Sign Boards on the Up-Road

By Hamilton B. Williams

The Flowers sing, God is Beauty;
And the Mountains and Seas sing, He's Might.
The Winds and the Waters, the Reeds and the Trees sing, He is Music;
And the Sun and the Stars sing, He is Light.

He lives, sing the Flowers, in our Garden;
He broods, sing the Birds, in our Nests;
He dreams, sings the Seas, on our Bosoms;
He leaps, sing the Hills, on our Crests.

He is Light, He is Might, He is Beauty;
He is Color and Music and Form;—
He is Dawning and Noontide and Sunset and Midnight;
He is Zephyr and Calm and Storm.

He is Glory in love-light of Lovers;
He is cheer in the comfort of Friend;
He is Sweet in the kindness of Mothers;
God is Journey's end.

Where are Beauty and Goodness and Truth in Spirit or Clod,
In the sweep of the circling Stars is God.

"We read life thru the lenses of other peoples' minds."

This remark of Emerson's shows the reciprocal relation human beings sustain. An enthusiast for living in a community is a great social asset. Every discovery of new eras, every addition to the knowledge of the world, every experiment with its reaction, every quickening of perception rechant the Land we call Life. So is the Race built.

In Jesus we behold a God-filled man, the quickening spirit of advancing humanity. Far ahead He stirs the laggard race to its goals.

He is the complete ourselves. When we attain our development we shall be like Him. The divine image shall be in full glory of beauty. He shall be satisfied. Every labor of His on our behalf shall be justified when we awake in His likeness.

In talking with Plato we think of the philosopher with Shakespear of the poet. When we walk with Napoleon we think military matters, with Angelo, art. We recognize these to be phase men, experts, gifted, authority in their line, but we are conscious of their limitations; they are not full-orbed.

But Jesus is full-orbed. He is life, shadowless. We can think of no addition that would make Him more complete. He needs no panoply of mystery. His life is the self-revealing light of the world.

Jesus could interpret life as it is. He was friend and therefore He could not be Himself and not be friend and serving man. If he had not been a God-filled man we should not expect a majestic friendship such as He showed. His friendship is His evidence of being the Son of God.

We are what we can be.

If we are friends and comrades it is because we have the ability. If we were not friends and comrades, it is simply that we have dropped short in some cave and jungle byway. We are not out of the main-road of affairs.

Fellowship with Jesus lifts one to the capacity of world-citizenship. If we think in terms of lines, class-lines, view with suspicion and contempt any one who differs from us, if we are hedged by the man, the creed, by nationism that exalts blood and tongue, it is evident that our development of mind and heart has been blighted.

There is the liberty of determination along any line of human philosophy and religion. Let us hold fast our beliefs — but to be unable to grant others the right of determination is arrogance! The philosophy and religion that shut out sympathetic contact with others would better be considered carefully in the light of the Master's face, who affirmed His brethren to be those who did the will of God. It is significant that He did not equate the will of God in any terms except in those of human sympathy and service.

The reactions from contact with God are these, love, joy, peace, goodness, gentleness, faithfulness, meekness and self-mastery. These certify one's eternal life. They are life-qualities.

A soldier in France discovered the meaning of the cross when he said: "Jesus was lucky to have been able to die for a great cause."

The serviceable life is evidence of ability to live for a great cause. The cross has a glory when so interpreted. We are "lucky" if the cross of Jesus is the torch which shows us the Human Family as our opportunity to service.

Life and Service are interchangeable terms.

Life fulfills its contract in service.

The contract is well-bonded. Back of it are Vision, Conscience, Honor, Belief in God, Belief in Man, Love, Self-Respect.

Those do not fail.
They CAN!

According to the new figures, 748 of the deaths occurred in New York city instead of the previously announced 528.

Nature outdid herself one day last week when the thermometer registered close to 70 in the sun in Penn Yan and apparently spring had arrived with all kinds of harbingers in evidence, among them being bees, robins and flowers, while sap ran from maple trees that had been tapped, the earliest recorded locally. All of the ice has left Keuka lake with the exception of a few acres in the vicinity of "The Pines," at this end of the lake, which is four inches thick and through which the minnows are catching hundreds of perch and many pickrel.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? LOOK OUT!

Kidney troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow slowly but steadily, undermining health, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your trouble while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her Gold Dust. Doan's, as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They restore strength and are responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

What used to be called—sometimes derisively—"bargain-hunting" has evolved into the practice of intelligent buying. The advertisements make it possible.

GET LIBRARY BOOKS BY PARCEL POST

Greenwood R. F. D. Will Try Out Scheme. Good for Farmers, But Will be Detrimental to Small Towns.

