HEALTH FOR ALL

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association, 44 Schuyler St., Belmont, N. Y.

Why Get Chest X-ray?

Tuberculosis is a communical disease which strikes without warning and rarely makes its presence known to its victim before the disease reaches an advanced state and grave damage is done.

Any one of us can get tuberculosis. And anyone can keep a check on the health of his lungs without waiting for the obvious symptoms of advanced TB. For signs of tuberculosis can be detected in an early stage by means of the chest X-ray. The X-ray is a first step in reaching out the disease. Once the X-ray shows suspicion of illness, additional tests should be made to determine if the person has active tuberculosis.

Since the X-ray does have this power, it seems strange that so many people neglect an annual chest X-ray, a practice that would give a person his best chance of finding TB, should it strike, in an early stage.

Some who neglect chest X-ray do it through procrastination. People keep putting them off because they have "more important" things to do. Yet these things would have to go undone if ill health intervened. A few moments before the X-ray machine once a year may prove to be the "stitch in time."

Another type of person gambles on his outwardly healthy appearance. A person may know a number of people who have been stricken with tuberculosis and yet feel "it can't happen to me, I'm too healthy." Tuberculosis can happen to anyone, healthy or frail. As a matter of fact, many people look and feel healthy when TB first attacks.—until the disease becomes advanced.

A third type of person might neglect X-rays because he thinks tuberculosis is inherited and he has "never heard of TB in the family." No one inherits TB. It is passed on by people who have the disease to those who are well.

Some don't bother with X-rays because they think tuberculosis is incurable. Such people feel that it wouldn't do them any good if TB were found, and what they don't know won't hurt them. But tuberculosis can be cured even in advanced stages, although the disease is easier to cure when found in an early stage.

If every unknown case of tuberculosis were found and placed under treatment, we could eventually stamp out tuberculosis in this country. And these cases of tuberculosis would be found if every adult 15 years of age and over formed the habit of getting an annual chest X-ray.
