THE GIANT IS AWAKE

The giant is awake at last. It has taken a year of sustained effort, and the mobilizing of an army of close to two million men, before we awoke from our slumber, but we are wide awake at last, and doings things—with a big D.

Government departments are running smoothly, and the great machinery of war is at last forging ahead. Huge stores of supplies of every conceivable description are being rushed across the Atlantic; Army after army is being trained and dispatched, until the American forces and equipment on the other side are fast attracting the attention of the world and sending cold shivers up and down the German spine.

The kaiser's boast to Mr. Gerard, that he had 500,000 German reservists in this country, and ready to take up arms at his word of command, has the ring of a huge joke. If they are here, they at least know how to preserve whole skins.

We have hit our stride at last, and now let's keep it up till complete victory is ours. Kaiserdom, with its attendant rain of evils, must perish from the earth.

And let us not for one moment forget that AMERICA IS THE DECIDING FACTOR IN THE WAR.

AUTOMOBILE TRIP TO ELMIRA

Chamber of Commerce to Number of 64, Enjoy Pleasant Day, Advertising Andover, Everyone Delighted

The annual automobile trip of the Andover Chamber of Commerce was a most decided success in every way. Even the weather contributed to its success by giving us exactly the kind of a day for the occasion, clear, pleasant but not too hot nor too cool.

The start was made from Main St., Andover promptly at 8 o'clock in the morning. There were eleven cars in the line carrying forty-four people.

A stop was made by the following order: Andover to Hornell, Mr. Woodhull, Addison, Painted Post, Corning, Horseheads, Elmira. But two stops were made on the way, ten minutes at Addison and twenty at Corning. At the latter place the president of the Chamber of Commerce immediately made himself known and was introduced to the Andover bunch by President W. S. Hutton. He invited us to make a visit to Horseheads the mayor of which met the party and escorted them thru the city to Hotel Langwell where an elegant dinner was waiting the hungry travelers.

The return trip was made by way of Savona, Bath and Howard to Hornell.

No mishaps occurred and everyone seemed to enjoy the occasion. We reprint the comments of the Elmira papers on the trip.

About 55 members of the Chamber of Commerce of Andover, N. Y., visited the city early this afternoon and enjoyed a dinner and entertainment at the Hotel Langwell.

The party left Andover at 8:30 o'clock this morning and reached this city shortly before 1 o'clock. They went directly to the Hotel Langwell and had dinner in the Rose Room. Andover is a thriving little village of about 1,500 population. It is situated near Canisteo, about 75 miles distant.

W. S. Calhoun, well known in this city, is the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and he arranged the trip to Elmira. There are silk manufacturing plant and a pottery plant located in the village.

Secretary Bally arranged a special entertainment for the guests, which was much enjoyed. Richard Moxley gave a vocal solo and Miss Gladys Mason, violinist, gave several delightful selections. A mixed quartette of Rotarians and members of the Chamber of Commerce including Philip Young, Clarence Rigdon, Carol Crispin and John E. Bally sang and were warmly applauded. The visiting business men presented each of the women taking part in the program, a box of chocolates.

Following the musical entertainment there was speech making by Elmirans, which was responded to by the guests. President A. P. Morrow of the Elmira Chamber of Commerce, Mayor H. N. Hoffman and President M. Doyle Marks of the Rotary Club made brief speeches welcoming the visitors. J. H. Backus, editor of the Advertiser; Henry Stephens, Secretary of the Andover Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Brundage spoke for the visitors.

The trip from Andover was made by automobile without mishap. This afternoon the guests were about the city, inspecting the places of interest. They will return to Andover this evening.—Elmira Star-Gazette.

More than fifty members of the Andover, N. Y., Chamber of Commerce after several hours spent in Elmira, voted this the Queen City of the Southern Tier, and informal, but sincere, thanks to local business men who entertained them. They are advertising their town, a prosperous little place between Hornell and Olean. They do considerable business with Elmira and want to do more. W. S. Calhoun, well known in Elmira, is president of their chamber.

