Third Monday of October, at Belmont, by Justice Marvin.

Some slippery now a days.

Business has been lively here for the past week.

Allen, we will attend to you next week.

Henry Brown keeps good Oysters. "So he says" and that's all we know about it.

We issue our paper this week with considerable less matter than usual, for the reason that we have been kept away from the office to attend the wants of the sick.

Our Greenwood correspondence failed to reach us in time for publication this week, but we'll have it all right in our next issue.

New Bell.—We are pleased to notice that the new bell for our school house has been raised to its place in the dome. It is a good sounding bell, and the trustees are deserving of much credit in making the selections.

Christmas Eve.—There will be exercises at the Baptist church on Friday evening. Which will consist of singing "The Golden nine," Duetts. All to conclude with an exhibition of the monster Eliphant Hasibal. All are invited to attend.

Runaway.—On Saturday last Mr. J. B. Mead's team became frightened when passing Mead's school house by a lot of boys that were sliding down hill, and and ran over half a mile before they were stopped. Mr. Mead was thrown from the wagon and severely bruised, but we understand, is in no way dangerous.

On the first page will be found the prospectus of the New York Tribune, it is useless for us to say any more as regards this paper only that you can subscribe for the paper at the Post-office.

All indebted to Dr. W. W. Crandall, are requested to call and settle immediately. Dr. W. W. Crandall.

Notice.—We have decided not to issue a paper next week, as the most of our help wish to go home to spend the holiday's, and we feel as if a few days of recreation will not in any way injure us. All subscribers will receive their full number of papers for the year.

Turkeys are plenty in our streets but nary a one have we seen picking its way into our sanctum.

We would call the attention of our readers to the extensive stock of heliday goods at Benton's.

Found.—One day this week a buckskin glove was found upon the street, any person claiming and identifying the same, and paying for this notice can have said glove.

Changed Hands.—Mr. R. D. Beebe of Elm Valley has purchased the Hamilton cheese factory and will open it in the spring. Mr. Beebe has secured the services of F. W. Jones to assist him in the factory.

We neglected to notice last week that arrangements have been satisfactorily made so that Rev. A. H. Lewis of Alfred will preach at the M. E. church on Saturday afternoon of each week at 2 o'clock, a general invitation is extended to all.

Ho! For Benton's temple of fancy and see the everlasting quantity of holiday presents, consisting of Silver Ware, Jewelry, Books, Diary's, pictures, and toys of every description, and the largest stock of candies ever brought into this market. All for sale at Benton's, opposite the American hotel.

We would call the attention of all to the advertisement of Amos Preston. Mr. Preston offers for sale or to rent a store on main street, also a good dwelling house near the woolen factory. For particulars address Amos Preston, Andover. N. Y.

Be Careful.—We hear some complaints as to the boys in this village sliding down hill near the foundry, by men who are obliged to travel that way, by having their horses frightened, This should be broken up some way, they not only endanger the lives of those driving the teams but their own.

Insurance.—In another column will be found an advertisement of Crane and Manderville Insurance agents, at Hornellsville, and we cheerfully recommend them to the public favor, they are both fair business men, and all losses left to their adjustment, will be done promptly They visit Andover once in two weeks.

Christmas Tree.—The following exercises will be held at the Presbyterian church on Christmas Eve:

Addresses by the Superintendent and teacher's of the Bible class, Singing, Quartette, Duets, &c. Speaking Essays, and presenting of tokens of friendship and regards from the tree. All are invited to attend, and, through the tree, present any tokens of regard they may choose to friends.

Runaway.—On Tuesday of this week Mr. Edward Swain was hitching up his horse in his yard, when he became frightened and ran out on the street, up main street until in front of the Hotel when the horse jumped over a sleigh that was attached to a team belonging to Albert Warren staving things generally. The team started, but ran against a hitching post in front of Benton's and was stopped, the horse belonging to Swain was captured at the lower end of town. Luckily no person was hurt.

In making mention of the Andover manufacturing company last week we omitted to insert the name of J. J. Harman, President of the company. In the selection of Mr. Harman as president of the company they did nobly, as a business man, Mr. Harman has few equals, whatever he undertakes to do he accomplishes, as can be plainly seen in his business relations. He adopted the cash system, he now employs four lively clerks and you can "bet" they don't get many spare moments, all because he goes at business in the right way, and uses a plenty of printers ink.

