"U. S." stands for "Useful Santa Claus" this year, as well as for "Unconditional Surrender.

In war times as in other times an ounce of practical efficiency is worth a pound of theoretical knowledge.

* * *

These will be remembered as the days when peace messages were flying and Spanish influenza flew.

* * *

Your last year's winter coat is a badge of honor if the money which would have bought a new one is going into Liberty Bonds.

"The goose that laid the golden egg" had something on the hen who is laying eggs at the present market price, but not so very much.

* * *

While the "flu" had closed up everything America had a chance to sit at home evenings and get acquainted with its family and its library.

* * *

The kaiser suggests that he is quite willing to be president of a German republic. "Nobody asked you, sir," she said, may be Germany's point of view.

* * *

Foreign governments are developing a great deal of skill in the writing of peace notes. It is almost equal to the skill the Allies have developed in warfare.

What should we do without the good old fall elections, to tell us that October is over and Thanksgiving near at hand? And by the way, was your candidate elected?

President Wilson is acknowledged to be an excellent correspondent. Opinion, however, seems to be divided as to whether his domestic communications are as satisfactory as his foreign ones.

* * *

Next year men's straw hats are to be greatly restricted in style and variety by government regulations. But next June is soon enough for us to be unhappy about it.

* * *

Between the 26th and 27th of October we each conserved an hour. What use did we make of it? On that depends the answer to the question whether it deserved to be conserved.

* * *

If America gains nothing else from this war she will at least have a greatly increased knowledge of European geography.

In fact, she will assist in making the new map of Europe.

* * *

History repeats itself. So does human nature under conditions of terrific strain. The Red Terror in Russia and its cruelty and heartlessness rivals the Reign of Terror in the French Revolution.

* * *

Italy is said to have 250,000 men fighting gloriously on the battle front in France, and 350,000 carrying on a campaign in Albania. At the same time she is conducting a magnificent offensive of her own against the Austrians. Viva Italia!

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

Any lady in Andover want this job?

The applicant must give three independent references, supplying unimpeachable testimony as to character and ability. She should have had considerable clerical experience, and must submit to tests that will give a complete analysis of her qualifications. She must be thoroly sound physically, and able to keep her health on whatever kind of a diet is obtainable, and thru the most trying circumstances she must maintain a quiet, unbis-ouragеable enthusiasm. She must possess the versatility that can accomplish anything from running a cafeteria to teaching the metric system. Problems and difficulties must be faced with the initiative and resource that copes successfully with the unforeseen. The candidate must, of course, be a lady, and able to meet people of all classes with a democratic courtesy that can create and maintain a spirit of comradeship.

Well. What salary does she get for all this?

Oh, we forgot that. She must provide at least $500.00 towards her expenses.

You can see the applicants crowding in, can't you? Every one with money in each hand to prove she has the $500.00, and with letters in each pocket testifying that she had the courage of Joan of Arc, the tact of Portia, and the commercial acumen of Hetty Green.

And all to get jobs in the Y. M. C. A. canteen.

Some of them get jobs, but many more get turned down. France is pretty full just now, and the Y. M. C. A. doesn't propose to export anything it can't use. It asks for the best, and gets it in bulk.

It is wholesome for us to realize that service is a privilege, and it is heartening to find that we have so many candidates able and willing to meet the challenge of the above conditions.

It is not only the Y. M. C. A. that finds applicants able to satisfy rigid entrance tests. Women workers under the American Fund for French Wounded must have medical certificates in attestation of clinical experience, and must prove that they are able to pay all their living and traveling expenses. The American Commission for aiding devastated France requires candidates to drive and repair motor trucks, to show a knowledge of dairying and chicken raising, and in other ways to satisfy the examiners that they are not amateurs looking for a picnic tour o' Europe.

"America's Boundless Resources" — that well-worn fragment of the campaign orator's currency—gets a new valuation here. We have resources we never dreamed of. Pride and humility are often merged in one emotion, and never more justly than when we see extreme emergency revealing hidden excellencies in our fellow-countrymen.

GO AHEAD AND SAY IT

Nearly every discussion is mainly concerned with the interpretation of a word. But the disputants hardly ever realize it.

If the meaning of the word "democracy" is ever really determined we shall be spared a good deal of arguing. The word "armistice" is being used just now even more promiscuously than "democracy," and with as little regard to its meaning.

