Enid Bennett, the fascinating Australians screen star now appearing at the Auditorium in "The Keys of the Righteous," a paramount picture directed by Jerome Storm under the suppervision of Thomas H. Ince, is one of the most personally popular stars of screendom and boasts a wide assortment of real friends as well as the thousands who know and love her through her screen work. At Christmas time she gave a large house party at Bear Valley, California, the famous resort of motion picture folk. Three tiny log cabins were erected for the party and the old fashioned Yule Log burned brightly through all the varied festivities.

Engineer and Fireman Escape Lives in Erie Wreck

Engineer Frank Hamilton and Fireman Fred Apgar of Hornell met horrible deaths Friday morning when the through express No 9 ran into an open switch and was derailed between Scio and Belmont. The train loaded with express for Oklahoma was traveling at high speed, ran into the open switch at the P. E. Tower where the engine left the rails and plowed into the ground, twelve express cars piled up. Engineer Hamilton, terribly mutilated, one limb torn off and scalded was taken from under the wreckage. Fireman Apgar, little disfigured was scalded to death. Five express messengers in the rear car escaped with minor bruises.

The coaches were smashed and express goods of great value destroyed. The section gang of which Walter Smith was foreman had been working at the switch before the train arrived and it is admitted by them that the switch had been left open. It was a sad accident and the more regrettable that with proper care need not have occured.

GAVE HIM A KISS

A reform school was used for some of the scenes in Mabel Normand's "When Doctors Disagree" and the juvenile delinquents showed their fondness for the comedienne in rather touching ways. One little fellow was about to present her with a bouquet when a bigger boy snatched it from him and the guard's attention was attracted. Miss Normand interceded and punishment was suspended. The little boy refused her offer of a gift and asked for a picture instead. "I'll give you one in a silver frame," she promised. "Aw, that won't do," was the answer, "that big guy'ud swipe it." So she gave him a kiss.

AUDITORIUM SAT. OCT.25

Pauline Fredrick's arm—just that and nothing more—is responsible for one of the most graphic incidents in "The Fear Woman" It comes on the screen as a restraining influence, resting on the sleeve of her father, touching the glass he is too often raising to his lips and altogether attracting the attention of the guests at the engagement dinner no more than any well-bred woman's action would do. In this respect the audience has the advantage, for they are let into the heroine's confidence.

WILL START IN MONTH

N. Y. & Pa., Railroad Hope to be Running in Four Weeks

Within a month trains will again be operating over the once abandoned New York & Pennsylvania railroad, it is promised. The bridge at Coniateo, which was blown up at the time of the winter flood, has been rebuilt, and work trains are now running about two miles above Canisteo. The old tracts have been badly washed out, but the tracts are being relaid and by next week it will be possible to operate as far as Greenwood. No passenger trains will be run when the road resumes operations, all the energies being devoted to the handling or freight traffic.

TROLLEY STRIKE IN OLEAN IS ENDED

After A Fight Since August 18th Officials and Employees of W. N. Y. & P. Reach Agreement.

The strike of the union carmen of the Western New York & Pennsylvania traction lines, which tied up the electric road since August 12th, was declared off at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Concessions on the part of company officials and the men led to an agreement.

The announcement followed a meeting of the trooley men in which a contract, presented by the company was accepted by a vote of the union men. The contract drawn up days ago, had been amended, embodying concessions by both sides. Officials and men were reluctant to dicuss the terms of the contract, which had been changed to meet the approval of both. It is understood, however, that the question of unionism, which has kept them apart nearly ten weeks, was disposed of in a manner agreeable to men and officials.

The company, it is understood, gave recognition to the local organization of carmen. The national association according to report, was not mentioned in the contract.

One hundred miles of tract and more than 100 employees have been idle. Olean, Salamanca and Bradford have suffered losses reaching into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

One feature which marked the strike, the rioting at the Olean car barns on August 18th, is the only unfinished business. Trials of 26 alleged rioters will take place in a special term of supreme court soon.

