified by the executive committee.

Art. V. Contested games and events will be decided by the executive committee.

Art. VI. The schools in the league shall be assessed pro rata to bear necessary expenses when approved by the executive committee.

Art. VII. A trophy shall be awarded to each school, which maintains the best record in any one of the branches of sports. The expense of such trophies shall be borne pro rata by the schools in the league.

Art. VIII. Vacancies may be filled by a majority vote of the executive committee.

Art. IX Any member of the league may propose an amendment or amendments such amendments will become effective when approved by two-thirds of the members of the league and ratified by the executive committee.

Art. X. All games shall be played under Spaulding's rules.

DIAMONDS

With returning prosperity the price of diamonds is almost sure to advance. Already an increase of 5 per cent in the price of more desirable grades has been announced and there is every indication that the phenomenal record of 1898 to 1908 will be repeated.

During that time the price of diamonds advanced over 100 per cent., and those who purchased diamonds ten years ago could sell to-day for almost double what they paid for them. No bank will pay such dividends, and the next ten years are likely to show a like increase in the value of diamonds over what they cost to-day. Buy a diamond now. If you don't want to pay out the full amount at once, select a stone and make a small payment, and we will lay it aside for you and credit payments which you may make from time to time, when convenient, and it won't take long to pay the entire amount.

Would be very pleased to order a selection of stones for you to choose from. as in this way you can see a larger variety, and the price is less than they are carried in stock . If you are thinking of buying, come in and we will save you some money.

The Boys Athletic Association met and adopted the Constitution of the Interscholastic League. This league was organized at Belmont for the purpose of keeping athletic sports within the High School.

James Mulcahy has been unable to attend school on the account of a severe injury he received while working.

The Senior class has recently organized and elected the following officers.

President—Celia Riley
Vice President—Ila Brown
Secretary—Jessie Bloss
Treasure—Harold Brainard.

Miss Ila Brown is a graduate at Hornell high school, but she has not an academic certificate. As we require all our students to have Miss Brown becomes a member of our senior class.

The Junior Class also organized and elected the following officers:—

President—Angie Davis
Vice President—Winnifred Potter
Secretary—Julia Raufenbarth
Treasurer—Annette Taylor.

This class which is composed of nine members is the largest third year class that has been represented in the Andover high school, since 1902.

The Beta Mu held their first meeting Wednesday night. Following is the program.

Song—Society.
Recitation—Harold Hardy
School Notes—Uriah Davis
Question Box—Porter Richardson.
Piano Solo—Claire Backus.
Debate—Should dancing be allowed in High School Societies, Affirmative, Harold Brainard and John Lynch. Negative, Earl Slocum and James Mulcahy.
Vocal Quartett—Harold Brainard, Uriah Davis, Porter Richardson, Archie Bloss and Earl Slocum.
Parliamentary Drill—R. A. Bartlett.

The Andover High School football team come off the gridiron again Saturday victorious against the high school team from Friendship . The Friendship team out classed our boys in team work. But were not able to hold them when they realy set out to make games.

Friendship made one forward pass but was blocked on the second. And over also made a fine forward pass from Bloss to M. Baker.

In the first half Friendship held Andover so close that they could not score. In the second half Andover, deciding that they must win, on their own grounds got into the game and when Friendship came to their senses Andover had scored. There are a few on the injured list.

We notice that drawing sketches of students is taken up on the slip in certain recitations.

Will Write for the News

We publish this week an article upon "The Great Northwest"by Sergeant E. Kemp of Vancouver Washington, which will be read with much interest by his many Andover friends. Sergeant Kemp is a fine descriptive writer and has promised News readers several fine stories telling us of that "Great Northwest" which we have all heard so much about, as it impresses him.

Splendid Republican Majority in Andover

ASSEMBLYMAN JESSE S. PHILLIPS RECEIVES THE LARGEST VOTE EVER GIVEN HIM FOR MEMBER OF ASSEMBLY IN ANDOVER AND ABOUT 2200 IN COUNTY—LICENSE DEFEATED ON ALL FOUR PROPOSITIONS.

Five hundred and thrity-two electors in the town of Andover expressed their views political at the polls Tuesday. Assemblyman Jesse S. Phillips lead the list with a republican vote of 384, or 257 majority, the largest purality ever given him by Andover electors since his term in the New York State Assembly ten years ago began.

The whole Republican town ticket was elected by substantial majorities being greater than that of two years ago and the Andover Republicans express themselves as highly pleased with the results.

Quite an interest was manifested in Andover on the license question by a portion of our citizens, and the vote was a close one, especially on the hotel license, being lost only by 30 votes, there being 160 votes for hotel license and 190 against. The other propositions were defeated by majorities ranging about 90.

Folllowing is the Andover vote.

The County Ticket

The Republican County ticket was elected by majorities of about 2,000. Phillips carrying every town but two, Almond the home of the Democratic candidate and nominally a democratic town, and Birdsall, which is usually democratic. The democratic candidate winning by only 10 votes. Even the town of Independence where he has been the most misrepresented and where its local paper had been doing him all the dirt possible, gave Mr. Phillips a handsome majority.

Andover and Wellsville were the only towns in the county to go out their vote. All other towns voting but about three fifths of their normal vote, thus reducing all majorities.

Broke Arm By Fall

Mrs. E. Herrick fell and broke an arm while going home from the store Tuesday evening, at dark. At the corner of First and Center streets the lights are very poor, and as she supposed she was at the place to turn to cross the street, stepped briskly to the right and walked into the deep ditch, falling and breaking an arm. Medical aid was summoned and the fracture reduced. She is doing as well as could be expected.

FROM THE GREAT NORTHWEST

THINK MATTER OVER WELL BEFORE GOING TO "GREAT NORTHWEST," EXPERIENCE 'BOUGHT WITH LAST DOLLAR THE BITTEREST KIND.

Nearly every magazine and newspaper published in the United States, especially those published in the western states, has one ad or more boosting "The Great Northwest," and telling of the wonderful opportunities, the great openings, etc., for people who will emigrate to this land of sunshine and roses, but I have noticed that all of these ads are put out by a person, or persons having an axe to grind, such as railway companies, real estate men and others. Now these ads are alright and I certainly believe in advertising for, like speculation, it is the life of trade, but what I am going to write about is the way common people are fooled and misled by these ads in question.

I have been stationed here in Vancouver, wash., for about sixteen months, having arrived here from the Philipine Islands, June 16 1908. At first I was very much pleased with the country and climate Since that time however I have traveled around through the states of Oregon and Washington and had an opportunity to look over the natural resources of the country, get acquainted with the people, note the climatical conditions more thoroughly and, therefore, have formed a few opinions of my own.

First I shall give you an idea of the class of people that make up the population of this section of the country. Of course there are thousands of respectable, law abiding citizens, but there are many thousands against these that are not. The foreign element is most prevalent, Italians, Hungarians, Swedes, Norwegians, Chinese and Japs. In fact I dare say that every nationality on the globe is represented here, together with a combination of the whole which makes a native. These people live invariably in colonies and practically make their own rules and regulations, which are far from being founded upon a moral and religious platform.

During the summer months the highways are lined with canvas covered wagons going from one section to another, always looking for something better and never satisfied with what they have. These epeople are mostly from the east and not foreign element. They may have been anywhere from one to twenty years possibly more. At any rate they were moving when they arrived and have kept it up every since. I call these people adventurers and a class that are of little credit to any community. Most of these people have large families. Nothing to see eight or ten children half dressed and apparently half starved. I have talked with any number of these people and they all