The highbrows, in defining a word, have a habit of referring to the Latin or Greek from which it is derived. It is generally a grandchild of one or other of those prolific parents, and "armistice" is a member of that numerous family.

An armistice is an interval during which antagonists hold their weapons stationary by agreement. You can't hold your weapons stationary if you haven't got them.

To grant the Germans an armistice would necessitate the continuance of their present military strength. If you were disarmed there could be no armistice.

We discuss the question of an armistice, but demand that it mustn't be one; we make the condition that the Germans lose their power to strike. Such a consummation would go some distance further than an armistice; it would be a surrender. And to consider anything less would be the loudest laugh in vaudeville.

Why not say so? To say what we palpably don't mean suggests, the enemy that we are not quite brave enough to be truthful.

The recent replies to Germany's messages contain a good deal of admirable firmness. It is unfortunate that the word "armistice" occurs so frequently in press comments and casts a veil of obscurity about the attitude of the American people toward these deliberations.

IN OVERALLS

The musical comedy "farmerette" is now as familiar an institution as the musical comedy bathing girl.

Hawaiian girls, harem girls golfing girls, military girls, baseball girls, and bathing girls, of course. Each costume change means a different song, and as each show carries about the same assortment the rotation becomes monotonous. So they invented the stage farmerette in silk overalls with a hayfork like an overgrown fly-swatter.

In the meantime, at the State Normal School of Agriculture, Wisconsin, a young lady whose name is withheld went thru the course like a ripsaw thru a plank. She mixed concrete in most of the standard forms, and investigated grades of wheat for stripe ergot and smut; she studied surveying, and planted a 240 acre farm; she made elaborate milk tests, wrote theses on stock-breeding inhaled the science of crop-routine, and, for some inartistic reason, made a specialty of pigs. That the lady was raised on a farm is not considered by the faculty as contributing in a great measure to the profundity of her education.

There are plenty more like her in Wisconsin, and, thank Heaven, there are still more outside Wisconsin. It is this type of farmerette that interests us quite as much as the musical comedy kind. Show troupes don't flock much in Andover, but we have girls who can don overalls (not silk ones) and take the place of boys as effectively as the most boyish chorus girl that Broadway ever generated.

Cleaning a hog-pen is not an elegant job. And there is little elegance in washing vermin from the filthy body of a wounded soldier—a commonplace in the daily experience of a Red Cross girl. Not many duties are more unsavory—or more sacred, and the picture needs no spotlight to illuminate its glittering moral.

HOME RULE

We can depend on the horse sense of the American farmer to outwit the profiteering elevator company when all the cards are played, but it is a misfortune that the movement has been delayed as long.

It is now beyond question that $2.00 is not to be considered as a price for wheat, and with the purpose of obtaining fair conditions for themselves farmers have started forming elevator companies of their own in many parts of the wheat country.

The only danger to be apprehended is the promoter masquerading as the friend and counselor of the farmer. There will always be some of these artists posing as organizers of bona fide farmers' elevator companies, with the purpose of perpetuating the very abuse which they profess to remove.

The remedy is a very simple one, and is being generally applied. Stockholders should be allowed no more than a maximum holding—say $500, and no one should have any voice in the management of the concern unless he is known to be a local man with local interests.

No stranger, however urbane and ingratiating, should be allowed to get any part of the financial administration under his direction. Such a condition would gradually—and perhaps suddenly transfer most of the benefits proceeding from the enterprise into the hands of ingenious manipulators from the land where skyscrapers are many and haystacks few.

His Mother Needed Money —and She Got It!

AN American soldier hurries along the street of a shell-torn village, keeping close to the shelter of the crumbling walls, and runs up the steps of a battered chateau.

He climbs to a room where sandbags are piled high to the ceiling. Behind a rough counter stands a man of middle age—a man with an emblem on his arm and a smile on his face.

"In a hurry this morning, buddie?" he asks.

"You bet I am," pants the soldier. "We're going into the trenches at noon."

"Can I help you?"

The boy thrusts one hand into his pocket and with the other points to a sign on the wall. It reads:—"SEND YOUR MONEY HOME—ASK THE SECRETARY HOW."

"Can I send this to my mother?" he asks, and draws out a roll of French bills. "She needs it."

"Of course you can," says the secretary. He counts the money carefully—twice—and then does a little figuring.

"That makes $84.60 in American money."