FARWELL SURPRISE

Good-bye Party to Rev. and Mrs. Charles Collins

Rev Charles Collins and Mrs. Collins were very pleasantly surprised by a number of their friends Monday evening. They were invited to tea with Mrs. Tracy and Miss Hazel Strickland, and upon their arrival there found a well organized surprise party awaiting them. A bountiful repast was served, and after the feast, atty. C.L. Earley in well chosen words spoke of the esteem and affection of those present for the departing pastor and wife, a love and regard which he declared time only strengthened and in token of which, on behalf of the friends present he presented them with a French ivory tray, mirror, comb and brush.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins very feelingly responded and told how Andover had become in the four years of their pastorate here, more than merely a charge to them and seemed like home, and to leave it and the loving friends was hard indeed, but that in their new pastorate in Franklinville, the latch string would always be out and the friends from Andover looked for and eargerly welcomed. After an evening of the pleasantest kind of social intercourse the company dispersed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Collins a prosperous and happy pastorate in their new field of labor.

PLENTY OF SUGAR IN CANADA

Buffalo People Stopped From Running Supplies Across From Fort Erie and Bridgeburg.

There is plenty of sugar to be bought at from 12 to 15 cents per pound in Fort Erie, Bridgeburg and other Canadian towns nearby. Until Saturday afternoon it could be brought to Buffalo in any quantities that the purchaser cared to carry.

On Saturday afternoon the lid was put on with a clatter and gleeful house wives who had their arms around five, ten, fifteen or twenty pounds and had boarded the ferry boat were confronted by Canadian custom officers who were polite but firm. Madam must return the sugar to the store she bought it from or leave it with the officer.

The officers also looked under the rear seats of automobiles. In many they found a parcel. One Buffalo restaurant owner reluctantly gave up 90 pounds which he had bought in Ridgeway and which was to run his restaurant over the week-end. He said that he had made arrangements for a further suppy from the same source today.

There is an embargo on the export of sugar from Canada, but it is left with the discretion of certain custom officials whether or not exports shall be permitted of less than 100 pounds. On Saturday afternoon the order came that there should be no more sugar taken out of the country through the port of Bridgeburg which includes all the waterfront between Chippewa and Port Colborne. So far as Niagara Falls, Ont., is concerned there are still no restrictions on small lots.

In the first boatload inspected after the order came, the Port Erie officers got 185 pounds. One woman had 50 pounds in her car, which she said she had bought in Ridgeway for fifteen cents a pound. She was told she must leave it. Rather than return to Ridgeway she sold the lot to a Fort Erie grocer at the wholesale price of eleven cents a pound. The established retail price of sugar in Canada is twelve cents a pound.

The duty on granulated sugar entering this country is 1 1-3 cents per pound, but the duty is seldom collected on lots less than ten pounds.

MRS DAVID CORWIN

Marie Parthenia Corwin was born, December 2nd, 1849, at Cincinatus, Cortland Co., N. Y., daughter of George and Maria Melvin Blackman, and died at her home on West Center street, Andover, Sunday, October, 19, 1919, after an illness of two weeks with heart trouble. Deceased was twice married, to Edward B. Haines in 1870 and in 1876 to David P. Corwin.

When a babe of 8 months her parents removed to Knight's Creek in the town of Scio, where she grew to woman-hood: For a few years she lived in Kansas and following her marriage to Mr. Corwin came to reside at the family home on Corwin Hill, town of Andover, where they lived until the husband's failing health made it necessary for them to remove to this village, where his death occurred the 27th of last January. Of this marriage two children, Allen W. Corwin of Wellsville and Mrs. Carrolotta McAndrew of Ward, together with several grandchildren, survive, also one sister, Mrs. Julia Eldridge of York, Pa., and two brothers, Daniel Blackman of Warren, Pa., and Capt. George Blackman of Wellsville, N. Y.

At the age of 17 years Mrs. Corwin united with the Baptist Church and upon coming to Andover with the local Methodist Church of which she has been a faithful member. She was also a member of the Andover W. C. T. U. and took a keen interest in both societies. Mrs. Corwin was a well read woman, keeping in close touch with the activities of the world. She also had ability as a writer both verse and prose.

Funeral service was held at the Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon, October, 21st. Rev. Charles Collins officiating. Interment made in Hillside Cemetery.

—Cash prizes will be given at the Grange Fair.

ATHLETICS

The A. H. S. Football team played its first game of the season on Friday afternoon meeting the strong eleven from Wellsville on the athletic field at 3:45. Both teams played fine football and when time was called in the last quarter the score stood six and six, the visiting team making a touch down in the last minute of the game. Andover lineup was as follows:—

R. Robinson, C; C. Tucker. QB.; E. J. Dawson R.H.; A. Harvey L.H.; R Stevens, F.B.; H. Howland; L.G.; D. Flynn, L.T.; D. Quigg, L.E.; E. Clair, R.G.; E. Dawson, R.T.; E Thetge, L.E. D. Baker, Mascot.

