given over to the enemies of the Republic, will fall into the hands of the Temperance strength of the country. The visible political strength of the Temperance cause will, without doubt, greatly gain in consequence of the settlement of the negro question.

Whether the parties will continue under their present names during many years to come, we regard as extremely doubtful. But, be that as it may, we intend to be found, in the future as in the past, with the party of progress, and the party under the guiding influence of great moral ideas—laboring for the cause of Truth, Justice and Right.

Twitting on Facts.
The leaders of the New York Democracy constitute a remarkably 'happy family' at the present time. The principal Democratic journal, the N. Y. World, has been taken with one of its periodical spasms of virtuous feeling, and is boiling over with indignant accusations against the Democratic Ring of New York, and open confessions of the enormous sins of the party of which it is and has been the chief organ and exponent. It declares the Ring has made the New York elections a sheer farce—which is a fact. It confesses that the Democrats carried the elections by fraud—which is a fact.

Our common school system is admirably adapted to the wants of our country, rapidly increasing population. If it is not, it is the best in the world, and any other system, whether of Europe or America, is unwarrantable. It is the best in the world, and any other system, whether of Europe or America, is unwarrantable. It is the best in the world, and any other system, whether of Europe or America, is unwarrantable.