Masonic.—The regular meeting of officers for the Andover Lodge, 558, of F. and A. M. was held at their hall on Monday evening last, and the following gentlemen chosen:

J. H. Elwell, W. M.
F. J. Lee, S. W.
J. C. Green, J. W.
B. Phiney, T.
B. C. Cole, Sec't'y.
A. S. Lovel, S. D.
Hiram Smith, J. D.
J. Swain, } M. S.
E. J. Kies, }
J. Driscoll, Tyler.
B. C. Crannall, Chaplain.

The annual supper will be on Thursday night at Swink's Hotel.

Programme.—The following is the progamme of the Teachers' Association of the county of Allegany, to be held at Alfred Center, December 28th and 29th, 1869:

December 28—First Day.

2:30 P. M. 1st, Music; 2d, Address of Welcome, Prof. J. Allen.

2:30. Vocal Culture and Reading. Prof. J. Allen.
3. Practical Mechanics. Prof. W. A. Rogers.
3:30 Miscellaneous business, followed by adjournment.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance as a session of more than ordinary pleasure and profit is expected.

It is expected that some time during the session the Gymnasts of Wellsville Union Graded School will be present and perform some exercises.

There will be a free conveyance provided from Alfred Station to Alfred Center.

The trains will leave at 7:08 and 5:27 east and west. Let all attend as they promise to receive us with open arms.

W. D. RENWICK, Pres't.
Belle E. Austin, Sec'y.

Teachers intending to be present at the meeting of the association are requested to notice that

Abundant provision has been made for the entertainment of all who may come, and teachers from other counties are cordially invited.

In order that there may be no oversight in providing entertainment all are requested to register their names with the local reception committee, immediately upon their arrival at the chapel. Even those who have already made arrangements to stop with friends here, are requested to do this, in order to avoid confusion.

Can't Be Beat.—The Hearth and Home comes to us this week containing a supplement, with a beautiful piece of music written expressly for that paper this alone is worth one half the subscription of the paper, as a family paper the Hearth and Home stands at the head and a man can make no better selection if he wishes to furnish his family with good reading, than to send for the Hearth and Home. Subscriptions may be left at this office.

We ask our readers to read the prospectus of the Scientific American, a splendidly illustrated weekly journal of popular science, chemistry, architecture, agriculture, and the kindred arts. The editorial department is ably conducted. It has 16 pages embolished with fine engravings of machinery, &c, and with all this the Journal is furnished for $3. a year. To mechanics the Journal is of special value, and should be in the hands of every mechanic and farmer. Read the prospectus and see the premiums that are offered to getters up of clubs. Subscriptions can be left at this office.

A Model Patlor Magazine.—For beauty of typography, artistic engravings, and high-toned literary articles, together with a large and beautiful display of the Fashions, Demorest's Monthly Magazine is certainly unsurpassed. The January number, just received, in addition to unusual holiday attractions, has a fine steel Portrait of both Mr. and Mrs. Demorest. The rich display of novelties offered in Demorest's Monthly would seem to be enough to secure a circulation sufficient to satisfy its publishers, but in addition we see they propose to give a large and fine engraving to each subscriber, valued at $10. The Engraving alone would make a very appropriate Holiday or birthday gift; but when added to the costly Picture the best Parlor Magazine is included, to be a monthly reminder of the friendly feeling of the giver, there is certainly no better way of investing $3.—Address Demorest's Monthly, 838 Broadway N. Y.

Too much Whiskey.—The Jamestown Journal says: "Mrs. Palmer Allen of Ellington, desiring to have her teeth extracted, and not wishing to take chloroform, drank nearly a pint of whiskey and while insensible from its effects the operation was performed. The dentist becoming alarmed at her death like insensibility, Dr. Wheeler was called in, and it was with considerable exertion and after nearly 36 hours of time that she was brought back to life.

L. Hib. Whittlesey, editor of the Northern Pennsylvanian, has left our circle. He died on Tuesday, the 7th inst. An able and easy writer, a faithful Mason, a true, warm hearted man, the news of his death was received with profound regret by a large circle of relatives and friends.—Waverly Enterprise

An exchange says: One of the means by which we may build up a place, neighborhood or county, and bring prosperity to our business generally, is for every one to patronise home institutions, especially in articles that are manufactured there. To keep the money circulating in your own neighborhood is the way to make it rich, and every man that sends away for work that he can just as easily get done at home deprives the place of just that much wealth, as well as discourages enterprise.