The delegation, leaving their cars, went directly to the Langwell Rose Room, where Secretary Bally had arranged a special program for the guests. Mrs. Richard Moxely gave a vocal solo and Miss Gladys Mason, violinist, gave several delightful selections. A mixed quartette of Rotarians and members of the Chamber of Commerce, including Philip Young, Clarence Rigdon, Carrol Crispin and John E. Bally, also sang and were warmly applauded. The visiting businessmen presented each of the women taking part in the program, a box of chocolates.

Following the musical entertainment there was speech making by Elmirans, which was responded to by the guests. President A. P. Morrow, of the Elmira Chamber of Commerce, Mayor H. N. Hoffman and President M. Doyle Marks of the Rotary Club, made brief speeches welcoming the visitors. J. H. Backus, editor of the Andover News, Henry Stephens, Secretary Lash of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Brundage spoke for the visitors.—Elmira Advertiser.

GOVERNMENT AGREES TO HELP RAILROAD

Correspondence Between the United States Railroad Commission and Canisteo Chamber of Commerce. Gets Better Offering.

Canisteo, N. Y
June 18, 1918.

As a result of several communications between the United States Railroad Administration and the Canisteo Chamber of Commerce the following letter has just been received:

United States Railroad Administration,
W. G. McAdoo, Director Gen.
Interstate Commerce Building
Division of Law
John Barton Payne,
General Counsel
Washington
June 15, 1918.

Secretary
Canisteo Chamber of Commerce
Canisteo, N. Y.

Dear Sir:

If your people should acquire the New York & Pennsylvania Railway as suggested in your letter of June 7th, the Government would give you such assistance as the circumstances warrant.

If it does not take the road over, it would give you a fair division of the joint rate, car supply, etc., following the general policy which would be pursued toward the short roads.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) John Barton Payne.

From the above letter there is no doubt but that if the people buy the line the Government will either take it over under Federal control or will take it under its wing for protection from loss.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL

Rev. Burnside Steen, of Hornell, Delivers Most Able, Patriotic Address. Takes a Crack at Germans That Will Count

The Odd Fellows memorial exercises at the Auditorium was attended by a good sized audience, Sunday afternoon, and they were appropriate to the occasion.

At 2:30 the line of march was formed at the hall, as follows:

The American Flag
Flower Girls
Andover Band
Odd Fellows
Rebekahs

At Hillside Cemetery the Subordinate lodge and Rebekah lodge each carried out their own ritualistic services, decorating the graves of all.

At the Auditorium the following program was given:

Selection by the Band
"America," sung by the Flower Girls and audience.
Prayer by the chaplain, T. J. Gilbert.

Calling the roll of deceased members. There were thirteen members of the Subordinate lodge and twelve of the Rebekahs. Twenty-five bouquets had been arranged across the stage, with a lighted candle in each. As the names were read a little girl Marjory Williams, on one side, and a boy, Master Carl Childs, on the other, alternated in blowing out a candle.

Mrs. Deming paid a tribute to the departed ones and also for those now in the service of their country. There are ten young men now on the service flag of the Odd Fellows. She dropped a red rose to the floor in tribute to the men and a white rose to the ladies. Her remarks were well chosen and highly appropriate for the occasion. Many a tear dimmed the eye of those who heard her beautiful tribute.

Rev. Burnside Steen, pastor of the Park M. E. Church, of Hornell, was introduced at this time and gave a wonderful address most appropriate. He formed the basis of his remarks around the motto of the order saying correctly, that it was not necessary to be an Odd Fellow in order to know that Odd Fellows stood for "Friendship, Love and Truth." The speaker took up each separately and showed how closely they were linked together

When he got to the last, Truth, his thots soon turned to the war and the conditions which lead up to it, showing that it was the lack of truth that has turned the world into a veritable slaughter-house of human beings.

The words in the English language, of which the speaker had an abundant flow, were evidently too weak to express his disgust for the kaiser and the Germans. One point which he made was his condemnation of the thot that we were fighting only the kaiser and militarism. He allowed that he could lick the kaiser alone, that what we were fighting was the German people, not a class or an individual but the whole bunch.

His address was a hot arraignment of the pacifists and unpatriotic. It was just such a talk as every man, woman and child in Andover needed to hear, and those who missed the opportunity have lost something well worth while.

