TID BITS

Basket ball practice has finally started again and a large number for both boys and girls teams have come out to try for a place on the first team. Boys held practice Monday and Tuesday nights. The girls' first practice was held after school, Monday night and again Tuesday.

Our first game is scheduled to be played with Almond at Almond, Saturday night. Come and cheer for our teams.

Rose Dawson, a Freshman at Alfred, visited school Friday morning.

We have been in the new building for a week and are enjoying the space after having been cramped up so long. The gym is no comparison between the old and new. There are dressing rooms for both boys and girls, with showers and lockers in each. Everything is strictly modern.

Edna Barrett visited school Monday afternoon.

Naomi Stickler has returned from her Christmas vacation which she spent with her father in Oklahoma.

Marlyn DeRemer, a Senior of Alfred University, visited school, and attended several classes Friday afternoon.

Ten weeks' tests were held Thursday and Friday of this week.

SIN

I. John 1:5-10; 2:1-6
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Holiness is an attribute of God. The simplest survey of life or of self reveals the everywhereness of sin. Thus the theme for this week is in utmost contrast to that for last week, when the Eternal God was the subject. Man is both wayward and he has never journeyed thru life before. Hence he is in constant need of an adequate Guide Book, and that book is the Bible. It might well be called the sinner's book, for it gives a complete analysis of his experiences and then reveals an adequate solution of his constant problems.

Numerous passages must be studied in connection with each lesson this quarter. Those for supplemental study this week are Genesis 3:1-24; 6:5-8; Mark 7:14-23; Romans 1:18-32 and 3:10-18. Others of equal importance can be noted by looking at your concordance.

Those who insist that it is hard to keep from doing evil in the present environment will do well to think themselves back into the Garden of Eden where Adam and Eve were part of an unmarred world. They had the maximum of blessings for which to be thankful as they held their daily tryst with their Creator. Yet they chose to disobey the reasonable command of their heavenly Father. Man sins by the exercise of his own free will when he has been given power to the contrary. After our first parents became outcasts from Paradise they had plenty of time to meditate on the consequences. As they faced their guilty consciences in their hopelessness, the First Evangel was given in the promise that was redeemed in the Messiah, the theme for next week.

That sin cannot remain a personal matter is revealed in the extent of sin at the time of Noah. A new start was given after the Flood but meanwhile human nature had only been restrained; it was not changed.

Read again the New Testament passages indicated above. Here you will find sin analyzed. There can be no real reason for choosing sin (Romans 1:20). The baseness of life resulting from a sin-controlled heart is shown in that same chapter.

The aged John, that beloved disciple, holds the mirror before every life as he says "If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves." But he does not prevent the evil without disclosing the adequate remedy, for he adds "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." This is made still clearer as he points to the Friend he loves so well: "And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the righteous." Then a most practical test is given which puts life above all profession: "Hereby we know that we know Him, if we keep His commandments."

The current floods of seed catalogs are proof enough that hope springs eternal in the human breast.

Would you push a flatiron 12 miles for 5¢

"IN ironing for a family of five persons, the housewife lifts 2000 pounds and pushes a flatiron 12 miles," says Ethel McMillen, home economist.

What foolish drudgery. Visit our electric shop or have your nearest electric dealer show you how you can do 95% of your ironing comfortably seated in a chair—with an electric ironer that costs only 5 cents a week to operate.

Never before has electricity been so cheap. Interconnected power plants of the Niagara Power System supply cheap electric service where and when it is needed. Generating expenses have been reduced to a minimum. Operating costs have been lowered. You can afford to use electricity freely—for all your household drudgery.

Eyer Leaves $20,000 Estate

Clayson C. Eyer, Hornell aviator, who died last week at Bethesda hospital, from injuries received when his plane crashed near Bradford, Pa., last November, left an estate of $20,000 realty and $1,500 personalty; letters of administration were issued his widow, Helen A. Eyer, who has a dower interest in the property, the residue being equally inherited by Mrs. Eyer's two sons.