The attention of the patrons of rural delivery route No. 1, Greenwood, is called to an especial privilege that will be accorded them in borrowing and returning the books from the Greenwood Library by local parcels post. At present it costs not less than five cents to borrow a book by this means, making ten cents both ways, which is more than most people care to pay for the privilege of reading a library book. A reformed rate better adapted to this local use by the farm people in borrowing and returning the books when it is not convenient for them to go to town for the purpose has been proposed by A. L. Spencer, now of Greenwood, and has received the commendation of farmers, educators, and business men, as well, thruout the union, the difficulty being nation wide. The experiment will therefore be tried out in Greenwood, beginning Monday, Feb. 17th, limited for the present to Route One, whereby with money donated for the purpose, a book weighing no more than a pound will cost the borrower but a cent each way, the excess being paid from the fund.

As part of the plan, a list of about two hundred books will be mailed to the patrons who may borrow them by postal, card or letter, over the telephone during library hours, receiving the books if in at the time, the next day. Those who wish to borrow should note: Library hours for three months will be—

Tuesday: 7-9 P. M.
Thursday: 4-5; 7-9 P. M.
Saturday: 7-8 P. M.

All who borrow will do so under the consideration that they are responsible for the books charged to them and that they will cheerfully pay a fine of two cents a day for a book kept more than two weeks. A borrower may, however, get a book that is not finished renewed for another two weeks if request is made before expiration of the time limit. A book may be borrowed by a second person in a neighborhood without its going back to the library provided that the reborrowing is first agreed to by the librarian who must have the name of the second borrower, in advance.

Patrons of the route may borrow by simply calling the library and leaving one cent postage in the box and return by wrapping lightly and stamping with a one cent stamp. We suggest, however, that the best way would be first to leave ten cents in the mail box for this purpose of which five cents will be credited at the library as postage for the first five books borrowed, while for the other five cents a stout envelope will be furnished with the name of the family borrowing on one side and that of the library on the other.

This experiment will be watched with interest by the entire library world as indicating whether such rate as paid by patrons of this route may not be granted to all rural America with joint advantage of farm home and postal revenue as well.

The finder of an article of value should advertise his find. Perhaps the loser's anxiety to recover his property will lead him to advertise—but the finder's anxiety to restore it should lead him to advertise, also.

Those who wait until the last minute to order their seeds are going to wish they had followed the example of their more alert neighbors.

NITRATE FOR FARMERS

Nitrate of soda handled by the U. S. Government can be secured by farmers of this county until Saturday, Feb. 15th. Application blanks can be secured from the Farm Bureau Office. The price is $81.00 per ton, this to be deposited when application is sent in and parties securing nitrate to pay freight upon receipt. The time is short for ordering and parties wanting nitrate should fill out their application at once.

FARM LABOR

The Farm Bureau Office is receiving many inquiries from men wanting work. This includes single and married men for farm help and married men to work farms on the shares as tenants. Farmers desiring help the coming season should place their application at the Farm Bureau Office and everything possible will be done to secure the help. Parties desiring work should also place their name on file and we will endeavor to get the man wanting work and the farmer wanting help together. Some of the help will necessarily have to be furnished from outside sources, as thru Labor Bureaus and from the nearby cities. Present indications seem probable that labor will not be much cheaper, if any than a year ago.

SEED CORN

Results in the county during the past four years have shown that the variety of seed corn known as Luce's Favorite has given the most dry matter per acre of any corn in demonstration tests. Consequently arrangements are being made to secure the Luces Favorite seed for the farmers of Allegany County. Local dealers, Grange purchasing agents and others will be notified of the plan for sale of this seed. 24,000 bu. have been bought by the New York State Grange Exchange from the Suffolk Co-operative Association on Long Island. This exchange reserves exclusive sale of Luce's Favorite corn in New York State outside of Long Island. This seed is guaranteed and certified. Each bag of 2 bu. lots bears a written guarantee. The corn is graded and has an average germination of 90% or more. Parties interested in securing Luce's Favorite seed corn can obtain information from their local dealers or from the Farm Bureau Office. Further information will be given later.

Every farm needs a library on agricultural subjects. The bulletins issued by the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca would form the beginning of such a library. Send to the college for a list of all the free publications now available.

There is no other agricultural activity that comes in as close touch with the farmers of the state as the farm bureau association. It is purely an organization of farmers for the benefit of farmers and the advancement of the state agricultural interests.—Calvin J. Hudson.

Many folks who live in town and who can keep chickens without annoyance to their neighbors or violation of local ordinances may do so profitably. One man found a dozen pullets kept him in eggs at a cost of fourteen cents a dozen. This figured the cost of feed purchased but not the value of table scraps.

Family Day Meeting—

Sunday morning, Feb. 16th, the members of the families connected with the Presbyterian Church are asked to be in attendance. The sermon will be designed to emphasize the relation of the family to religion. The essential features of the new era movement will be set forth. Special music. We want this meeting to be the largest in attendance in the history of the church. Bring the children.

Sunday Afternoon—

The trustees of the church will visit the homes of the members to make a canvass for the year's budget. Let them be cordially welcomed.