The Auditorium was most beautifully decorated for the occasion, the I. O. O. F. service flag finding a most prominent place in the decorations.

DRIVE FOR W. S. S. WILL BE TUESDAY

The Solicitors for the Sale of Uncle Sam's Securities Will Get Your Record Next Week. Be Ready For Them.

Friday, June 28th, has been designated by the President of the United States and the Governor of New York as War Savings Stamps Day.

On that day, by proclamation of the Governor, all adult persons in the State of New York, heads of households and all who are earning money or have an income, are required to appear at the places designated in their respective towns and there register the number of War Savings Stamps they will buy and pay for before the close of the present year. This registration may be made in person, or it may be made in proxy by a pledge card previously signed which will be accepted in lieu of personal registration. In other words, if you sign a pledge card agreeing to purchase a certain number of stamps, during the balance of this year, then you need not appear personally for registration.

The place of registration for Andover is Village Hall, and those who have not previously signed cards are commanded to appear there and register on Friday, June 28th, between the hours of noon and 10 p. m. It is to be hoped that there may be few or none from this town who will be required to register personally on the 28th.

In order that every person may have an opportunity to sign a pledge card, and so escape personal registration, a house-to-house canvass will be made Tuesday, June 25th. All cards then signed will be filed and will count as a registration.

This canvass is to be most complete. There will be a card for every person in each community and a report will be made thereon as to the attitude taken by the person visited toward this plan of the Government to finance the war. In other words, each individual will be put on record. Those who decline to do their bit will be served with a copy of the Governor's proclamation commanding them to make personal registration.

These War Saving Stamps, as you know, are an excellent investment, paying four per cent. interest, compounded quarterly.

It is absolutely essential to the successful prosecution of the war that the two billion dollar issue of War Savings Stamps be sold. It is just as necessary as that any of the bond issues be sold, for the country is depending upon it in just the same way.

It is necessary that Allegany County take its quota of these Stamps, which is $804,320. It is necessary that every town take its quota which is $20 per capita for each inhabitant—man, woman and child. Perhaps some cannot take this much, so others must take more.

Are you going to do your bit?

PLANS TO DETERMINE FUTURE MILK PRICES

Dairyman's League Working With Mr. Hoover to Make Prices of Milk Equitable for Both Producer and Consumer

One of the chief difficulties with the milk situation during the past few months has been the varying prices paid to producers in different parts of the country. These variations have been caused by there being several different federal milk commissions setting prices in the different sections and working entirely independent of one another.

For example, there is or has been a commission in New England, one for the middle states, one in Detroit and for the Chicago district. As a result of these different unrelated commissions, prices have been set for Chicago and New York which have differed as much as 60c a hundred to producers. There is a small difference in the cost of production between the two sections but this does not average more than 10c a hundred for the year.

Both producers and dealers have been much dissatisfied with the wide difference in price. The low Chicago price has had a strong tendency to force down eastern prices to the producer and the wide difference has made it possible for the manufacturers of condensed milk, butter and cheese in the West to make a profit while many of those in the East have lately been hard pushed.

It is known that Herbert Hoover, National Food Administrator, has been much dissatisfied with the present arrangement altho he insists that there must be some form of federal control. On Mr. Hoover's suggestion representatives of all parties concerned met Judge Lamb, Mr. Hoover's representative, in a hearing in New York on June 4th and again at Chicago on June 11th, to try to work out a plan satisfactory to all concerned.

At these hearing representatives were present from the Dairymen's League, the New England Milk Producers' Association, the Chicago Producers' Association, and from all the various dealers interests. No definite price fixing plan has yet been determined for certain, but President Cooper of the Dairymen's League suggested that instead of several commissions for each region, some kind of National Commission be appointed to work with the different producers' associations to set the price to the producer while regional commissions would continue to set consumers prices. This plan seemed to meet with general approval and is likely to be adopted by Mr. Hoover.

It is too late to get the new plan in operation to set the price for July milk and unless the present Milk Commission for the middle states sets the price, it will be necessary for the League to do so.
