OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleansed and in proper working order old age can be defeated and life prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introduction. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil is inclosed in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about 5 drops each. Take them as you would a pill, with a small swallow of water. The oil stimulates the kidney action and enables the organs to throw off the poisons which cause premature old age. New life and strength increase as you continue the treatment. When completely restored continue taking a capsule or two each day. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules will keep you in health and vigor and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not wait until old age or disease have settled down for good. Go to your druggist and get a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Money refunded if they do not help you. Three sizes. But remember to ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL brand. In sealed packages.

LETTERS FROM OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Newspaper Man Tells of Conditions Which Effected Every Doughboy Serving in France. A Splendid Descriptive Letter.

Leo Snyder hands the News the following interesting letter written by a former newspaper man while serving in France to a friend.

Somewhere in the Vicinity of Bordeaux, France.

Dear Friend Fred:

Yes (oui, oui) this is France—a nation of a strong heart and grim determination. You never thought I would get this far. Neither did I. We were both wrong. The fact is I am here. Twenty-five days from Camp Dix finds me in an American training camp, everything American except the land and buildings. They are typical of France.

If anyone should ask you if you would like to take a trip to France, say No! Go south into Florida where I spent several years and you will see precisely the same things as can be found here, excepting the railroads. A trip to any American coal mine will furnish you a picture of the cars. They are short and small. It is hard to imagine what they were designed for. America has sent some real freight cars and engines here and the sight of them sends a long thrill of wishing thru one that can only be satisfied by the return to the U. S. A. One thing they are not short of in France is rain. Have plenty of that as nearly every day there is an occasion to use a raincoat. They are long on rain and short on weather over here. There is absolutely no climate—just spells of weather.

But we have had a great trip, Fred. About six days on the Atlantic and we landed at an English port where we took a train and traveled all day and part of the night to a rest camp. We stayed there a day and then hiked eight miles to another English port on the channel which we crossed. We then hiked some 12 miles to a rest camp in France and rested two days. From then on our real troubles began for ahead of us was a long ride by rail. We were loaded in box cars of French design made for neither comfort or speed and with 36 men to a car we pulled out for a trip of two days and two nights. Rations were in the cars in the corners. With barely elbow room we ate and slept. You can imagine our dispositions when we finally reached our destination about 10 o'clock on the third night. But notwithstanding the fatigue of the trip all went ahead to the next resting place and after a couple of days billited in a French chateau we moved into this American training camp where we are now busy preparing for the front.

Perhaps from the foregoing you can gain some idea of our time spent since leaving the shore of the U. S. A. It has all been adventurous and we have had the opportunity of seeing a great deal of England and France. In this part of France one can see thousands of acres of grapes from which the French wines are made. If the war has affected the wine industry of France it had to be seen from the surface. Grapes are very plentiful and wine seems about the same. I never had much or any desire for wine and here in the wine producing belt of France I confess that it has not encouraged my taste for it. Of course the French people are never without their wine at all times, but let a Yank undertake to keep pace with them drinking wine and he will soon be seeing all sorts of things and put to inconveniences that are not desirable in the last.

There have been many incidents that have happened since

NEW YORK STATE AUTOMOBILE ASS'N

Successfully Opposes Additional and Important Automobile Legislation at Hearing March 26th.

Albany, N. Y. March 26th.—A hearing on new legislation of vital interest to automobile owners took place Tuesday afternoon, March 26th, before the Legislative Judiciary Committee in the Capitol, at which the Blakely bill creating an Automobile Liability Commission and requiring bonds from automobile owners was vigorously opposed by Albert W. Seaman, chairman of the Law and Legislation Committee, Melvin T. Bender, General Counsel and other officers of the New York State Automobile Association and the Albany Automobile Club. No other automobile club or organization was represented at this hearing or made any effort whatever to prevent such measures being placed upon the statutes of New York State.

Another piece of legislation of vital importance to automobile owners was introduced in the Senate this afternoon which is designed to increase automobile fees approximately from $2.50 to $25.00, over the present fees, depending upon the value of the car. This schedule has been worked out: First—on the basis of 25c per h. p.; second—property tax of 40c per $100.00, on list price, first year; 30c per $100.00 second year; 20c per $100.00 third year and thereafter.

Under Consideration by New York State Automobile Association Which is Composed of 122 Local Clubs

This proposition has been submitted to the 122 automobile clubs composing the New York State Automobile Association for whatever concerted action these representative motorists in their respective communities, which represents practically every place of any importance in the state, may decide to take.