"And will you see that my mother gets it?"

"We will," is the answer. "I'll give you this receipt and I'll send your money to the nearest headquarters. They will forward it to Paris, and Paris will tell New York to mail your mother a check for your $84.60."

"How much will it cost me to have you do that?"

The answer is it won't cost him one cent. His mother will get the whole $84.60. Every week the War Work organizations are transmitting more than half a million dollars from the boys over there to the home folks over here.

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3,600 Recreation Buildings	2,500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
1,000 Miles of Movie Film	85 Hostess Houses
100 Leading Stage Stars	15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
2,000 Athletic Directors	Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club, and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul.

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.
Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!

From the time your fighter starts for a cantonment until he reaches a front-line dug-out the seven organizations are ministering to him in big ways and little ways, to take the worries off his shoulders and to carry cheer and comfort to him. One aim—one need—now, altogether!

W. F. O'CONNELL, P. M.

—Galeton has 600 cases of flu and have had many deaths.

—Mrs. C. D. Robinson, of Friendship, is dead at the age of 63 years.

—Miss Ruth Mix and Edward W. Storms, both of Bolivar, were married Oct. 26th.

—Clyde Williams, aged 22 years, died last week of influenza, at his home near Nile.

—George Vickers has moved into the new home recently purchased on Greenwood Street.

—Frederic Church, of Wellsville, has been wounded in the leg by a machine gun bullet in action in France.

—Rev. Maurice V. Wright, pastor of the M. E. Church at Rushford, died Oct. 20th. Interment was at Friendship.

—W. B. Chase has purchased the Mark Kemp residence on Rochambeau Ave., and will take possession about Nov. 15th.

—The Eastern Star will meet Monday evening, Nov. 11th. Initiation and refreshments. All members are requested to be present.

Chas. E. Baker, Com.

—Mr. and Mrs. Alois Kellenberger recently received official notice that their nephew, Carl Kellenberger, was wounded in action and is in a hospital in France.

—"The Germans now complain that General Foch not only took over the French and British armies, but in his absent-minded way has recently started taking over a good part of the German army."

—Homer Berger, son of Wm. Burger of this place, was called in the recent draft contingent and was sent to Camp Wheeler, Ga. He went from Candor, N. Y., where he has been living for the past three years.

—The many friends of Howard A. Inskip will be pleased to note that at a recent meeting of the Directors of the State Bank at Kenmore, his salary was increased $400 per annum. This raise was unsolicited and shows the Bank's appreciation of his service and ability.

—Hunters should exercise great care in the woods. Chas. Blatcherly, Jr. of Cuba, received several shot in his face last week from the gun of M. D. Hogan of that place, who was hunting pheasant and seeing the cap of the other party moving among the leaves thought it was a bird and fired.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kahr of Wellsville, Oct. 31st, a son.

—Miss Mildred Brownell and R. D. Stein, of Wellsville, were married Nov. 2nd.

—John Coleman died at his home in West Union last Saturday from influenza.

—Rev. Homer Evans is the newly installed pastor of the M. E. Church at Whitesville.

—Miss Bernice Rogers, of Cuba, and Glenn Perkins, of Wolf Run, were united in marriage Oct. 20th —Miss Beulah Coots of Wellsville and John E. Grastorf, of Wellsville, were united in marriage, Nov. 3rd.

—Dee Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Thomas of Hume, was killed in action in France, October 3rd.

—A reception for Rev. Collins and family will be held in the parlors of the Methodist Church, Friday evening, from 8 to 10 p. m., Nov. 8th.

—Regular review of Mutual Tent No. 18. K. O. T. M., Thursday evening, Oct. 14th, at 7:30, at G. A. R. Hall. Initiaiton of several candidates; refreshments.

—Second Lieut. Burr Straight, of Almond, was killed in action, Oct 3rd, with the "Fighting Ninth," in the advance at Champagne. He went to France, from Camp Upton last April.

Wild and unfounded reports linking the spread of influenza with German machinations are widely circulated. Our comment would be Tennyson's "When did not rumors fly? Let rumors be."

—The body of Harry S. Warden was brought to Belmont from Cadillac, Mich., for burial last week. Deceased was 34 years of age. His wife, formerly Miss Inez Hancock, daughter of ex-sheriff. David M. Hancock, was too ill to attend the funeral.