State Commander Coming

Douglas McKay, commander New York State American Legion, is to visit Allegany county on Saturday, Jan. 12, for a meeting that evening at Belmont. Several members of Thomas Lynch Post expect to attend the meeting.

Will Use 13-Month Calendar

The first practical application of the 13-month year will be attempted by the Todd Protectograph company of Rochester, which, beginning December 30, divided its year into months of 28 days each. This is to provide a test of the practical value of the calendar simplification applied to a business organization.

First Robin of Season, January 2

Richburg, Jan. 2.—H. B. Cornwell of this village has the distinction of having seen the first robin of the season. He saw the bird in an apple tree in front of his home in this village, today. Mr. Cornwell now believes this is a sure sign of early spring.—Bolivar Breeze.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Over 30,000 cases of influenza are reported in the city of Buffalo.

From 14 to 17 million muskrats a year are taken in the United States for their fur.

Mrs. Jennie Carr had the misfortune to burn her foot when a dish of hot cereal overturned on it.

Mrs. Pauline Beckwith and grandson, Wilbur Parkinson of Cuba, were both critically ill last week from ptomaine poisoning.

There are sure signs of spring. The first seed catalog for 1929, that of Wm. Henry Maule, came to the editor's desk Monday morning.

Mrs. Edward Teasdale has been assisting at the post office the past week, in the absence of Mrs. Frank Holmes, who is ill with grippe.

On January 23, Allegany county poultrymen will visit Buffalo, under auspices of the farm bureau and study marketing conditions of eggs and other produce. The trip will be in charge of R. C. Ogle, extension professor of poultry husbandry at Cornell.

Clayton Green is ill this week with pneumonia at his home on Baker street.

Frank Stillman has been appointed collector at Alfred in place of E. P. Saunders, resigned.

Gail Reynolds of Andover is in the list of patients admitted, Jan. 7th, to Jones Memorial hospital, Wellsville.

The Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. Parsons Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 15, at 3 o'clock.

The Rebekah Social Club was pleasantly entertained, Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. LaRue Crandall and Mrs. Walter Hammond.

Fifteen teachers and 750 pupils are absent from Hornell schools on account of influenza. A total of nearly 3,000 are reported ill in the city.

Rev. Michael Gallagher of Buffalo has been appointed as an assistant to Rev. Patrick Tracy of Immaculate Conception church, Wellsville.

Evelyn, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Jones of Alfred, fell from a chair breaking her arm between the elbow and wrist, last week.

W. N. Rice, who has been ill with sciatica the past few weeks, has been confined to the house with the unruly member the past week.

Wendall Holcomb of Richburg met with a painful injury when the bones in his right hand were broken while working on an oil lease in that vicinity last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dougherty are the proud parents of an eight and one-half pound son, born Friday, Jan. 4th, at Jones Memorial hospital, Wellsville.

Sanford W. Pendleton of Scio has been awarded $2,925 compensation for the loss of his left eye while in the employee of E. D. Crandall and son of Wellsville.

In another column this week will be found part one of a serial story by Ralph Edward Shaff of Andover, "His Majesty." Read it. The concluding chapter will be published next week.

Miss Helen Fagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fagan of Wellsville, has gone to Detroit, where she will enter the convent of the Carmelite Sisters, with the intention of becoming a nun of that order.

George Coleman, 43 years of age, employed on a farm near Cuba, was badly injured when driving a team in hauling a heavy tree, one of the branches struck him in such a manner as to sweep him under the trunk of the tree. Physicians found a dislocation or fracture at the base of the spine and he was taken to the Buffalo General hospital for treatment by an orthopedic surgeon.

Charles Hale of Canaadea was injured when the buggy in which he was riding was struck by an automobile, and demolished. Mr. Hale being thrown to the concrete with great force and his horse running away. The driver of the car displayed the coward by stepping on the gas and making a getaway.

John Cochran of Wellsville and Clyde Elder of Sheffield, Pa., have purchased a half interest in the McKelvey and Cochran lease in Bolivar township from Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cochran of Bolivar. The oil lease consists of 312 acres in fee and has 28 producing wells. In the coming spring it is planned to further develop the property by drilling a number of wells.

