C. H. Simmons of the Regulator at Wellsville has removed into his new Store, one door west of the old site, where he may be found, with one of the largest and finest selected stocks ever to visit into Wellsville.

A Connecticut grocer writes to the N. Y. Tribune that on the 9th of March he purchased $500 in specie, and advertised to resume specie payment. He says: "We found some who wanted a little silver for pocket pieces, but the majority of our customers preferred paper. One old lady to whom we offered a new 50 ct. silver piece, refused to take it unless we agreed to take it back."—Allegany printers won't refuse silver—we are not authorized to speak for any other class.

Simmons of Wellsville says he will sell the best prices for 10 cts. good from 6 to 8 cts. good shooting from 10 to 13 cts.

The Elmira Advertiser says that one of the enterprising business firms of that city desiring to resume specie payment a short time since, sent one thousand dollars in greenbacks to New York, directing their broker to purchase therewith English gold which was selling at a cent and a half less premium than American gold. This English gold was then sent to Canada where American silver was selling at twenty cents discount on the dollar. After paying all expenses of the transactions, including freight on the specie, the firm found that they had made just eight dollars in specie on each hundred dollars in greenbacks invested. They propose to continue specie payment when it can be done so satisfactorily and at the same time so profitably.

ARTHUR'S MAGAZINE we regard as the best of the 32 monthlies. Arthur's Temperance Tales are a very interesting and valuable feature of this magazine. The author writes with a purpose, and that purpose a good one.—Long may he live to carry on his good work.

Any of our citizens visiting Wellsville should not fail to visit Simmons' mammoth new store. His stock is complete, and he is bound to sell low this Spring.

If you go to Hornellsville, step in at Osgoods's, sign of the Squaw and you will find the finest Cigar and the best Chewing and Smoking Tobacco in Western New York. He also keeps a good glass of Lager and the best and cheapest Oysters in town, sold by the can or keg. Come and see me. 49tf S. OSGOOD.

The National Temperance Society is doing a great, noble, and much needed work in the dissemination of choice literature devoted to the temperance reform. Although it has been in existence but a few years, it has scattered over the country a large amount of reading matter inculcating temperance principles, which has been productive of much good; and the Society has now a fine list of books and tracts on the catalogue of its publications. Persons or organizations desiring to help the temperance cause can hardly expend their means and efforts to better advantage than by spreading broadcast the publications of the National Temperance Society. They can be had by addressing J. N. Stearns, Agent, 172 William St. New York. Among the tracts we would mention an address by Bishop Potter, on "The Drinking Usages of the day," sold at 60 cts. a dozen; also one of 48 pages "On the Suppression of the Liquor Traffic," being a prize essay by Prof. Fichel, of Mt Union College, Ohio. This sells for $2.00 per dozen. For schools and social temperance societies there is the Temperance Speaker, containing choice selections of prose and poetry, declamations and dialogues, now and old, by temperance orators and writers. The Temperance Almanac is a most useful manual cheap at ten cents.

Old and New.—Of [illegible] candidate for popular favor we [illegible] that it comes up to [illegible] is certainly very big. The [illegible] contains sixteen articles [illegible] excellent reviews of books, etc., in which, aside from the variety in [illegible] questions [illegible] Business, Politics and Religion are ably discussed. Its contributors are: "Our desire is, as necessary, for to state the highest and best thoughts arrived at in fearless manner, in Christian morals, in free government, and in Liberal theology." H. O. Houghton & Co., Boston. $4 per year.

Homes at Home.—Among the [illegible] of the best of our men [illegible] It is a work we [illegible] very likely to be high moral tone and its excellent literary character. Some of the best writers and ablest thinkers in our country contribute to its columns, and its readers are sure to find a rich treat in every number. Published by Chas. Scribner & Co., New York, at the low price of $3 per year.

BELMONT CORRESPONDENCE.

BELMONT, April 7th, 1874.

EDITORS ADVERTISER:—Specie payment not yet resumed. O, for a glimpse of the municipal shining coin! Perhaps the birds would sing more sweetly, and the sun shine brighter—who knows?

The long winter is at last broken, the hills look blue, and their wooded summits commingle with the cloud and mist; the rain pours down seemingly without effort, and with the melted snow hurries onward in a torrent to the lakes and to the sea. The Spring birds sing and the ancient's stroke sounds from the sugar orchard—doubly welcome are these scenes and sounds after a winter, whose bleakness has spanned from October to April. We wish our farmers a fine sugar season.

Since I wrote you last, our organization of good Templars have held a benefit sociable. There was a large attendance. Among the fine things of the occasion was a fine supper followed with a dance. The Order realized $22.95. After the sociable and before morning the supper room was entered at the window by some miscreants and several choice cakes which had been reserved to bid off on the morrow, to the highest bidder, were stolen. The sale was of course adjourned.

On Tuesday night of last week the dwelling house of Mr. Henry S. Struble was burned to the ground. Building insured $400, and furniture $400, will probably cover loss.

31st, says of Ex-T. as follows: An organization has been formed to learn women to 'chaw terbacker,' Ex-T. is the originator of the project."

This is an unwarrantod, sweeping assertion, which reflects more upon the ladies of our community than on your correspondent. The assertion as far as Ex-T. is concerned, only calls for a square denial; and the same is hereby denied.

I believe friend G. is too much of a gentleman to knowingly assert that which would cast even a shadow of bad repute on the good names of our lady friends. The refore in justice to the ladies and to himself, he will do well to retract.