The team will play Belmont H. S. this week Friday at Belmont.

Professor and Mrs. Tubbs kindly invited the members of the Kappa Zeta society to hold its meeting at their apartments. The initiation was managed in a very clever manner by the members. Light refreshments were served after the initiation. The members rendered a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs for being ideal hosts and in giving such an enjoyable evening. Where were the boys?

Our H. S. Orchestra is progressing so rapidly under the direction of Miss Baker that it has promised to give a selection at chapel Friday morning.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ANDOVER

Everybody come and join our ranks on Hollowe'en night Oct 31, and have a "bang-up" time

Plans are being made by the student body to make Hallowe'en of this year one long to be remembered in the annals of school history. We call on the citizens of Andover to help make this a success in having a "safe and sane" Hollowe'en. A grand parade is planned at 8 o'clock in the evening in which devils, clowns, ghosts goblins and witches will appear in all their glory. Committees have been appointed to carry out the various projects. It is the wish of the school and faculty that the entire community come out for a good time. Bring a good stock of confetti. After the parade a masquerade party will be held in the "Gym" for everybody. Refreshments will be served.

These are the commitees:—

Entertainment: Denzil Baker, Marie Joyce, Betty Cannon, Everett Clair, Sarah Bettinger.

Refreshments: Ruth Robinson, Emily Clarke, Carl Hann, Donald Pingrey, Margaret Wilcox.

Parade: Carrol Tucker, Elton Greene, Jessamine Baker, Lillian Warfield, John Faisant.

Decoration: Roland Stevens, Alan Harvey, Amelia Tubbs, Anna Faisant, Walter Davis.

Publicity: Louise Earley, Daniel Fynn, Maxson Crandall, Ruth Parker.

Hettie Nobles has been engaged to teach the Knight's Creek school.

Jokes.

During the absence of one of the teachers the last peroid Friday afternoon the Spanish class nearly lost its dignity. "Will there be any stars in our crown?" Mr. Tubbs who was in the next room: correcting algebra papers looking to see if there were any correct examples and of course, finding none, murmured, "No. not one; No, not one."

Button, button, who's got the button:—Deacon of course.

The latest cry is "Kiss Her"

The Kappa Zeta ice-cream had a narrow escape but it finally reached its destination, and miraculously, was all there. Ask Emily.

The early geometry class are birds. They believe in catching "angle" early and "worm" into examination.

A cold blast of air came through the open window during physical exercise. This was the cause and result of a serious "unbraiding" from instructor, as some in the rear of the study hall lost their equanimity.

The "Tidbits" will hereafter be arranged by different members of the student body. This week's items were arranged by Harold Howland and Mildred Smith. Next week Carrol Tucker and Amelia Tubbs will serve the "pie"

MEDICAL PEOPLE THREATEN STRIKE

Steuben County Physicians, Nurses, Dentists and Pharmacists Will Quit if Health Insurance Bill is Passed

We do not know much about the proposed Health Insurance law, but there must be something to it or all those connected with the medical profession, doctors, nurses, dentists and pharmacists, would not be making such a confounded fuss about it.

It appears to the average intellect just as the these people were afraid that the proposed law would do away with a large amount of their business.

Steuben County physicians and associate occupations have now joined the movement. The Hornell Tribune tells us:

"A strike of physicians, nurses, dentists and pharmacists throughout Steuben county will take place should the state legislature adopt the compulsory health insurance bill as a law, according to prominent physicians. It is a situation such as this city has never before been threatened with.

"Every physician and surgeon in Steuben county today has signed an agreement not to practise medicine under the law and it is the intention to call a strike the minute the measure is passed. The nurses are also up in arms against the bill and in Hornell city have signed a similar pledge to strike in event it becomes a law.

"Never before has the medical profession been aroused to such a pitch. 'It simply means the death of the profession' said one prominent surgeon here today. 'I for one will never practice under it and every other physician in the county has signed an agreement not to continue if it becomes a law. It would retard the profession 50 years and I don't believe the general public would want the law if they knew just what it means and what it will do.'"

WE OFFER 20 MULE TEAM BORAX SOAP 4 cakes for 25 cents and in lots of fifty cakes or more at the wholesale price of 5½ cents per cake.

This is a good-sized bar and of good quality. Everyone in this community should buy and buy liberally of it.
