HOWARD RICHARDSON ENLISTS

We take the following from Tuesday's Tribune-Times:

If Kasier Bill thought that sending his fleet of U-boats over to this side would scare the Americans out he made a bum guess. The destruction of American hogs off the coast has caused a general rush of applicants who are keen to get into the naval service.

Howard Richardson, a member of the editorial staff of the Tribune-Times, was one of the first to be roused to indignation. "I can't stand it any longer," he declared last evening as he slammed the cover down on his typewriter. He left for Elmira this morning, where he offered himself for service in the Navy. If accepted he will leave at once for the training station at Great Lakes, Ill.

DRAFT CALL

1,049 New York State Boys For Technical Training

Albany, June 1.—The Adjutant General's office announced to-day a new Federal induction call for 1,049 white draft registrants of some mechanical experience for instruction in the various trade schools of the state. According to the call, men inducted into the service must be physically qualified for general military service and have at least a grammar school education. They will receive a course of training at government expense, fitting them for service both at the front and behind the lines.

The men inducted will be ordered to report to the commanding officers at the schools to which they are assigned on June 15th, and no volunteers will be accepted after June 7th.

Syracuse University is to receive 361 of the registrants; 350 will report at Cornell University; 165 at the State College of Teachers, Albany, and 786 at Clarkson Technical Institute, Potsdam.

A call also has been received for men qualified for special or limited military service to enter the military aeronautic branch, in which they will engage in Spruce production work for airplanes. These men, however, are not to be inducted into the service by the draft board until the boards have received orders as to allotments.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The President of the United States has designated the week beginning June 22, 1918 and ending June 28, 1918, as War Savings Stamp Week, and has summoned the people of the nation to universal saving and has called us all to enlist in this service, and

WHEREAS, The great result which is sought cannot be attained in any other way or manner than by the hearty co-operation and united effort of every loyal man, woman and child in America,

THEREFORE, I, J. D. Cheesman, President of the Village of Andover, N. Y., do hereby call upon all the people of this village and this community to show their loyalty to their country by investing all they can possibly save in War Savings Stamps, subscribing to pledge cards to save and economize so there will be more man-power and material with which to help win the war, during the week set apart for that service by the President.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Village of Andover, N. Y., at Andover, N. Y., this 11th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen.

(L. S.)

(Signed) J. D. CHEESMAN,
President of the Village of Andover, N. Y.

LETTERS FROM OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Interesting Letters to the Editor From Rev. V. L. Eggleston, Now in New York, and Ralph E Temple of Camp Dix

Camp Dix, N. J.,
June 8, 1918.

Dear friend Backus:

I was very agreeably surprised to-night when I received the News. Have had a good many letters from Andover friends since I arrived in camp and they, of course, had a good bit of news, but your paper covered the whole week and helps to keep a fellow in touch with his friends.

I like camp life very well to date. Am feeling fine except a lame right arm caused by the second typhoid inoculation received yesterday. Have one more yet, get it in about ten days, will be glad when it is over, because, while not painful when you get it makes your arm sore and lame for several days.

Our barracks have been out of luck in having an extra week or ... to our quarantine. After we had been here two days one of the corporals was sent to the Base Hospital with the "Liberty" (get that) measles. Staying right close to our own barracks is getting terribly tiresome and we will be a happy crowd when the quarantine is lifted so we can get out and look the place over.

Andover must be rather quiet now, so many of the boys have gone.

The Andover boys are all together yet, but as the Depot Brigade is mostly used for training the "rookies" we will probably be assigned to the various branches of the service later on and will be pretty much scattered.

I don't think you people back in Allegany County realize what hot weather is. We have had some scorchers, and after drilling six to eight hours a day a fellow feels somewhat weary.

The "chuck" is very good and we are all eating all we can get. Have a great plenty and there is no need of going hungry.

Had most of our uniforms issued to us yesterday, no leggings yet, and we look rather rough. The change from civilian to soldier is some proposition, swift.

ANNUAL C. OF C. AUTOMOBILE TRIP

About Seventy-five Andover Business Men Will Visit Elmira Next Tuesday, Free W. S. Oldhorn has Everything Arranged

The Andover Chamber of Commerce will hold their regular automobile advertising trip next Tuesday, June 18th. The trip will be to Elmira and return.

By the way the tickets are selling and the automobiles enlisting to make the journey the 1918 trip will equal if not surpass any previous effort of the Andover organization. It is estimated that there will be fifteen automobiles all owned by members of the organization, and the members of the organization and their guests making about seventy-five in the party.

At Elmira the Andover Chamber of Commerce will be entertained while at dinner by the Elmira Rotary Club of that city, at Hotel Langwell.

The ticket for the trip will cost $5.00, covering the entire cost of the trip, dinner and every expense.

The automobiles will leave Andover from Main Street sharply at 7:30. The return trip will leave Elmira early in the afternoon. Going there will be no stops at intermediate towns. On the return trip each car will be privileged to take their own way home after leaving the city limits in Elmira.

The cars are all to be numbered and appropriately decorated. Owners who have not flags, etc., for the purpose, will call on B. S. Brundage for assistance.

It is expected that all business places in Andover will be closed from 7:30 a. m. till 6:30 p. m. so that all merchants and clerks may enjoy the outing.

The rules of the marshal of the day are to the effect that from 20 to 25 miles an hour will be the average speed. No car will be considered for the trip unless they agree to be governed by the rules of the marshal of the day.

It is expected that a supply car will be taken along with necessary repair parts and mechanics to do work in case of accidents on the road.