—Letters have been received from Wellsville boys in France stating that Barney Schreiner, of Wellsville, was wounded, Sept. 28th, and is now in a French hospital with his right leg amputated and right arm badly wounded. No official notice has been received by his relatives as yet.

—1210 ttrained workers from the Salvation Army are now at the front, occupying 420 huts and dugouts where they make steaming hot coffee and doughnuts for the boys who are in the fiercest of the battle. Their courage and endurance near the horrors of the battle front is wonderful.

—The "letter from an Andover boy in France," with which Mr. Higgins of Wellsville called the crowd together Tuesday to listen to the address by A. Y. M. C. A. secretary was written by John D. Storms to his sister. Private Storms has recovered from his injuries and rejoined his company at the front.

—Eddie Collins, the famous second sacker of the Chicago White Sox and a former star of Connie Mack's old Philadelphia athletic championship combination has joined the United States Marines. The White Sox paid a fabulous price for Collins but he decided to enter the service for Uncle Sam and the U. S. Marines was his choice.

—Mrs. Lucile Ball, of Allentown, died Oct. 25th, of influenza.

—Floyd Scott is unable to be at his meat market this week on account of illness.

—Miss Mildred Brownell and R. D. Stein, of Wellsville, were married Nov. 2nd.

—Ralph Hill, of Little Genesee, is in a hospital in France suffering from a gas attack.

—The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. Church will meet at the parsonage Thursday evening, Nov. 12th.

—Was the vote out? Well we should say. Adorned in fur neck pieces, silk hose and pumps, "some vote."

—Earl B. O'Connor, of Wellsville, was among those wounded in action in France in a recent engagement. He is now at a hospital in England.

—The Library War Service has shipped 385,310 overseas, good books for the use of boys in the hospitals and rest camps.

—Union Encampment installation of officers, Monday night, Nov. 11th. All members expected to be present. Refreshments.

—A shoulder to the wheel on a slippery hill will do more to help a horse and carry more weight with the driver than cursing.

—Clayton Burger picked out a fine 12¾ pound gooes from a flock flying over their home a mile southwest of Andover, the other day. He made the capture with a shot gun.

—Clarence W. Kidney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Kidney, of Angelica, died in Buffalo, Oct. 23rd, of influenza. Beside his parents he leaves his wife. Interment was at Angelica.

—In a recent engagement in the Argonne forest Lieut. John Dickson, son of Dawson Dickson, of Angelica, was reported as being the only officer in the company who went over the top and came back safely.

—The Government has commandeered 80 per cent. of the output of the cheese factories. Agents visit the factories and stamp 80 per cent. of the cheese on hand leaving orders that proportion of cheese be held for the Government in the future.

—Mrs. John Nagle died at the home in Wellsville, Oct. 31st, from influenza. Deceased was born Oct. 5, 1877. Beside husband she is survived by sons and two daughters. One son, Wm. Nagle, was wounded in action in France and is now home on a furlough while convalescing.

—Radio Chief Willard Wellman of the U. S. Navy died Oct. 24th, at the Willard Parker Hospital in Manhattan from influenza. Radio Chief Wellman was on duty at Whithall Station, New York, when he contracted the disease. He was the first man to enlist from Friendship and was listed for overseas service. The body was brought to Friendship for burial.

—Three deaths are reported from influenza in the Bolivar paper. That of Mrs. Will Wright, aged 35 years, who leaves her husband and two children; Alice, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Wilbur, and Baldwin Foster, aged 31 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Foster. Deceased died at Seneca Junction and the body was brought to Bolivar for burial. He is survived by his wife and three children.

—In a recent letter from Chas. S. Foster, formerly of Andover, now located in Rochester, he writes: "We certainly enjoy the Andover News and do not wish to be without it. Have been in Rochester since the middle of July in the Symington munition plant where they make the 75 M. M's and believe me, they make some 700,000 this plant turns out this month. They run three 8 hour shifts a day, never a stop. I like it here very much but do miss Andover and my friends there."

UNITED WAR WORKERS STREET MEETING

Tuesday afternoon Andover people listened to an address in front of City Hall, by Rev. Derrick of Corning, who has been some time at Camp Dix as a Y. M. C. A. worker. He found an attentive audience in the patriotic men and women of our town. Rev. Derrick was accompanied by M. D. Haskins, Benj. Fehlowitz and John Devere from Wellsville.