John Fisher is reported as gaining from two weeks' sickness.

Mrs. Alice Lever is confined to her bed this week with heart trouble.

Mrs. A. C. Frisbey is gaining slowly from two weeks' illness at her home on South Main street.

Elmer Coats is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Denzil Baker has been ill and unable to attend his work the past two weeks.

Randall A. Pease is seriously ill at his home on Elm street. Ralph Kemp is assisting in caring for him.

Rev. A. R. Potrafke, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church of Wellsville, was approached by a feeble-looking man this week, who claimed to be without work or substance. Rev. Potrafke, in sympathy, arranged for a room and meals for the stranger until work could be found for him. Later in conversation the man stated he had a brother-in-law who was a Lutheran minister in the East. Doubting the story the Rev. Potrafke sent a letter to the address and received a telegram from officials of the Binghamton State hospital to the effect that he was a feeble-minded patient who had been missing some eleven months from the hospital, with directions to give him good care. A representative from the hospital came at once and the patient, Reverly by name, was taken back to Binghamton, Wednesday.

OH, YES, COURT NOW OPEN

Magistrate: "So you heard the dispute between the defendant and his wife? From the sounds what did the defendant appear to be doing to her?"

Policeman: "He appeared to be listening to her."

Did you use your Weather Strip? It is positively the cheapest fuel you can buy anywhere.

Do you remember when Andover had 15-cent gas? Bosley's Nu Style flexible cushion Weather Strip is cheaper than that. All doors, windows, and crevices should be treated, a single application lasts for many years at a cost of 15 cents per yard.

Other strips as low as three cents per yard. You can't afford to let this sort of weather sift in.

If you haven't a nice leather folder to carry and protect your driver's card and license folder, we offer you some very splendid ones at 50c.

We have sometimes paid $1.00 for not as good.

Marmora, the invisible mender. Stronger than glue or the various cements and will do you a clean perfect job—15c a bottle.

Keep your dairy cows in the pink of condition with Kow Kare or Cow Tone—a small amount with the feed makes it go farther and is splendid health insurance.

Calf Cordial is the real cure for bowel troubles in the young stock, or the mature cows. Keep a package handy. Its early use has often saved a valuable animal.

Gray Lawn Louse Chase will go farther and do better work than any other preparation of its kind.

The new package is nearly double size, which makes it the cheapest of all the louse powders.

Every user a satisfied customer.

Alkali Ike: "What happened to the tenderfoot stranger wot was here last month?"

Texas Pete: "Poor feller. The second morning he wus here, he wus brushin' his teeth with some of that foamy tooth paste, and one of the boys thought he had hydrophoby and shot him."

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just sent us a quantity of bulletins on "Rat Control." We have copies for all who will ask for them; be sure and get yours.

This bulletin tells many things about rats and their habits, not usually known. They destroy much valuable property and are a menace to family health. Get rid of them—this book tells how and it costs you nothing.

Five ply blades will keep your wind shield clean in all kinds of weather. If you want a wiper you can depend upon, throw away your old blade and put on a Trisco Pyramind blade.

Price only 35c.

Carpenters are not very busy just now, so it is a good time to put in that odd door or window you have been thinking about.

We are glad to measure and tell you exactly what the material will cost, hardware included. Let us know your desires.

Salt has advanced in price—25 pound sacks now 35c.

The new Coleman Quick Lite Lamp using only two small mantles will give you a constant white flame—100 candle power light—at a cost of less than one cent per hour.

Don't sit in the gloom. Don't strain your eyes. It is easy to have the light of noontime sunshine with the Quick Lite.

REASONABLE

"Daddy," remarked a hardware merchant's five-year-old daughter. "I think I should like to get married."

"Do you, my dear? And whom do you want to marry?" asked the parent, teasingly.

"Well," said the little girl, "I'd like to marry granny."

Her father laughed heartily.

"And do you think I'd let you marry my mother?" he asked, patting the child's head.

"Why shouldn't you?" she answered, surprised. "You married mine, didn't you?"