DESCRIBING LIFE AT CAMP HUMPHREYS

Pastor H. E. Williams Gladdens the Hearts of News Readers With Interesting Story From His Field of Labor

Camp Humphreys, Va.
June 6, 1918

Dear Harvey:

I never would have believed a month should go by without a letter to the "Bugle" but I have been unbelievably busy until to-day. Fourteen men have been in one small building living in a suitcase, and I have not averaged five hours sleep since I left Andover, up at 6 and to bed at 12 with many a night finding me awake at 1, 1:30 Etc. I shall be in shape from now to drop a line. I tried to keep the church supplied with a few lines, but for 10 days that has not been possible I sent clippings to be able to send something. All this seems odd—but war is business.

It is utterly impossible to describe a camp like Humphreys. Three months ago it was a wilderness, tangled, pathless, in which one could easily become lost. I got turned around two weeks ago and was fifteen minutes getting by bearings. The forest is second growth, pines, maples, elm bay-trees, holy and a mass of vines and creepers. We are on a peninsula of about twelve square miles, made by the Potomac and Accotick Bay. Our camp from water to water is about three miles across, on an elevation of 170 feet. Water is got from artesian wells by force pump. The barracks were built right into woods and on all sides the dense mass of trees form an emerald setting for every sort of war activity. The sunrises and sunsets here are very beautiful. Earlier in May they were beyond description.

We have now 13,000 men here with a prospect of 20,000 by July 1st. Humphreys will be the biggest camp in the U. S. in time. It is an engineer's camp, made up of men from every state, speaking every language under heaven almost. Many here cannot speak English. The Y. M. C. A. is starting classes to teach French and English. The Military have good schools under control by Capt. Tounce, two years in the British army in France. I rode in with him yesterday from Alexandria, Va. forty miles clip over truck roads.

We ride in and out to Washington by truck, jitney, and the road is filled every moment. Every noise is heard here. The big guns at Indian Head, seven miles away, practice in the evening, and it sounds like a thunder storm coming up. We can see the flash. Dynamiting goes on continually; fifes and drums at 6 a. m.; the two bands practice go it at all hours; bodies of men are drilling, singing is the evening program, pounding, hammering, the little railroad, motor-cars and trucks and then the whippoorwills keep it up with the frogs all night. We also have gen'men who snore diligently. Noise!

George Washington used to hunt over this camp which is a part of his little farm of 8,000 acres. I went over to Mt. Vernon last week for an hour and had many thrills in looking over that historic place. The sight of the Potomac from the Potomac will always linger. When one beholds Washington's relics left after 120 years one thinks that the unseen is the eternal. I went thru the Smithsonian Institute at Washington and had the same deep emotions in beholding the relic of the American nation.

My work is varied. Sometimes I wait at the counter selling stamps, post-cards, hand out stationery, listening to the boys' troubles, adjusting domestic difficulties at long range, giving advice, trying to get a contact of friendliness with every one. I have made many good friends.

JOHN CASEY

After an illness of eleven months John Casey, one of Andover's prominent farmers, died at his home on South Hill, Monday morning, of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Casey was born in Andover nearly 63 years ago and has always lived here. He was a man of strong convictions and lived well up to them. He was known to every one and always proved himself an honorable and upright citizen.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Ella Casey, he leaves seven children, John J., Casey, of Camp Dix, Mary, Francis, Patrick, Anna, Rosellan and Cornelius of Andover.

He is survived also by two brothers, P. J. Casey, of Detroit, Mick and Michael of Andover and three sisters, Mrs. M. N. Haynes, of Elmira; Mrs. Catherine Schu, of Auburn, and Mrs. Anna Dougherty, of Grand Rapids Mich.

Funeral services were held at Blessed Sacrament Church Wednesday morning, Rev. J. J. Sheehy officiating.

The interment was in St. John's Catholic Cemetery.

—WSS—

since May 1st, I have given seven addresses, walking six miles in the blazing sun to one place and part way back after dark. I am very brown, eat heartily and enjoy the soldier's life.

I have written a bit of a new flag song which will be sung here. I am also connected with The Castle, the military newspaper and when I get courage may spring a "poem" at them.

Every week we are obliged to go to Washington to attend conference, all the secretaries around Washington, about ninety, attend. The council is to keep the ends well together and to hear the plans for the future. This one day a week is supposed to be "rest." To go from here means up at 5:45, truck in and street car to Washington, sit for two hours while the talker talks, luncheon at 12:30 and then home again at about 5:30, then work until 9:30. This is the rest day!

The biggest job before America is to fight the fight to a finish—nothing else counts. All other engagements are secondary and trivial. We are trying to build up the morale of the Army with that idea.

Many stirring events have come my way which Andover may hear later. I shall try to keep you in touch better hereafter. And I sure miss dropping in to say how-do of a morning.

Andover is a good town, and from the editorial I get in the News your doing your very large part in a large way. If you care to, pick out what may strike you as interesting, and print. Will write something soon again.

Regards to my friends — that's everybody.

WILLIAMS.

ODD FELLOWS WILL HOLD MEMORIAL

Rev. Burnside Steen, of Hornell, Will Give the Address Sunday Afternoon at the Auditorium. All are Invited

The annual I. O. O. F. Memorial Day occurs next Sunday, June 16th. Members of that fraternity are making preparations for its observance this year with a public gathering at the Auditorium Sunday afternoon.

The line of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will be formed at their hall, promptly at 2 o'clock, and march to Hillside Cemetery, where the graves of the departed members will be marked and strewn with flowers. The part of the ceremony for the cemetery will be carried out, and the line will be reformed and march to the Auditorium where a suitable program has been arranged.

The address this year will be given by the Rev. Burnside Steen, pastor of the Hornell Methodist church. Mr. Steen is a splendid talented orator and every one in Andover that misses this opportunity of hearing him will regret it.

The public generally are cordially invited to attend these services.