Federated Meeting—

Baptist Church. Mr. Orton will preach the sermon.

Friday Evening, Feb. 14th.—

The Presbyterian men and boys will banquet together in the church parlors. Fine program fine supper. The guests of honor will be all the soldiers in the community. Supper promptly at 7 p. m.

BAPTIST

Rev. George A. Orton, Pastor.

At the annual meeting of the church Feb. 5th, several changes were made in the officers of the church for the coming year. The Roll Call was a profitable meeting to all who attended.

A good delegation attended the Victory Campaign meeting of the Baptist Laymen at Wellsville, last Thursday. All were well repaid for going.

The Young Ladies Class met at the parsonage for a pleasant evening last Friday.

The Baraca Class served a banquet to the soldiers and sailors in the church, Saturday evening. Several interesting toasts were given by the boys.

A goodly number attended a very interesting meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. R. B. Burrows, Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society.

Last Sunday morning the attendance was very good considering the fact that most of the men accepted the invitation of the Baraca Class of the Temple Bible School of Wellsville to attend their class service. We will look for more next Sunday morning at 10:30. The subject will be "The Last Alts of Jesus or the Real Mission of the Church."

The Bible School will meet at the close of the morning worship.

The Young People's Meeting at 6:30 followed by the evening service at 7:30. We will have a message from the Old Book.

METHODIST

Rev. Chas. Collins, Pastor.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning at 10:30, on the subject: "Three Great Words of the Gospel" a sermon showing the rich privileges of the Christian in conversion, in communion with God, and in conquest in the name of Jesus. Everybody welcome.

Sunday School and Brother at 11:45.

Epworth League at 6:30.

Evening federated service in the Baptist Church, at 7:30. Let all attend.

The special Centenary services are growing in power and numbers and the whole church is feeling more and more confident of our ability to "go over the top" in the Centenary drive and to attain to new stadards of consecrated living, giving and praying. "The fight is on and victory is assured." Meetings were held this week in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Pease, Mr. Lewis Bullard and sisters, Mr. and

SEND A VALENTINE

Do you want to send a Valentine? If so, here are the best kind.
Clip one but, and with a Thrift or War Savings Stamp (side) containing as many stamps as you can afford, send it to a friend.

Cut flowers wither in
the same old way,
But Thrift Stamps grow
to a bond some day.

Make Our Dreams Come True.

Thrift Stamps are green,
War Savings, blue,
Love backed up by saving
Makes our dreams come true.

I've loved you since the age of nine,
And so I send a Valentine,
This Thrift Stamp. It will tell you how
'Twill grow if you start saving now,
And when you have sixteen, you see,
A big War Saver it will be.
And when we have enough of those,
We'll buy a house,—and
then, dear knows,
You'll simply have to marry me!

Sweets to the sweet,
when I was young,
Interpreted a bashful
tongue;
And roses for my love,
when older,
Were valentines as I grew bolder;
But love must live, and
love must eat,
And so this valentine,
my sweet,
Is symbol, though an humble gift,
That love, to last, must live by thrift.

Throughout strange
lands let others roam.
I want a little place called "Home,"
Some carpet slippers
and a chair,
And you to sit beside me
there,
Before some bright
wide-chimneyed nook
Pasting our Thrift
Stamps in a book.
This is the picture, girl
of mine,
I send you for a Valentine.

Mrs. Jefferson Brewster Mrs.
Mrs. A. A. Hincher.

At the Thursday evening devotional and conference meeting refreshments were served by the ladies of the Inasmuch. Next week's meeting will be announced Sunday.

The ladies will observe Washington's birthday in the usual way, that is by serving one of their best suppers and having "George and Martha" there to receive.

Weekly Health Talks

A BOND ABOUT THE KIDNEYS

BY DOCTOR WATSON.

People are easily frightened when they think something is the matter with their lungs or heart, and well they may be; but few people understand the dangers of diseased kidneys. These organs have a duty of vital importance to perform, and if they are diseased, there is no telling how or where the symptoms may appear. The kidneys are filters, and when they are healthy they remove the poisons from the blood and purify it. When the kidneys are diseased, the poisons are spread everywhere, and one of these poisons is uric acid. The uric acid is carried all through the system and deposited in various places, in the form of urate salts—in the feet, ankles, wrists and back—often forming bags under the eyes. Sometimes the resulting trouble is called rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and backache. Finally, come stones in the bladder, diabetes and Bright's disease.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., in recent years, discovered that a certain combination of remedies would dissolve uric acid (urate salts) in the system. He found this combination to be harmless, so that he made it up in tablets, of double strength, and called them Anuric Tablets. They dissolve uric acid in the human system as hot coffee dissolves sugar. If you have uric acid troubles, don't delay in taking Anuric Tablets, which can be secured in the drug stores. You can write Dr. Pierce, too, and he will tell you what to do and how to live so that more uric acid will not form in your system. Dr. Pierce will not charge for this advice.