Illuminated Number Plate and Other Bills Defeated. New York City Bill to License All Operators in the Big Town Likely to Become Law. Some Good Automobile Legislation

The authors of the Transparent Illuminated Number Plate bill and the bill which was designed to double fees on all automobiles up to 25 h. p. including 32 makes of cars, admitted, early in the week, that due to the strenuous objections raised by the New York State Automobile Association, that those bills had no possible chance of going thru.

The Mullan bill requiring transfer of certificate of registration with sale of car, will likely become law and prevent sale of stolen cars to honest dealers.

The bill preventing dazzling headlights on street cars along highways passed the Assembly to-day.

The bills requiring motor trucks to carry mirrors and the bill requiring the removal of detour signs within 24 hours after road open for traffic certain to become law.

LOTS OF MONEY FOR GOOD ROADS

State May Have Millions of Federal Government Money For Roads. Business and Labor Conditions Improved.

Road-building authorities are predicting that 1919, 1920 and 1921 will prove the greatest in the country's history in the matter of road construction. In view of the unprecedented appropriations of funds for Federal aid for road projects and the activities of the states in extending their road-building programs the prediction appears to be fully justified.

The Division of Public Works and Construction Developments of the United States Department of Labor is authority for the statement that there has been a revision and enlargement of road-building plans in almost every state in the Union since the signing of the armistice. This is due not only to the pressing need for road construction, which has been suspended during the war, except where construction was essential to military activities, but also to the obvious desirability and prudence of getting public works under way so there may be suelt a demand for labor as will absorb the labor surplus.

Ultimately there will be a labor shortage in the United States. At present there is a surplus, and this is apt to grow to embarrassing proportions during the next few months of demobilization it no conscious effort is made to immediately revive building and construction activities to provide suffer employment until our industrial readjustment has been completed. Quite as important is the effect of an immediate acceleration of construction work in general business conditions Federal, state and municipal construction projects, assisted by private and corporation building activities, will be potent stimuli for general business and will prevent the stagnation which would spell commercial disaster.

Federal aid for road construction for 1919, 1920 and 1921 has been provided on a more liberal scale than ever before. If millions of Federal funds are not absorbed by the states in state road projects, it will be no fault of the Federal Government. Millions are available. How completely the possibilities of the present opportunity are approximated depends on the state administrations.

Federal funds to the amount of $266,750,000 will have been apportioned for state road projects at the end of the fiscal year of 1921. Under legislation enacted prior to the last Congress there are available for 1917, 1918 and 1919—and now apportioned among the states—$29,100,000. To this the last Congress added $48,500,000 for the fiscal year 1919, making the totol of Federal aid for road construction to the end of the fiscal year 1919 $77,600,000. In 1920 there will be $92,150,000 available for this work, and in 1921 an additional $97,000,000.

The last Congress amended the Federal-aid law in such fashion as to give the states more latitude in building.

NEW ARMY PLAN DRAFTS ALL BOYS

Universal Compulsory Training in Program Drawn by Secretary Baker. Youths of Nineteen Years Eligible Only.

It is possible to-day for the first time to reveal the more essential details of the army program for universal, compulsory military training to be recommended as the future military policy of the United States. The scheme, when compared with the pre-war system of a small regular army and a comparatively small National Guard, is almost staggering in its magnitude. Incidentally, it foreshadows one of the bitterest fights that will come up during the new Congress.

Under the scheme, which is taking final form at the Army War College, all youths in the United States, on attaining the age of nineteen years, will be drafted for a period of military training in the various permanent cantonments thruout the country. They will be summoned to duty under a draft system very similar to that employed during the war, but there will be suitable exemptions for educational, business and family reasons.

Upon completion of the training, which is to continue for less than a year, the graduated classes will be placed in the army reserve subject to call for active duty at times of national emergency. The first and second graduated classes, those one and two years out of training, will be an "organized reserve" complete, with officers assigned. When this period is completed, according to the present scheme, the men will pass merely into the reserve, not subject to call for active duty unless authorized by special act of Congress.

RED CROSS

All the sewing on hand has been finished; there was so little response to the appeal for relief work that it was that best not to get any more.

A report of the work done since the time of organization may be of interest.

The first meeting for work was held July 11th, 1917. We started with empty hands and an empty treasury. A generous amount of old material was given and work began; membership dues furnished funds to buy material.

During our existence from July 11th, 1917 to April 1st, 1919 the following amount of new material has been cut into articles for hospital use and made up.

