

Humors of the Week.

Josh Billings Papers.

Love is said to be blind, but I know lots of phellows in love who can see twice as much in their galls as I can. The miser is a riddle. What he possesses he hasn't got, and what he leaves behind him he never had. Good phisick is like a fiddle—it furnishes the tone, while nature cuts the pigeon-wing and cures the patient. Caution, though very often wasted, is a good risk to take. Pity is about the meanest wash that one man can offer another. I had rather have a ten dollar greenback that had been torn in two twice and pasted together, than to have all the pity there is on the upper side of the earth—pity is nothing more than a quiet satisfaction that I am a great deal better off than you are, and that I intend to keep so.

Fortune is like a coquette, if you don't run after her she will run after you.

Did you ever hear a very rich man sing?

If I was going to paint a picture of Faith, Affection and Honesty, I would paint a dog looking up in my face and wagging his tail.

The devil is a mean kuss; he never keeps his own promises, but always makes us keep ours.

Truth is as artless as a child and as persuasive.

There is nothing in this life that men pay so high a price for as they do for repentance.

Laws are made, customs grow—laws are few, customs are many—laws are made, customs grow—laws are few, customs are many—laws are made, customs grow—laws are few, customs are many.

Men who have a good deal to say use the fewest words.

The road to wealth is a highway, but the road to knowledge is a by-way.

Shame is the dying embers of virtue. I don't know of a better cure for sorrow than to pity somebody else.

Experience is a gridiron, and it is lucky for us if we had got brightened by it, not ground.

We shouldn't forget one thing, that there is not a single fee simple on this futook, even the best tooth in our head may fall to aking before sun set and have to be jerked out.

Ignorance is the wet nuss of prejudice.

Anticipation is constantly nibbling expected pleasure until it consumes it; just so the schoolboy who visits his basket during the forenoon too often has already dinked his dinner.

I never knew a man troubled with melancholy who had plenty to eat, and did it.

Good breeding, as I understand it, is giving every man his dew, without robbing yourself.

Natur is jirt as honest as a cow.

Talk little, but listen out loud, young man, is the way to make the company suspect you of knowing a grate deal more than you actually do.

If you should reduce the wants of the people or Nu York city down tew aktual necessities, and plain comforts, you would have to double the perlice force tew keep them from committing suicide.

People, when they find fault with themselves, are generally more anxious to be consoled than forgiven, and, therefore, when a man begins to confess his sins to me, and sez, "there ain't no hope for him," I tell him he ought tew know awl about it, and I guess he is more than half right.

What the world wants is good examples, not so much advice; advice may be wrong, but examples prove themselves.

Pride is bogus. Adam at one time had a right to be proud, but he let sin beat him out of his birthright.

A crowing hen and a cackling ruester are very misfortunate poultry in a family.

As a general thing, a man who marries a woman of more upper crust than himself will find the woc in more anxious tew preserve the distance between them than tew bring him up tew her grade or go down to his level.

Titles are valuable; they make us acquainted with menys persons who otherwise would be lost among the rubbish.

Peace is the soft and holy shadder that virtue casts.

Habits are like the wrinkles on a man's brow, if you will smoothe out the one i will smoothe out the other.

It is a darned sight easier tew find six men who can tell exactly how a thing ought to be did than tew find one who will do it.

Marrying for money is a meaner way tew git it than counterfeiting.

Dispatch is taking time by the ears. Hurry is taking it by the end of the tail.

The miser who heaps up gains tew gloat over is like a hog in a pen fattened for a show.—New York Weekly.

MOTHERS READ! MRS. WHEELER'S NURSING SYRUP!

FOR Diarrhoe, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Acute Infantum, Fits from Worms, Spasms, Wind in the Stomach, and Bowels, &c., but particularly FOR CHILDREN WHEN TETHING!

AND TO PRODUCE SLEEP.

High call your attention to the above medicine, as being superior to any ever before offered to the public for the purposes which we recommend it. For many years I have observed the want of some safe domestic remedy for these various and other noxious drugs, which could be placed in the hands of the mother or nurse, whereby all or very many of the children from their birth are afflicted with Diarrhoe, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Acute Infantum, Fits from Worms, Spasms, Wind in the Stomach, and Bowels, &c., and more especially those resulting from teething, could be checked in their first stages, and they had advanced so far as to jeopardize the life of the child—Very many children from their birth are afflicted with Nervous, Restless and Sleepless. They live in a state of nervous excitement, their eyes and nostrils denote some functional derangement of the system, they will cry to die. The Period of Teething is the most critical of any during the life of the child, and more critical the during this period than all others combined.

For producing a quiet, natural and refreshing sleep, one from which the child will awake, feeling refreshed and cheerful.

THE NURSING SYRUP HAS NO EQUAL.

For the benefit of mothers and nurses, we would advise you, when the child is restless, feverish, fretful, head hot, face flushed, tongue coated, pulse quickened, to give a warm bath, followed by appropriate doses of the above syrup, and its Medical effects will gladden your heart.

All we ask is for you to try one bottle, and if you are not fully satisfied after using half of it, return it in the original and get your money. For sale by all Druggists and country merchants everywhere, at 25 cents per bottle.

THE FARM AND HOME

How TO FIT A COLLAR FOR A HORSE.

In purchasing a collar for a horse it is important to get one that fits both the animal and your horse, thus saving much annoyance.

The plan adopted in this collar, which we are assured by many who have been long in the collar business, not injure the collar in the least, dip it in water until the leather is thoroughly wet, then put it on the horse, secure the laces firmly, and there until it becomes dry, the better if heavy laces are used, as that causes the collar to be evenly fitted to the neck and head.

If possible, the collar should be worn from four to five hours, when perfectly dry and retain the shape, etc. afterward, and as it is used to the form of the neck, it will produce chafes or sores on the neck.

Look to the Implements.

It is a lamentable fact that the majority of our farmers lose from a want of proper care from the actual wear and tear.

Repeated wetting and drying, sooner or later, any kind of moisture getting into them, soon increases them. They are vented by a timely and complete renovation of some cheap material, has been said and written, value of tool-houses, and it is necessary for us to add our general collection; but my tool-house is not that shape—the shovels, spades and brought into the tool house dirt sticking to them, and the iron remains through the until they are again needed.

Practical farmers know how much brighter plow turns the furrows in every spring and the dirt sticking to them, and to remain in that condition wanted, much to their own expense. There are various which might be applied to prevent rusting, the cheapest article may be formed by gathering six pounds of fresh lard and two of resin. And is a good thing to keep the mixture in. As soon as done being used for the spring off and give it a coat of oil and even if it remains unused years, it will come out as bright as new.—Cranston's Children's Edition.