Unbleached muslin, 653¾ yds.
Bleached Muslin, 301¼ yds.
Outing flannel, 300 yds.
Canton flannel, 130 yds.
Towelling, 257¾ yds.
Denim, 20 yds.
Buttons, 136½ doz.
Garments already cut, 878
Articles made between the above dates, exclusive of knitting 5,915.
Different shapes and sizes, 42.
Three drives have been made for second-hand clothing, also one drive for new linen hospital supplies. Thirty-five Christmas boxes for the boys overseas were inspected, weighed, wrapped, sealed and delivered to the postoffice.

We are not demobilized, only having a furlough somewhat extended and when the need comes we will be ready for service again.

We wish to thank the owners for the use of the sewing machines and the Library trustees for the use of the Library and gas.

LILLIAN B. CLARK.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Collins Help Them Celebrate 20th Anniversary

There was a merry gathering at the Methodist parsonage, Tuesday evening, the occasion being the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Collins. Guests to the number of half a hundred were present. A bountiful supper was enjoyed followed by a program of music and games.

During the evening Attorney Crayton L. Earley, on behalf of the friends, presented Mr. and Mrs. Collins with a beautiful china dinner set. Mr. Collins made appropriate response thanking the donors on behalf of himself and Mrs. Collins.

After a "re-marriage" by Justice of the Peace Stephens the party dispersed with many wishes for the future happiness of the host and hostess.

WILBERT W. YALE

Suffering a stroke of apoplexy Saturday afternoon, Wilbert W. Yale died at the home of his sister, Mrs. M. A. Fowler, Tuesday afternoon, without regaining consciousness, aged 73 years.

Mr. Yale was a lifelong resident of Central New York. His home since a boy in his teens had been at Quaquago, N. Y. He came to Andover to visit his sister about ten days ago expecting to return home this week.

Mr. Yale was a man who commanded the love and respect of all his acquaintances. He was one of those stearling characters whom to know is to love; whose very countenance denotes truth and veracity. He was a devotee member of the Methodist Church in Quaquago.

He leaves one brother, Edgar Yale, of Afton, N. Y., a sister, Mrs. M. A. Fowler, of Andover, and two neices, of Binghinton, to mourn his loss.

The remains were taken Thursday morning to Harpersville, N. Y., for funeral service and interment.

BIBLE SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

The Allegany County Bible School Association will meet in the First Baptist Church at Wellsville, April 9th and 10th. A program of interest has been arranged. The Wellsville schools will provide lodging and breakfast free to all delegates from the schools Wednesday evening a banquet will be provided at a nominal sum. All members of the Executive Committee are asked to meet immediately at the close of the conference on Wednesday afternoon.

Acker of Hornell, representing in this vicinity the State Board of Health and the United States Public Health Service in their campaign for Social Hygiene, will address the women of Andover, on Tuesday evening, pril eighth, at 7:30 o'clock P. M., at the Library, under the auspices of the Civics Club.

All women who are interested in conditions which lead to better social health are urged to be present.

POOR GRAIN SEED OFFERED FARMERS

State Experiment Station and College at Geneva Warns Farmers Against Purchase From Any But Reliable Dealers.

The Geneva experiment station has recently found that there is an enormous amount of clover and grass seed on the New York markets of extremely poor quality, both in vitality and purity. It has likewise found that the firms contributing this charaster of seed are working under several different names, tho presumably the source of the seed is the same in all cases.

The present seed law requires that seeds be inspected and labelled according to the inspections made by the New York agricultural experiment station at Geneva. While the present law is said to be inadequate for the full protection of the farmer, the department at Geneva is able to keep in touch with the seed which is placed on the New York markets.

A representative of the New York State College of Agriculture who has just returned from the Northwest where he inspected hardy alfalfa for New York farmers, talked with numerous seed dealers there, and had ample opportunity to investigate conditions. He learned quite definitely that New York is considered a dumping ground for poor grass and clover seed. In this connection the college says that New York farmers will do well to purchase seed from reliable dealers only.

EASTERN STAR CONVENTION

Anna W. McArthur Chapter Order Easter Star was well represented at Wellsville, last Monday evening, at the 32nd district convention. Grand Matron, of New York City and her official staff were present.

A splendid banquet was given at 7 o'clock. Each chapter in the district was represented except one. The floral work was beautifully exemplified by Wellsville Chapter, and a fine musical program and select readings were enjoyed. Praise-worthy compliments were paid Burton Chapter for the splendid manner in which they handled so large a convention.

DEFEATS ENTERTAIN

The members of the defeated side in the W. R. C. contest entertained the winners at a seven o'clock dinner Saturday night at G. A. R. Hall. The table was attractive in decorations of red and green, the favors and napkins displaying the national colors and emblem. The menu was excellent, followed by a short entertainment.
